SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP

TRIUMPHANTLY SUSTAINED by the Public as the only genuine Pulmonic Syrup, made from the old Indian recept. In the year 1830 I was cured of Consumption by the use of a valuable Syrup made from an old Indian receipt which is now in my possession, and has been ever since, at that time unseen by any other person. The fact of my cure being generally known, many who were afflicted applied to me for the syrup, which I occasionally made and distributed gratuitously until the demand so greatly increased, by reason of its efficacy, that, in the year 1839, I found it necessary to devote my whole time to its manufacture, and, abandoning all other business, I commenced its sale; having first given it the name of SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP. At the time resided in Flemington, Hunterdon County, New-Jersey, where I had resided since 1824. I continued its manufacture and sale until 1841, when, for the greater convenience of supplying orders from all parts of the United States, I removed to Philadelphia, and there opened an extensive laboratory. Most astonishing cures had been and still continue to be made by it, certificates of which have been from time to time duly presented to the public. In the Spring of 1842 I received intelligence from the firm of Vannest & Howard, merchants, of Branchville, Sussex County, New-Jersey, stating that a man by the name of Peter Stryker Beekman, residing near them, had been greatly benefited by the use of my Syrup, which he had a short time tried through their persuasion, and that he desired me to visit him.—This was my first knowledge of the existence of such an individual. I soon visited him and found him improving, and urged him to continue its use, as I was sure it would effectually cure him; and from this time he improved rapidly. In the following October I again called upon him, and found him completely restored to health. He then stated to me that he had been well for some months, and was cured solely by the use of my Syrup, of which he gave me his certificate, sworn to before the Hon. Judge Gaston, of Somerville, N. J. which I also published, and now publish again in connection herewith. In January, 1843, the P. A. Beekman came to my office in Philadelphia, expressed great gratitude to me for his cure, and solicited from me an appointment as agent to sell my Syrup. Not having up to that time (as far as I could learn) established a fair character for it, I yielded to his solicitations, placed him in an office in New-York, and supplied him with Syrup from my laboratory in Philadelphia, until the month of May last, when, finding I was deceived in the man, I discontinued his agency. I never had any other connection with Mr. Beekman, nor had he any thing to do with my Syrup, except as my agent to sell in New-York the Syrup I always made myself in Philadelphia, and supplied him with; and he knows nothing of the manufacture of the article, never having seen a bottle made. Of the truth of this, his numerous letters to me—one of which I publish verbatim below—furnish abundant proof, all of which can be seen on application at my office, No. 4 COURTLAND-Street. One great reason why I gave him the agency was, that he was a living witness of the efficacy of my Syrup, and his own disease to be an instrument of dispensing to the afflicted benefits similar to those of which he had already been the recipient. But, he having proved unfaithful to the trust reposed in him, I was obliged to discontinue his agency.

In requital for my kindness to him he now with base ingratitude attempts to palm himself upon the public as possessor of the original receipt, and to ruin my character and the character of my medicine, by selling as genuine some compound which for ought I know may prove a deterrence to health as mine is beneficial. In justification of the foregoing statements, and to show to the public my character and standing, and that I am the original and only manufacturer of the Pulmonic Syrup, I refer to the accompanying certificates and affidavits, herewith published, the originals being preserved for public inspection at my office, Number 4 Courtlandt street. Among which will be found to be certificates the signatures of the judges and officers of the Courts of Hunterdon county, as well as members of the bar, physicians, clergy, merchants and citizens generally to whom I am known, and by whom the origin and value of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup is also known.

J. H. SCHENCK.

CITIZENS' CERTIFICATE.

We, the undersigned, citizens of Flemington, in the county of Hunterdon, and State of New Jersey, having been called on by Mr. J. H. Schenck, for our testimony in regard to his Pulmonic Syrup; and having inspected the above statement made by him, we cheerfully state that we fully believe the same, most of which facts there set forth we know, they having transpired under our own immediate observation; that we have been intimately acquainted with Mr. Schenck since the year 1833, at which time he removed to this town; and as early as 1839 manufactured it here to some considerable extent; that during our whole acquaintance with him he has sustained the character of an honorable and high minded man, and that we should have every confidence in any statement he has or may make relative to the matter to the public. We would further state that we are satisfied of our own knowledge that he was the first producer of this Syrup, and we believe he is the only one who has manufactured the genuine article called Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup; that he made it here long before any office was established for the sale in either Philadelphia or New York, and that numerous certificates of cures effected by it were published long before Peter S. Beekman, by his affidavit, states he took it, and was cured by it. We cannot refrain from expressing our astonishment at the statements lately made in the New York papers over the signature of P. S. Beekman, and believe it our duty thus to guard the public against them and their consequences.

AFFIDAVIT of the Merchants who sold Beekman the Syrup which cured him:

Somerset county, ss.—Peter A. Van Cleef, of lawful age, and being duly sworn, on his oath saith that he was one of the firm of Van Neste & Van Cleef in the year 1842, and did business at Branchville, in the said county—that the said firm acted as agents for Joseph H. Schenck in selling a medicine prepared by him called Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup.—And deponent further says that he is acquainted with Peter Stryker Beekman, who then resided about one mile and a half from Branchville, and was in a very low state of health; that he was induced to try Schenck's Syrup by the persuasion of deponent and others, and that said Beekman purchased of the said firm a bad dozen bottles of the said Syrup as per account hereto annexed. And deponent further says that Beekman has since told him that he attributed his cure to the use of that medicine.

Remains you humble Servant & obient Agent,

PETER S. BEEKMAN.

I, PETER STRYKER BEEKMAN, resident of the town of Hillsborough, county of Somerset, and State of New Jersey, do hereby certify to the following facts: About seven years ago I was attacked with a pain in my right side and darting to my right shoulder, with other bad symptoms, which made me very sick, which my physician pronounced the Liver Complaint. After being under his care a long while, he pronounced my case incurable, and ceased attending me. I would occasionally get better, and work a little; but it would be in misery and then a relapse would occur, and I would be worse than ever. I began to cough, which was tight and dry, dizziness in my head, my kidneys were severely affected, and I had a severe pain and soreness in the pit of my stomach; my food did not digest, and it appeared to me as if my stomach was completely stopped up, for everything I ate was immediately rejected; my bowels were very costive, my cough increased, and I became very weak, and my flesh was nearly all gone, and I was reduced to nothing scarcely but skin and bone. I continued to get worse, seldom able to work, and confined part of the time to my bed, and sometimes all the time. I called in at different times all the physicians of eminence in this section of the country. I tried a great many remedies both at home and from abroad; but none of them would afford me any permanent relief. I continued in this miserable condition—and all my friends thought so with myself that I should die—when SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP was highly recommended to me. On the first day of March last I commenced using it; after I had taken one bottle I found it produced a happy effect upon my kidneys; I continued using it, when a few mornings afterward I brought up about half a pint of yellow matter. I kept steadily on, and a few days afterward I brought up, as near as I can tell, about two quarts of the most horrible stuff I ever saw, consisting of phlegm, matter, and a great deal of tough, solid substance resembling strips of liver. I then found for several days something start and tickle in my throat, when, upon coughing, I would bring up something resembling black scales and scabs. I brought up a great number of these, and it appeared to me as if the Pulmonic Syrup had reached the root of my disease, and was now clearing it entirely out of my system. I took in all twenty-four bottles of the Syrup, when I felt as if my disease was all gone. I felt weak, my appetite was good, my food digested good, and my bowels became regular; I soon began to gain strength. I have worked hard on my farm all summer, and have felt very well, except a little weak. I still continue gaining strength, and believe I shall, in time, get as strong as ever I was. This is the first summer in seven years that I have worked on my farm, to make a full hand. I feel that words are inadequate to convey on paper a proper description of the miserable condition that I was in.

I have suffered days and weeks the most violent bodily anguish, and I would take great pleasure in giving a more minute description of my cure to any one that would call upon me, as I could do it much better than by writing it on paper; and I would gladly tell any one of the great benefit I received from Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup. I believe it has entirely cured me—I know well that it has done much more for me than all the doctors or anything else could do. I have no hesitation in recommending it to every body. I have advised several afflicted friends to use it, and they have done so with great benefit. I live near Branchville, in the county of Somerset, and will at any time be pleased to see all who will call upon me; and I hope they will be gratified in hearing from my own lips the recital of one of the most extraordinary cures ever performed in this section of the country. PETER STRYKER BEEKMAN.
