CITY INTELLIGENCE.

WEDNESDAY, May 25.

LAWYER'S DIARY FOR THURSDAY, MAY 26.—CIRCUIT COURT.—Nos. 13, 69, 42, 54, 75, 122, 111, 55, 79, 78, 89, 95, 100, 22, 57, 10, 105, 106, 114, 86, 57, 47, 5.... COMMON PLEAS.—Part First—Nos. 51, 55, 55, 97, 99, 101, 103, 105, 107, 109, 111, 113, 7, 35, 55, 125. Part Second—Nos. 19, 18, 100, 102, 104, 106, 120, 14, 16, 41, 132, 110, 154, 136, 6, 10, 60, 64, 2, 126.

VICE CHANCELLOR'S COURT.—Before Vice Chancellor McCoun.—DECISIONS—Jos. H. Homer vs. Abraham Blom—Motion for a Receiver on the assigned property denied; costs to abide the event.

Randolph W. Townsend vs. Moses Hunt—Third parties in this case must be included to obtain compulsory process. Petition denied—costs to abide the event.

Wm. Johnson vs. Geo. L. Thatcher—Complaint had been made against defendant for violating an injunction. Ordered that he be fined $250, and stand committed till the fine is paid.

CIVIL COURTS.—In the Circuit Court an action was brought by the Commercial Bank to recover of Jas. B. Taylor, as endorser, a note given for stock of the old Peck-slip Ferry. The defence is that 25 per cent. had been paid on the stock, with the understanding that no more would be called for or required. The additional 25 per cent. was subsequently demanded, and a note for $1,250 given, which was to be discounted at the Commercial Bank and 10 per cent. paid every 10 days. The party giving this note could not meet the 10 per cent. and the defendant endorsed on an assurance at the Bank that the Peck-slip Ferry was good, and in two years its stock would be equally valuable with that of the Fulton Ferry. After defendant's principal had paid two instalments the Company failed, and all the capital paid in was lost. The jury gave a verdict in favor of plaintiff for $1,095.

In the same Court an action was brought by Adolphus Colburn, and others, against Miner C. Story, to recover the amount of a note he had given for $400. The defence was usury, asserting that the note had been given for bills of the Union Bank, Montreal, which were at a discount, and consequently more than legal interest had been charged. The jury found for defendant.

COURT OF SESSIONS.—Before the RECORDER and Judge NOAH.—GRAND JURY.—The Grand Jury came into Court with a number of bills and also with the following presentment, which was read by the Clerk, ordered to be filed and published.

The Grand Jury, for the May term of the Court of Sessions for the city and county of New-York, respectfully represent: That they find a practice of many years' standing, of discharging vagrant convicts from the Penitentiary, on Blackwell's Island, by "Special Justices of the Peace, Aldermen," &c., is not sustained by law. That even if it were, the extent to which it has recently been practiced leads to the reasonable suspicion of gross improprieties.

The Grand Jury, therefore, present this practice, notwithstanding its long continuance and the participation in it of many Aldermen, and nearly all the committing magistrates of our city, as illegal, tending to evil and therefore calling for prompt correction.

The Grand Jury deem it unnecessary that no suitable provision exists whereby a distinction is made between those who are committed to Blackwell's Island for crime, and those whose only offence is poverty and utter destitution.

The moral, if not the actual punishment, appears to be the same, and the vagrant when discharged from a first commitment, naturally feels indifferent respecting the commission of petty crimes (which pave the way for greater ones) when the punishment is no greater than if convicted of being destitute, or in other words of the law, "having no visible means of obtaining a living."

It seems to the Grand Jury to be a great deficiency in our public institutions for the succor of the distressed and punishment of the criminal, that a workhouse, and a system predicated upon the establishment of such an institution, has not heretofore been adopted. Vagrants and paupers could then (while at the public charge) be employed in such labor as would materially benefit their own health, induce them to habits of industry and constant occupation, and render their minds cheerful and contented, thereby tending to make them, when discharged, more fitable to become useful and producing members of society. The Grand Jury would earnestly call the attention of the proper authority and their fellow citizens to this subject, fully believing that it would tend to reduce the number of criminal and vagrant commitments, and render the charge of these unfortunates less expensive to our city.

The following table shows the number at present at the public charge:

Total number in Alms House, including 272 in Hospital, 36 in Lunatic Asylum, and 750 on Long Island Farms	2,594
PRISONS.
Male Penitentiary, Blackwell's Island	272
Female " " "	342
Female " at Bellevue	130
Males and females in City Prison	141
Total in Prisons	886

Of the whole number in the Alms House, 1,459 are foreigners, and 1,135 natives.

The Grand Jury cannot commend too highly the present condition of the Public Institutions at Bellevue, Blackwell's Island and the Long Island Farms. The Lunatic Asylum at Blackwell's Island, under the general superintendence of Dr. Wache, and the immediate care of Dr. M'Dillan; the Long Island Farms' establishment, under its able superintendents, Mr. Guest and Mrs. Lee; the Hospital on Blackwell's Island, for children from the farms, under the care of Dr. Morrell; the Penitentiary; the Alms House at Bellevue, and all the various buildings connected therewith, present an appearance of order, economy, firm but mild discipline, and institutions cleanliness that excite the admiration of all, and reflect the greatest credit on the Commissioners of the Alms-House, Mr. Myer, the superintendent, Mr. Brown, the keeper of Blackwell's Island, and the various officers connected with those establishments.

Additional Hospital accommodations on Blackwell's Island appear to be much needed, and the Grand Jury respectfully call the attention of the proper authority to that subject.

The Grand Jury, in their investigation of alleged election frauds, find that many individuals have gone into other Wards than those where they usually reside, and by a temporary residence of a few days, have been deemed to be qualified and allowed to vote therein. This appears to have been done to a great extent in the 8th Ward, and yet such is the looseness of the election law in defining what "a legal residence" is, that there seems to be no hope of a correction of this demoralizing practice short of an alteration of the law defining a legal residence to be an actual and bona fide one of at least 10 days in the Ward or District in which the individual shall be entitled to vote.

As the colonization system is practised by all parties, is alike expensive and corrupting to all who engage in it, and destructive of the noble object of one of our boasted privileges—the equal and unbiased "elective franchise;" the Grand Jury earnestly desire to turn the attention of the Court, and of their fellow-citizens generally to the adoption of some measures which may correct this evil in the "body politic;" this they believe can only be effected by legislative action, fixing the term of "legal residence" at such period as will render colonization impracticable or too expensive to be practiced to any extent.

RICHARD B. FOSDICK, Foreman.

JAMES H. HART, Secretary.

The Grand Jury were then discharged with the thanks of the Court for the valuable suggestions they had offered and for their devotion to the public service. They found in all 61 bills during the terms.

FORFEITED RECOGNIZANCES.—Charles Mitchell, some months since convicted of forgery, and Edward Shaw, convicted of embezzlement and grand larceny; Albert C. Merlam, convicted of forgery in the 3d degree, and Leonard Kingsley, convicted of forgery in the 2d degree, severally failing to appear and answer, their recognizances were forfeited.

The Court were then engaged in hearing a case of affiliation on appeal from the Police Court—after which they adjourned for the term.

POLICE OFFICE.—STEALING FEMALE CLOTHING.—Sarah Burnham was to-day arrested by officer Prince John Davis, charged with having on the 21st inst. stolen two linen bed gowns and two pieces of body linen, worth together $14, from Emily Poe, No. 70 Grand-street. She was committed to prison to answer.

THEFT AND INFAMY.—A young female of infamous character, named Jane Wilson, was arrested for theft and dissolute conduct, and sent to the Penitentiary for 6 months as a thief and vagrant.

PURLOINING A WATCH.—A female named Catherine Connell was arrested to-day and committed for stealing a gold watch and guard chain, worth $70, from William Lee, Jr., of No. 50 Reade-street.

STEALING FROM A FERRY-HOUSE.—Mr. John Durbridge, of Newark, N. J., left at the ferry-house foot of Barclay-street to-day for a short time, 15 fur caps, worth $15, and soon after a fellow named William Morrow stole the caps and fled. He was, however, soon after caught and committed to prison.

SUNDRY LARCENIES.—Catherine Kales was arrested and committed for stealing a frock from Catherine, wife of Richard Butler, No. 85 Cross-street. Charles Stewart was arrested for stealing a counter from No. 55 Grand-street; and Ellen Orr, for stealing a Britannia tea-pot and cream jug from No. 254 Third Avenue. The two last named were committed at the Upper Police Office.

CORONER'S OFFICE.—The Coroner held an inquest to-day at his Office, Halls of Justice, on the body of Elizabeth Green, of No. 171 Elizabeth-street, a native of Ireland, aged about 40—a woman of intemperate habits. The deceased was committed a few days since on charge of having counterfeit money on her person, and although a discharge was made out for her on Tuesday, she was in a state of delirium tremens and the physician said she could not be with safety discharged. She died in prison at 5 o'clock this morning. Verdict, died of delirium tremens.

☞ Fourth Ward.—A public meeting of the Whig Electors of the Fourth Ward was held at the Shakspeare Hotel on Monday evening, May 23d, 1842, to nominate School Commissioners, Inspectors and Trustees for the ensuing Election in June. Oliver T. Hewlett was appointed Chairman, Alderman Ashfield and James Harper, Vice Chairmen, and Uriah F. Carpenter and G. P. Disosway, Secretaries for the evening.

A retiring Committee reported the following names as suitable candidates for the ticket, which were individually and unanimously accepted:

For Commissioners:
RICHARD S. WILLIAMS. JAMES HARPER.
For Inspectors:
GABRIEL P. DISOSWAY, ABIJAH P. CUMMINGS.
For Trustees:
OLIVER T. HEWLETT, JONATHAN THORNE,
PHILO DOANE, ARCHIBALD HALL, Jr.
URIAH F. CARPENTER.

On motion—

Resolved, That the retiring Committee have power to fill any vacancies that may occur in this ticket.

The following resolutions introduced by Mr. Jireh Bull, were adopted:

Whereas one of the great blessings of a republican form of government is religious freedom, and aims at the entire separation of the interests of the Church from the State, and while we recognize the sacred right of every one to adopt his own religious creed with reference to the particular mode of worshiping his Maker, we also condemn as anti-republican any legislative act which gives to a sectarian party privileges or power for the promotion of certain religious creeds—especially if those creeds are of foreign origin, and opposed to the pure principles of true American Republicanism; and whereas there exists upon the statute book of the State of New-York a law framed under the supervision of a prelate, with direct reference to and adopted expressly for the benefit of the Roman Catholics of this city, so repugnant in its formation and so plausible in its consummation that we cannot longer refrain from expressing our decided conviction that, unless our citizens arouse and come out for the protection of American interests and American principles, those principles and those interests will soon be overthrown and destroyed by those whose great object it is to amalgamate and concentrate both our civil and religious liberties under the power and control of Romanism—Therefore—

Resolved, That we express it as our deliberate opinion that had any other denomination other than Roman Catholics demanded a distribution of the Public School money, it not only would have been denied them, but they would have been most severely censured for making the attempt.

Resolved, That we feel a native pride in being called American Citizens, and that notwithstanding partizans have done for foreigners what they would not do for us, still we believe the day will come when the community will point to the odious Maclay School Bill only as a beacon to warn others to beware how they trifle with American rights.

Resolved, That Bishop Hughes, in his unsuccessful application to the Legislature for a portion of the School Fund, has shown a power which is most alarming, a power which, if not counteracted by the Protestant community, will most assuredly at some day overthrow and destroy this once happy Republic.

Resolved, That while we are in favor of an early repeal of this Roman Priestcraft law, we are bound, as good citizens, to protect as far and as long as possible our Public Schools, by electing persons to take part in their management, who, knowing the value of these long-tried and useful institutions, will watch with a jealous eye every sectarian movement, and promptly report the same to their constituents, the people.

Alderman Williams and Mr. Disosway, presented their views to the meeting, on the paramount importance of our Common School System—its excellencies and utility, and the great necessity of continuing the system in a free country like ours, free from sectarian influence of every kind.

The proceedings were ordered to be published, properly signed, and the meeting adjourned.

OLIVER T. HEWLETT, Chairman.

JAMES HARPER, }

G. P. DISOSWAY, } Secretaries.

For Inspectors.

For Trustees.
