LONDON AND PARIS BOTH REPORT GAINS OVER THE GERMANS

cant's registration card to the Provost Marshal General, with a short statement of his desire to leave the United States and accepting the conditions imposed.

Upon receipt of the application the War Department will consider the case and notify the applicant as to what action has been taken.

Another rigid rule promulgated requires persons at sea or outside the country to register within five days after reaching the first United States port.

CATCHES THOSE SLACKERS WHO FLED TO CANADA.

The regulation further provides that Americans who have been unable to register on account of residence abroad must make out affidavit stating the cause of their absence when they register on return to America. This catches all those who have already fled to Canada, Cuba, Mexico and elsewhere. Liability of military service will hang over them whenever they attempt to come back, together with its jail penalties.

No provision has been made by the Government for registration of Americans outside the boundaries of the United States, excepting those in Alaska, Hawaii and Porto Rico, but the rule is laid down that inability to register does not afford a permanent excuse. Whenever the absentees return home they must register within five days.

The penalty for violation of the law and these regulations is a year in prison and being made subject to draft at the same time.

Attorney General Gregory to-day urged the formation of vigilance committees in all cities and towns of the United States to assist the Government in putting down anti-conscription agitation and enforcing the Registration law next Tuesday. He said:

"The Department of Justice has been greatly aided in several instances by volunteer organizations in cities and towns which have compiled records and hold them available for the Department's use and have also furnished valuable information to its agents. Assistance of the sort referred to is of great value and will be gladly received.

"I urge patriotic men in every section of the country to perfect organizations which will see to the registration of all names in their communities, preserving notes showing the personal sympathies and activities of individuals."

Canadian Authorities Are on Watch for U. S. Slackers.

DETROIT, Mich., June 1.—Canadian officials at Windsor, Ont., across the river from Detroit, are co-operating with American Government agents and Detroit officers to prevent persons of military age from leaving the United States to avoid conscription. It was announced here to-day that Park Helsey and Carl Helsey, brothers, of Toledo, were arrested in the railroad yards at Windsor, Ont. They told the Dominion officers, it is alleged, that they fled from Detroit and crossed the river in a rowboat. They were returned to this city by the Immigration authorities.

Two More Anti-Draft Suspects Arrested To-Day.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., June 1.—Isom Elkins and "Babe" Means, young farmers, were arrested to-day by Deputy United States Marshals at Davis Creek, W. Va., and brought here charged with distributing seditious literature tending to discourage military registration. They were held for a hearing before the Federal Commissioner.

Emma Goldman May be Prosecuted in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, June 1.—The Department of Justice may prosecute Emma Goldman. Federal agents are to-day examining the stenographic notes taken at the meeting here last night when the anarchist leader made a speech against conscription. The police stopped the meeting. In her speech Miss Goldman appealed to the mothers of the nation "to band together and refuse to allow their sons to be taken to the slaughter."

Any Man or Young Man who has $20 to invest in a Suit will make a big mistake if he doesn't see those we are selling at that price before he spends his money elsewhere. There never was a more striking example of our GREATER VALUE-GIVING than these hand tailored suits at $20.

Many months ago, when plenty of dependable deep blue dye was still to be had, and before fabric prices went sky-high, we bought thousands of yards of fast-color woolens, which our custom shops have made up in accordance with the latest style ideas of New York's leading Fifth Ave. tailors. Under present high market conditions, we could not duplicate these Suits to sell for less than $30. That means a guaranteed saving of Ten Dollars

HOUSE ACCEPTS REPORT OF WAR BUDGET CONFEREES

Council of National Defence Is Scored for Its Methods in Letting Contracts.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The conference report on the $3,000,000,000 war budget was accepted to-day by the House, but not until after the Council of National Defense and its manner of letting public contracts had come in for more discussion.

Republican Leader Mann declared he understood the requirement of competitive bidding had been waived in some cases and he warned the House that such a policy gave opportunity for corruption.

Representative Madden declared that in buying cots for the army the Council had declined the offer of a manufacturer and continued to deal with a jobber.

Chairman Fitzgerald of the Appropriations Committee defended the Council.

As the House adopted the report, however, it did not include the disputed amendments, and another attempt was made at compromise. The amendments include the $750,000,000 shipbuilding appropriation.

NEW BRITISH GAINS REPORTED BY HAIG AT FOUR POINTS

Third Line of the German Trenches Reached Near Loos, Say Despatches from Front.

LONDON, June 1.—British forces inched forward in a number of successful local engagements last night, Field Marshal Haig reported to-day.

"We gained ground slightly at night to the west of Cherisy," he said. "Elsewhere patrol encounters, which resulted in our favor, occurred during the night in the neighborhood of Gouzeaucourt. Successful raids were carried out northeast of Loos and near the Ploegsteert Wood."

WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES IN THE FIELD, June 1.—British forces reached a third line German trench in a night raid near Loos early this morning.

West of Cherisy another raiding party stormed and occupied two enemy posts. At the moment this is dispatched they were tenaciously holding this position, despite counter-attacks.

Besides these two local engagements there was a stiff fight for a time during the night when a British raiding party in the Scarpe Valley met a strong German patrol force.

Early to-day there was more than usual aerial activity. British airmen declare further investigation reveals the increasing fragility of the German fighting planes. The Germans are apparently in such a hurry to get machines to the front to replace the great number shot down by Allied aviators and to combat the complete aerial espionage of French and British flyers that they are sacrificing stability and safety in the planes.

Berlin Gives Out the Usual Claim of Repulsing Attacks.

BERLIN (via London), June 1.—Repulse of various scattered British attacks was announced in to-day's War Office statement.

"In the regions of the dunes on the coast to the Ypres Bend and Wytschaete, the enemy attacked at various places and was repulsed in hand to hand fighting," the statement said. "At Hulluch, Cherisy and Fontaine English attacks were repulsed."

BOSTON, June 1.—The Governing Committee of the Boston Stock Exchange to-day voted to close June 5, Draft Registration Day.

FRENCH CAPTURE GERMAN POSITION; REPULSE ATTACKS

Fifteen Hundred Germans Slain in One Series of Battered Shelters.

PARIS, June 1.—French troops last night captured a German post south of Chevreux, taking a number of prisoners, the War Office announces. Raids by Germans and an attack on the Casque were repulsed.

In the course of a recent raid in the range of hills and the woods south of Chevreux, says a despatch from the front, a small body of French infantry advanced in order to straighten the line, severe artillery preparations having preceded the assault. The infantry gained the objective and took some prisoners in addition to killing a number of Germans. Later it was discovered French shells had battered the German shelters so thoroughly that six full German companies (about 1,500 men) crouching in the shelters while awaiting an opportunity for a counter-attack, had been killed to the last man. The place was a shambles. The total French loss in this affair amounted to only 27 men killed or wounded.

Between April 15 and May 24 the number of German prisoners falling into French hands reached a total of 21,829, of whom 28,045 were unwounded. This period covers three phases of the general attack, now temporarily abated, which the French undoubtedly will continue when the proper moment arrives.

Added to the total of enemy troops captured by the British and Italians, headquarters estimated to-day that more than 75,000 prisoners have been taken in the three great offensives on the western fronts.

The French now possess the initiative and occupy many more important positions than when they began the forward movement in April. Artillery duels continue unceasingly at all points on the front, occasionally intermingled with local infantry combats in the course of which short stretches of trench sometimes change hands.

The Germans are showing great nervousness as to what is about to happen, and the slightest movement in the French lines calls forth a hurricane of artillery and machine gun fire.

Close observation by the correspondent of the whole fighting front from Soissons to Auberive shows clearly that the French casualties are much lower than the German. As the French, despite all difficulties of ground, everywhere gained and held the objectives aimed at, they are in a good position to establish what the enemy's losses were.

KAISER IS BITTER IN ATTACKS ON U. S.

Includes Vilification of Americans With That of British in Speech at Front.

WITH THE BRITISH FORCES IN THE FIELD, June 1.—Kaiser Wilhelm is now pouring out the vials of his wrath on the United States.

COLDEST MAY IN 46 YEARS.

With But Three Clear Days, It Was Also the Cloudiest.

By way of corroborating what has long been an open secret, the Weather Bureau announced to-day that the month of May was the coldest in the forty-six years' history of the Bureau. It was also the cloudiest May in that long period, there being but three clear days in the month. In 1882 May's mean low temperature was 53.50, a record which was lowered last month when the mean—to put it mildly—temperature was 50.

June took up the bad work where May left off, starting in to-day with a heavy rainstorm and a temperature that made light overcoats feel comfortable.

GAINS OF ITALIANS HELD AGAINST ALL AUSTRIAN ATTACKS

Rome Estimates Losses of the Enemy Since May 14 at 300,000.

ROME, June 1.—A massed counter-attack thrown in force against the newly won Italian positions on Heights 592 and 652 in the Vodice sector north of Gorizia was thrown back and completely repulsed, the Italian War Office asserted to-day. Heavy losses were inflicted on the enemy.

In the northern Carso and around Gorizia considerable fighting activity was reported.

Italy's great offensive has cost the Austrians 300,000 in killed, wounded and missing since May 14, according to conservative estimates to-day. The Italians are now consolidating, reinforcing their lines with new troops and fortifying positions, but continue to inflict frightful losses on the enemy by repelling countless counter attacks.

From semi-official sources these instances were obtained today, illustrating the tremendous losses of the enemy's forces:

On May 19, four divisions (approximately 60,000 troops) which vainly defended positions between Auzza and Frigido were practically wiped out.

On the next day two desperate attempts to recapture Allingort Mont, positions in the Vodice sector and around Massif cost the Austrians at least three full regiments (nearly 15,000 men).

Despatches from the front to-day declared these losses and the incessant pounding of Italian and British guns had achieved a telling effect on the enemy. Prisoners told of exhausted regiments and loss of morale.

Gen. Cadorna called a halt in his advance to-day to permit bringing up of new supplies and preparations for further attacks. It was stated that the Italians now hope to take Trieste with the smallest amount of destruction possible to that historic city. The guns of Allied warships in the Gulf will not be directed on the city if it is possible to avoid it.

Reports received to-day declared that the continued Italian successes had created vast depression in Bohemia, where there have been numerous food riots and demonstrations against the Dual Monarchy's grip.

MAY LOSSES TO U BOATS REACH THE LOW RECORD

British Food Director Says This Is Due to Destruction of Submarines.

LONDON, June 1.—"The May shipping losses were the lightest so far in the submarine war, due to the fact that the British are destroying more submarines than ever before," Kennedy Jones, Food Director, declared to-day.

"The Germans," he added, "are meeting this with a similarly increased output of U boats.

"England has a reserve supply of cereals sufficient for twelve weeks, but it is uncertain whether this will be maintained until the harvest time. If it falls below seven weeks' supply, local famines will result."

Great Britain's losses in cereal ships has been only 6 per cent., said Mr. Jones.

FIRST CALL TO COLORS OF DRAFT ARMY SEPT. 5

In the Meantime Strenuous Work Is Being Done to Equip and Prepare Troops for Service.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The first actual conscription of America's citizen soldiery will probably be Sept. 5.

It is believed it will take all the intervening time to prepare supplies, proper housing and other equipment for the first 500,000 young men who will be selected to serve their country in the armed force.

There has been much complaint over alleged delay by the Government in getting a big army into the field. One official said to-day, in answer to the criticism: "It is only American ingenuity that enables us to be ready by Sept. 5."

Every step is being taken with deliberation and care in order to reduce to the minimum the possibility of mistakes. The Administration officials say it is not the Government's purpose to get thousands of young men into camp without means to properly care for and equip them for service.

As soon as the groundwork is complete American speed and thoroughness will begin to show itself in rapid consummation of the work it faces. Meantime, it is asserted, a tremendous amount more than shows on the surface now is being accomplished.
