THE STATE OF MISSOURI, } ss.
County of Holt,
In the Circuit Court of said County January Term, 1892.

The State of Missouri at the relation and to the use of George H. Allen, Collector of the Revenue within and for the County of Holt and State of Missouri, Plaintiff, vs.
Stephen C. Collins and The Unknown Heirs of Larkin B. Langston, Defendants

At this 27th day of August, 1891, comes the plaintiff herein, by H. T. Alkire, his attorney, and shows to the satisfaction of the court that there are persons interested in the subject matter of this petition whose names he cannot insert here in because they are unknown to him. Said persons are the unknown heirs of Larkin B. Langston, deceased, and their title and interest in said land is derived by inheritance from their father, Larkin B. Langston, deceased, their interest in said land being an interest in fee by inheritance.

Wherefore it is ordered by the Court that said defendants be notified by publication that plaintiff has commenced a suit against them in this court, the object and general nature of which is that plaintiff seeks to enforce the lien of the state of Missouri against the following described real estate, situate, lying and being in Holt county, Missouri, and belonging to the defendants to this suit, for certain delinquent and back taxes due thereon, and unpaid for the years 1889, 1890, 1891, and 1892, with interest thereon and costs, levied upon said real estate, as in the petition and tax bill herein set forth, to-wit:

Twenty acres off the west side of lot three (3), southeast quarter of section thirteen (13), township fifty-nine (59) of range thirty-seven (37).

And that unless the said Mary Garner be and appear at this court at the next term thereof, to be begun and holden at the Court House, in the City of Oregon, in said county, on the 4th day of January next, 1892, and on or before the sixth day of said term—if the term shall so long continue, if not, then on or before the last day of said term—answer or plead to the petition in said cause, the same will, as to them, be taken as confessed and judgment rendered accordingly.

And it is further ordered that a copy hereof be published according to law in THE HOLT COUNTY SENTINEL for four weeks successively, the last insertion to be at least four weeks before the first day of said term.

Flora C. Messenger, Plaintiff, } Divorce.
Edwin H. Messenger, Defendant.

At this day comes the plaintiff herein, by her attorney, and it appearing from the records of the Circuit Court of Holt county, that the defendant herein is a resident of the state of Missouri and cannot be summoned in this action.

Whereupon it is ordered by the court that said defendant be notified by publication that plaintiff has commenced a suit against him in this court, the object and general nature of which is that plaintiff seeks to obtain a divorce from the bonds of matrimony contracted between plaintiff and defendant on the 20th day of November, A. D. 1878, on the grounds of abandonment and failure to provide for the maintenance and support of plaintiff and her children born of said marriage with defendant; that plaintiff may have the care and custody of her minor children, Ella Kate Messenger, Joe le Messenger and John Messenger.

And that unless the said defendant, Edwin H. Messenger, be and appear at this court at the next term thereof, to be begun and holden at the court house, in the city of Oregon, in said county, on the 4th day of January next, and on or before the sixth day of said term—if the term shall so long continue, if not, then on or before the last day of said term—answer or plead to the petition in said cause, the same will, as to him, be taken as confessed, and judgment will be rendered accordingly.

And it is further ordered that a copy hereof be published according to law in THE HOLT COUNTY SENTINEL for four successive weeks, the last insertion to be at least fifteen days before the said 4th day of January, 1892.

Olive Conner, Defendant.

At this 26th day of October, 1891, comes the plaintiff herein, by H. T. Alkire, his attorney, before the undersigned clerk of the Holt Circuit Court in vacation, and files her petition and affidavit, alleging among other things that the defendant, Olive Conner, is now a non-resident of the State of Missouri.

Whereupon it is ordered by the undersigned clerk that said defendant be notified by publication that plaintiff has commenced a suit against her in the Circuit Court within and for Holt county, in the state of Missouri, founded on a note given for the sum of fifty dollars and interest thereon at ten per cent from date, the interest if not paid annually to be added to the principal and bear the same rate of interest, said note being dated May 24 th, 1890; that her property has been attached.

And that unless the said Olive Conner be and appear at this court at the next term thereof, to begin and holden at the court house in the city of Oregon, in said county on the 4th day of January next, and on or before the sixth day of said term—if the term shall so long continue, if not, then on or before the last day of said term—answer or plead to the petition in said cause, the same will be taken as confessed and judgment will be rendered accordingly.

And it is further ordered, that a copy hereof be published according to law in THE HOLT COUNTY SENTINEL for four successive weeks, the last insertion to be at least fifteen days before the said 4th day of January, 1892.

A CITY LUXURY.

Just as the city looks to the country for most of the luxuries used on its tables, so the country must turn to the city for those conveniences which are justly termed luxuries for the hard-working housewife. City housekeepers have learned to realize that to save time is to lengthen life.

SAPOLIO!

is one of the best known city luxuries and each time a cake is used an hour is saved. On floors, tables and painted work it acts like a charm. For scouring pots, pans and metals it has no equal. IF YOUR STOREKEEPER DOES NOT KEEP IT YOU SHOULD INSIST UPON HIS DOING SO, as it always gives satisfaction and its immense sale all over the United States makes it an almost necessary article to any well-supplied store. Everything shines after its use, and even the children delight in using it in their attempts to help around the house.

Hints to Housekeepers.

It is considered very bad form to wear jewels around the neck.

To take out spots from wash goods, rub them with yolk of egg before washing.

The favorite linen for embroidery is of the "old bleach" manufacture. This linen is woven with a firm round thread of a superior quality of flax, and is grass bleached.

The best way to fry apples is to halve them, remove core, put some butter in frying pan and put in the halves the cut side down; then add a little water and let boil dry; then fry.

To prevent that shine to the skin with which so many are annoyed, especially in warm weather, use a little camphor in the water when bathing the face.

To set delicate colors in embroidered handkerchiefs, soak them ten minutes before washing in a pail of water in which a dessertspoonful of turpentine has been stirred.

A round bolster now takes the place of the large ornamental pillows. The bolster is stuffed firmly and dressed in cretonne, or whatever the bed covering is made from, if possible.

To clean hair brushes, put a tablespoonful of ammonia into tepid water, dip them up and down until clean, then dry with the bristles down. In place of the ammonia they may be cleaned by using a teaspoonful of soda.

There will be few persons who will ever take the trouble, as they ought, to throw out their shoes when not in use, no matter how costly they are. The next best thing, which also costs a little trouble, is to button up a fine shoe when putting it aside, in order to keep the upper from getting out of form.

The prejudice prevails that plants in the sleeping room are injurious, because they are constantly throwing off carbonic acid. Recent investigations have shown that ill effects are altogether too slight to deserve consideration. If a room is properly ventilated, plants can do no harm, and even if it is not, the quantity of carbonic acid exhaled by them will not materially affect the purity of the air.

Now Make Ships Unsinkable.

A new interprise is about to be started in Philadelphia which, it is claimed, will revolutionize the art of ship building. A company has been formed with ample capital which will erect a large plant to operate a new industry under French patents. The article to be manufactured is cellulose. This cellulose is made from the husks of cocoanuts, and has the property of absorbing eight times its own weight of water. The husks are ground into meal, the meal is placed in sacks and vessels are lined with it. Owing to the quality of the fiber it is impossible to make a hole in it. The discovery of the material was accidental. A French gunboat was practicing at a target set up against a quantity of these wet husks; the shots that struck the target pierced it and disappeared among the husks, leaving no sign of their penetration, because the material immediately closed up again. The hint thus given led to experiments, and these to the manufacture of the new article. The main source of supply at present is at Cleremont, in France, but in a few weeks the American factory is expected to be in full operation.—Washington Post.

March of the Influenza.

It is reported from London that the influenza has once more begun its march from Russia westward. If there is anything comforting in the prospect of another epidemic of that detestable and dangerous disorder those who are able to discover it should receive congratulations.

The suggestion is made that the great and indescribably filthy gatherings of pilgrims at Russian shrines and monasteries breed this mysterious disease. There seems to be little doubt that it, like the other epidemics which occasionally strike out from amid the squalor of the east to ravage more cleanly regions, is the offspring of horrible degradation and unspeakable foulness where throngs of human beings herd together like animals.

A few more visits from the demon of influenza may inspire the sorely smitten west to scour darkest Russia with unlimited soap and water. The most exasperating thing about the matter is that the Russian seems to escape with light attacks of the malady which becomes so deadly when it leaps across his country's borders.

An Insurance Decision.

A merchant who was a member of a mutual accident insurance association was killed while hunting for recreation, from an accidental shot. The association provided for the payment of sums ranging from $500 to $5,000, according to the occupation of the member. Merchants' certificates call for $5,000; but the company paid the beneficiaries of the man in question only $500, on the strength of a provision that any member receiving an injury while engaged temporarily in another occupation more hazardous than the one given in his certificate, he shall be entitled only to such sum as provided for in the occupation in which he is engaged at the time of injury. The Illinois supreme court held that the beneficiaries were entitled to the whole $5,000, as the word "occupation" in the by-law has reference to trade, vocation or profession, and does not preclude a member from the performance of acts which are simply incidents connected with the daily life of men in all pursuits.

WILLIAM DEAN HOWELLS's new novel, An Imperative Duty, which aroused so much attention as a serial in Harper's Magazine, will be published in book form about the middle of November. The story is based upon the race feeling as between white and black, something deeper than race prejudice strongest, indeed, where latter is weakest, as at the South. This ethnic motive gives rise to some very interesting ethical complications, which are treated by Mr. Howells in his usual masterful manner.

Colman's Rural World.

As it grows older grows younger and more vigorous and instructive than ever before. How any farmer or breeder of horses, cattle, sheep or swine of any of the improved breeds, can do without this valuable Weekly Agricultural paper we cannot understand. It ought to have half a million of subscribers. It is published by C. D. Colman, St. Louis, at $1.00 a year. Sample copies sent on application. It will be clubbed with THE SENTINEL at $2.10.

Lager Beer.

"Do you know," said a dyspeptic-looking man at the lunch counter in the Astor house a few days ago, "that we have no lager beer nowadays? This beverage that is sold as lager beer is turned out in ten days or two weeks time by the big brewers. The use of duplex air pumps has almost completely revolutionized the brewery business.

"Brewers have to make their beer quickly in order to keep up with the enormously increasing demand," replied the dyspeptic's friend. I am told on authority of a careful statistician that the increase in the manufacture of beer, in this city alone, in the year ending April 30 last, was more than 3,000,000 barrels. New York city now consumes annually a trifle more than 30,000,000 barrels of beer. At the present rate of increase the consumption in this city ten years from now will be 50,000,000 barrels.

Our readers have, of course, noticed the advertisements of Fairbank's "Clairette" Soap, now appearing regularly in these columns. Most of our lady friends know that this is a staple household and laundry article if they have bought a sample of it and thus proved its excellence; but some of our readers may not be aware that N. K. Fairbank & Co., are now among the foremost soap manufacturers as well as advertisers in our Nation with a capital "N."

The time was when the largest soap manufacturers of this country were located in New York, Boston or Philadelphia; but "Westward the Star of Empire wends it way" and now in soap making, as in many other respects, these eastern cities are not "in it." Chicago, St. Louis and Cincinnati are now named as leading competitors for the honor of the largest soap business.

N. K. Fairbank & Co., have two enormous factories of about equal capacity—one in St. Louis and one in Chicago, and both being combinded under one company and under one management, availing itself of all the advantages of location in both cities, it is no discredit to competitors having single establishments if the Fairbank Company distances all its rivals in the race for the soap supremacy. The advantages possessed by a soap concern that can manufacture and distribute its goods from either Chicago or St. Louis, and can avail itself at any and every moment of any especial facilities, economies, freight rates or other opportunities afforded by either market are simply enormous. Such a concern is in a most enviable position. The inducements it offers the public must necessarily attract the largest trade and the closest buyers, and when coupled with clever, original and lavish advertising, everybody understands that success is inevitable. There can be no question about a brilliant future for Fairbank's "Clairette" Soap.

AMONG the most interesting features of the forthcoming Number of Harper's Weekly will be an article on "German Cavalry Training" written by Lieutenant Powhatan Clark, U. S. A., now with the German cavalry. Several striking illustrations by Remington will add to the interest and value of this article. Another important paper will be a description of the "Coast Defenses about New London," by George Parsons Lathrop, appropriately illustrated. There will, of course, be portraits in this number of all the newly-elected governors, together with editorial comments on the elections.

Love, women and love are three forces hard to connect. But, connecting the three as closely as they seem capable of being joined, it is logical to judge that women are best fitted to write fiction which is purely romantic. At any rate, Mrs. Amelia E. Barr, who is, perhaps the most popular American author of to-day, leads one to this belief. She has written an exquisitely romantic and idyllic love story, which she has named "Love for an Hour is Love Forever," which is soon to appear in serial form in the columns
