BY THIS MORNING'S MAIL.

From our Special Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, May 6.

An interesting debate in the Senate to-day on the Apportionment Bill—Mr. CRITTENDEN, Mr. CALHOUN, Mr. BUCHANAN, SEVIER and ALLEN, were the principal speakers, and some of them distinguished themselves. The weight of the argument was decidedly in favor of augmenting the ratio of Representation, and from present appearances I think the Senate will so amend the bill of the House as to reduce the number proposed nearly to that of the existing body.

The course of the Madisonian with regard to the Tariff and the two Exchequer Bills of Congress continues to be the theme of conversation here: and many who are the rational friends of the President begin to express alarm at his contemplated decision upon these important measures. For my part I have seen little cause to place much reliance upon the outgivings of that Journal, as being the exposition of the prominent views of the Executive, and shall, therefore, wait patiently his official action before I condemn.

The name of TULLY R. WISE, as I anticipated, was sent to the Senate yesterday as First (not 2d) Auditor of the Treasury. What will be the fate of this nomination remains to be seen. Mr. W. is understood to be a very respectable gentleman from Virginia, and at a former period a candidate for the Consulship at Havanna. Yours, &c.

WASHINGTON, Thursday, May 26.

In SENATE, Mr. MANGUM from the Committee on Printing, reported adversely on a petition from citizens of Boston in favor of an Inter-National Copy-right Law. Mr. PRESTON expressed his desire that at no distant day they would have the action of Congress in the passage of an Inter-National Copy-right Law, as established by all the civilized nations on the globe.

Numerous petitions were presented in favor of Protection, &c., among which was one by Mr TALLMADGE from Onondaga Co., N. York for the passage of the Exchequer Bill.

Mr. BAYARD called up the subject of the employment of a corps of Reporters by the Senate, and on his motion the report of the Select Committee on the subject (of which Mr. B. was Chairman) made at the Extra Session, was referred to a new Committee to consist of five members.

The Apportionment Bill was again taken up, the ratio being in blank, and propositions were made to insert the following ratios: by Mr. Preston, 92,000, Mr. Sevier 77,000, Mr. White 76,000, Mr. Bagby 75,000, Mr. Bayard 74,607, Mr. Fulton 74,391, Mr. Merrick 72,354, Mr. Buchanan 70,630, Mr. Crafts 70,000, Mr. King 69,000, Mr. McRoberts 68,000, Mr. Evans 66,000, Mr. Graham 65,500, Mr. Williams 62,500, Mr. Tallmadge 62,279, Mr. Conrad 62,172, Mr. Miller 62,000, Mr. Sturgeon 61,174, Mr. Henderson 59,513, Mr. Young 59,506, Mr. Woodbury 56,746, Mr. Kerr 54,965, Mr. Porter 53,100, Mr. Wilcox 50,648, Mr. Wright 50,173, and Mr. Walker 49,594.

Mr. PRESTON thought the House should consist of about three times the number of the Senate, and had therefore proposed a ratio of 92,000 to giving a House of 165 members, independent of fractions. Mr. CALHOUN thought they should first settle the principle whether the ratio should be large or small. He thought the House was too large. In 1810, when it consisted of 140 members, it was nearly as quiet and orderly as the Senate.

A further discussion of some length took place, in which various Senators expressed preferences for their particular ratios as indicated by the motions above given.

The Senate then adjourned.

In the HOUSE, Mr. GILMER, from the Select Committee on retrenchment moved the discharge of that Committee from the further consideration of various petitions that had been referred to it asking for a reduction of mileage of members of their per diem to $5; for the abolition of the franking privilege and the re-establishment of the one hour rule, &c. stating that the Committee had reported on a part of these petitions. The motion was carried.

On motion of Mr. HALL Chairman of the Select Committee appointed to investigate the charge of fraud relative to the Commonwealth Bank of Boston, by Yeas 123, Nays 43, the rules were suspended for the reception of a resolution authorising that Committee to send for persons and papers and go to Boston if necessary for the examination.

Mr. SAUNDERS of N. C. moved to strike out the latter clause (authorizing the Committee to proceed to Boston) which after brief discussion was carried. Yeas 96, Nays 80, and the resolution, as amended, was adopted.

The Army Appropriation Bill was again taken up in Committee, and Mr. ROOSEVELT moved an amendment to the amendment of Mr. CAVE JOHNSON, providing that there shall be no increase of the Army beyond the actual number now in service.

Mr. CUSHING at great length opposed the amendment and the policy in this precipitate manner, by provisos to appropriation bills, of reducing the defences, military and naval, of the country in the present state of our affairs. He referred to the pending negotiations with Great Britain with whom we had eight points of difference, viz:—The North Eastern, Northern and North Western boundary, and the Caroline and Creole questions; the question of the seizure of some six or a dozen American vessels on the coast of Africa: the great maratime question of the liberty of the seas as connected with the Right of Search, and the question of our Commercial relations with Great Britain; in all of which we had truth on our side, and in the negotiation of which he gave notice to the country that we should not fail from any deficiency of zeal or spirit on the part of the Administration. He contended that it was impolitic to reduce our defences during the pendency of these negotiations, and spoke of the unfavorable impression that must be made on the mind of Lord Ashburton when he witnessed the reluctance of the House to come up to the duty of raising revenue sufficient for the support of Government, and their attempting to avoid this duty by cutting down our public defences, &c. &c.

The question was further discussed until adjournment.

DESTRUCTIVE EARTHQUAKE—TEN THOUSAND LIVES LOST.—We learn by the brig William Nelson, arrived last night, that a severe shock of an earthquake was felt at Port au Prince on the 7th. No damage done. News had reached there from Cape Haytian that that town was entirely destroyed with two-thirds of its inhabitants. The place contained about fifteen thousand. A courier arrived a few hours before the W. N. left, stating that nearly all that was left was destroyed by the blowing up of the powder magazine. It is supposed that all the houses on the north side are destroyed. [Express.

CITY INTELLIGENCE.

FRIDAY, May 27.

LAWYER'S DIARY FOR SATURDAY, MAY 28.—CIRCUIT COURT.—Nos. 73, 122, 111, 35, 109, 95, 100, 22, 37, 10 114, 56, 47, 55, 112, 21, 123, 124, 125, 126.... COMMON PLEAS Monday—Part First—133, 25, 57, 63. Part Second—Nos. 19, 14, 106, 6, 44, 133, 9, 12, 29, 42, 84, 88, 104, 108, 110, 112, 114, 129.

CIVIL COURTS.—In the Marine Court an action was brought by Wm. S. Rulabock against Job. Haskell to recover rent for house No. 39 Delancy-street, which was burnt at the late fire in the Tenth Ward. Mr. H's lease ran till May. The plaintiff took brick off the ruins, which the defendant contended was an ejectment, and he had no right to pay any rent due. The jury, however, found for plaintiff in the sum claimed, being from the 1st February to the time of the fire.

In the Circuit Court an action of replevin was brought by Morris Raunheim against Jas. J. West, and others, for goods seized in 1839 under execution against Isaac Raunheim, Canal street, who was supposed to be the real owner of the establishment. Verdict for defendant.

In the Court of Common Pleas an action was brought by Stephen Weeks against James Boyd to recover a note due the late unhappy firm of Weeks & Lawerse. Mr. Lawerse testified to its having already been paid to himself. Verdict for defendant.

In the same Court an action was brought by George C. Tompkins, and others, against the Congregation of Shaar Hashamoim, to recover $300 due on building the German Jewish Synagogue at the corner of Attorney and Henry-streets, payment for which is denied on the ground of the work being bad, the edifice having already settled, and in one or two places cracked. Verdict for plaintiffs, $267.

In the Supreme Court the case of Madame Restell, (brought up on a writ of error,) in relation to the death of Mrs. Purdy was argued by Mr. Jordan for the accused and Mr. Whiting for the People. The defence is that the deposition of Mrs. Purdy, taken before Justice Merritt, is illegal, the counsel for Madame R. not being present. The Court will render its decision in due course.

CASE OF JOHN C. COLT.—The Bill of Exceptions in this case was called up. Messrs. Selden and Merrell, counsel for prisoner, had been in Court during the forenoon, but were absent on the cause being announced. The Court ordered a nonsuit, and directed the District Attorney to proceed by default. The Court of Oyer will probably pass to sentence at the end of the present term.

CASE OF AUSTIN RANKIN.—This young man had been convicted of a rape on the person of Jane Ann Toole, and the cause had been brought up on a writ of error. New trial denied, and the case sent back to the Court below, with orders to proceed to sentence.

CIRCUIT COURT.—Before Judge Kent.—Daniel Blakely vs. John Rice.—FALSE IMPRISONMENT.—The plaintiff, as master of a canal boat, brought a quantity of flour on the last day of November, 1841, for delivery from Seneca County to New-York, consigned to one Heaton. Heaton got possession of the flour by promising to pay the balance of freight, $112 75, on delivery of the flour. After he got it, he claimed to deduct $30 for alleged damage to the flour. Blakely then brought a replevin in the name of the owner of the boat for sufficient flour to pay the freight, and the night before the trial were to justify before the Recorder. Rice sued out a writ claiming $1000 damages and got an order to hold to bail for $700, and he and Niles arrested plaintiff after dark and took him to Elbridge street jail, without allowing him to get bail and kept him there until next day, when he was bailed. Rice had a deputation from the Sheriff to serve the writ, but the word 'depute' or authorize was not in it. It read "I hereby John Rice to serve this writ."

The plaintiff's counsel insisted that the writ was not a justification:

1st. Because a Sheriff could not serve a bailable writ in his own favor and a fortiori could not depute the plaintiff to serve it.

2d. Because the pretended deputation did not contain words authorizing defendant to serve the writ, and that such words could not be supplied by implication.

3d. Because if defendant was regularly deputed and had authority under the writ, yet if he resorted to artifice and stratagem to imprison plaintiff, false imprisonment would lie.

The Judge thought the writ a sufficient justification notwithstanding, but ruled in plaintiff's favor to avoid a new trial in case the Supreme Court should think differently on these questions.

The case was summed up by Geo. W. Niles for defendant, and by Mr. S. Dutcher for plaintiff, in a short but feeling and effective speech, and the Jury found for plaintiff, $2.5 damages and 6 cents costs.

John L. Bigelow vs. William C. Heaton.—This was the suit in replevin mentioned in the preceding case. Blakely, the Captain, testified that before he delivered any of the flour he demanded his pay for freight, and Heaton said he was not in the habit of paying until after delivery. He then took 112 barrels. On Monday Blakely again demanded his pay before the delivery of the rest, when Heaton told him he should have his money as soon as he got the flour upon which the Captain landed the remaining barrels. He then demanded his freight, and Heaton refused to pay unless he would deduct $30 for alleged damages. This suit was then brought to retake flour enough to pay the freight.

Plaintiff's counsel contended it was a question for the Jury whether defendant did not get possession of the flour fraudulently, under a promise he did not mean to keep, and if so, the carrier had not parted with his lien.

The Judge thought the carrier in parting with the flour abandoned his lien and nonsuited plaintiff, who excepted. Jury appraised the value of the flour at $475.

S. Dutcher for plaintiff; G. W. Niles for defendant.

POLICE OFFICE.—STEALING BUTTER.—A stout boy named John Murphy, alias Macbeth, was arrested for stealing a tub of butter, worth $4, from Conrad Wudendorf, No. 17 Ann-street, which he sold to a Mrs. Nelson of the same street for 50 cents. He was committed to answer.

CHARGE OF LIBEL.—Monmouth B. Hart, Esq., preferred a complaint at the Police against Thomas L. Nichols, editor of the Arcan, for a libel, alleged to have been published in that paper against him. Thomas Jefferson Smith, Esq., counsellor of law, also made complaint against Messrs. Anson Herrick and John F. Ropes, publishers of the Aurora, for a libel, alleged to have been published in that paper against him. The bail in each case was fixed at $1,000, but at a late hour neither of the accused had been to the office to give it.

WRITS OF CERTIORARI.—The legal gentlemen who attend at the Police Office for clients, having nearly exhausted the virtues of the habeas corpus writ in effecting the liberation of prisoners on bail, have resorted to the writ of certiorari—bringing the prisoner charged with crime or misdemeanor, before some Judge, where he is held to bail to appear in six months before the Supreme Court. Irresponsible bail is then by direct swearing imposed upon two Judges, and the accused is then discharged, taking care never to appear for trial.

CORONER'S OFFICE.—The Coroner held an inquest at his office, Halls of Justice, on the body of John, infant son of John and Mary Billenger, aged 3 months, of the rear of No. 34 Grange-street. The deceased was ill but a week, without a physician until Thursday noon, when he was taken to the Dispensary nearly senseless, and died soon after. Verdict, died of disease and want of medical attendance.

☞ Seventeenth Ward.—PUBLIC SCHOOLS.—At a meeting of the Electors of the Seventeenth Ward, opposed to the new School Law, and in favor of its Repeal, (called pursuant to public notice,) held at Lafayette Temperance Hall, No. 327 Bowery, on Thursday evening, May 26, JACOB T. WALDEN, Esq. was called to the Chair, and Lewis Hunter, appointed Secretary. The call of the meeting was read and approved.

On motion, it was Resolved, That the Chair appoint a Retiring Committee of seven to nominate two Commissioners, two Inspectors and five Trustees of Public Schools, to be supported at the election in June next.

The Chair selected Robert Taylor, Daniel Jackson, Timothy G. Churchill, George W. Bruen, Edward Y. Prime, Daniel Burtnett, John J. Van Alen.

The Retiring Committee reported the following names, which were individually and unanimously accepted:

JAMES J. VAN ALEN, SAMUEL MARTIN.

For Inspectors.
ROBERT TAYLOR, GEORGE W. BRUEN.

On motion of Mr. E. Phillips, it was

Resolved, That the Nominating Committee be empowered to ascertain if the views of the gentlemen nominated coincide with the principles of this meeting, and then inform them of their nomination; and the Committee are also authorized to fill any vacancies that may occur on this ticket.

On motion of Edward Dayton, Esq. a Committee of one from each District was appointed to obtain subscriptions to defray the expenses of the coming election in June, viz: 1st. Edward Dayton; 2d. Joseph C. Pinckney; 3d. Edward Y. Prime; 4th. Lewis Hunter; 5th. Daniel H. Burtnett.

On motion, it was ordered that the proceedings of this meeting be published in the Evening Post, Sun, Tribune and Commercial, and the meeting then adjourned.

☞ Senrs's Bible Biography.—We are free to say that this, in our opinion, is decidedly the best Family Book we have any knowledge of on the sublime and interesting subject it embraces. The Engravings are about five hundred, designed and executed from new and original designs by the most eminent artists of England and America, and the whole mechanical appearance of the book is extremely prepossessing. The biblical knowledge imparted is in language at once chaste, elegant and simple, adapted to the comprehension of those for whom it is designed. Every subject is selected with great judgement, and evinces uncommon industry and research. We earnestly hope that parents and teachers will examine and judge for themselves, as we feel confident they will coincide with us in opinion. We only hope the circulation of the work will be commensurate with its merits. No Christian family should be without this beautiful volume. It must become a popular book for all classes; and, in conclusion, we have no hesitation in saying that it meets with our entire approbation, and is highly creditable to the judgement and experience of the Editor. 1* ROBERT SEARS, Nassau-street.

Commercial and Money Matters.

FRIDAY, P. M.

There was very little done at the Brokers' Board to-day as for some days, except in Harlem, of which 2500 shares were sold at all prices from 15 down to 12½, and at the second board up again to 14, at which there were buyers at the closing. The greatest decline was 4 per cent. It left off at 2 per cent fall. It is whispered in the street that the principal buyer of this stock whose operations have caused the late speculations, is insane. He is a man of large wealth and on other topics appears perfectly sane. He is supposed to have bought about 5500 shares of the stock besides entering into obligations in connection with the stock to the extent of $80,000. Although Harlem was offered in the street after the second board at 13½ the person mentioned above bought at 16. Delaware & Hudson fell off 1 per cent; Long Island, ½; Paterson, 1; Stonington 1.

In State Stocks there was not much done, but the transactions were at firm rates. Kentucky Sixes improved ½ per cent. Fancies were without much change. For State Sixes 1862, 90¼ offered; Fives and a Half 1861, 84½; 1865, 85½; Five 1845, 90; 1856, 82½; Ohio 1856, 78; Alabama, 50; Arkansas, 50½; Pennsylvania 42½; Corporation Water Loan 1858, 67½; 1870, 80.

The Philadelphia North American says the stock market has been less animated to-day than yesterday. U. States Bank which had advanced to 4, receded a trifle, whilst Pennsylvania Fives rose to 44½. We have little or no change to note in the money Market.

Foreign Markets.

LIVERPOOL COTTON MARKET, May 6.—The demand for Cotton has continued to be moderate this week, the trade only buying for their immediate wants. Sales have been made in the common qualities of American on rather lower terms, but the better classes maintain their value. There is not any change in Brazils, Egyptians or Surats. 1200 American have been taken on speculation, and 200 American and 200 Madras for export, and during the last month, 1420 American, 40 Egyptian and 400 Surat have been forwarded into to country market.
