NOTICE.

I wish to announce to my friends and customers that I have sold my Grocery business at Kenna, to H. C. Wolf, who is well known to all of you. My good will goes with the business, and I trust you will give Mr. Wolf the same liberal patronage you have heretofore extended to me.

In order to close my books and settle my own bills I must collect accounts due me. You will greatly oblige me by calling at once and settling your accounts, either by cash or notes. I must get my books straightened up within a very short time and I hope you will not delay.

Respectfully yours,
G. J. FRICK.
