URGE TROOPS TO INVEST IN LOAN

General Joffre Advises Men to Place Superfluous Cash In Good Way—Raising Funds Rapidly.

Paris, Oct. 13.—The French soldiers are urged to invest their superfluous cash in the new French war loan in a general order to the army issued by General Joffre. The order says:

"France for the second time issues a great loan to pay the expenses of the war. Already, thanks to the first few days' subscriptions, its success is assured. Everyone, both in France and abroad, knows that however heavy the charge of the war may be they are not disproportionate to the wealth of France, which will be increased by the advantages and credit resulting from a glorious peace.

"It is a sacred duty, not less imperative than military duty itself, for every Frenchman to subscribe to the loan. Soldiers who do not spare their energies and give their lives should avoid useless expenditure and thus rescue with their superfluous cash. The more money France has the more ammunition she can expend, economizing human lives, her true wealth, and hastening the approach of victory."

Down With the High Cost of Living

Food products have advanced fully 20 per cent, and with big demands and short crops, prices are advancing daily. We were fortunate, as we looked ahead, and put in an unusually large supply of goods before the advance, and will offer same to the public at the old prices, as it is always our policy to try and keep down the high cost of living. Our advice is to supply yourselves now for the winter while we have these goods on hand.

RARE STATUETTE OF A DAINTY CHARACTER

Paris—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—The national porcelain factory at Sevres has just recovered a dainty statuette which it prizes more than any of the famous works of the establishment, for it is the original figure of Madame de Pompadour, which the Sevres factory made and presented to her over 150 years ago in gratitude for her founding the institution.

Mme. de Pompadour's name is chiefly linked with the gay life of Louis XV. But the famous beauty not only vied with Mme. de Barry in the gay world, but she also exercised much influence in the serious affairs of state. One of the most notable of these works was the creation of the Sevres porcelain factory, which is a national institution with an output of fine ceramics famous the world over. It was Mme. de Pompadour who was the first patron of the institution, and to this day "Pompadour blue" designates some of the most delicate pieces of old Sevres ware.

"And that is why," said M. Bourgeois, administrator of Sevres, "that we prize so highly this statuette of Mme. de Pompadour which has been recovered after being lost these many years."

The administrator pointed out the statuette, which was carefully guarded in a glass case. It showed the favorite of Louis XV, garbed as a shepherdess and leaning against an urn in the gardens of Versailles. Very thoughtfully another statuette of Louis XV, had been placed alongside the recovered relic, so that just as in the old days of reality at Sevres, Louis and Pompadour were here united again in the same place.

"As this statuette was specially modeled as a gift," M. Bourgeois explained, "the moulds were destroyed after a few copies had been made. As a rule, scores of examples of work are made, and it is comparatively easy to obtain one of the originals, as to make another copy from the moulds which are preserved. But as this was a special gift to the founder of our institution, it went only to her, and all other traces of the work were lost or destroyed. We had long known of the existence of the statue and had longed to recover such a historic work marking the foundation of Sevres. It was only by [illegible] that we got track of it lately, and it was brought back as the most precious relic of the institution which made it as a gift to its founder."

HOYNE ASKS PAPERS FOR CHIEF HEALEY

Chicago, Oct. 13.—Warrants charging Chief of Police Charles C. Healey with conspiracy and with malfeasance in office will be applied for by State's Attorney Maclay Hoyne this afternoon, Mr. Hoyne announced today.

"I shall probably ask for the arrest of other persons also," said Mr. Hoyne.

The charges are said to have their root in the chief's administration of the law with regard to vice, saloons and gambling.
