This in brief is the opinion of Delegate Ralph Cameron of Arizona, who made a statement today in which he says:

SENATE CONSIDERS PUBLICITY FOR CAMPAIGN FUNDS BILL TODAY

Senator Root of New York Says All Senators Know There Has Been Much Corruption in Elections.

LEADERS EXPLAIN THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT

Would Extend Publicity to Primary Elections, Forcing Candidates to Publish Promises of Supporters.

(By Evening Herald A. P. Leased Wire)

Washington, July 17.—"A law that simply requires a man to report what money he spent to get into the senate, virtually endorses his right to buy his election," declared Senator Heyburn of Idaho, when the senate took up the campaign publicity bill today.

Senator Lodge of Massachusetts declared that the whole purpose of a publicity law is to let the public know exactly what money is spent and how it is handled; that the "Theory is that money publicly accounted for is properly spent."

The bill as it passed the house requires publicity of campaign expenses not only after election as at present, but also during the fifteen days before election. The senate committee proposed amendments would extend the publicity to primary elections and force candidates to publish their promises to their campaign supporters. Senators Sutherland and Burton secured adoption of an amendment broadening this paragraph, so that candidates must report all promises made by anyone who had been given authority to act for the candidate.

Senator Root of New York said all senators knew there and been much corruption in elections throughout the country.

"We know it not only through the newspapers," said Mr. Root, "but through what has occurred right here in the senate. We need adequate laws against campaign corruption, so that honest men may not have their rights taken away from them by corrupt men."

"One candidate for the senate spent two dollars for every vote he got in the primary elections," said Senator Reed of Missouri.

"The law of Wisconsin requires candidates to file statements of their expenses," added Mr. Reed. "Yet one of them sits in this body today who admitted having spent $107,000 to secure votes in the primary election. If that is not a bar to his holding a seat in the senate it ought to be."

The reference was to the statement of campaign expenses filed by Senator Stephenson after his recent election. Senator Stephenson was in his seat in the senate today for the first time since the filing of the request of the Wisconsin legislature for an investigation in the manner of his election.

At the same time the remaining cars were thrown to the opposite side of the track and piled up against a train standing on a south bound rail. Not a passenger in the first three coaches of the train escaped injury.

(By Evening Herald A. P. Leased Wire)

Cananea, Mexico, July 17.—After several days trouble with soldiers who refused to lay down their arms until large sums of money were paid to them, Cananea is again quiet today and the civil government is in control. It was finally agreed between the citizens and officers that the soldiers must remain in their barracks or leave their arms there when they go upon the streets.

The police immediately proceeded to disarm the soldiers who appeared on the streets with weapons. That caused more trouble, about fifty soldiers leaving the barracks and demanding the return of their arms. They were persuaded to return to their quarters without them.

Colonel Juan G. Cabral was selected as "Major Del Plaza" and given charge of the city's affairs.

LOUISIANA SUGAR INDUSTRY WILL BE RUINED BY REDUCTION

President of Planters' Association Testifying Before the House Sugar Trust Committee Today.

PROSPERITY OF MILLIONS OF PEOPLE JEOPARDIZED

Witness Says the Sugar Planters and Independent Planters Fear American Sugar Refining Company.

(By Evening Herald A. P. Leased Wire)

Washington, July 17.—The Louisiana sugar planters and independent refiners fear the American Sugar Refining company, was declared today by J. E. Burguieres, president of the Louisiana Planters' association before the house sugar trust committee. He testified that reduction of sugar tariffs would ruin the Louisiana sugar industry.

"I cannot get independent refiners to come to Louisiana and bid on our sugar," he said. "They say they will not come into our field but will buy our sugar if we get it into the market.

"They gave no satisfactory reason therefor, but I made my own deductions that the independent refiners regard Louisiana as American Sugar Refining company territory and refused to enter that territory for fear they will precipitate trouble for themselves with the trust. They have always avoided ever since we got into trouble with the trust for selling to outsiders several years ago.

"I predict a crop of one million tons of sugar a year in Louisiana and Texas within a few years. If the sugar tariff is cut in half it would immediately annihilate the sugar industry of Louisiana and affect the prosperity of more than two million people."

ONE TEN THOUSAND DOLLAR ANTE TO FAMOUS JACKPOT

Witness Before Lormier Investigation Committee Says He Talked With One Man Who "Came Across."

(By Evening Herald A. P. Leased Wire)

Washington, July 17.—The Hinman legislative "jack pot" again, which received charges affecting the election of Senator Lorimer figured in the testimony at the opening of five days hearing before the senate Lorimer committee. Wm. Burgess, manager and treasurer of an electrical company in Duluth, Minn., testified that on a train coming out of Duluth about March 1911, C. F. Wiehe, who is associated in business with Edward Hines, intimated to him that there was a pool participated in to elect Mr. Lorimer. I know what I am talking about because I subscribed $10,000 to it myself.

He said he and Wiehe had not met before that day. Burgess said he made a remark about the Lorimer election, which finally led the witness again to said and Wiehe to remark that Burgess "did not know very much more about it."

Shortly afterward, according to the witness today, Wiehe made the statement about the "jack pot."

"Did you you think it strange that a perfect stranger should make a confession of a thousand dollars to you?" asked Senator Kern.

"I always did. That was the reason I asked who the man was who got off the train."

FIGHT TO BAR CHOLERA IS NOW ON IN NEW YORK

Federal Expert Called in to Assist Municipal Health Department; Suspects to Undergo Rigid Examination.

FOURTEEN YEAR OLD BOY IS LATEST VICTIM

Reassuring Bulletin Sent Out by Health Officer of Port in Order to Prevent Possibility of Panic.

(By Evening Herald A. P. Leased Wire)

New York, July 17.—Another death from cholera occurred at the Swineburn hospital during the night making the total six. The latest victim is Francis Farander, aged 14.

The fight to bar cholera from the port of New York continued today with federal helping the local health department. The 248 persons who arrived here late two weeks ago on the steamer Moltke and are still under observation, will undergo examinations and a more rigid quarantine will be enforced at Swineborn Island, where 15 cases of the disease are confined, with four others under suspicion.

These cases, with the six deaths that have occurred since the Moltke brought the germ here from Naples, show the reality of the danger the city faces from the epidemic now raging in Southern Europe.

While nothing even approaching a panic exists here now, the situation is receiving greater attention and Dr. A. H. Doty health officer of the port has felt called on to issue a reassuring statement. Dr. Doty says that the cholera germ can be received in one way only, through the mouth, and that there is no danger in ordinary contact with persons who have the disease. However, Charles Dushkins, counsel for the complainants at the investigation of Dr. Doty's official conduct, now in progress, declares his belief that Cholera patients now in the hospital caught the disease not on the steamer but at the immigration station where all the passengers were detained after landing.

The danger, or rather the understanding of it, is further increased by the comparatively recent medical knowledge of "cholera carriers."

These persons, Dr. Doty says, may transmit the germs, although themselves absolutely free from ill effect and be as great a menace to others as a man dying from the disease.

No cases of cholera were found among the 281 passengers and 91 members of the crew of the Perugia. All persons, abroad, however, remain under close observation. The ship is being disinfected.

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT WILL FIGHT CHOLERA

Washington, July 17.—The entire public health machinery of the government has been put in motion to fight off the cholera invasion from Europe. All consular reports from Europe bearing on cases at any points are being carefully studied by officials here and the public health office at Naples has been instructed to send a report every five days as to developments in Italy.

All ships are being watched here and abroad and special instructions have been issued throughout the service to safeguard this country from the disease.
