ARRANGE PERSIAN AFFAIR

Porte to Investigate Reported Invasion

TURKS ACROSS FRONTIER

Will Be Withdrawn—It Is Thought This Will Furnish Solution—Engagement of George of Greece, It Is Said, Is to Be Announced.

Constantinople, Aug. 28.—The Persian legation having protested against the continued occupation of Persian territory by Turkish troops and the atrocities committed by Kurds in the disputed frontier districts, the porte has decided to send a commission to the frontier with instructions to make an inquiry in joint with Persian delegates, and to order the withdrawal of the Turks immediately if it is found that they are on Persian territory. The outlook seems to promise a satisfactory solution of the difficulty.

PRINCE GEORGE TO BE ENGAGED?

Will Be Betrothed, It Is Said, to Princess Napoleon Bonaparte.

Rome, Aug. 28.—It is stated about court circles that the engagement will be announced shortly of Prince George of Greece, ex-high commissioner of the powers in Crete, to Princess Napoleon Bonaparte, grand niece of Prince Roland Bonaparte.

AUSTRO-ITALIAN GOOD FEELING.

Enhanced by the Meeting of Tittoni and Francis Joseph at Ischl.

Rome, Aug. 28.—The Press speaks in high approval of the Austro-Italian understanding resulting from the meeting at Ischl, Sunday, of Signor Tittoni, Italian minister of foreign affairs, and Baron von Aehrenthal, the Austro-Hungarian minister of foreign affairs, and the subsequent conference between Signor Tittoni and Emperor Francis Joseph. The newspapers declare that Signor Tittoni's cordial reception at the hands of the Austrian authorities completely defeated all past bitterness.

"REIGN OF TERROR" FOR US.

Reported Recommendation of Emma Goldman at Anarchist Congress.

Amsterdam, Aug. 28.—A small army of detectives of almost every nationality is here to watch the delegates to the Anarchist congress, now in session. It is understood that at yesterday's session, which was held behind closed doors, Enrico Malatesta and Emma Goldman made violent speeches, the latter advocating a "reign of terror" as the means of reshaping social conditions in the United States.

A. T. Ove of Sweden was chosen president of the congress.

ABOUT THE STATE.

Items of Interest Gleaned From Our Exchanges.

Mrs. Harriet Griswold died Saturday morning at her home in Brandon. She was 90 years old and is survived by one son, Eugene Griswold, and one daughter, Mrs. Henry Hubbard.

The Rev. J. Christopher Williams has accepted the call of the Orwell Congregational church to become its pastor and is expected there about September 1st.

The Free Press Printed August 19 an item, from a supposedly reliable source, to the effect that Mr. and Mrs. Ray P. Tuttle were the parents of a son, born the previous Saturday. It appears that Mr. Tuttle is not married and there was therefore, no foundation for the item.

Middlebury has been bothered beyond endurance by gypsies and when a band of twenty-five settled down on the outskirts of the village recently they were ordered to decamp and orders were telephoned down the line of march to keep them moving until they crossed the border of the state.

The fifth class horse horse sales in Franklin county for July were as follows: F. W. Mitchell, of Richford, 203 sales, $78.65; R. C. Sheldon, of Swanton, 24 sales, $88.81; J. E. Welch & Co., of St. Albans, 95 sales, $70.32; G. L. Campbell, of Swanton, 99 sales, $48.50; C. D. O'Leary, of St. Albans, 28 sales, $71.36.

Representatives of the Pauly Jail company, the contractors who are to erect the new Chittenden county jail are in Burlington. Work has been commenced on the new building, which will occupy the present site. The commissioners say that the question of the location of the jail was settled at the recent city meeting, when the citizens voted so overwhelmingly not to purchase the Main street property. The new building will be 66 feet long, 42 feet wide and about 20 feet high.

Enjoyment Requires Understanding.

A reporter tired and warm, complained to Walter Egan, on the Euclid links in Cleveland, that he thought golf stupid.

"You find golf stupid eh?"

With a mighty drive the Chicago golfer sent the small ball flying a tremendous distance toward the faraway red flag. Then as he strode on over the fresh turf he said:

"You only find golf stupid because you don't understand it. You haven't mastered it. You remind me of a certain Hottentot.

"Two white men in Africa laid out for themselves a nine-hole course, and here in the wilds morning after morning they played, though the sun was hot and though the dry and sandy soil left them almost continually in the bunkers.

"Well, the Hottentot watched the two white men golfing for several days. Silent and absorbed, he followed them interbatingly over the yellow course. Then he disappeared.

"Where had he gone. The white men, missing him laughingly made search. They found him at last far out in the burning desert.

The naked Hottentot stood alone in the burning desert, whacking away at a large stone with a great war club and shouting loudly:

"'Hang it! Hang it!'"—Washington Star.

Profit in His Risk.

Jim Johnstone, the famous base ball umpire, said recently in New York that base ball crowds were far kinder to umpires than they used to be.

"This is true of theatre crowds, too," said Mr. Johnstone. "Why, with provincial touring companies in the past maltreatment was regularly expected. In fact, the companies profited by it in more ways than one.

"I know of a company that was playing 'The Broken Vow,' in Paint Rock, a one-night stand. The audience didn't like 'The Broken Vow,' and eggs, cabbages and potatoes rained upon the stage.

"Still the play went on. The hero raved through his endless speeches, dodging an onion or a base ball every other minute, and pretty sure from those missiles that he hadn't been able to dodge.

"But finally a gallery auditor, in a paroxysm of rage and scorn, hurled a heavy boot, and the actor, thoroughly alarmed, started to retreat.

"'Keep on playing, you fool,' hissed the manager, from the wings as he hooked in the boot with an umbrella. 'Keep on playing till we get the other one.'"—Washington Star.

"The Choir Singer."

A treat is in store for lovers of clean refined comedy drama wherein the heart interest predominates, but where the comedy element is also given due prominence and where the clever rendering of a number of effectively introduced songs of varied characters is an additional and highly attractive feature. The play which combines all these interesting qualities is "The Choir Singer" which will be presented with the original cast and with the same elaborate scenic equipment as when played recently in New York. This latest of the season's successes will come to the opera house next Monday afternoon and evening.

Wasting Grammar.

Bobby's mother was often distressed by her small son's lapses from correct speech; all the more because his reports from school were were always so good.

"Bobby," she said plaintively one day, "why do you keep telling Major to 'set up' when you know 'sit up' is what you should say?"

"Oh, well, mother," Bobby answered lastly, "of course I have lots of grammar, but I don't like to waste it on Major when he doesn't know the difference, being a dog."—Harper's Weekly.

I Give Honor to Whom it Is Due.

Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, of Rondout, N. Y., cured me of Bright's disease and gravel. Four of the best physicians had failed to relieve me. I have recommended it to scores of people with like success, and know it will cure all who try it.—Mrs. E. P. Minor, Bury Hill, O. Price $1.00, all druggists; six bottles, $5.00.

KEEP YOUR HEAD UNCOVERED.

The Constant Wearing of a Hat Propagates Dandruff Germs.

There are many men who wear their hats practically all the time when awake, and are blessed with a heavy shock of hair; yet if the scalps of these same men once become infested with dandruff germs, the parasites would multiply all the quicker for lack of air. Baldness would ensue as the final result. Newbro's Herpicide kills these germs and stimulates unhealthy hair to abundant growth. Herpicide is a pleasant hair dressing as well as a dandruff cure and contains not an atom of injurious substance. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

WHEN IT'S HOT.

Add Your Own Idea to These Pictures of Oppressive Heat.

"Suppose we describe in turn the scene that our fancy pictures as illustrating our notion of oppressive heat," said one of a party discussing the extremes of weather. "What do we think of—what time, what place, what conditions?"

The suggestion was received with favor, and here are some of the responses:

"A new concrete sidewalk at noon, with the sun beating down on it and your heels sinking in, and the heat reflected in your face, and the air pervaded with the smell of tar."

"The desert, with an exhausted caravan struggling to reach a mirage that hovers on the horizon, but doomed to perish of thirst, as perished the men and the animal whose bleached bones they are passing."

"Washing dishes in the kitchen, with the thermometer at 95 out of doors and a hundred and something within, with your hands so suspendy and greasy that you can't lift them to your face to wipe away the perspiration and with your whole being so tired and cross and miserable that you would cry—if you were not ashamed to."

"The deck of a becalmed yacht, with a glassy sea and a long, slow roll and the leaseweek so hot that it burns your hand, the sun high, the sky cloudless, the sails hanging with not a breath to stir them, the victim prostrate and sweltering, with no consciousness in the present except of heat and nausea and no expectation for the future but sunstroke."

"Standing alone in the middle of a broad, hot field that is teaming with scarlet lilies, with no sound save the notes of the grasshoppers and the locusts."

"Noon on a country road which lies between treeless, barren fields, with no living thing in sight but an ox team lurching slowly on its way in a cloud of yellow dust."

"A night in August when coolness has not come with darkness, when you cannot sleep and can hardly breathe and when it seems that morning would never come."—Chicago News.

The Measure of a Lady.

While shopping in London an American school teacher was very much taken with a pair of beautiful lace curtains. The price of them, however, seemed prohibitive.

"Being only a teacher," she said, "I am not, of course, wealthy, and I fear that I cannot afford them."

"If you will wait a moment," replied the saleswoman, "I will see if I may give you a reduction on them." Then she called to a superior and said:

"This person would like to have these curtains, but she says she is not a lady and cannot afford to pay the market price."—Brooklyn Life.

An Implication.

It was a Saturday night and all parts of the theatre were crowded.

In the gallery a young woman sat in front of a corpulent man, who caused much annoyance by his frequent and free observations.

The lady's patience became exhausted and, turning round to her tormentor, she delivered a sharp rebuke.

"I wish you would be quiet, sir, and remember that we did not come here to listen to your impertinent remarks."

"Very well, 'Liza," said the garrulous one, "but pray don't eat me."

"You are in no danger," replied the young woman, "I am a Jewess."—Smiles.
