MINOR MENTION.

—Amelia P. Clark has been appointed postmistress at Garfield this county.

—Geo. G. McKay has moved to the John Hinman house on West Third street.

—The luncheon at the Cody residence Wednesday has been pronounced a delightful affair by those who attended.

—It is said the local builders are expecting a healthy revival of their business as soon as the weather opens favorable.

—H. I. Swarthout desires THE TRIBUNE to state that he is strictly in the grocery business, and is not a candidate for any office.

—It is said that 500 taxpayers attended the citizens convention at Grand Island which placed in nomination the non-partisan city ticket.

—The amateur gardener who mourned during the fine weather that he did not have his early garden "sassed" in the ground has ceased to regret.

—On Tuesday last R. H. Langford paid over to the officers of school district No. 73 the amount due the district on a deal made five or six years ago.

—A number of friends of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Cody assembled at the family residence Monday night and passed a pleasant evening in social amusements.

—With competitive bidding for medical attendance upon paupers will the remedies prescribed and the treatment administered be less potent than they should?

—E. J. Newton has sold about 170 copies of Coin's Financial School, which is evidence that the people are anxious to become acquainted with the silver question.

—A fellow well up in the work of the K. P. order has been fleeing a number of the members of the lodges in the eastern part of the state by pretending that he was a mute.

—Patriots who desire municipal or city office should lose no time in circulating their petitions, as the time is but brief to comply with the requirements of the ballot law now in effect.

—The eclipse of the moon Sunday night would have been considerably more satisfactory in this section had not the sky been overcast with clouds. The eclipse lasted about an hour and a half.

—The time for the resumption of the North Platte National bank expired on Tuesday, and the institution will now go through the regular course of liquidation in charge of the regularly appointed receiver.

—The fine snow falls of the past couple of days are rather a favorable indication of an abundance of moisture for the coming spring season. The great problem with many at present is how to procure the necessary seed to try and put in another crop.

—Rev. J. C. Irwin went to Hastings on Monday on business connected with the seed loan fund of the Presbyterian church. His business had no reference to a car load of corn, nor was it in any way connected with the relief committee of Lincoln county.

—A local concern is offering bicycles from $13 upward. Is it any surprise that horse breeders in this country say they are undone, and that the horse market is a. g. ? Yet if there were no patents allowed upon these machines a first class wheel could be very cheaply bought.

—A number of Kearney citizens have been very much exercised for the past few days on account of the proposed closing of the business houses there on next St. Patrick's day. Most of North Platte's citizens accepted the matter more philosophically and declared it to be all right.

—A number of persons who were unable to be present at the Presbyterian church last Sunday evening are desirous that Rev. Irwin publish his sermon upon that occasion. The columns of THE TRIBUNE are open for this purpose, and we can assure the reverend gentleman of a large and interested audience.

—From a letter received in this city by a friend Chas. W. Irish, of the Agricultural department is disposed to doubt the correctness of the old saw that "the rain falls upon the just as well as the unjust," as applicable to western Nebraska and Kansas. He states that for some months past he has been keeping a close watch of the humidity of this region.

—A TRIBUNE reader says the following gentlemen will be elected to the respective city offices: Mayor, D. W. Baker, clerk, C. F. Scharman; treasurer, John Sorenson; councilman Second ward, R. D. Thomson; councilman Third ward, W. H. Johnson; members Board of Education, Platt Gilman and Chas. Hendy; For councilmen in the First ward, the reader made no prediction.

—Seymour Stuff went to Gothenburg yesterday to instruct his dancing class.

—C. L. Adams will lead the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Sunday. All men are invited.

—The two "sun dogs" yesterday morning were more brilliant than any during the past winter.

—It is carpenter Judge Austin who is making the gable brackets for Sanford Hartman's residence.

—The fall of the beautiful snow Wednesday night caused many farmers to wish they had in a good crop of wheat for the coming season.

—Up to yesterday noon six seed solicitors had received proper credentials from the county officials to prosecute their work.

—The increased moisture is bringing large numbers of ducks and geese and a number of fine geese have recently been made.

—An invoice of flour, corn meal, beans, etc., was received at relief headquarters yesterday, part of which came from the state relief commission.

—It can be said without fear of contradiction that the ladies' special edition of the Curtis Enterprise was the most interesting number of that paper ever issued.

—Mr. and Mrs. Hans Johnson are feeling happy over the arrival at their home on Tuesday night of a bouncing ten-pound baby boy. THE TRIBUNE joins in wishing the youngster a long, happy and prosperous life.

—Talk about your county printing squabbles, the contest over the county doctor's this week discounted it. A couple of the bidders became so excited over the matter that they came near giving some other "sawbones" a professional job.

—Some new amendments have been interpolated in Senator Akers' irrigation bill whereby it becomes questionable if it is not the land in a proposed district which does the voting, and not the people thereof. If this is true non-resident land owners will often be able to prevent the construction of needed irrigation canals.

—The county commissioners this week purchased another wheel scraper for the use of the county. If there are no crops grown this year but few county roads will be required. The new machine goes into commissioner Hill's district in the southeast part of the county. Wallace populist patriots should put in their claims for a couple of these machines.

—The citizens of Grand Island have held a general meeting and nominated a city ticket without any politics, but composed of individuals who have solely at heart the welfare of the city. The movement could be profitably followed in almost every other city in Nebraska. Honesty and economy should be the watchwords of every municipal canvass in the state.

—What has become of that new depot for which requisition was made upon the Union Pacific company many months ago? With all the other towns along the system provided with suitable and appropriate structures, it seems as if North Platte was being neglected in this matter. The station building in this city is neither creditable to the city nor the company. Let's have a new building.

—At present the situation regarding the putting in of a full crop by the farmers of Lincoln county is a very grave one. With almost fifty counties in the state destitute of seed grain, and the legislature considering the advisability of only appropriating $4,000 to each county for this purpose, it is a condition and not a theory which confronts us. It is said that next week a car load of seed grain will be sent into this county by the Chicago Board of Trade, and that is all for which we can hope from this source. Through a misunderstanding of the amount of seed needed to plant the average acreage these latter gentlemen made a proposition which allayed the fears upon this matter, but the magnitude of which they had no comprehension. They should be credited, however, with their good intentions, even though they miscalculated the hugeness of their task. In the light of the present status of affairs, about the only practical solution of the difficulty is to get out as many individual solicitors in eastern communities as possible, and take advantage of the free billing given by the railroad companies for seed grain and feed. Although such a course is demoralizing to the dignity and independence of a community, yet it seems the only avenue left open to obtain the needed supplies. Let us hope that in the future, with the thousands of acres of land in Lincoln county which this year for the first time are being brought under irrigation, that the necessity for such a humiliating effort may be avoided.

PRIZE AD. NO. 2. SUICIDE!—"CUT HIS THROAT" with a diamond. So you see Clinton's diamonds are not only ornamental, but useful as well. A more complete line of jewelry has never been seen in this city before. And cheap—oh! my! why he's almost giving them away—just in order to have room for his coming stock. Come and see for yourself—it won't cost you a cent. "CLINTON, THE JEWELER."

PURELY PERSONAL. M. C. Keith went to Omaha on business this week. W. E. Dill made a visit to Omaha the first of this week. J. S. Hoagland has been in Lincoln on business this week. Ike Watts left this morning for the Iowa ranch near Corning. W. L. McGee, of Omaha, is shaking hands with friends in this city. R. L. Graves and Arthur McNamara go to Omaha to-morrow on a brief visit. Mrs. D. C. Congdon made a visit to Omaha this week returning yesterday morning. Col. Cody leaves about the 25th inst. for the east to get his show in readiness for the coming season. James Daly, a former employe of the boiler shops, has returned to North Platte and is working for Guy Laing. Roy Johnson returned this week from his visit to the Buckeye state. He was formerly employed by Kittell & VanNatta. A. S. Baldwin, H. M. Grimes and T. C. Patterson have been in Lincoln this week in the interests of irrigation legislation. C. S. Clinton went to Lincoln Tuesday night to attend a meeting of the state jeweler's association. He is expected home to-night. Mrs. John Owens and daughter Cassie, of Cheyenne, have been visiting the family of Lu Huck and other friends here the past week. Joe Grace left last night for Marion, Ind., where he has secured a situation. He says he will never, no never! go to Indianapolis while the Hoosier legislature is in session. Miss Lottie Kusterer, of Grand Rapids, Mich., is expected to arrive in a day or two for a visit with her sister, Mrs. C. S. Clinton. Miss Kusterer visited in North Platte several years ago. Thos. Hughes, Jr., and family have gone to Adams county, where they will reside on a farm owned by Thos. Hughes, Sr. The latter and his wife will spend the summer in North Platte. As soon as Geo. R. Hammond can dispose of his property interests in this city he will move to Houston, Tex., to take up his temporary residence there until such time as he decides upon another location in the south. Furnished rooms for rent. Inquire of DR. EVES. Married at the M. E. parsonage in this city on the 12th inst. Albert P. Beach to Amanda E. Johnson, Rev. Hardaway officiating. J. B. Brazelton, editor of the Signal, has been nominated for mayor of Fairmont. Here is a prediction that he will make the best executive the city has ever had. Some of the new society dances will be a feature of the B. of L. E. May party programme. Get yourself in shape to enjoy them as the delightful orchestra music will make them doubly so. W. H. Broach yesterday finished up some pictures descriptive of Lincoln county's "Big Four," which are to be circulated by Col. W. F. Cody during his tenting tour through the east and south. The Indiana legislature has adjourned amidst a great flourishing of revolvers and a series of hand to hand struggles which put to shame the proudest efforts of the Kansas or Nebraska populists. Grand Island has cut her municipal salaries $2664. by an ordinance recently adopted. In the face of this she has nominated as good a man for the position of mayor as ever graced the office. Further comment is unnecessary. Col. Cody is having a very handsome stand of bills that he will use the coming season, put up on the south side of B. I. Hinman's building on Spruce street. If the Colonel makes a California tour he should stop in North Platte and we would evidence our loyalty to the Wild West by a huge patronage. The Nebraska legislators are wrestling with the problem of the abolition of capital punishment. A few years ago Iowa abolished the death penalty, and within eighteen months our fair neighbor state had a record of eleven lynchings. A succeeding legislature promptly repealed this evidence of mawkish sentimentality.

RAILWAY RESUME. Engine 693 is receiving a new coat of paint this week. Engine 905 passed through this city yesterday on her way to the Wyoming division. Late passenger trains from the west have been of frequent occurrence the past few days. Jacob Smith temporarily has the 649 while some light repairs are being made upon the 816. Fireman C. F. Davis left Wednesday night for a month's visit with his children and other relatives in Kansas. Engineer W. J. Stuart was again compelled to lay-off this week on account of his quinsy, and D. C. Congdon took his place. The 1009 one of the "tramp" engines going west came in this afternoon. The 971, another of the same class, is expected here to-morrow. After an idleness of several weeks the big pump in the round-house has been repaired and put in operation, and is now throwing a deluge of water. Large numbers of empty stock cars are going west these days, which is an indication that the stock has not all been shipped out of that part of the country. Fireman Chas. Eddy arrived in this city Wednesday night from his month's visit in Wisconsin, and left last night for Laramie, Wyo., to again re-enter the service of the company. Business on the road continues good for the season of the year, although engineers would think it much better if there were not so many engines being sent from the eastern branches to the O. S. L. D. R. Munro, a machinist who has made North Platte his home since the closing of the Shoshone shops last fall, left this morning for a visit to New York. He expects to return to this city ere long. The cast bound flyer this noon, says Jack Sullivan, the engineer, carried the Prince and Princess of India through the city, as also the Empress of Austria, all being on the way to Washington. Mr. Sullivan says the Prince tried the experiment of riding in the cab, but found it much too breezy.—Grand Island Independent.

Engineers running out of this city have received a bulletin intimation from Omaha requesting them to "hammer 'em" when pulling trains 17 and 19 as the transportation department insists that they are almost as important as passenger trains. When they are late engineers are requested to make up as much time as possible. This order will probably develop a number of "knockers," yet it "all has to come out of the fire-boy's hide." C. F. Iddings has been in Ohio and Washington, D. C., in the interests of the North Platte National bank. A couple of local sportsmen are going out amidst the snow-covered hills south of town this afternoon, enrobed in night-caps and gowns, in pursuit of the festive wild goose. Marvin Dickinson sustained a severely cut wrist one night the first of the week, as the result of a little friendly scuffle at the Nebraska house, wherein he came in contact with a sharp knife. About seventy-five friends of Col. Cody were handsomely entertained at the residence of B. I. Hinman on Tuesday evening, as per previous notice in this paper. Those present unite in reporting an unusually pleasant time. There will be a sociable given at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. L. Peterson on next Tuesday evening, March 19th, by the Lutheran ladies, to which the public is cordially invited. The refreshments will consist of coffee, sandwiches, cake and icecream. Yesterday Miss Mamie Watts received through the Newton agency what is pronounced by experts to be the handsomest lady's bicycle ever brought to this city. It is of the 1895 series, No. 41, and weighs twenty pounds when stripped for service; when fully equipped with all the attachments it weighs one pound more. Mr. Newton has now on the way a similar machine for Miss Jennie White, and also one of the gentlemen's series for 1895 for Jas. B. McDonald.

The Nebraska legislature yesterday afternoon got into a wrangle over an irrigation bill, and would not do a thing until they telegraphed for our own and only I. A. Fort to unravel the snarl. Mr. Fort left on the midnight train last night for the scene of action. In time to come some local poet may embellish the event in history in lines as stirring as "Sheridan's Ride." Willis Record and Reuben Elsworth came in Tuesday morning from Blue Creek, where they have been looking over John Bratt's Blue Creek ditch survey with a view to taking a contract to build about eight miles. These gentlemen have been at ditch work in Lincoln county all winter. They will probably begin work on the Bratt ditch in the near future. Other men have been at work on this ditch all winter.—Keith County News.

Here is the kind of advertising in which the people of Nebraska should indulge for the next couple of years. In a recent interview in Lincoln, Congressman Hainer, of Aurora, who is well known to many North Platte people, said, "In 1891 we raised and sent out to the east to feed other people seventy bushels of grain for every man, woman and child in the state. For the last ten years we have raised and sent away to feed other people 200 fat hogs every hour. Our surplus wheat averages 7,000,000 to 8,000,000 bushels per year. In the dairy interest, which is the largest single agricultural interest in the United States, figured in dollars and cents, we are rapidly developing up to the average of other states and will in a very few years reach the average mark. It should be kept before the world that Nebraska is one of the states naturally adapted to the cultivation of the sugar beet. If this industry is properly developed Nebraska can supply one-quarter of the present population of the United States with sugar. The production of sugar beets made Germany, once the poorest state in Saxony, among the richest—converted a waste into a garden, poverty into affluence. Nebraska soil is better adapted to this industry than is Saxony, as is proven by the increased percentage of saccharine matter contained in the Nebraska beet. There are many truths that may be told of Nebraska that will stand out like letters of gold to redeem our reputation if they are only compiled intelligently and sent out where they will do the most good. It is easy to talk back and defend your state when you have figures to defend it with. I hope the legislature will not lose sight of the immigration question before the session closes."
