NEVER FAILING REMEDY!!!

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

A CRIPPLE SETS ASIDE HIS CRUTCHES AFTER TEN YEARS SUFFERING.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Thompson, Chemist, Liverpool, dated August 20th, 1852.

To Professor HOLLOWAY,

DEAR SIR—I am enabled to furnish you with a most extraordinary cure effected by your invaluable Ointment and Pills, which has astonished every person acquainted with the sufferer. About 10 years ago Mr W Cummins, of Saltney Street, in this town, was thrown from his horse, whereby he received very serious injuries; he had the best medical advice at the time, and was afterwards an inmate of different infirmaries, yet he grew worse, and a lingering ulcer set in, which so completely crippled him, that he could not walk but crutches for nearly 10 years; he then began to use your Ointment and Pills, which have healed the wound, strengthened his limb, and enable him to dispense with his crutches, so that he can walk the greatest ease, and with renewed health. (Signed) J. THOMPSON.

A MOST EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF DREADFUL SKIN DISEASE WHEN ALL MEDICAL AID HAD FAILED.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Hird, Draper, of Kingsbridge, dated March 1st, 1852.

To professor HOLLOWAY,

SIR—Some time since, one of my children was afflicted with dreadful eruptions over the body and limbs. I obtained the advice of several eminent Surgeons and Physicians, by all of whom the case was considered hopeless. At length I tried your Ointment and Pills, and without exaggeration, the effect was miraculous, for by persevering in their use, all the eruptions quickly disappeared, and the child was restored to perfect health.

I previously lost a child from a similar complaint, and I firmly believe, had I in her case adopted your medicines she would have been saved also. I shall be happy to testify the truth of this to any enquirer

(Signed) J. HIRD Draper

CERTAIN REMEDY FOR SCORBUTIC HUMORS—AND AN ASTONISHING CURE OF AN OLD LADY SEVENTY YEARS OF AGE OF A BAD LEG.

Copy of a Letter from Messrs. Walker and Co., Chemists, Bath.

To Professor HOLLOWAY.

DEAR SIR,—Among the numerous cures effected by the use of your valuable medicines in the neighborhood we may mention that of an old lady living in the Village of Preston, about five miles from this City. She had ulcerated wounds in her leg for many years, and latterly they increased to such an alarming extent as to defy all the usual remedies; her health rapidly giving way under the suffering she endured. In this distressing condition she had recourse to your Ointment and Pills, and by the assistance of her friends, was enabled to persevere in their use until she received a perfect cure. We have ourselves been greatly astonished at the effect upon so old a person, she being above 70 years of age. We shall be happy to satisfy any enquiries as to the authenticity of this really wonderful case, either personally or by letter.

A private in the Bath Police Force, also, has been perfectly cured of an old scorbutic affection in the face, after all other means had failed. He states that it is entirely by the use of your Ointment, and speaks loudly in its praise.

We remain, Dear Sir,
Yours, faithfully,
April 6th, 1852. (Signed) WALKER & CO.

The Pills should be used conjointly with the Ointment in most of the following cases:—

HOME POLITENESS.

Why not polite? How much does it cost to say "I thank you?" Why not practice it at home? To your husband, your children, your domestics? If a stranger does you some little of courtesy, how sweet the smiling acknowledgment! If your husband—oh! it's a matter of course! no need of thanks.

Should an acquaintance tread on your dress, your very, very best, and by accident tear it, now profuse you are with your "never minds—don't think it—I don't care at all." If a husband does it he gets a frown; if a child he is chastised.

Ah! these are little things, say you. They tell mightily upon the heart, let us assure you little as they are.

A gentleman stops at a friend's house and finds it in confusion. "He don't see anything to apologise for—never thinks of such matters." Everything is all right—cold supper—cold room—crying children—perfectly comfortable. Goes home where the wife has been taking care of the sick ones, and working her life almost out. Don't see why things can't be kept in better order; there never were such cross children before." No apologies accepted at home.

Why not be polite at home? Why not use freely that golden coin of courtesay? How sweet they sound, those little words, "I thank you," or "you are very kind!" Doubly, yet thrice sweet from the lips we love, when bears smiles make the eye sparkel with the clear light of affection.

Be polite to your children. Do you expect them to be mindful of your welfare? To grow glad at you approach? To bound away to do your pleasure before the request is half spoken? Then with all your dignity and authority mingle politeness, give it a niche in your household temple. Only then will you have learned the true secret of sending out into the world really "finished" gentlemen and ladies.

What we say, we say to all—be polite.

FINALE TO A DUEL.

From the New Orleans Picayune, June 19.

At a late hour on Thursday night last, two of our young fire-eating bloods entered one of the fashionable saloons in St. Charles street in a state which indicated considerable fatigue, supposed to be caused by carrying too large a brick in their respective hats—in point of fact, as Micawber would say, they were decidedly inebriated. After imbibing once or twice more, they commenced bandying wit, which gradually grew personal, and finally some very insulting language was used by one of the parties, which fired the blood of the other, previously sufficiently heated by liquor, and a challenge was immediately given and promptly accepted.—Cabs were called, and the bellicose young gentlemen entered different vehicles, and ordered the drivers to proceed at once to "The Oaks," a locality which has acquired a bloody distinction from the number of duels which have been fought there. They steadily refused to allow any of their friends to accompany them, or admit of their interference for the purpose of effecting a reconciliation; and one of the party, familiarly known as "Paredes," who was gravely drunk, was requested to stand guard over another who wished to interfere, which he promised to do.

On arriving at "The Oaks," the gentlemen were very much astonished to find the embryo duelists wrapped in the arms of Morpheus. With some difficulty they were awakened, and recognising the locality and each other, they both looked somewhat surprised, having entirely forgotten both the quarrel and the intended fight. One of them finally broke out with: "Way, A., what are you doing here?" A. looked continued for a moment, and answered, "I recollect now some fellow grossly insulted me; but I can't remember who he was. However, I know I challenged him, and I suppose he will be here soon." The other immediately proffered his services as second, and swore he would stand by his friend through thick and thin.—They both embraced with tears of affection in their eyes, and sat down on the damp grass to wait for the arrival of their antagonist.

After remaining there until near day-break, and anathematizing the cowardly scoundrel who had insulted one and disappointed both, they entered their respective cabs and returned to the city. They were seen breakfasting together the next morning at a restaurant, voting to dissolate every bone in the body of the man who had played them such a contemptible trick, if they could only find him.
