Commercial and Money Matters.
FRIDAY P. M.

The business at the Brokers' Board to-day was very light, and the various items immaterial. No sales at the Second Board.

In State Stocks, there was an improved demand for New-York Stocks, which will probably continue for some days, in consequence of a considerable amount of money paid out to-day in dividends, seeking investment. State Sevens declined ½; Sixes, 1862, ¼; Indiana Fives, ½. For Government Five and a Halfs, 90½, 95; State Sixes, 1854, 94, 96; 1860, 93 offered; Five and a Halfs, 1860, 87½ asked; 1861, 85, 86; 1865, 82, 83½; Fives, 1845, 90 offered; 1856, 87, 84; Ohio Sixes, 1859, 90, 92; 1860, 79, 81; Kentucky, 82½, 84; Alabama, 90 offered; Pennsylvania, 40 offered; Water Loan, 84½, 87

The market for Foreign Exchange for transmission by the steamer did not close to-day with much activity. The amount remitted by this steamer is not large. We quote Sterling 7 a 7½, Francs 5 37½ on Amsterdam 53½ a 55, Bremen 75½ a 76, Hamburg 34½ a 35.

There has been rather more doing in Inland bills to-day, but the market is still dull. Virginia is quite plenty, and has a downward tendency. Alabama continues to decline, and to-day is quoted at 54 discount, and most of the large bankers refusing to buy at this rate. We quote—

The Merchants' Fire Insurance Company has declared a semi-annual dividend of five per cent, payable on the 15th inst.

The Boston and Providence Railroad Company has declared a dividend of three dollars per share, payable on the 11th inst.

In regard to the interest on State Debts, we learn that the Bank of the State of Indiana has provided for the interest on $1,200,000 bonds, issued to form its capital. The interest due on the Alabama debt, and the interest and principal of the bonds due on the 1st June and 10th July, and principal and interest due in October and November next, payable in London, has already been remitted. The Ohio interest will be paid at the Ohio Life and Trust office. The Tennessee interest will be paid at Philadelphia. It is confidently asserted at Richmond that Virginia will pay her interest. On Maryland, Illinois and Arkansas, due to-day, the interest is not paid. Pennsylvania will also no doubt be a defaulter. The American says that the interest due to-day on the New-Orleans City bonds was not paid.

At auction yesterday, 65 shares of the Farmers & Merchants' Bank at Memphis, Tennessee, sold at $15 per share.

Bonds of the City of New-York, to the amount of $200,000, are paying off to-day, principal and interest, by the City Chamberlain, at the Bank of the State of New-York.

The Comptroller has ordered to be sold on the 6th July, on account of the New-York Banking Company—

Michigan, 1858	6,000

At Philadelphia, the City Banks are doing a safe, sound business, and discounting all short business paper that is offered them. Very little of this kind of paper, however, in the present great langor of business, is now made—much less than would willingly find favor with the Banks. Country Bank paper is slowly improving, and it is hoped may soon be brought on a par with specie. The Relief Notes in the Treasury, it is expected, will be applied to the payment of domestic creditors. If the late redemption law have the desired effect, they will at length receive the par value of their long-delayed claims.

There appears to be some doubt whether the Mechanics' Bank of Philadelphia did or did not resume to-day. The accounts differ.

Advices from New-Orleans to the 23d ult. state that the Banks are getting on badly. Sales of Citizens' notes at 40. Consolidated and Commercial at 50 a 55. Canal, 30. A meeting of the stockholders of the Citizens' Bank is called for July 11. The Canal Bank has no deposites, no debts, and a circulation of only $200,000. It is thought she would join the City and Louisiana State, and in December three or four Banks will resume. No Banks discounting, and money very scarce. Exchange on England 2 a 2½ premium; France 5 50 a 5 55; 60 day bills on New-York 5 per cent discount.

BY HIS EXCELLENCY
SAMUEL WARD KING,
Governor, Captain General, and Commander-in-Chief of the State of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations.
A Proclamation.

Whereas, on the eighth day of June instant, I issued a Proclamation, offering a reward of one thousand dollars for the delivery of the fugitive Traitor, THOMAS WILSON DORR, to the proper civil authority: and whereas the said Thomas Wilson Dorr having returned to this State, and assumed the command of a numerous body of armed men, in open rebellion against the Government thereof, has again fled the summary justice that awaited him; I do, therefore, by virtue of authority in me vested, and by advice of the Council, hereby offer an additional reward of four thousand dollars for the apprehension and delivery of the said Thomas Wilson Dorr to the Sheriff of the county of Newport or Providence, within three months from the date hereof.
Given under my hand and the seal of said State, at the City of Jase, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and forty-two, and of the Independence of the United States of America the sixty-sixth.

☞ MAKE ONE MORE TRIAL.—There are many persons who have tried the various patent medicines of the day without effect, and have come to the conclusion that they are all humbugs alike. So said a person a few days since. He however was induced to make one more trial, and purchased a bottle of Covert's Balm of Life for Dyspepsia. The same person said last Saturday that he enjoyed better health than he had done for two years previous. We would say to those also who are afflicted with Diarrhœa: Make one trial of Dr. Fleming's Medicated Candy for Diarrhœa, Dysentery and Bowel Complaints. It is a positive cure. His Worm Candy always produces the desired effect. His Cathartic Candy, as a physic, is most salutary, and very pleasant to take. His Dinner or Tonic Candy for Costiveness, Indigestion, Uneasiness or Distress after eating, Heartburn, &c., is universally approved of. Sold wholesale and retail at 135 Nassau-street. Agents—79 Fulton-street, 273 Broadway, 149 and 188 Bowery, 55 Eighth Avenue, 242 Greenwich, 165 Thompson-st., and 75 Fulton-st. Brooklyn. jy2

☞ DR. McMUNN'S ELIXIR OF OPIUM. This is a new chemical preparation, containing all the valuable medicinal qualities of Opium, in a natural state of combination, to the exclusion of its noxious principles.—Full proportions of the greatest number of the noxious principles of Opium are contained in Laudanum, Paregoric, Black-drop, Deodorized Laudanum, Extract of Opium, and such other opiate preparations of this class hitherto made, and to which are justly attributed those disagreeable effects upon the stomach and nervous system, which so frequently follow their operation and limit their usefulness.
This Elixir may be adopted in all those cases in which either Opium or its preparations are administered, with the certainty of obtaining all their sedative, anodyne and anti-spasmodic effects, without any of those disagreeable consequences—of headache, nausea, vomiting, constipation, tremors, and a train of other unhappy symptoms, which are often as distressing as those which it was applied to remove.
The ELIXIR OF OPIUM is not only superior to the artificial compounds of Morphine in its being more mild, permanent and uniform in its effects, but the preparation possesses also a superior advantage in their solutions, in not being liable to decomposition or deterioration from variable temperature or long keeping—a serious objection to which the latter are exposed.
Finally Morphine, not being the full representative of Opium, cannot alone, and that in artificial combination too, produce all the characteristic effects so triumphantly and exclusively, when so many of its other valuable principles, as Codeine, Narcein and Meconic Acid, are excluded.

The following, from Dr. Ansel W. Ives, A. M., speaks volumes:
IMPORTANT COMMUNICATION.—About ten months ago I was attacked with a very painful species of Neuralgia, (Tic Doloureux,) affecting all the nerves of one of my legs and leg, which, excepting occasional short intervals, has continued with unabated severity to the present time. As no remedy has ever seemed to produce the least permanent effect in the progress of the disease, I have been obliged to rely entirely on Opium to mitigate intolerable pain. I began by using the Black Drop, and afterwards the different preparations of Morphine, both by taking them into the stomach and by applying them to a blistered surface externally. By these preparations my digestive functions were almost entirely suspended, and my whole nervous system so disturbed, that my general health was suffering severely from the use of them. It was not a short time before I was taken ill that Dr. McMunn had left with me a specimen of his Elixir of Opium, with the request that I would make a trial of it in my practice. I had not used it enough, however, before my sickness to form any opinion of its peculiar virtues, and I confess I was not predisposed to believe that it possessed any; but one of my medical attendants suggested the propriety of my using it, as all other preparations of Opium affected me so unfavorably. From that time to the present, a period of about eight months, I have taken but little less than 100 ounces of this medicine. As I can, therefore, speak with great confidence as to the effect of Dr. McMunn's Elixir in my own case, it is not less an act of justice to him than a duty to the profession and to the cause of humanity that I give a brief statement of its peculiar effects, and of its superiority in my own case over every other preparation of Opium.
In the first place, it has never impaired my appetite, nor weakened the powers of digestion; on the contrary, when taken in moderate quantities, that is, in doses of from half a drachm to a drachm three or four times in twenty-four, it has seemed to increase the digestive functions; and even though I have taken during the last fifteen days as many ounces of the Elixir, my appetite is still good. Secondly, it does not produce relaxation of skin, and the consequent perspiration, as other preparations of Opium do. Thirdly, it sensibly increases the secretion of urine. Fourthly, when less taken in unusually large doses, it does not produce constipation of the bowels. Fifthly, although it has been equally efficient in relieving pain, it has in no instance caused headache or sickness of stomach, or any of those symptoms of nervous irritability of the system which usually cease from other preparations of Opium after their primary influence has subsided. Without going into details such are the peculiarities of the "modus operandi" of Dr. McMunn's Elixir in my own case. How far its action by future experience may be found to correspond with this on other constitutions, I pretend not to say; but I think I shall be sanctioned by my medical attendants in adding, that my life has already been prolonged by the peculiar benefits derived from this medicine. A. W. IVES, M. D.
New-York, Dec. 14, 1837.
Those who take Opium and its ordinary preparations cannot be ignorant of the fact that its distressing and pernicious effects result from the operation of its deleterious principles, and that the tremors, languor and lassitude with which its devotees are afflicted, and for which they repeat the dose to relieve, are sensations of their own creating.
But in consequence of the ex
