Five Cars of Peaches.
The fifth car of southern peaches arrived at this station Sunday. These five cars contained what is equal to 4,200 bushel baskets. Two cars had 1,680 baskets, and three cars had 3420 crates. Part of these peaches were shipped up the branch and points on the main line, but the bulk have been consumed in North Platte.

167 Automobiles in County.
The assessors' returns show 167 automobiles in Lincoln county the real value of which was placed by the owners at $60,150, or an average value of $360.15 per car. As the assessed value is one-fifth of the real value, taxes are paid on $12,030, or an average of $72.03 per car. Here in North Platte with a total levy of about eighty mills, the tax on each car will average $5.75. There are in the neighborhood of seventy-five cars owned in North Platte.

Twenty Per Cent Increase.
The state board of equalization has decided to boost the price of Lincoln county land twenty per cent. In 1911 the average value of land in this county was $7.20 per acre, in 1912 it is $7.35 and the proposed increase raises it to $8.82.
It is the intention of Chairman Streitz of the county board and County Assessor Bacon to attend the hearing before the state board Tuesday of next week, and they will protest the proposed increase.

Buys Walsh Land.
Julius Pizer last Saturday purchased the 240-acre tract of land belonging to the Walsh estate and lying along the railroad west of the west line of the Cody ranch. The price paid was about $9,000. This tract had been held by Walsh and his estate for twenty-eight years, and had been leased for pasture by adjoining farmers; not an acre has been cultivated. Mr. Pizer intends to have every acre cultivated with the intention of finally putting the entire tract in alfalfa. He has made arrangement to purchase six forty-acre water rights of the North Platte ditch. A roomy house and barn will be erected on the land and a large number of trees set out; in fact Mr. Pizer in time expects to make it an alfalfa farm worthy the name. The sale of the land was made through Buchanan & Patterson.

Library Notes.
"The Principal Girl" by J. C. Snaith is one of the recent volumes of fiction placed on the library shelves. It is a whimsical tale—full of humor—the sort of a story that makes ideal summer reading.
Turkey and its affairs are still occupying quite a prominent place on the world's stage. The life of Turkish women seems so delightfully mysterious to American women that they have always been curious about it. Demetra Vaka (Mrs. Kenneth Brown) is one of the few women who really know the home life of Turkish women. She has described it in a very entertaining fashion in "Haremlik." In her forward she says that some of her readers will think some of the episodes set down therein are so strange that they cannot possibly be true but she assures us that they are. This book is on the library shelves.
Among the books on the library shelves which are the records of real lives actually lived in recent times is Booker T. Washington's "Up from Slavery". The record of this man's achievements is modestly set forth but it is full of hope and encouragement for those who think the negro race constitutes one of the serious problems confronting the United States.
We are all apt to think of history as a dry-as-dust tale but if we read "The Women of the Caesars" we find that there are some very shining exceptions to this rule. It sets forth the lives of those ancient dames in a particularly attractive manner and at the same time is historically correct according to the new methods of interpretation of history.

Studebaker's
More real car for your money than any other car on earth. Nine times out of ten you would buy a Studebaker IF FULL INVESTIGATION were made. Sells for less money; has a steel body, a more powerful engine, less weight, as against our would-be competitors with wooden body, less engine energy, more money, more weight, no priming cups, which are all very important in an automobile.
All country customers I sell to will be taken care of free of charge as to garage room while in the city.

Nebraska Military Academy LINCOLN.

The same old problem will soon have to be solved again. The school problem, we mean, where to send your boy next year, what school will best train his mind and body, help him overcome his bad habits and strengthen his good ones—in short to give him the boost he needs toward manly development.

The Nebraska Military Academy will solve the problem for you. Let us send you a catalog that will tell you all about it, or better still, come and investigate the school for yourself.

Enrollment has begun; only 100 boys will be accepted.
