Revised Statutes for 1845, and Form Book.

This work has been issued at this office and embraces all the laws of a general character passed by the last General Assembly, and directed to be published in the revised code published under the authority of the State, also all laws of a general nature which were not revised or repealed, and have been continued in force. These laws have been published under the authority of an act passed by the last General Assembly, (a copy of which, with the certificate of the Secretary of State that the laws has been complied with, is inserted,) by which it is made evidence in courts, and given the same effect as the laws published by the State. In addition to the laws, this work contains notes of reference to decisions of the Supreme Court, and reference to alterations made from the former acts by the revised code.

There is also appended a full set of forms, embracing forms and instructions for writs, process, deeds, wills, notes, leases, indentures and nearly every instrument which is required in the practice of any officer, or the business of any person. The whole is accompanied by a complete and compendious index, much more full and perspicuous than that in the revised laws of 1835.

Agents will in a few days visit the various sections of the State, and will be prepared to supply the demand, either by wholesale or retail.

Price of a single copy, $3.

The Missouri Justice.

THE subscriber has in course of publication and will issue from the press in the course of the summer, the following work, entitled Missouri Justice being a compendium of the law relating to the powers and duties of justices of the peace, executors, administrators, guardians, constables and coroners, in the State of Missouri, adapted to the revised law of 1845 [illegible] forms and precedents for attorneys, justices of the peace, constables, ect., ect., including mortgages, agreements, bills of sale, leases, powers of attorney, ect. ect. ect. by John M Krum, Judge of the eighth judicial circuit of Missouri, St. Louis, Mo.

The work is designed to furnish a practical and ready assistant to justices of the peace, executors, administrators, constables, ect., ects. in the exercise of their respective offices.

It is well known to every one at all acquainted with judicial proceedings, that certain rules of law, and forms of proceedings are indispensable guards, established for the security of property and protection of personal rights. And this work has been prepared with a view of facilitating the proceedings and business entrusted to those officers so as to enable them to understand and administer the law according to the rules recognized in our courts. The practical advantage of such works are too obvious to need recommendation, especially as each subject has been treated with direct reference to the recent revised laws of the State of Missouri.

The forms and precedents are designed as a plain and easy guide to the man of business as well as to the justices of the peace, and other officers. In short, every citizen will find the work a most valuable assistant in all the business affairs of life. In its preparation, the author has studied brevity and simplicity, and has endeavored to illustrate in a style both perspicuous and comprehensive.

SPRING AND SUMMER

CLOTHING!

THE subscriber has just returned from the city of New York, (and taken his old stand, 52 Main-Street,) with an entire new stock of SPRING & SUMMER CLOTHING, comprising every article usually kept in a clothing or furnishing store. His goods were all new, were bought for cash, and were purchased under his own direction, expressly for this market, of the latest and most fashionable style.

Having formed a connection with a wholesale dry goods house in the city of N. York, enables him to take advantage of the market in buying usually low at auction. He can, therefore, confidently assure buyers of ready made clothing, that he not only can, but will sell for a trifling not only as cheap but cheaper than any other clothing in the city of St. Louis. Buyers are invited to call and examine before purchasing elsewhere.

M. BROWN.

No. 52 Main Street

The largest paper ever published in America.

DEMOCRATIC EXPOSITOR.

AND

UNITED STATES JOURNAL FOR THE COUNTRY.

We issue to day the first number of the new series of the Democratic Expositor, and United States Journal for the country, which we consider the cheapest publication ever offered to the patronage of the American public. It will be published weekly, instead of semi-monthly as heretofore while under the charge of Mr. Kendall, and although it will contain more than double the amount of matter, there will be no increase of the subscription price. The new publishers propose to furnish their subscribers with a volume of at the unprecedented low price of ONE DOLLAR ONLY!!! Being the cheapest periodical ever before issued in this country.

The Expositor will continue to be a faithful and fearless expounder of the true principles of Jeffersonian Democracy, as it has been under its late highly gifted editor, whose we are encouraged to hope, will materially aid us with articles from his eloquent pen; its pages will be adorned by contributions from the most distinguished political writers in the United States. Neither pains nor expense will be spared to make it worthy of being considered a text-book for the Democracy, in future generations.—The publishers intend it shall occupy the high ground sustained by Niles' Weekly Register, in the palmy days of its existence and publication; it shall be a record of important political facts, for future use & reference, as well as a vehicle of still more important political truths, which will live through all time, and eventually, will revolutionize the world.

We shall go unstrangly and with the whole soul, devote ourselves to the cause of universal republican education; to this end we shall zealously endeavor to reform every college in America, and establish a system to educate all the children in the land in the saving principles of American Liberty, instead of, as present, growing up in thoughtless, unprovoked ignorance, or what is even worse, of possibly becoming indoctrinated with the baleful principles of English monarchy and aristocracy, the only system of education proposed at our fashionable seminaries of learning.

We shall oppose all monopolies—a high Protective Tariff—partial legislation—any National Bank—Distribution—Assumption of the State Debts—with all might, unremitting zeal. All these, as well as other Federal heresies, will be handled without gloves. In short, it shall be a volume worthy of being preserved by every lover of our republican institutions.

We will bestow the strictest attention to the business departments, as well as intellectual. Those who wish to advertise may place the most implicit reliance upon our pledge that it shall be published and mailed each week, with unwonted promptitude, and to subscribers no one shall even have the slightest occasion to find fault on this score. We will also be careful to have the packages strongly and properly wrapped, so that they shall reach their destination in good order. With this brief and imperfect outline of our plan, we submit our claims to the patronage of the Democracy, with unshaken confidence that we shall be generously supported.

TERMS.

The Democratic Expositor and U. States Journal for the country, will be published weekly; each number will contain sixteen closely printed pages, making EIGHT HUNDRED AND THIRTY-TWO to the volume, for the moderate price of One Dollar per annum, to a single subscriber!

Great Inducements to Clubs and Companies. In order to extend the circulation of the Expositor into every part of our Glorious Union, we make the following proposals: those who forward us five dollars shall receive eleven copies for one year; those who forward twenty dollars, shall receive twenty these copies for twelve months—reducing the price to eighty-seven cents, for a volume of nearly HUNDRED AND THIRTY-TWO PAGES! Our Democratic friends are respectfully requested to exert themselves in obtaining us subscribers.
