EVENING WORLD FORUM TEACHES "NEW LIBERTY"

Best Americanization Meeting Yet Held Packs Big School Auditorium.

MANY RACES ARE THERE.

Judges Crain and Wadhams Preach Citizenship to the Would-Be Americans.

Old World, old ideas, old motives of inspiration, farewell! This is the Fatherland now and forever! Here is the new Liberty and the only genuine interpretation of what Liberty means for all mankind—these were the thoughts clothed in simple language which thrilled last night at Public School No. 70, in East Seventy-fifth Street, the most varied audience, racially, that has so far attended the Americanization meetings of The Evening World Forum. No audience has seemed quite so eager to drink in the new truths as this one; and in this instance the truths were eloquently set forth by Judges T. C. T. Crain and W. H. Wadhams of the Court of General Sessions. It was made up of Germans, Bohemians, Hungarians, Slavs, Japanese and Italians, all young men and young women, with here and there a clergyman of one or the other of these races.

They packed the auditorium of the school so tightly that there was scarcely room for another mental, and they walked up three long flights of stairs to hear the new message of what the American citizenship of the future means to every man, woman and child sheltered under the fold of the Stars and Stripes. They ended in making applications for admission to the citizenship class of the Evening School under the direction of Principal Samuel Friedman.

THE NEW GOSPEL OF LIBERTY PROMULGATED.

Intended primarily to be an Americanization meeting, it was, in fact, one that would inspire any man who really loves his country and the fathers of his country. Judge Wadhams began the speech-making promptly at half past eight, after the audience had sung with pathos "The Star-Spangled Banner."

"Ladies and gentlemen," the Judge began, "this is the kind of a movement I like. And I thank The Evening World for giving me an opportunity to help it in bringing the new Gospel of Liberty to those who have long been with us, but who may have been just a little bit indifferent about uniting themselves wholly and freely with this, their country and my country, in its aspirations and its ideals. There has never been any doubt in my mind about what we might expect from the foreign-born, even when some of them seemed a bit negligent in the matter of applying for citizenship.

"Your presence here is an indication of your intentions, of your desire to become associated with the very soul of this Republic. You could not have come from any other motive. You know what this flag of ours means; you know or will soon learn what our history is and what a large part the sons of immigrants, your ancestors, have had in the shaping of the things that history made. You have heard, probably often, the meaning of the Declaration of Independence. All these should be, and I have no doubt will be, an inspiration to all of you.

"In this varied audience, varied racially, there are men and women who feel just as I do, I believe, about our country, and I believe, too, that they will be found with the native-born, serving the flag, loyally and unselfishly in the time of need. These are troublous times, times when we need to show a united front to all the world, times when all Americans of all political parties must gather around President Wilson and give him the support Americanism demands.

"The sons of immigrants built up this Republic. You who have come here and are stamped with our sovereignty learn now to rise to the full duty of American citizenship. The utilization of our public schools for a movement such as this is the best kind of utilization. The promotion of Forums such as The Evening World's is the timely kind of patriotism never more needed than now."

THIS THE TIME TO RENOUNCE OLD ALLEGIANCES.

"I have said that this country of ours is in troublous times. These are the times for men and women to think and think hard, to study and to think, then to act. And that action should end in a complete renunciation of old allegiances and a free and whole-hearted acceptance of the new—this this country offers to all who come with right minds and right hearts.

"You have heard of real of the recent document by President Wilson, in which he defined everything worth defining in the Americanism we proclaim. That was the greatest state paper ever issued. It was a New Declaration of Constitutional Liberty, founded on the very foundations of the Declaration of Independence. And if this country must go to war, if war comes, it will not be a war of conquest nor a war of aggression, but it will be a war to satisfy a desire for vindication of our rights—not that so much as to bring about a greater and a permanent international peace, based on the new ideas of liberty founded on the doctrines of liberty as expressed by our President."

Judge Wadhams uttered these words with an eloquence that roused the audience to sincere enthusiasm. He was cheered for two minutes by Germans, Bohemians, Japanese, Slavs, Austrians and Hungarians. He had spoken for a little over three-quarters of an hour—and he showed his interest in the Americanization movement by remaining to the end of the meeting.

ANOTHER JUDGE AN ENTHUSIASTIC CITIZENSHIP ADVOCATE.

Judge Crain was the next speaker—a Judge Crain who has lost none of the energy and enthusiasm of the old days. He paid a pretty compliment to his colleague, pronounced his speech a noteworthy one, then proceeded:

"I have often felt," said the Judge, speaking slowly and with intense earnestness, "that a lot of people who have enjoyed all the benefits of our free institutions, all the opportunities for advancement under the flag, have been thoughtless or indifferent about the important thing of complete union with this country through citizenship. I don't think for a moment that there has been any other motive. So many have been occupied with the struggle of life, the obligations of family and other pressing requirements, that they have forgotten to take the formal step to place them in the catalogue of those who claim American citizenship. I have seen and known such men. But the time is here and with us when men should declare themselves. Every man feels it his duty, I take it, to be with and part of the Government which affords him protection.

"The step, after all, is an easy one. It is within reach of every man who desires to take it. Men owe it to themselves and to their families and to the country in which they expect to continue to live to become citizens. America wants you, it expects you, it trusts you, it welcomes you under the sheltering folds of its flag. Stand by it. Be with it now and always."

The meeting was well managed. There was not a minute in which there wasn't something happening. Abram Silverman presided and presided well enough to receive the praise of the two Judges. The Yorkville Military Band and orchestra, under Joseph S. Krinks, furnished the music. Willie Pierce sang "America, I Love You," and Sam Jaffe of the Washington Players entertained with several sketches.

Announcement was made by Principal Friedman of the Evening High School that citizenship classes would begin in Public School No. 70 next Monday night. Many signed application blanks. Harry H. Schlacht closed the meeting with an announcement that County Clerk Schneider would furnish all applicants for citizenship with cards directing them to the nearest citizenship class.

RAIL AND EXPRESS JOBS OFFERED TO GUARDSMEN

Wells Fargo Company Has Places for Sixty, but Officers Say Most Men Are Employed.

Officers of the Twelfth Regiment, National Guard, which returned from Texas on Tuesday, received word today from the Wells-Fargo Company that there are sixty good jobs waiting for unemployed Guardsmen. Capt. James T. Lorey of the Division Quartermaster's Department announced yesterday that the Delaware and Hudson Railroad of which he is general manager, was prepared to take care of jobless Sixty-ninth and Twelfth Regiment soldiers. It was said at Division Headquarters today that most of the jobs will go begging because all the returned soldiers found employment awaiting them.

Capt. Joseph W. Farrell of the Quartermaster's Corps at Division Headquarters will open a school tonight for the instruction of soldiers in quartermaster work. The class, which will be conducted every Thursday night, now has a membership of fifty-three. There will be drills in the manual of arms in the corridor outside Division Headquarters on the eighth floor of the Municipal Building. They will be followed by lectures. Tomorrow's lecture will be given by Col. Olmsted, Assistant Chief of Staff under Major Gen. O'Ryan.

Begin To Purify Your Winter-Blood

Grandmother's Old-Fashioned Sulphur and Molasses Did It.

But Not So Well As This Sulphur Tablet—Sugar Coated.

Through the winter the blood accumulates poisons because you do not perspire enough, because you do not live in the open air, and because you eat more meat, mush and other rich foods. Every spring we feel sluggish, constipated, liver and kidney ills beset us, colds and chronic coughs, pimples, boils and carbuncles, all evidence of impure, thick, sluggish blood.

Sulphur Tablets (not sulphur tablets) are composed of extracts of roots and herbs, combined with sulphur and cream of tartar—and no better physic, blood tonic and blood cleanser has ever been developed. Every spring thousands who already know their value take them to purify the system of Winter Poisons. Now is the time to begin, so you won't be attacked by serious ailments when Spring and Summer come. Sold by all druggists 50c per sealed tube with full directions.—Adv.
