County Correspondence.

Maxwell Molange.

W. C. Dolan spent last Saturday in North Platte.

Frank Martin went to Brady Island last Saturday.

George Snyder spent Friday in Brady Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Rayome of the Island drove to North Platte last Monday.

Mrs. Walter Layton of the Island visited in North Platte Monday and Tuesday.

James McCullough of the Island Sunday visited his parents in Maxwell.

Mrs. C. W. Horne is the guest of her parents Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Smith of North Platte this week.

A few young people went skating last Friday afternoon and report the ice to be "just splendid."

Mrs. S. Smith's baby boy, Herbert, is ill with the chicken pox this week.

Work on the south river bridge has been delayed several days because of the non arrival of a car load of lumber which is daily expected.

Mr. McNamara spent Saturday afternoon in North Platte.

Sore eyes seems to be an epidemic in Maxwell.

Mr. Ed. Johnson of Wild Horse valley attended our literary last Saturday night.

The singing school class will give a public musical entertainment in about two weeks from now.

St. Valentine has come and gone and Maxwell has no occasion to feel slighted, for he remained with us several days.

Don't fail to attend the dance supper given in honor of George Washington on 21st inst.

An "irrigation meeting" was held in Mr. Nugent's store last Saturday night, and consequently many of our debaters were missed from the literary society.

"Irrigation" is the principle topic of conversation at present, at least among the older people, while "skating" is continually talked of by "our wee ones."

At the last meeting of the literary society the number of persons present wasn't as large as usual, yet the house was crowded, many of the men having to stand up to give seats to their "aunts and mothers." In fact the number of ladies in attendance was somewhat larger than usual, several of the men being in attendance at the irrigation meeting in the store.

The question debated was "Resolved that Columbus deserved more praise for discovering America than Washington did for defending it." It was decided in favor of the affirmative. Music, instrumental and vocal, together with speeches, recitations and readings constituted the first part of the programme. There was also something new on the programme. This was "a whistling" by George Clark which was very amusing. "The paper" was read last week by Miss Mary Hanrahan. "Don't fail to hear the 'Harrangue' at the next meeting of the Literary. CLYDIE.

SUTHERLAND NEWS.

W. A. Paxton, of Omaha, was in this locality last week looking up his landed interests.

Mrs. Nora Gunnell, of Paxton, died on Wednesday, the 13th inst., and was buried on Friday at the Pleasant Hill cemetery. Deceased was a sister of Elmer Coates and Mrs. Frank Coker, of this village, who have the sympathy of the community in their bereavement.

David Hunter transacted business in Omaha last week and is still taking in the sights of that locality.

Mr. Weber, of North Platte, was on our streets Friday.

Quite a little sensation was created on Wednesday by the closing up of Z. J. Hostetter's general store by a chattel mortgage held by the North Platte National bank. Jud is a good fellow, and the citizens of this town are very sorry to see the clouds of misfortune gather around him, and trust that things will come his way later on and that his dark clouds may indeed have silver linings.

John H. Conway spent part of last week at the county seat looking up irrigation interests.

Grant Wagner is once more on his old stamping ground. He reports times very tight at Mead, Neb., and more grumbling than here indulged in by the citizens of that village.

The windy weather on Monday made it impossible to work on the irrigation ditches, as the dust was too thick for both man and beast.

G. A. Dahlstrom was up from Wahoo this week looking after E.

G. Burklund's interests. He reports things very quiet at that point.

The school treasurers along the railroad are this week making the parties happy who hold orders on their districts.

W. S. Coker was attending court on the Embree flour deal this week.

The income tax collector is favoring a few residents of our village with blanks to fill out, but the majority of us are sorry we don't have the $4,000 income, as it is more easy to pay the tax than to get the income.

John Coker was a county seat visitor on Tuesday.

Ed Stone is a citizen of this village now, having moved into the Dringman building. He is at work on the ditch north of town.

A party from North Platte was in town on Monday looking up a location for a restaurant. We want to see a good live hotel man come here and build, but no more restaurants are needed.

The donations sent here by Rev. Hath, of Grand Island, have been carefully distributed by the committee, and now the farmer who needs something to eat has to drive to North Platte or do without. It looks to the average citizen as if an honest man or woman could be found in this part of the county that would distribute the supplies which are sent to Lincoln county, and that not all of them need be kept for the benefit of North Platte and vicinity.

There is plenty of good buffalo sod along the Sutherland ditch that can be had free for one year for the breaking, and all the water needed. This is a good chance for farmers on the south side who want to farm their own land, as they can break a small tract of sod and be sure of a good crop.

Nichol Nugget.

Two loads of hay and one of straw passed from the valley over into the vicinity of Wellfleet Wednesday.

James White returned the fore part of the week from a business trip to Thayer county.

Mrs. Will Minny, who has been on the sick list for some time, is said to be on the mend at this writing.

We have been told lately that a number of persons in Hershey and vicinity who were opposed to the recent change in the postoffice at that place, are now leaving their mail with the depot agent who mails it on the train for them, thus depriving the postmistress of a certain amount of revenue. They are, however, willing to receive their mail at the office, thus causing her to wait upon them, but through meanness are not willing to recompense her in any way for so doing.

"Revenge is sweet" to some, no matter how executed.

It is now stated that B. R. Gibbens will not go to the Cherokee strip this spring as was stated.

The Tilford residence over on the ditch, with the most of its contents was consumed by fire Wednesday morning. There was a small insurance upon it.

The section gang was at the hub Tuesday afternoon to draw their monthly "aid" from the U. P.

Mrs. J. W. Prickett is reported as seriously ill at this writing.

The school at this place observed the 22d with a program consisting of songs, recitations etc. appropriate for the occasion.

S. B. McKee of the Platte brought several head of horses to his farm on Wednesday.

The new cabinet in the Hershey postoffice is decorated with a sign which creates considerable merriment.

N. B. Spurrier is caring for a couple of stray horses which he is quite certain belong over south-east.

A few from this community expect to take in the masquerade ball at Sutherland to-night.

Louis Toillion, we understand, is still manufacturing brooms at his home over on the ditch. Those in need of a good article in this line can undoubtedly procure it by calling on him.

All efforts to decoy C. S. Trovillo from his home on Monday evening so that those who were getting up the surprise upon him could get there during his absence, proved fruitless, as he was on to his job and staid with them until the crowd assembled, when he took a hand in the doings of the evening, and enjoyed himself to his heart's content.

Patterson & Alexander of the hub threshed their last season's crop of small grain upon their farm just west of this place Tuesday.

Three years ago president Harrison extended $25,000,000 per cent bonds at 2 per cent. But he did not limit the sale to English purchasers, you know. Suppose he had, and paid 3 1/2 per cent, how democrats would have howled!—Inter Ocean.

The United States coins more gold annually than any other country upon the globe. It led England by $12,000 in 1893-94. The new mines discovered and the incentives to dig gold will widen this margin and increase it. The American people only want to know what is wanted, and they go for it.

The Pennsylvania railroad is causing much talk by letting the contract for equipping a short branch line with electricity. The plan is to run passenger trains by the trolley, giving frequent service at high speeds and sending freight as of old by steam locomotives. Should the experiment prove a success on the line between Burlington and Mt. Holly, N. J., other branches will be equipped in the same way. Then the gradual substitution of electricity for steam on the whole system will come, of course, if it is found desirable. The two forces are given a chance now to show what they can do, and we may look for the survival of the fittest.

Some twenty years ago, says the Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Republican, a cowboy deposited $3,000 in a Council Bluffs national bank and went west to look after some cattle. While there he was killed, and all efforts to find his heirs, if he had any, have proven fruitless. After ten years, according to the law, such unclaimed money reverts to the state. Auditor McCarthy is now investigating the matter, and it is probable the state treasurer will receive quite a respectable sum from the original amount, to which will be added the accumulated interest.
