Chautauqua Draws Crowds.

The interest manifested at the opening of the Chautauqua Sunday afternoon has not only been maintained but has increased, and each evening the attendance has been such as to not only fill the provided seats, but many additional chairs are needed to accommodate the crowd. While the afternoon attendance has not been so large as the evening, yet the seats are well filled at these sessions. There has been an average attendance of over 100 at the cooking demonstrations by Miss Norton, and nearly as many children attend Miss Parlett's story-telling division.

The Chicago ladies' orchestra made its appearance Tuesday afternoon and appeared at all sessions up to last evening, when it gave its final prelude. The Wagner-Shank opera company comes this afternoon and will remain until the closing session Sunday evening.

Sydney Landon, entertainer and impersonator, delighted the big audience Tuesday night, impersonating a half dozen or more of the great authors. Wednesday afternoon ex-State Supt. McBrien gave an interesting lecture, and the same evening Mr. Joy gave an illustrated lecture showing the development of the methods of the growing and harvesting grain and the important part this played in the general development of the world.

Yesterday afternoon Sylvester Long delivered his celebrated lecture, "Lightning and Toothpicks," and this afternoon will again appear, using as his subject "Drop It." Many consider his lecture yesterday as the best so far given.

Last evening the audience was well entertained by Mr. Thompson who delivered an address on socialism, which was the best exposition ever heard in North Platte.

This afternoon and evening the Wagner-Shank opera company will be the attraction. Tomorrow afternoon Howard will deliver his lecture, and in the evening Bonarjee will give an illustrated lecture on the Hindus.

The Condition of Corn.

During the past week The Tribune man has talked with farmers from the four corners of the county—and within the four corners—and learns that the condition of corn varies greatly. In some sections the condition is above the average—the stand being excellent and the stalks waist high. In other sections the stand is poor and the stalks small. In sections where the crop is good the result is due to local rains and constant cultivation; where it is poor it is largely the result of replanting on account of the cut worms taking the first planting and the lack of moisture. Some farmers who are not very enterprising, have not cultivated their corn to any extent and have not therefore conserved the moisture in the ground. The benefit of constant cultivation is noticeable in adjoining fields—the cultivated field showing up well, the neglected field the reverse. With a reasonably late fall permitting late crops to mature, the crop in the county will be fairly large.

Elliott Climbing the Ladder.

Ben Elliott, who has been visiting his parents this week, is now employed as expert mechanical engineer by the McKee motor car company of Omaha, and has just returned from Texas where he delivered two cars to the Texas Pacific road. Mr. Elliott will, however, resign his present position October 1st and go to the University of Wisconsin as a specialist in the engineering department. Along with another mechanical engineer he is working on a constant pressure gasoline engine, which, if successful, will revolutionize engines of that type. The fact that Mr. Elliott goes to the University of Wisconsin as an engineering specialist is evidence that the young man bids fair to reach the top of the ladder in his special line.

Mr. August Molzer, the well known violinist and director of the Molzer Violin School at Lincoln, Nebraska, will render a program at the Presbyterian church on Thursday evening, the 25th inst., with the assistance of his remarkably talented little pupil—Miss Lillian Cinberg. This little girl has captivated the Lincoln musical public by her phenomenal playing, being easily the greatest musical favorite in the capital city. Miss Elsa Ackerman, well known pianist of Lincoln, will render a few solos and act as accompanist to Mr. Molzer. The little girl violinist is always accompanied by her older sister, Miss Esther Cinberg, a highly accomplished pianist. This will be a decidedly fine musical treat. Tickets will be on sale at Clinton's.

J. E. JEFFRIES, Prop.

Mr. and Mrs. Mose McFarland returned Monday night from a month's visit in San Francisco, Los Angeles and San Diego, Cal. While their trip was a most pleasant one, and they thoroughly enjoyed it, Mose says there is only one town, and he was really glad to get back to it. "Those hundred thousand dollar residences in Los Angeles looked fine," he says, "but my humble home on Second street looked better."

Uncle Sam Takes Hand.

Jennings and Bellamy, who were arrested last week for writing blackhand letters to F. L. Temple, president of the First National Bank, of Lexington, will be charged with using the mails for blackmailing purposes, an offense that is a serious one and to which a severe penalty attaches. While the date for the preliminary hearing on this charge has not been definitely set, United States District Attorney Howell is expected here the early part of next week to conduct the hearing before United States Commissioner O. E. Elder.

It was a Soaker.

The heaviest rain of the growing season fell yesterday morning between two and four o'clock. Observer Hardin reported the fall at one and seven one-hundredth inches, which is only one-half inch more than fell at this point during the entire month of June.

The downpour yesterday covered nearly the entire county, some sections reporting more and some less. Corn throughout the county was needing rain badly, though the lack of moisture had not yet retarded the growth. With this precipitation the crop will forge ahead rapidly.

County Sunday School Convention.

The annual Sunday school convention of Lincoln county will be held in the Presbyterian church in this city August 24th and 25th.

This date was selected by the Secretary Miss Margaret Ellen Brown and W. H. Kimberly, who are the field managers for Sunday school work in the state, both of whom will be present at that time. There will be other speakers from the list of Sunday school workers in the state present. It is expected that 500 will attend.

We want every Sunday school in Lincoln county represented by large delegations.

Begin now to get ready for this grand rally of all the Sunday schools of Lincoln county. A committee will soon be appointed that will have charge of all details connected with the convention.

J. H. EDMISTEN, Pres.

Myrtle Sunday School Convention.

At the school house in Myrtle precinct last Sunday was held one of the district Sunday school conventions. The house was crowded to its capacity and people had come from a long distance in all directions to enjoy and take part in the same. About 100 were present.

Three Sunday schools were represented and reported, the showing was that they are doing excellent work in the localities where they are being conducted.

When the time came for dinner it developed that the attendants had come prepared with dinner enough to feed as many more as was present, judging from the many baskets that were gathered in after the feast.

The services during the day were indeed inspiring as the discussion of the many live Sunday school questions were gone into in a way that convinced all present that a deep seated interest has come over Sunday school people of Lincoln county.

The discussion of each of the subjects were participated in by a number of local people as well as those that had been assigned the subjects. The general good feeling that prevailed throughout the day, will doubtless be fruitful in producing good results.

From North Platte there were E. W. Crane, Fred Warren, Carl McGrew and J. H. Edmisten, all of whom took part in the day's program.

REPORTER.

R. B. Favoright performed the ceremony which made John E. Snyder and Miss Margaret A. Wilson husband and wife last Tuesday. Only the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wilson, and her sister Mrs. Henry Lentz and husband were present. The bride and groom will remain in and around North Platte for about two weeks then go to Freeport, Ill., where Mr. Snyder is in the carpenter work, to make their home.

The Ford car which plunged into the Suburban irrigation ditch south of Birdwood sidetrack Monday night while driven by Emil Tollefsen, of Sutherland, was brought to the Hendy-Ogier garage Wednesday for repairs. The damage to the car was not great—torn top, bent fenders and twisted lamp on right side. When first examined the gas throttle was wide open, evidence that the car at the time of the accident was running at least forty miles an hour. How Tollefsen and his companion Redmond escaped with so few bruises is miraculous. There was over three feet of water in the ditch at the time.

Passenger train No. 16, Engineer Congdon, came in yesterday morning with eighteen cars, the rear car being occupied by Gen. Supt. Ware. As this train does the local work, it can be imagined that it was not easy to handle. The same morning train No. 10 had fourteen cars.

Save a little of thy income and thy hide bound pocket will soon begin to thrive and will never again cry with the empty belly-ache, neither will creditors insult thee, nor want oppress, nor hunger bite—nor will kedness freeze thee. The whole hemisphere will shine brighter, and pleasure spring up in every corner of thy heart. HE WAS RIGHT

Just plain, common horse-sense ought to teach every man that Franklin was absolutely right, just as sure as two and two make four. Creditors cannot insult you, nor can want press you if you have prepared for them by having something in the bank, besides, your money is SAFE in the bank, not only from fire or burglars, but from your own extravagance.
