POLYTECHNIC INSTITUTE,

IN THE VILLAGE OF EATONTOWN, N. J.—The undersigned, formerly Professor in New-Jersey College, at Princeton, having, from many years' experience, found that the present method of instruction could be improved, by paying more attention to those branches which are necessary to practical life, offers to those parents who wish to give to their sons an education at once liberal and solid, an institution designed to be adapted itself to the precise pursuit for which the pupil is intended; either classical or technical, according to that for which the youth is destined, or shall prove himself fit.

In this Institution will be taught Reading, Writing, Arithmetic, Geography, Grammar, Latin and Greek, French, German, Spanish and Italian, Composition, Elocution, Book-Keeping, Mathematics in all their branches, Drawing and Music.

Regular Lectures, of which the students will afterward make abstracts, to serve both as examinations and as exercises in Composition, will be delivered on

1. Moral Philosophy and Manners in Social Life
2. Zoology, applied to rural economy, commerce and manufactures, illustrated by specimens, paintings and excursions for the purpose of practical observation.
3. Practical Botany, applied to horticulture, commerce, medicine, rural and domestic economy, illustrated by paintings, living specimens, and excursions for observation.
4. Technical Mineralogy, applied to commerce, rural economy, manufactures, mining and architecture, illustrated by a mineralogical cabinet, and excursions of observations.
5. Natural Philosophy and Chemistry, illustrated by experiments.
6. Universal History.
7. Statistics of the different Governments of our globe.

In Modern Languages, a practical knowledge of them, as spoken and written, as well as read, will be insured by requiring weekly orations, dialogues, &c in them.

Able Assistant Teachers are employed in the Institution for the different departments.

The students have to attend regularly every Sabbath some place of worship, at the discretion of their parents.

In the above plan, it will be perceived that the education here will be of a character, at present, shaped either toward a complete preparation for a professional life, a commercial one, or some pursuit depending for success on applied science, mechanics, &c.

The labors and taste of the Director have led him to the formation of uncommonly good cabinets in the several sciences, which he proposes to illustrate by collections, specimens, paintings, &c.

The Winter Session in this Institution commences the 1st of November and terminates the last of March; the Summer Session commences the 1st of May and terminates the last of September.

TERMS for Board, Lodging, Washing, Fuel, Lights, Ink and Tuition, Modern Languages, Drawing and Music included, three hundred dollars a year, payable semi annually in advance. No extra charges.

School-Books, Copy-Books, Paper and Pens are furnished at the usual prices.

Each student furnishes his own towels and bedding.

The location of the Institute is in the pleasant and healthy Village of Eatontown, Monmouth County, New-Jersey, five miles from Long Branch, three miles from Red Bank, and one and a half from Eatontown Landing, to which two places the steamboats Orus and Lewis run daily; the first from Fulton Market-slip, and the other from Washington Market, N. R. New-York.

B. JAEGER,
Director of the Institute.

Eatontown, Monmouth Co. New-Jersey, April 1, 1846.

TESTIMONIALS:

COLLEGE OF NEW-JERSEY, Jan 18, 1846.

The undersigned testify that Professor B. Jaeger was connected with this Institution from 1831 to 1840 as an Instructor in Natural History and Modern Languages, and during that time gave satisfactory proofs of his acquaintance with these subjects; and we take pleasure also in testifying to his generally deport ment—also that he resigned his station in the College with the regret of the Faculty and Trustees.

JAMES CARNAHAN, President.
JOSEPH HENRY, Prof. Natural Philosophy.
STEPHEN ALEXANDER, Prof. Math. & Astronomy

We, the undersigned, testify that Mr. B. Jaeger (from 1831 to 1840 Professor of Botany, Zoology and Modern Languages, at the New-Jersey College in Princeton, and since a resident of this District) is a gentleman of profound knowledge and high standing in society, but principally distinguished as a Botanist, Zoologist and excellent Linguist. We take pleasure in adding our testimony to the high and honorable bearing of Professor Jaeger, since we had the pleasure of knowing him.
