What You Should Know About Your Auto; How To Drive and Keep It

Expert Advice How to Keep Automobiles Running Smoothly and the Best Way to Remedy Machine Trouble—Traffic Suggestions and Pleasure Routes for Evening World Readers.

By GEORGE H. ROBERTSON.

STERNER measures by the Board of Magistrates and more efficient work by the police will not tend to greatly reduce the alarming number of street accidents unless the drivers of motor machines exercise more caution. The recklessness of chauffeurs is mainly responsible for the increasing list of street casualties. Speeding around corners and crowding up into barred zones near stationary street cars—these are common faults that result in many accidents.

GEORGE ROBERTSON

It should be voluntary with drivers to use more caution when travelling through the crowded city thoroughfares. A moderate amount of common sense on the part of chauffeurs will greatly lessen the dangers of New York streets.

I have a 1916 National. When shifting from second to high it sticks in the neutral. Can you advise a remedy for this?

I have a knock in the motor, which is very bad. I scraped carbon, looked over the motor and yet I cannot locate the knock. Kindly advise me where to look for the knock, also a remedy. O. M.

I cannot answer this unless you give me a more detailed account of the trouble that you have.

Try the main connecting rod and wrist pin bearings. If any of these are loose you will hear a "knock."

Automobile Editor:

I have a Hub 20, and I believe it is a 1911 model. In reassembling motor I find I cannot get the same action as to speed, owing to the fact that I must be wrong on setting magneto. The flywheel is in front of the engine and is marked, but owing to having a set spark I have not got the correct time. The engine fires 1-2-3-4 on the magneto, which is a Bosch No. 1. On the distributor gear I notice the letters R and L. Please give me the valve and magneto time. J. H.

The magneto setting should be stamped on the flywheel. Call up the Hupmobile Service Station and they will give you the desired information.

Automobile Editor:

I am sixteen years old and would like to know whether it is possible to get a New Jersey automobile license? T. J.

If as chauffeur, no; as operator, yes.

Automobile Editor:

(1) Did Ford ever make a six-cylinder car?

(2) Where can I write and get the auto rules and regulations for the City of New York? Is there any charge for same?

(3) I am seventeen years old. Is there any way that I can drive my father's car? I have heard that if he goes behind a bond it is permitted. H. B.

(1) Yes. In 1906, Models K and V; in 1907-08, Model K.

(2) Office of the Secretary of State, Seventy-fourth Street and Broadway, New York City. There is no charge.

(3) You may drive your father's car when accompanied by a duly licensed chauffeur or by your father. There is no bond required.

Automobile Editor:

Where was the Mercedes car built? Why was it named Mercedes? P. W.

The Mercedes car was built in Marienfeld, Cannstadt and in Unterturkheim, in Germany, in the order named.

I do not know why it was named "Mercedes." As I understand it, this name was the name of the daughter of Jellinek, one of the founders and officials of the Mercedes Company.

Automobile Editor:

On a Ford car with demountable rims and 30x3½ tires on front wheel, is it a fact that the car covers more mileage than shown on a speedometer than if the original tires 30x3 were on? H. S.

No. The diameter of a 30x3 tire is the same as that of a 30x3½.

J. O'LEARY IS OUT FOR MAYORALTY ON FREE SPEECH ISSUE

John T. Moore, of Friends of Irish Freedom, on Ticket; Candidate for Comptroller.

The coming municipal campaign promises to be complicated still further by the entrance into the fight of Jeremiah A. O'Leary as a candidate for Mayor on a Free Speech ticket. Arrangements are under way to nominate Mr. O'Leary by petition and also to nominate in the same way for the office of Comptroller John T. Moore, of the Friends of Irish Freedom.

The news that Mr. O'Leary contemplates entering the municipal campaign explains the otherwise cryptic passage in his letter to Mayor Mitchel which was made public in the morning newspapers to-day. Mr. O'Leary says to Mayor Mitchel in the passage referred to:

"We will appeal to the people in the coming municipal campaign if our constitutional rights are violated either by the police, by Magistrates or by you."

The candidacy of Mr. O'Leary is more or less contingent on developments in the near future. For instance, if Mr. Hearst should decide to run, the O'Leary outfit, around which is grouped the various pacifist and anti-war and pro-German organizations of the city, would probably rally to the support of Hearst. But with Mr. Hearst out of the race and Judge Hylan standing on a platform of backing the President—which he would have to do—they would enter the O'Leary.

A meeting to promote plans for the nomination of Mr. O'Leary and Mr. Moore was held last Monday, but considerable dissension developed, most of those present being Irish. However, it is understood that a majority favored nominating Mr. O'Leary and Mr. Moore and putting a whole city ticket in the field if strength enough and—incidentally—money enough could be procured to carry the movement to a finish.

As for money, there appears to be a plentiful supply in the war chests of the Friends of Irish Freedom, the Constitutionalists and the pacifist and anti-war societies affiliated with those two. The campaign plan is to spread the idea that the municipal and Federal authorities are trampling free speech under foot.

Friends of Mr. O'Leary say another meeting, larger than that of last Sunday is to be held to-morrow and that committee reports will be heard. The place of meeting is known only to those in the inner circle, but the Murray Hill Hotel, the Park Avenue Hotel and a hall used by Irish societies somewhere in East Fifty-ninth Street have been mentioned.

Judge Hylan is out of the city and failed to issue his usual statement today. Chief Murphy has gone to Good Ground and William Randolph Hearst remains silent in San Francisco.

POLLO'S POLITICAL WALKS AND TALKS WITH UNCLE CHARLEY.

"I want to see the City Hall," said Pollo to Uncle Charley as the young Brooklyn candidate was taken further along in the Manhattan tour by his political mentor.

"We are on our way down there now," said Uncle Charley, "and as we go we will pass through the Bowery. You may learn much from the Bowery and its history. Once I started on the way to the City Hall with Eddie McCall, another boy who had the same ambitions that you are having now. But he stubbed his toe before he got to Cooper Union and he is squalling yet."

"Who are these Sullivans of the Bowery that called you all those names for being so good to me?" asked Rollo.

"Oh, don't mind them," said Uncle Charley. "They are only a few soreheads that were so used to city jobs they couldn't stay long without them. The bunch that is left don't count. There was once a fellow named "Big Tim." I must admit he often made your Uncle Charley sit up and take notice."

"But what is this place Delmonico's they talk about, where your feet sink two inches deep in the carpet? Won't you take me there, Uncle Charley?" persisted Rollo.

"Oh, yes," said Uncle Charley, "when you are really one of us. But you will have to be one of the BIG THREE or BIG FOUR or whatever the number happens to be. You are far from being in that class yet."

"What do the big three or four do?" asked Rollo.

"They will see that you stay put," said Uncle Charley.

"But these Sullivans talk about an 'insider.' What is an 'insider'? Am I one?" asked Rollo.

"No, you're very much of an 'outsider,'" said Uncle Charley, "and that is one of my troubles."

"What can you learn from the Bowery?" asked Rollo.

"Oh," said Uncle Charley, "such games as straddle and double cross and playing both ends against the middle."

"What are they? Can I learn them soon?" asked Rollo with new interest.

"There is no use in telling you about them," confided Uncle Charley. "Those are games you may only learn from experience, and a whole lot of it at that."

"What are these gorillas of the Bowery that I hear so much about?" asked Rollo. "Are they wild animals?"

"Not when you feed them with the long green stuff," said Uncle Charley. "Then they eat out of your hand—you must have your hand behind your back."

"Can you train them?" asked Rollo.

"Just wait until Election Day and you'll see," replied Uncle Charley, and they journeyed on toward the City Hall.

WOMAN NEGRO INSULTED GETS PRAISE IN COURT

Magistrate Commends Mrs. Street for Prosecuting Man Caught by Sailors.

Mrs. Gertrude Street of No. 549 Academy Street was warmly praised by Magistrate Blau in the West Side Court to-day for her courage in appearing against a negro who had insulted her. As a result of Mrs. Street's testimony, the negro, Banks Reed, No. 334 West Fifty-third Street, was sentenced to three months in the workhouse.

"Your attitude is commendable," the Magistrate said to Mrs. Street, "and if it were adopted by all women there would be fewer insults offered by despicable men."

"Thank you, Judge—you're a white man," said Mrs. Street.

As Mrs. Street came out of the Fifth Street subway station yesterday she was accosted by Reed, who was standing in a doorway. She screamed for help. Eight sailors and a policeman pursued Reed and cornered him on a roof. The sailors wanted to throw him off, but the policeman protected him. Mrs. Street said Reed had drawn a knife and menaced her with it.

PAPER BOX FACTORY FIRE DRIVES SCORES TO STREET

Police and Volunteers Rescue Seven Persons and Empty Neighboring Tenement.

An obstinate blaze early to-day in the three-story building at Nos. 108-110 West Sixteenth Street, occupied on the ground floor by the City Central Paper Box Company, kept firemen busy for several hours, drove many nearby tenants from their homes and necessitated the rescue of seven persons, two of them small children who had to be attended at New York Hospital.

The fire was spurting 100 feet through a rear skylight when discovered by a policeman. Policeman John Anderson of the West Twentieth Street Station gave the alarm and, with several volunteers, broke in the door leading to the second floor apartments of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Spady. The Spadys, only partially conscious, were carried out with their children, five months and eighteen months old. On the third floor, also semi-conscious, were found Mme. Arbertin, her twenty-year-old son George, and Miss Jennie Gola.

Between the burning building and the tenement at Nos. 111-115 West Fifteenth Street is a third structure, occupied by sixteen families. All were driven out.

PICKED TO HEAD HEALTH DEPARTMENT IN BROOKLYN

Office of Assistant Sanitary Superintendent, With Increased Salary, Offered to Dr. Krause.

Health Commissioner Haven Emerson announced to-day that he would offer the office of Assistant Sanitary Superintendent of Brooklyn to Dr. Benjamin B. Krause, who is at present at the head of the Health Department work in that borough and has received the highest percentage in the civil service examination for the new post. It is understood that the salary for the place will be raised from $3,500 to $5,000 a year by the Board of Estimate.

The position of Assistant Sanitary Superintendent is considered next in importance to that of Health Commissioner. If Dr. Krause accepts he will be head of the entire city department during the absence of Dr. Emerson from the city. He would be Deputy Commissioner without the actual title.

The recognition of Brooklyn and the decision to pay its health officer $5,000 a year instead of $3,500 is a result of the infantile paralysis epidemic which had its origin in that borough last summer.

Bail Denied Mrs. Mooney.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25.—Mrs. Rena Mooney, recently acquitted here on one of nine indictments charging murder growing out of a bomb explosion last summer, was denied liberty on bail to-day by
