ESTIMATE BOARD ENDS IN ROW OVER $3,000,000 PAVING

Dowling Lays Failure to Cheap Verbal Gas, Which Marks Says People Want.

Bitter verbal exchanges marked the last session of the Estimate Board at Estimate to-day when the Mayor and Comptroller Prendergast, with the aid of Borough President Marks and Prendergast, defeated a resolution by Alderman President Dowling for the transfer of $3,000,000 from the South Brooklyn Marginal Railroad reservation to the paving account of Manhattan. Mr. Dowling becomes Manhattan Borough President Jan. 1.

Prendergast opposed the transfer because, as he explained, he didn't think the marginal railroad project should be abandoned so precipitately. Borough President Connolly of Queens suggested that the money so badly needed for the repair of Manhattan streets could be obtained without taking it from the marginal railway reservation.

After the resolution had been changed so that no reference was made to the marginal railway, provision being made to get the money some other way, the Mayor, the Comptroller and the Manhattan and Brooklyn Borough Presidents still blocked Dowling.

"It is a question of policy whether the marginal railway project should be abandoned," said Prendergast, "and while I believe in celerity I am opposed to too much celerity. The Board should not at the very last hour of its official life abandon what it has stood for for three years."

"On Dec. 28, 1916," replied Dowling, "this Board appropriated paving money to be used by Borough President Marks during 1917. You have established the precedent."

Marks, who opposed the proposition, had offered to aid Mr. Dowling in the organization of his new office. Dowling referred to this when he turned to Mr. Marks and sarcastically declared:

"I guess I'll be able to get along without volunteer aid. It seems to me it is lemon aid, cheap gas."

"The people of New York want cheap gas," retorted Mr. Marks. The amended Dowling resolution was beaten.

$50,000 HIGHLANDS FIRE LIGHTS COAST FOR MILES

Seven Stores and Two Homes Burn —Five Towns Rush Aid and Check Flames.

(Special to The Evening World.)

ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS, N. J., Dec. 28.—Fire swept the oldest section of First Avenue, between Bay and Central Avenues, early to-day, destroying seven stores and the homes of two families. The loss is estimated at $50,000.

The blaze started in the cellar of the William T. Morrells Building. The Atlantic Pharmacy occupied the ground floor and there were living apartments upstairs. Other establishments destroyed were the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company, a barber shop, a laundry, a hardware store and two vacant stores.

The Adams Express Company building was in danger for some time, but help came from Red Bank, Long Branch, Leonardo, Brevent Park and Navesink and after that the fire was quickly controlled. The flames lighted up the coast for miles.

LAMBERTS

Bright With Jewels

For forty-one years the Lambert Jewelry Store has been open, and all that time within a stone's throw of where it is now. It was not much of a shop to begin with. Public appreciation made it grow, until this year, as at many other New Years, it is able to furnish Everything and anything you want in the shape of good Jewelry at prices that simply MUST strike you as reasonable.

Plain Facts About Diamonds

Hand made ring, 1 center diamond and 38 small diamonds set in a beautifully paved design, $500.00.

Lady's finely paved ring, containing 27 fine diamonds, $635.00.

Let us have no misunderstanding as to Diamonds. Fine ones—the only sort that make their way into the Lambert store, are scarcer than we ever knew them to be, and prices go up and up. If we had not made heavy importations, direct before the latest boost, we could not sell SOLITAIRE DIAMOND ENGAGEMENT RINGS and other Diamond Jewelry at the prices we mark in plain figures. In fact some retailers, at present quotations, pay about as much for diamonds as we sell them for.

None of our prices for Diamonds, nor for anything else, cover even the smallest profit for a middleman.

Lambert Watch Service Satisfies Everybody

People who come to us for Watches, including military wrist watches and bracelet watches with the most reliable American and Swiss movements, say they will be guided by our judgment, when we ask what type and style of watch they prefer. Quite a responsibility it is that they put on us, but we shoulder it cheerfully enough, for we have sold watches since the seventies, and never met a customer we could not satisfy.

Man's solid 14-karat gold, engine turned, hunting case, with guaranteed Waltham movement, $28.75. Open face, $25.00 up.

Solid 14-karat gold extension bracelet watch, contains a jewelled Waltham movement, $27.50.
