Giants and Dodgers Meet at Polo Grounds To-Day in Regular League Schedule Double Header to Help Swell Army Athletic Fund.

DON'T overlook the big game at the POLO GROUNDS to-day. It's a double-header in the regular league schedule that Giants and Dodgers have devoted to swelling the ARMY ATHLETIC FUND.

This will be the last chance to see the Giants until they come back as champions to battle in the World's series.

It is the last series played on the home grounds by McGraw's men in this year's pennant race. In a couple of days the Giants will be on their way West.

EVERYBODY knows by this time what the ARMY ATHLETIC FUND is. On the success of the fund depend the health, happiness and perhaps the lives of thousands of boys in khaki.

It is the official Government fund to purchase boxing gloves, balls and bats, footballs, &c., for the soldiers in New York regiments, Guard and draft and volunteer.

Without that fund the soldiers will have nothing to do in camp and behind their lines at the front but drill, mope and worry. The commanders in France, Canadian, Australian, British and French, have sent word back that the physical training of all soldiers and the providing of sport for their leisure hours are as important as training in fighting skill.

The well trained boxer in a charge on enemy intrenchments will have a much greater chance of success and of life than the man who can't box. Boxing makes far better soldiers, because it gives men confidence in themselves. A friend of mine described it neatly the other day: "A boxer going through a dark street in a hard neighborhood walks along the sidewalk and thinks nothing of it, because he feels secure in his ability to defend himself if he has to. The fellow who can't box and lacks confidence walks in the middle of the street."

The "moral effect" of being an athlete makes any soldier twice as good a soldier as he would be otherwise.

The regular prices will be charged for all seats at the ball game to-day. No extra charge, because the profits are going to the fund. No charity! You get a couple of games well worth seeing and paying for. And you have the satisfaction of being ONE of the fellows who are giving our fighting men what they need.

I HAVE had hundreds of letters from soldiers commending the Army Athletic Fund and suggesting that a few boxing gloves right away wouldn't do any harm.

We are shipping stuff to the regiments as fast as we can get the money to pay for it.

By the end of this week, with the ball game to-day and the big boxing show at the Fairmont Wednesday night, I hope we will be able to rush athletic outfits right out to several more regiments.

It costs the fund about $1,150 to supply one regiment with its first instalment of athletic goods. And that doesn't include the freighting—which the Government provides.

Figure that a moment—remembering the great number of thousands of men going to the war from New York State—and then think how much better it would be, and how much faster the men could be outfitted, if every reader of this column did his bit to-day.

TO-DAY'S THE DAY. POLO GROUNDS.

Receipts of Double-Header At Polo Grounds To-Day For Army Athletic Fund

Through Generosity of President Hempstead of Giants and President Ebbets of the Dodgers, Money Taken In Will Be Available to Purchase Athletic Supplies for New York Troops.

THIS is the day for the thousands of baseball fans in this town to step forward and contribute their mite that all New York soldiers may be assured of athletic recreation. At the Polo Grounds this afternoon there will be a double header between those intense rivals, the Giants and Dodgers. The first game starts at 1.15. If the military authorities can possibly arrange it there will be one or two regiments at the grounds for a review.

Through the generosity of President Harry Hempstead of the New York club and President Charles Ebbets of the Dodgers the receipts of to-day's double header will be turned over to the Army Athletic Fund, now being collected by The Evening World.

It goes without saying that the double set of games this afternoon will furnish rattling good baseball as these Giant-Dodger battles always do. McGraw's gang is striving madly to cinch the old pennant. The Dodger crew will be in there battling just as eagerly to put the skids under the New York club. These two teams show a great fondness for each other—when the season is finished.

While the baseball attraction is considerably out of the ordinary, all the fans to go to the Polo Grounds this afternoon will have the satisfaction of knowing they have personally helped a good cause, that their dollar or seventy-five cents will go toward equipping several soldiers with the means of playing the great diamond game themselves, or competing in friendly boxing matches or some other healthful sport.

While baseball is volunteering its support to the fund to-day, boxing will help next Wednesday night at a special show at the Fairmont Club arranged by Billy Gibson. The card will give fistic followers a rare treat.

In the star bout will be Benny Leonard, who will mix things up with Johnny Paul, the sturdy New York Italian lightweight. This will not be any mere exhibition. It's going to be a stand-up fight from start to finish if both men stand up that long. Jimmy Duffy will be in another bout, as will Joe Bonds. The welterweights. There will be two six-round bouts.

This will be a red letter week for the Fund. Following the baseball and boxing performances will come the Army Athletic Fund Show at the Hippodrome next Sunday night. Sport lovers cannot afford to miss this entertainment. There will be a grand combination of stars in one show, a performance that promises to make Manhattan Isle turn turtle. The programme of acts is announced on another page.

While these fund activities are going on the various athletic and social clubs throughout the city should not overlook the chance of contributing their aid. Some clubs have already held stags and other stunts with considerable financial success. Clubs planning to do something for their soldier and sailor members could achieve immediate results by helping the Athletic Fund, the official fund in this State for collections to purchase sport equipment. The fund . . . is under the direct supervision of the Commission on Training Camps Activities, and athletic shipments will be sent to New York regiments where stationed, here or any part of the European battle front.

Why not give this matter careful consideration, then send your contribution to the Army Athletic Fund Editor?

BIG MEET NEXT SUNDAY FOR ARMY ATHLETIC FUND AT C. C. N. Y. STADIUM.

One of the biggest demonstrations that has ever taken place in this city will be held next Sunday in the Stadium of the City College, One Hundred and Thirty-seventh Street and Amsterdam Avenue. The meet will be staged under the auspices of the Intersectional Athletic Leagues. Admission will be free, but a collection will be taken up, the proceeds to be turned over to the Athletic Fund for the soldiers.

There will be no prizes awarded or entry fee charged. The athletes performing for the worthy cause of securing funds for athletic paraphernalia for Uncle Sam's sons to be used while awaiting to be sent to the front.

Events have been listed for the Junior Police Amateur Athletic Union members, Intersectional A. L. members, Junior Naval Militia, Military and Navy members, Police and Fire Department, Boy Scouts, Catholic Schools and Catholic A. L.

CHARLES TOTH OF BOSTON WINS MARATHON SWIM

Charles Toth of Boston won the Marathon swim held in the Hudson River under the supervision of the Bathing and Tennis Club of Spring Lake, N. J.

He was declared the victor after covering about nine and one-half miles in five hours five minutes, when his only opponent, Robert Dowling of this city, left the water and gave up the contest. The latter was at the time nearly one and one-half miles behind the Bostonian.

Upon informing Toth that the race was his the referee gave him the choice of stopping or continuing and trying for a record from the Battery to Yonkers and back, the forty-mile course chosen for the event. He elected to go on. But before he had reached Washington Point the tide began to change up river and he was advised to abandon the attempt.

When abreast of the Point he signalled to his handlers to pick him up. He had been swimming 6 hours 3 minutes, and still had more than two miles before attaining Spuyten Duyvil, which gave him no ghost of a chance under the conditions to make Yonkers, for no man can hope to stem the Hudson tide once it sets contrary.

Hagen Will Defend Title In Western Golf Tourney

Many Stars Already on Hand in Chicago for Open Championship, Preliminaries of Which Will Begin To-Morrow.

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—Professional golfers from all parts of the United States have been arriving since Saturday for the Western open championship, the preliminaries of which begin at the Westmoreland Club to-morrow. The feature, which is national in character, by virtue of the entrance of all the leading experts of the game, will be staged on Thursday and Friday, thirty-six holes each day.

Walter Hagen of Rochester, N. Y., who won the title last year at the Bluemound Club, Milwaukee, will defend his honors against such noted players as Jack Hutchinson of Glen View and George Sargent of Minneapolis, who lacked only one stroke of tying at 286 for the championship last year; Tom McNamara of Boston, who won the title in 1915 at Glen Oak with 304 strokes; James M. Barnes of Philadelphia, champion in 1914, with 293 strokes; William Kidd of St. Louis, runner-up to Barnes with 294, and Alex Cunningham of Wheeling, W. Va., runner-up in 1915.

In a four-ball match that kept the gallery interested from start to finish Oswald Kirkby, the metropolitan and New Jersey champion from Englewood, and Isaac Mackie of Canoe Brook defeated Jerome D. Travers and George Low by the narrow margin of 1 up over the links of the Baltusrol Golf Club yesterday. This match was the sequel to the one last Saturday, but because of the failure of Jesse Guilford to remain, Travers and Kirkby decided to split up and take professionals for partners.

The Travers-Low team could not have asked for a better start, the Baltusrol pro. reaching the first green with his second shot and winning the hole in 4. That hole is 466 yards, and the fact that another 4 was the best Jerry and his partner could get at the third, some 300 yards shorter, served as an another illustration of the uncertainties of this game.

Kirkby had a fine 4 at the 506-yard fourth, where his mashie shot left him a putt of about a club's length so that his side stood 1 up then, but it wasn't for long, as Low came right back with a neat niblick shot at No. 5. It was so close that he had no trouble in sinking the putt for a 3.

The only hole where Kirkby and Mackie went to the bad together was the long seventh, both taking three putts. A 4 at the eighth won that hole for the metropolitan title holder and his partner, but Low placed the other side 1 up with a 3 at the ninth. The card read 37 to 38.

Mackie and Kirkby made sure on the tenth, both bringing off putts of about four yards for 3's. Another deadly chip shot enabled Low to win the twelfth, but the opposition captured the thirteenth and fifteenth. Kirkby and the Canoe Brook professional both ran down longish putts for 4's on the fifteenth green. The last three holes were halved. In strokes there was little difference, the winning pair having a best ball of 73 to the others' 74.

Quite a select card could have been taken from the four, however. It would have totalled 34 each way for a 68. That selected effort would have made a fine match for Francis Outmet as he was playing there Saturday afternoon. The selected ball would have been 2 down at the turn and only 1 up at the end of the eighteen holes.

MONTCLAIR, N. J., Sept. 10.—A putting competition and eighteen-hole sweepstakes on the nine-hole putting greens of the Montclair Golf Club grounds was conducted by arc light. The upper Montclair Country Club team was the opponent of the Montclair Golf Club team, the latter winning, 19 to 0. In the sweepstakes A. F. Armagnus of Upper Montclair was the winner, with a net score of 30.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 10.—Walter C. Hagen of this city, the present Western open champion, paired with Jim Barnes of Whitemarsh, defeated Gil Nicholls of Great Neck and Alex Smith of Wykagyl in a four-cornered Red Cross golf match played on the Oak Hill Country Club links by 2 up.

Hagen and Barnes, who had a 71 for the best score for the morning round, were 7 up at the end of the first eighteen holes.

Nicholls established a new course record of 69 in the afternoon.

Fistic News and Gossip By John Pollock

Three real boxing stars will appear on the same bill in ten-round bouts at the St. Nicholas Rink on Friday night. Ted Lewis, world's welterweight champion, will meet Jimmy O'Hagen of Rochester. Jack Britton, America's premier welterweight, will take on Marty Cross. Leach Cross's hard-hitting brother, and Harry Greb, Pittsburgh's sensational fighter, will face the best available opponent.

Silvy Burns, matchmaker of the Clermont Sporting Club, has arranged his card for Thursday night. The opening ten-rounder brings together Mike McTigue, the Irish champion, and the best available opponent. In the other star bout Silent Martin, the rugged deaf mute, exchanges punches with Willie Loughlin, the South Bethlehem middleweight, who has stood off champ Mike Gibbons and others.

Jack Bulger, the well-known manager, warns all clubs in order to protect their patrons to insist that any star boxers they engage post forfeits for appearance. Bulger says he had Walter Moir, the Brooklyn welter, signed to box Soldier Barfield at the B[illegible] S. C. Saturday night, but that Moir refu[illegible] go through with the match. "Because of his action in this matter," said Bulger to-day, "I've severed connections with Moir as his manager."

The Harlem Club re-opens Thursday night under new management. Bob Gibson is the manager and Tom McArdle the matchmaker. Two ten-round bouts are listed for decision. In one Jim Coffey, the Irish heavyweight champion, will meet Joe Bonds. Lightweights will clash in the other number, Irish Patsy Cline, the champion of his race in the class, and one of Benny Leonard's most formidable rivals, meeting Barney Adair.

Johnny Russell, the crack New York bantam, expects to win over Young Zulu Kid by a K. O. on next Friday night at the National A. C. of Providence, where they will meet in one of the star twelve-round bouts. In the other star bout Lew Cardell of Newark, who is matched with Willie Jackson, will meet Young Hector at 130 ringside.

Walter Lindner, chairman of the Wisconsin Boxing Commission, who was among those who saw the contest between Carl Morris and Fred Fulton at Canton, O., on Labor Day, announces that Morris has been barred from boxing in the State of Wisconsin.

Hoable Le Blanc is so positive that K. O. Lepos will knock out Pete Herman, the bantam champion, next Monday night at Philadelphia that he has accepted the terms of the Olympia A. A. for Rogers to box Johnny Kilbane at that club on Thanksgiving Day.

The off-positioned bout between Ted Kid Lewis of London, England, the welterweight champion, and Antonio Rattalino, professional boxer, on Frankie Joe Gans, the formidable ring battler of Baltimore, Md., will be staged next Saturday night. Manager John Wiedemann of the Brooklyn Sporting Club of Brooklyn will also present Joe Tepina of New York and Joe Leonard of Brooklyn in the semi-finish.

Soldier Barfield, the famous battling Hebrew, has agreed to meet the winner of the Ted Kid Lewis and Italian Joe Gans bout at the Broadway A. C. of Brooklyn on Sept. 25. Gans has fought Barfield two of the most sensational ring battles ever seen here.

Two ten-round bouts will be featured at the Yorkville Sporting Club tonight. In the main attraction Teddy Burns and Young O'Keefe, bantamweights, will mix in a return bout. In the semi-final Mike Morone and Jimmy Monohan, a pair of scrapping welterweights, will settle an old grievance.

Patsy Brannigan, Pittsburgh's fighting Irishman, who will match wallops with Frankie Burns at the Pioneer Sporting Club to-morrow night, is out with a challenge to featherweight champion Johnny Kilbane. Although a legitimate bantam, Brannigan has held Kilbane even in two ten-round bouts. If Kilbane declines the issue Brannigan may meet Pete Herman, leading claimant of the bantam crown. Herman has agreed to meet the winner of to-morrow night's bout. Burns already has fought Herman, scoring a twelve-round knock-out.

Best Colt Won Futurity, But He Was Very Lucky Having Little to Beat

Best of Eligibles for Rich Stake Went Out of Racing Commission Early.

By Vincent Treanor.

THE Futurity, the two-year-old racing classic of the year, has been run. The best horse, Papp, won it after a six furlong scramble over a muddy track in a race which was entirely free from flukes. Maxey Hirsch, a comparative youngster among trainers, is entitled to all the credit to which a trainer of a Futurity winner is entitled. He personally picked the horse out of a bunch at a yearling sale. He painstakingly broke and developed him. An unruly and fractious colt at best, Papp needed lot of care and attention. A trainer any less of the student of horseflesh and lacking the patience of Hirsch might have made a failure of the job. Yes, Maxey Hirsch made a good horse of Papp and deserves a high position among trainers of turf history. George W. Loft, ex-Congressman and owner of Papp, is justly proud of being the owner of a Futurity winner. A newcomer to the turf, Mr. Loft has gained honor and prestige in the racing world for which many another owner has striven in vain for years. He credits his success to Maxey Hirsch and in doing so shows himself to be a big man.

But there is another side to the story of the Futurity race, as there are two sides to almost every story. Without detracting from Papp's great accomplishment, it must be said that the colt, his conscientious trainer and his proud owner were lucky all through. When it comes down to brass tacks, Papp had little to beat. When a colt like Chief Lally, a maiden until a week or so ago, and a cheap maiden at that, figured on sheer dope as a contender in the rich Futurity, under the conditions, it becomes evident that Papp had no real competition.

To be brief and to the point, the 1917 Futurity field was very ordinary outside of the winner. In the first place, there was no starter of the calibre of Sun Briar, who was not eligible for the race, in measure strides with Papp. Jimmy Rowe's best were in no condition to race. The bottled-up Whitney colt, Flags, went wrong just at a time when timtrials indicated the race almost a sure thing for him; A. K. Macomber's speed marvel, Motor Cop, broke down long before the big event; Bully Boy, a $15,000 colt, which Billy Karrick believed the best he ever had anything to do with, also "went off" under preparation for the rich stake; Belmont's Lucullite was almost ruined in the Hopeful and retired just when his chances for the Futurity looked roseiest; Dr. Johnson, another Futurity possibility, had to be passed up by his trainer early in the season. In short, there was many an eligible for the big race more highly regarded than Papp early in the season which, if everything had gone right, might have started in the stake hot choices over Papp.

But it's all in a racing lifetime. Papp "stood up" under Maxey Hirsch's training methods and won for a good owner and a well respected trainer. Hirsch should feel proud, but he shouldn't, in the writer's opinion, yearn for another "crack" at Sun Briar. This imported colt has Papp's number, as they say in fighting circles when a Frank Moran plainly shows that he can beat a Jim Coffey any time. Hirsch should feel contented with what Papp has accomplished. Why dim the lustre of his two-year-old career by having him beaten again by Sun Briar? In the writer's judgment, Sun Briar can beat Papp doing anything and in any kind of going. He stands out among this season's two-year-olds as Jess Willard stands out among the heavyweight title contenders.

Dust From the Diamond

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—Chicago won the final game of the year with Cleveland by a score of 9 to 0 in the last half of the tenth inning, when Owens, the umpire, forfeited it to the White Sox with the score tied at 3 all and one out, after standing for some of the worst kicking and burlesquing seen in the American League for years. The forfeit grew out of a decision by Owens in the first half of the tenth inning, when he called Jack Graney out at third base for interference in a play on which the Indians registered two runs.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 10.—M. Cerest pitched the Knights of Columbus, Louisville's representative in the National Baseball Federation, to a double victory over Christ Church of Cincinnati. The victories of the K. of C. entitles it to meet New Orleans and eliminates the Christ Church team.

As St. Louis went to bat in the ninth inning of the first game at St. Louis far players were called to the plate, and Capt. Horace S. Ramsey of Battery A, N. G. M., presented the men with the $500 check offered by the American League to the club winning the armis drill competition.

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—Chicago shut out Pittsburgh by a score of 1 to 0. The game was a pitching duel between Douglas and Cooper, with the latter on the short end. It was the thirty-fourth game that Cooper had lost this season by the margin of one run. Douglas allowed four scattered hits.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 10.—Mitchell held St. Louis to five hits in the first game, while his teammates drove both Sallee and Ruth from the box in the third inning, making five runs, and Detroit shut out the locals by a score of 7 to 0. St. Louis turned the tables on Detroit in the second game, when Joey drove Ehmke from the mound in the third inning, scored five runs on Burns's error, a single, doubles by Pratt and Severeid and Johnson's home run, and won, 6 to 2.

Frank Moran Pitched a Great No-Hit Contest Against Gunboat Smith.

You said a forkful.

Now that the Sawbucks have all mathematically left, nobody no more cares what we think the baseball teams should at least give up their fancy machinery.

You have got to hand Moran, Fulton and Morris credit. Ching Ling Foo, greatest of all magicians, could never have extracted $10,000 from the public pocket with boxing gloves on.

Frank Moran pitched a great no-hit contest against Gunboat Smith.

Having donated 'em fifteen games, you might say the Browns knitted a pennant for the Chisox.

Yale bowl will be empty this fall. Although only having 60,000 capacity, the management is willing to enlarge to suit those players or other possible tenants.

From the attendance figures, Sunday baseball in Cincinnati is very popular on a Tuesday.

Athletics are still playing. A Philly fan doesn't get his season shortened for good behavior.

We lamped a heavyweight who was clever with his hands. But he had a knife and fork in 'em.
