PARK—"Frank Fay's Fables."
TUESDAY NIGHT.
NATIONAL THEATRE—"The Cat and the Canary."

WILLIAM COURTENAY comes to the Booth Theatre on Monday night in W. A. Brady's production of "The Law Breaker." This play, by Jules Eckert Goodman, is concerned with the mental reactions of an intelligent criminal and the treatment of crooks at the hands of the authorities. The supporting company includes Frank Sheridan, Marguerite Maxwell, Clifford Dempsey and John Cromwell.

• • •

The Shuberts will present Cecil Lean and Cleo Mayfield in a musical comedy called "The Blushing Bride" at the Astor Theatre on Monday night. The book is by Edward Clark and Cyrus Wood and the music is by Sigmund Romberg. The story has to do with a Senator who is fond of chorus girls. Among others in the cast are Tom Lewis, Clarence Nordstrom, Edythe Baker, Beatrice and Marcella Swanson and the Glorias.

• • •

The postponed opening of "Frank Fay's Fables" at the Park Theatre will take place on Monday night.

• • •

"The Cat and the Canary," a play by John Willard, will be produced by Kilbourn Gordon at the National Theatre on Tuesday night. The cast includes Henry Hull, Florence Eldridge, Beth Franklyn, Blanche Friderici and the author.

• • •
