LEADERS WONDER WHETHER HUGHES HAS BENEFITTED BY THE RUSH TO HIM

for Lafollette previously had been suggested to the Republicans. Neither of these suggestions aroused any enthusiasm. The importance to the Progressives of having a list of compromise possibilities to counterbalance the Republican list of candidates was recognized even by Roosevelt who at Oyster Bay today added that the name of Major General Leonard Wood would be acceptable and gave out a statement to that effect. So far as outward appearances go the Progressive leaders are not yielding to the pressure from regular Republicans to eliminate Colonel Roosevelt. Gifford Pinchot, who was grouped with Oscar S. Straus and James A. Garfield, former secretary of the interior, and a number of others in a hotel lobby conference today announced that the Progressives stand just where they have from the beginning.

"We want a man who will make the issue of Americanism what it should be," said Mr. Pinchot, "and we are not over particular as to the personality of the individual. But it seems to us fundamental that no one is so capable of the required service as the well known author of the doctrine."

EXPECT TO SAVE HUGE SUM FROM CHANGING CLOCK

Time of Holland Set An Hour Ahead By Act of Parliament Which Hardly is Discussed By Solons Before Passage.

[Associated Press Correspondence]

The Hague, June 6.—Holland expects to save approximately $2,000,000 annually through its new "summer time" or daylight-saving scheme, which went into effect at midnight of April 30. Parliament's act, comprising one short article, was adopted in both chambers with only a few minutes' discussion, and 6,000,000 people are rising an hour earlier and retiring an hour earlier. Aside from the financial gain, much is expected to result in the way of beneficial influence on the nation's health.

The change was effected with a minimum of inconvenience, and there were few late-comers in schools and factories on the first morning of the new regime. By a curious oversight, the big clock of the Palace of Peace at The Hague was seen to be still indicating the old time on Monday morning.

The one industrial sphere in which objections are raised is the agricultural world and a number of farmers in Friesland and elsewhere are evincing an inclination to regulate their activities by the old time. Earlier milking, for instance, is not in the interests of the milk yield, while much disadvantage is anticipated in the harvesting months. The earlier working hour will, it is declared, be useless, as mowing and other operations are then impossible owing to the dampness of the early morning, while the afternoons will be too short. Such obstacles are, however, not expected to prove insurmountable, and on the whole the daylight-saving act is voted a success.

The start will be made Thursday morning at 5 o'clock, the party returning Friday.

"FAKE REMEDIES" ADVERTISED

No doubt some of the medicines advertised are fakes, but these never have any lasting success. They stand in striking contrast to the good old standard, dependable remedies, like Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which has stood the test of time and for more than forty years has been alleviating the suffering of womankind. Such medicines are a blessing to the community and will continue their good work from one generation to another.

Expression

Expression is what makes us interesting, and it is the interesting people that everybody pays tribute to and likes to have around. As civilization becomes more general and as ignorance becomes less a fact, people express themselves more widely.

In order that your Abilities be best expressed it is necessary to give them the best outlet.

It is a great mistake to leave unexpressed ideas and acts and purposes that exist within you. You pass for what other people understand you to be, and the more expression you give to what you are the better will be the general verdict as to your value. Suppose you are misunderstood. Suppose you do express yourself inaccurately at times. The final average will be satisfactory, providing your expression is sincere.

Express yourself the best way you know how. Then review the expression for improvement the next time.

In expression, however, take care that you express yourself and not a poor copy of somebody else. That somebody else may be falsely and inaccurately expressing himself and your imitation then becomes so much the worse. Also, it is impossible for anyone to succeed to his fullest expressing the ways and ideas of somebody else, even though that somebody else may be a worthy pattern.

To win biggest, be yourself grandly and express yourself freely with naturalness and accuracy.
