Big Fire in a Blizzard. BRADFORD, Pa., Jan. 14.—During a fierce blizzard and with the thermometer registering 8 degrees below zero, fire broke out in the Sheehan house. It spread rapidly, soon consumed that and three adjoining wooden structures. The guests in the Sheehan house had only time to escape with their lives and when they reached the ground were in some cases badly frozen before they could reach places of shelter. Mary Callahan and Mary Doran jumped from the second story windows in their night clothes and sustained serious injuries. Although Miss Callahan's left wrist and ankle were both fractured in the terrible fall, she dragged herself through the snow to a place of safety, almost perishing in the cold. At least 100 of the firemen had their ears, faces or hands frozen more or less severely. Robert Sisco and Robert Helme, firemen, were so badly frozen that their condition is critical. The total losses are about $75,000. Insurance, $55,000.

The lands will then be thrown open to settlement, the settlers being required to purchase water rights of the individuals or companies constructing the same. Manna has come down from South Dakota on the supposition that the defaulting state treasurer may be here and anxious to make a settlement. He is interested to the extent of a $50,000 bond in the location of Taylor and to start action in the matter he called a meeting of the men who had guaranteed the treasurer's honesty. There are 17 men on Taylor's bond, most of whom have been asked to the conference. "It is a question now," said Mr. Manna, "whether Taylor is in this country or Europe. There is as yet no plan of action, but the indications are that a settlement is most desired. The state needs money on any account."

SECRETARY MORTON. Recent Newspaper Reports Corrected in an Interview at Omaha. NO QUARREL WITH GRESHAM Says His Western Trip is of a Purely Business Nature—Distribution of Seed in the Drouth Stricken Regions. American Cattle Interests.

OMAHA, Jan. 14.—Secretary Morton came in from Chicago and spent Sunday at the Paxton. When seen Mr. Morton said there was nothing new regarding the trouble with the French and German over American cattle except that the inspection hereafter would be so strict that no country could object to receiving cattle from this country. Regarding the distribution of seed corn and wheat in the drouth stricken regions Mr. Morton said he was powerless, as no appropriation had been made for that purpose, but the regular one-third of the seeds of all kinds allotted to his department would be distributed in the drouth portions of the Dakotas, Nebraska and Kansas.

Mr. Morton said there was no foundation for the report that there was a quarrel or disagreement between Secretary Gresham and himself; that he had taken dinner with Secretary Gresham on Tuesday and their relations were friendly. The report that his trip home was political, or that he would make a political speech, Mr. Morton desired corrected. He left for Lincoln to attend the meeting of the State Horticultural society, before which he will read a paper, and on Wednesday he will attend the meeting of the State Agricultural society and take part in the discussion on sub-soiling and irrigation.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS. In the Senate. WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—The prevailing feeling that the currency problem has been transferred to the senate made that body the center of interest at the capitol. The galleries were again well filled today in anticipation of developments in the way of speeches indicating the probable course of the majority. After the routine business Senator Stewart (Nev.) resumed his speech begun on Saturday.

Mr. Stewart spoke of the extent to which the banks controlled congress, political conventions, telegraph companies and the press. The banks always maintained a lobby in congress. They dominated national conventions—Republican, Democrat and Populist—and secured the nomination of their friends. They secured ambiguous platforms so that the people were never able to vote directly on the silver issue. There had been bank rule in every administration for 29 years.

In the House. WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Speaker Crisp laid before the house at the opening of the session today the resignation of Representative John C. Black (Ill.) who resigned to accept the position of United States district attorney for the northern district of Illinois.

In the morning Mr. Hatch (D., Mo.) called up the Great bill, to make oleomargarine and all other imitation dairy products subject to the laws of the state or territory into which they are transported (which was under consideration on Saturday), and Mr. Byrnes (Dem., Ind.) resumed his hostile attitude toward it, indicating a disposition to filibuster, if necessary, to defeat it.

Financial Fight Transferred to the Senate. WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—The attempt of the Democrats to reach an agreement upon some definite plan to solve the currency question seems to have been transferred from the house to the senate, for the time at least. Democratic members of the banking committee, who are closest to Carlisle and the president, say today that the campaign for agreement had made no progress since last week but added that the secretary of the treasury still entertains strong hopes that the different financial factions of congress will find a platform of compromise upon which they can stand together.

The house Democrats who are so far from the senate are not so far from the senate as they seem. They are not so far from the senate as they seem. They are not so far from the senate as they seem. They are not so far from the senate as they seem.

Considering Charges Against Ricks. WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Nearly every member of the judiciary committee attended the special meeting today at this first session it seems evident that the committee will not reach a conclusion for some days. Representative Bailey (Tex.), the chairman of the subcommittee which made the investigation at Cleveland, submitted his views. His judgment was against Judge Ricks and to the effect that the judge had been guilty of grave misconduct, if not malfeasance and dishonesty, in receiving fees after he had been elevated to the bench, which he claims to have earned before as a clerk of the court.

Not Requested For Troops. WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—The government has received no request for troops on account of interference with the mails on account of the Brooklyn strike, and it is said at the war department that it is not expected that any such call will be made. It is not believed that any necessity for troops will arise. While in judgment with the mails is contrary to federal laws, it is also in violation of the state law, and no reason is seen why the authorities of New York state are not competent to deal with the trouble without calling on the national government.

With Hear Arguments in the Debt Case. WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—In the supreme court of the United States today C. S. Darrow, counsel for Eugene V. Debs and others engaged in the Chicago strike last summer, made application for writs of error and habeas corpus. The court decided to hear the arguments for the writ of error Wednesday. Corn was dull but firm on the heavy freight rates. May opened unchanged at 48 1/2, and related to 48 1/2. Provisions were dull but slightly higher on higher prices at the yards, notwithstanding the fact that hog receipts were heavy. May pork opened 1/2 cent higher at 11 1/2, and related to 11 1/2. IVORY SOAP. BEST FOR SHIRTS. THE PROCTOR & GAMBLE CO. CHICAGO. THE LEGISLATURE. Every Nebraska is Interested in What it Does. The coming session of the legislature will be especially interesting. After six years the republicans are again in control of both houses. A United States senator will be elected and a host of other good things should be done. No matter what your politics, you will want to read about the legislature. No matter what paper you read at other times you should read the Lincoln State Journal during the legislature. It is printed at the state capital and devotes more space to legislative doings than all the other state dailies combined. The Journal has jumped away up in the lead, having the largest circulation in Nebraska. It is spending more money for news than its competitors. Col. Bixby is its daily poet. It also has Walt Mason, Wm. E. Annin, its Washington correspondent, serves up Washington stuff as no other correspondent employed by Nebraska papers has ever done it. Annin knows Nebraska people and Nebraska politicians like a book; his letters are a great feature. Stories are furnished by Conant (Doyle, R. Dwyer, Kipling) and a host of others who are regular contributors to the world's greatest magazines. The Journal's price has been cut to 50 cents per month, without Sunday, and 65 cents with Sunday. You should try it while. The Semi-Weekly Journal is only $1.00 per year, and is a great family paper, almost as good as a daily for a large class of people. The Journal's phenomenal growth is due largely to the reduction in price and the policy of attending to its own business, not presuming to be a dictator.
