—Yesterday morning the air was balmy; to-day the cold north wind whistles through your whiskers and the mercury hugs the zero mark. The storm which originated in the great northwest reached here last evening, as predicted by the weather man at Chicago and as signaled by the local observer. Winter is here, and fortunate is the man who has full coal bins.

pose the Ariel Sextette, came in from the east on train No. 3 early this morning, and will appear at

There is no discount on this company; it is first-class. It has been a long time since North Platte has had an opportunity to hear such talented vocalists, and the citizen who fails to attend the concert tonight will miss a very rich treat.

—C. S. Clinton has, to use a hackneyed expression, taken time by the forelock and already laid in his stock of holiday goods. And they are fine. There are an innumerable number of articles in sterling silver, both for ornamental and useful purpose, and all suitable for Christmas gifts. He also carries an elegant line of cut glass, any piece of which would more than please the average housewife. Mr. Clinton always delights in showing his goods, and will be pleased to have you call.

—All persons owing us old bills must now call and settle with cash or approved note.
We want this outstanding money to enable us to discount our bills and thus compete with cash stores.

THE CODY GUARD BALL.

The north wind blew strong and cold last evening, but it did not prevent a large attendance at the first annual ball of the Cody Guard held at the opera house. The gal-eries were filled with spectators, and about seventy couples took part in the grand march.

The decorations on the stage were magnificent, the handsomest ever displayed in the hall, and reflected credit upon the designers, Messrs. Hammond, Gress and Yost.
The centre piece represented a large shield, surmounted by a rich design of national colors with "Co. E. 2d Regiment, N. N. G.,—Nov. 21, '93 —Welcome"—printed in gold letters and the cap bristling with keen pointed payonets. In the centre of the shield was a large portrait of Colonel Cody which stood out boldly by the medium of a bright light placed immediately behind the picture. Extending to either side of the stage were streamers artist-ically draped and the stage filled with stacks of arms.

At 8:30 three sets of fours of the Cody Guard fell into line and under command of First Lieutenant Evans went through a drill which elicited applause by reason of the excellent work performed. The Guard was arrayed in its new uniforms—white helmets, long blue coats and white duck pants—and presented a very handsome appearance. During the inspection of arms, the Gordon silver cornet band, wearing their fine white uniforms, played a selection.

At the close of the drill partners for the grand march were called.
Drum majors Hartman and Master Gordon Laing lead the march, followed by the members of the band and their ladies, the members of the Guard and their ladies, and then citizens and ladies, the whole presenting a very fine appearance.
Half the numbers of the program were danced prior to midnight when an intermission for supper was given, after which the dance was renewed and continued until about three o'clock.

The ball was certainly a brilliant success socially, and we trust equally financially. THE TRIBUNE congratulates the members of the company upon the result.

THE EPISCOPAL FAIR.

The fair, supper and entertainment held at Keith's hall Tuesday evening by the ladies' guild was exceptionally well patronized. The demands for supper was greater than could be supplied, but the ladies succeeded in serving about 200.

The sale of fancy work was also very satisfactory, only a few of the articles remaining unsold.

The farce entitled "The Jack Trust," which was given on the stage, proved to be a neat and amusing play. Those assuming characters were Misses Lottie Kusterer, Mattie Donohew, Mabel McNamara, Fanny VonGeetz and Annie Kramph and Dr. DeBerry, all of whom admirably rendered their parts.

At the conclusion of the stage performance the young people took the liberty to enjoy a little dancing.
The ladies find that after paying expenses, they have a balance of over one hundred dollars.

RAILROAD NOTATION.

Switch engine 1201 came out of the shops this morning.

John Hanlon entered the machine shop as an apprentice Tuesday.

Railroad men can find presents for their wives and sweethearts at Clinton's.

Supt. P. J. Nichols, accompanied by his two niece and a nephew, were visitors in the city Wednesday.

One of the switch engines ran short of rails in the yard yesterday and delayed work for several hours.

Ed Taylor, who was an employe of the Union Pacific shops here a dozen years ago, is in town this week.

Bob Finney, who is one of the train crew callers at Sidney, came down yesterday on a visit to his parents.

It is unofficially announced that trains No. 5 and 6 will shortly run through to Julesburg, thus relieving the through trains of local work.

Deputy United States Marshals Vizzard of Omaha and Tobin of Cheyenne, both of whom look after the Union Pacific's interests, were in town yesterday.

A conductor on the Fourth district seems to have forgotten the new time-card yesterday morning and started out with a freight train to meet No. 4. The trains were stopped before they made the attempt to pass on the same track.
The conductor backed his train to Cheyenne, walked into the dis-patcher's office and handed in his resignation, which saved the trouble of a discharge.

Things are not running one bit smooth under the new time-card.
Up to date the fast mail from the east has been late reaching this city every night, we believe, since the card went into effect. Last night this train was nearly three hours behind, by reason of engine 888—with Manning on board—failing to steam. To-day No. 2 from the west was split in two sections, the first being over an hour late and the second about two hours.
And winter has only begun.
