Judge Warren, socialist candidate for congress, will soon start out on a campaign tour during which he will deliver one hundred speeches. Now if Lucien Stobbins, who is also a candidate for the same position, travels as far and makes as many addresses, North Platte will be a well advertised town. It is not every town, in fact there are few, which can boast of two congressional aspirants. But we have always been "long" on statesmen who have heretofore hidden their light under a bushel basket—we are glad that they are now getting in the limelight.

Tramp-Ritner Nuptials.

A matrimonial event of general interest was the wedding of Grace Mae Ritner and Herbert Frederick Tramp which took place at the home of the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. John R. Ritner Wednesday evening. The impressive ring ceremony of the Lutheran church was used by the officiating clergyman, Rev. Charles B. Harman, in the presence of seventy-five relatives and close friends.
Clusters of large yellow roses, sprays of asparagus ferns and streamers of yellow and white chiffon were artistically used in decorating the interior of the house. Yellow lights were strung among the trees on the lawn.
Miss Florence McKay played the wedding march at exactly eight o'clock and the ribbon bearers, little Misses Gertrude Ritner and Marion Huxoll, entered the parlor carrying yellow and white satin ribbons. The former wore a dainty gown of white embroidery and the latter a pretty yellow messaline dress. Master Earl Ritner carried the ring in a bouquet of lilies-of-the-valley and yellow roses.
The bride's dress was decollete in heavy white satin with pearl band trimmings and medallions. She carried an immense arm bouquet of lilies of the valley and ferns from which fell a shower of white ribbon and small flowers. Her wreath was made of lilies of the valley. Miss Lillian Ritner a sister of the bride was bridesmaid. Her gown was a pretty combination of blue messaline, white silk fringe and fine lace. She held a sheaf of yellow roses tied with a chiffon bow. The groom's attendant was his younger brother Arthur Tramp.
After the ceremony an informal reception was held and hearty congratulations extended to the bride and groom.
A nicely prepared two course lunch in which the color scheme was carried out, was served on large tables which were elaborately decorated in roses and ferns and bouquets of sweet peas. The Misses Burke, Elder, Johnson, Ritner and Dowhower assisted in serving. Misses Flo Johnson and Edith Ritner received the guests. Among the beautiful and costly wedding gifts was a check for $500 from the groom's parents Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Tramp.
The young people will spend their honeymoon in California and upon their return in September will go at once into the beautiful new home on west

Fourth which will be completed and furnished throughout by that time.
Mrs. Tramp is one of the cleverest and most attractive young ladies of the city. She was a member of the graduating class of 1912 and graduated with high honors. Her sweet disposition wins the friendship of all she meets. The groom is an ambitious bright and moral young business man who is in partnership with his father in the Tramp Department Store. His engaging manners has made him successful socially and commercially.

More real car for your money than any other car on earth. Nine times out of ten you would buy a Studebaker if full investigation were made. Sells for less money; has a steel body, a more powerful engine, less weight, as against our would-be competitors with wooden body, less engine energy, more money, more weight, no priming cups, which are all very important in an automobile.

All country customers I sell to will be taken care of free of charge as to garage room while in and when in city.
