A PUFF—A STORY AND A MORAL.—The Editor of the Brooklyn Star discourseth pleasantly and instructively, as follows:

A MOST UNHAPPY CASE.—In one of the hair-dressing shops of Broadway there are two faces made of wax—very beautiful faces—too beautiful, indeed, for Nature; the man's cheeks are rouged; his eyebrows, (arched, of course,) are jet black—as are his whiskers, moustache and imperial—and very glossy. By a curious machine arrangement this doll-man's face turns round and round, while the lids of his eyes rise and fall slowly, now revealing, now concealing, a most expressive pair of orbs.

Now for the catastrophe: A young lady of the Alonzo and Melissa school has actually fallen in love with that wax face—passes it a hundred times a day, stops suddenly before it, looks with touching earnestness into its eyes, smiling faintly when they open and sighing distressingly as they close. It is one of the most remarkable cases that ever came to our knowledge. The lady knows that the face is of insensible wax—that there is no speculation in those eyes—that the head is as destitute of brains as any handsome man-milliner's, whose "cruising ground" is Broadway at high noon. And yet she loves that face as ardently as others of her sex love those "pretty men" who look so langulshingly and talk such nice nothings, and are such "charming fellows" for a small party, notwithstanding their lack of brains.

On second thoughts, the lady is not such a dunce after all. She can buy the wax face, carry it home, keep it carefully from the dust, and it will remain young and beautiful for years; wrinkles will not creep over it—gray hairs will not steal in among those glossy curls—no silly pride of physical beauty will continually annoy her—no vexation, scurness, spleen vented on all around, as that beauty, touched by time, disappears. It is only a wax face, and it cannot be vain of its comeliness; while those living wax faces—the dolls of real life, whom ladies do so much admire and "cotton to," will grow old, become ugly in every sense, and destitute of that immortal beauty which knows no decay—the beauty of a clear understanding, a true heart—like rickety and faded, gone-out fashion, and therefore utterly worthless furniture—becomes the useless lumber of the establishment.

So much for that wax face in the hair-dresser's window of Broadway, and the moral it has suggested.

The story is well told—the moral is capital—but the Star has been taken in—shaved—by a barber's puff.

☞ THE CONNAISSEUR prints the following, which we copy for the especial benefit of critics who are wont to get into extacies over De Meyer and his disciples:

THE PIANO FORTE CRISIS.—In a concert room, while one of our astonishing pianists was executing a sonata with his left hand only, although he had the perfect use of both, a lady demanded of the gentleman by whom she was accompanied—

"Who, in your opinion, is the most astonishing pianist?"

"In truth madam, they are all so astonishing that I confess your question is embarrassing. If among the players on that instrument, there were one whose aim was not to astonish, I should not hesitate in declaring him the most astonishing of all."

"But which is he that gives you most pleasure?"

"That is more easily answered: he that fatigues me the least."

"You are a barbarian!"

"No! I am only a victim."

"You do not like the piano?"

"I like the piano much, but not the pianist."

"How, then, do you wish that the piano should be played?"

"As the violin, the violoncello, the clarionet, the hautboy, or the flute, as they sing; that it is to say, with feeling, with expression. I would have fewer notes and more meaning; less address and more sentiment; less impetuosity and more elegance; less of noise and more of tone; I would that they should not abuse the resources of so rich, so powerful an instrument; and use them not as an end, but as a means."

"You are too unreasonable."

POLICE—Yesterday—A box containing $15 worth of Bronze Powder, was stolen, on the 15th inst. from the store of Leopold Kuh, of No. 101 Cedar-st. The powder was the property of Leonard Woerlen of Germany. Yesterday morning Officer Stephens arrested a man named Sigmund Schmidtell on a charge of having committed the theft. The property was recovered and the accused held to answer to the charge, of Grand Larceny.

In the case of Frederick Myers, reported yesterday as having been arrested on a charge of grand larceny, an examination was held this morning before Justice Drinker, and it being shown that Myers dragged the anchor up and left it with Mr. Harrison, with instructions to give it to the owner, in case he called and paid the charges, Myers showing and excellent previous character, and there being no testimony to show there was any buoy or mark with the anchor, Judge Drinker directed his discharge

BROOKLYN AFFAIRS.

NAVAL.—The Sloop-of-War Albany, having been coppered, in Dry Dock, now lies at the wharf at the Brooklyn Navy Yard, where the work upon her is progressing as fast as possible. Her rigging, cables, &c. arrived Wednesday from Boston, and it is calculated that she will be completed in about six weeks. Her fine proportions are the admiration of all who view her. The Sloop-of-War Preble, which is now in complete readiness for her officers and crew, will be the next vessel to sail. She will probably depart in a week or two. The two Mexican steamers will be delivered at the Navy Yard to-morrow, by Messrs. Brown & Bell of New-York. They will be fitted out and dispatched to the Gulf immediately. The recent damage to the Dry Dock has been nearly repaired, and the steam pump will be got into operation by the end of the present week.

THAT ELOPEMENT CASE AGAIN.—The arrival of Sheriff Searing, with Huested and Hudson, and the partners of their guilt, created an unusual excitement in the ordinarily quiet little village of Hempstead yesterday. The men were forthwith arraigned before a magistrate. Hudson was ordered to recognize in the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars, and for the want of bail was committed to the county jail, where he now is. The examination of Huestes was deferred to this morning. The husband of Mrs. Flowers is anxious that the past be forgotten; freely forgiving her of all errors, if she will but return and remain a faithful and dutiful wife. She, however, openly proclaims her preference for Huestes, and declares she had much rather remain with him than Flowers.

[Eagle yesterday.

☞ We regret to announce the death yesterday of George Hurlbut, Esq one of the most benevolent and estimable of our citizens. He was recently the President of the Brooklyn City Temperance Society, but more widely known as one of the firm of E. D. Hurlbut & Co., the extensive shipping merchants of New-York. [Eagle.

The Crops.

During the earlier part of the season, and indeed until one or two weeks back, there was a prospect of the most abundant crop of Wheat throughout this entire section, that has been harvested in many years. The late extremely warm weather, together with the heavy dews and light rains succeeded by hot, sultry weather again, has caused the rust to strike many, if not most of the fields, and threatens in many cases to almost entirely ruin the crop. Some of our farmers are now engaged in cutting their Wheat, long before it is fully ripe, to prevent its total ruin by rust. We know of one field in this village which promised at least 30 bushels per acre three weeks ago, which will not yield more than one-third, if it does more than one-quarter of that quantity.

Hay is coming in abundantly. We believe there will be a much larger quantity cut this season than has been done for many years. Haying has already commenced, and the yield is very great.

Corn, oats, barley and potatoes have all grown rapidly, during the warm weather of the last month. With a continuance of good weather, our farmers may anticipate an unusually large yield. [Batavia Advocate.

THE HARVEST.—We have spent two days among the farmers, visiting several of the adjacent Counties, and as long as we have lived in Ohio, we can safely say we never have seen a more abundant harvest. The wheat is now ripe, and every man who can swing a cradle or handle a sickle is at it. A few days more of this fine weather and all will be secured and in capital order. There is no complaint of rust, the berry is unusually plump, and the crop unusually heavy. If other parts of the State are like the Reserve Ohio will have surplus enough to "biscuit" the world. The corn crop is now in its silk, and farmers think will be a full average crop. Potoes and oats are as fine as could be wished. [Cleveland Plain Dealer.

THE WHEAT CROP.—A letter from Wheatland (Monroe Co. N. Y.) in the Buffalo Advertiser, says the wheat in that vicinity is considerably damaged by rust, and that, on the whole, the crop will be below an average one.

A letter from An Arbor, Mich., in the Detroit Advertiser, says:

"The wheat harvest has commenced, and is carried on as rapidly as possible, with the limited number of hands to be procured. The farmers complain of a greater scarcity of help than usual, probably owing to the larger quantity of grain to be cut. The crop was struck with a slight rust during the warm showers of last week, but will not be injured materially, except the late sown."

MICHIGAN WHEAT HARVEST.—A correspondent of the Detroit Daily Advertiser at Ann Arbor, under date of July 7th, says—"The wheat harvest has commenced and is carried on as rapidly as possible with the limited number of hands to be procured. The farmers complain of greater scarcity of help than usual, probably owing to the larger quantity of grain to be cut. The crop was struck with a slight rust during the warm showers of last week, but will not be injured materially, except the late sown."

EARLY WHEAT.—As we were going to press we learned that the wheat harvest has commenced in the neighborhood of Chatham, and that Wm. Cosgrove, Esq had a field cut down on Monday, 29th ult. Perhaps the earliest that is on record in this Province. [Canadian Freeman.

NEW WHEAT.—We were shown to-day a specimen of wheat just cut from the farm of John Haywood, Esq. The heads are large, the berry full and sound and the sample is one of the best we ever saw.

EARLY WHEAT.—Joseph Buck of Bergen, cut some of his wheat on the 4th inst., sent it to mill and had it floured. The flour was good, both in quality and quantity. [Rochester Democrat, July 14.

DARTMOUTH COLLEGE.—The annual examination at Dartmouth College will commence on Monday next.—The examining committee consists of John Aiken, Esq. of Lowell, Rev. Henry Wood of Concord, Hon. Ira A. Eastman of Gilmanton, and Rev. James McCollom of Somersworth. The several societies will celebrate their anniversaries on Wednesday, July 29th. Hon. Joel Parker, LL. D. of Keene, will deliver the oration before the Phi Beta Kappa, and Rev. Elijah Kellogg of Harpswell, Me. will pronounce the poem. Hon. Amos Kendall will address the United Societies. Rev. William Adams, D. D. of New-York, is the orator for the Theological Society. The commencement exercises take place on the 30th.—The graduating class consists of 97.

The Fire at Nantucket.

We have but few additional particulars of the recent calamity at Nantucket. The New-Bedford Mercury of Wednesday, says:

The steamer Massachusetts, Capt. Phinney, which left here for Nantucket yesterday morning, returned at about half past three P. M. having transferred her passengers to the steamer Telegraph at Holmes Hole. The Telegraph left Nantucket at about 8 o'clock, A. M.

We have conversed with several intelligent gentlemen from Nantucket, who estimate the number of buildings destroyed at not less than Two Hundred, including one hundred dwelling houses, and five or six Oil Manufactories. The burnt district includes a large portion of the most densely settled and business part of the town, and the loss of property must be immense.

It was hoped when the Telegraph left Nantucket that the fury of the conflagration had been spent and its farther progress arrested.

The Massachusetts returned to Nantucket yesterday afternoon, and will arrive here this morning at an early hour, when we shall receive farther particulars of this truly awful calamity.

We understand that immediate supplies of provisions, &c. are much needed by the sufferers at Nantucket, and we hope that efficient measures will be promptly adopted by our citizens and others for their relief.

The amount of property destroyed insured at the office of the Bristol Mutual Insurance Company in this town, we understand as estimated by the Directors, will probably require an assessment upon its members of about Ten per cent.

In addition to the above, it is reported that the loss is estimated to be from $900,000 to $1,000,000, and the number of buildings burnt from 300 to 400. There were no lives lost.

We get the following additional particulars from the Nantucket Warder of July 15. They were furnished by the Editor of the Weekly Mirror, whose office was destroyed:

A scene of devastation meets the eye, that beggars description. Many persons have lost their all. We have no time for farther comments.

Subjoined, as far as practicable, the occupants of most of the building destroyed, are enumerated.

Main-st.—Corner of Orange and Main sts. Riddell's Block, occupied by Nickersen & Waitt and George H. Riddell; Josiah C. Swain, William Summerhays, A. Howard, Gleason, Dr. Thompson, Postoffice, Harris's barber-shop, Gardner's Block, J. C. Congdon & Co. and the Mirror Office; Washington Hall, E. W. Allen, Whig Reading-Room, Hussey's Block, E. & J. Bunker, and the Bank; the Coffin House, occupied by Gardner Coffin, and H. Goodrich; Henry A. Kelley's store, S. Paddack, Mitchell & Whitney, D. Mitchell's shop, fish Market, Center's shop, G. F. Brown's the Folger store, G. M. Jones, William Coggeshall, Bisgden & Hight's. In Main-st. opposite side. W. Bradbury, E. & J. Kelley, Savings' Bank, J. Hathaway, Adams & Parker, E. T. Wilson; house of J. Brock; stores occupied by F. W. Cobb, F. Gardner, Worth & Crocker, C. Barnard and J. C. Palmer; the M. and M. Bank-building, house of V. Hussey; the stores of A. Nahar, Swain, J. Easton, 2d; Wm. C. J. Cook, Jr. & Co., J. P. Swain, building occupied by G. W. Macy, and Gardner & Macy; the store of Ray & Barrett, Inquirer Office, building of the Com. Insurance Company, occupied by J. W. Barrett & Sons, and the Custom House; stores of H. Crocker, S. Swain, Messrs. Adams, J. N. Bassett, J. Brock, G. C. Macy, Baxter building, D. Wood, A. W. Stebbins, G. Macy, R. Macy, S. & F. Colburn, R. F. Gardner and D. C. Swain. On the streets South of Main-st. stores of Jonas Garfield, F. A. Chase; offices of Register of Deeds, County Treasurer, Collector of Taxes, Gosnold House; Daniel Barney house, stables of J. Hamblin, H. A. Kingsley; shops of J. Paddock, F. W. Paddack, E. P. Coffin, W. H. Coffin, Francis Gardner, Robert Ratliff, C. G. Coggeshall, F. Sherman, Wm. Hart, James Coleman, C. Folger, B. & C. Folger, W. H. Farnham, Josiah Coleman, Jesse Crosby, Reuben Ellis; houses of Abraham Long, and J. H. Pease, at which point the fire was stayed. The building on Orange-st. occupied by Dr. Ruggles and J. N. V. Sweet, was also destroyed.

On Orange Wharf, D. Russell, E. W. Perry, Tallant & Macy, Mrs. Griffiths.

On Old North Wharf, all the buildings, embracing those between the Straight and Old North Wharves.

On South Water-st. all the buildings to the new North Wharf, and on North Beach-st including the oil factories of R. Mitchell & Sons, S. & T. Hussey, E. W. Gardner, Barker & Athearn, George Easton and S. B. Tuck.

On North Water-st. East side, Nathaniel Raud, Chas. Wood, Wm. Whippey, Nath. Tallant, Sam. Mitchell, Aaron Mitchell;—on West side, S. Snow, Wm. R. Easton.

On Ash-st. L. Macy, Wm. R. Easton, J. T. Worth.

On Ash-lane, B. Austin, Spencer House, C. Starbuck.

On Broad-st. all the buildings, including the Episcopal Church, except the house of Wm. S. French.

On Federal-st. all the buildings, including Atheneum, (Library and Curiosities lost,) and Mansion House.

On Centre-st. East side, James H. Barker, M. Handy, J Athearn, Messrs. Sprague, J. Sturtevant, D. J. Upham, S. & T. Hussey, R. Mitchell, G. Gardner, Dr. Fearing, G. L. Smith. West side, J. F. Athearn, G. A. Lawrence, J. Sturtevant, A. Pinkham, A. Davis, S. Macy, Peter F. Ewer, T. Coffin, A. Hussey, A. Castle, M. Swain, J. Coleman, Mrs. Hiller, W. Sumnaby's. All on Independent-lane, Lower Pearl-st. and on Upper Pearl-st. the house of B. A. Chase. All the buildings were consumed on the cross streets between Main and Broad sts.

The Selectmen engaged for the night 100 men to watch the burnt district, and about 100 more were employed by individuals. A sufficient number of engines were in attendance. The County Records were saved.

The steamboat Co. dispatched the Telegraph at 8 A. M. to meet and receive the passengers of the Massachusetts, the M. to return to New-Bedford, and leave again for this place, arriving same evening. The commendable object of the Co. in this movement was to give as early information as possible to our citizens abroad, whose premises have been destroyed.

It is very remarkable that no lives were lost; two or three were injured more or less severely. About 50 kegs of powder were used in blowing up about as many buildings, and proved very efficient.

A detachment of the crews of the U. S. schooners Gallatin and Wave, headed by their officers, performed ample service, and are entitled to the warmest thanks of our citizens; and in particular to ours, for their generous and effective aid in removing the materials of the Mirror office.

THE NANTUCKET FIRE.—A large number of the citizens of Nantucket, who were staying in this city, left here at two o'clock yesterday morning for the Island, in a packet chartered for the purpose. There has been but little insurance effected in this city on Nantucket risks. One of our Mutual Offices has $30,000 insured in the town, and other offices may have some limited risks. The Bristol Mutual Office at New-Bedford loses some $40,000, and will call for ten per cent. assessment upon its members. We hear that considerable insurance exists at New-York offices. The lack of a fire department must be sadly mourned over by the sufferers.

It is stated that immediate supplies of provisions, &c. are much needed by the sufferers at Nantucket, and efficient measures should be promptly adopted for their relief. [Boston Cour. 16th.

A DAMPER TO ELOQUENCE.—Amusing scenes occur occasionally in grave assemblies. During the late session of the New-Hampshire Legislature, a newly fledged orator rose to make his maiden speech in the House of Representatives. A bill had been brought in to tax bank dividends, and watching his opportunity, the debutant addressed the members: "Mr. Speaker, the gentlemen from Dover, who introduced this bill does not seem to be aware of its inevitable results. He would strip the widow—" (roars of laughter, and cries of—the widow who?—what widow?—not in this public hall, I hope, &c &c.)

As soon as the tumult subsided in some degree, and the orator could make himself heard, he indignantly proceeded: "Gentlemen need not think to put me down by clamor. Is there no sympathy here for the widow and the orphan? I say, sir, that this is worse than stripping. Put on this tax and I say you drive the widow to her last shift!

Here the clamor became so great, that the speaker despairing of a hearing, resumed his seat. It was almost ten minutes before the House could transact its regular business.

A NEW PLAY.—Epes Sargent, of New-York, and formerly of Boston, is engaged, as we understand, in writing a new drama expressly for Mrs. Mowatt, who will of course illustrate the character of the heroine, and in whose peculiar capabilities, as an actress, the author hopes to place the new piece fully to develop. The incidents of the play belong to the reign of Charles the Second, and we hope Mr. Sargent will be as successful in its arrangement as he was in his fine tragedy of Velasco. [Transcript.

NARROW ESCAPE.—The Dépôt of the Norwich and Worcester Railroad had a narrow escape from fire, on Tuesday night, in consequence of the spontaneous combustion of a quantity of waste in a freight car. [Worcester Transcript.

COMMERCIAL AND MONEY MATTERS.

For sales of Stocks, &c. see fourth page.

THURSDAY, P. M.

Stocks were a little better to-day, although no very decided change can be recorded. There is nothing new to be said in regard to the state of the Money market or the rates of Exchange.

Markets....Carefully reported for The Tribune.

THURSDAY, July 17.

ASHES—The market is steady at previous rates. The sales are 300 bbls at $3 50 for Pots, and $4@$4 03 for Pearls.

COTTON—There has been but little done to-day. The market however is without variation.

FLOUR AND MEAL—The market for Western Flour is as noticed yesterday—steady and firm with moderate receipts and fair demand. Michigan may be quoted $3 87½; Oswego $3 93¾, and Genesee $4—these are perhaps the lower rates, and 6d more is occasionally obtained. In Southern there is nothing doing. Rye Flour and Corn Meal remain as last noticed.

GRAIN—Wheat is wanted, and farther sales of 8@9000 bush Red Western have been made at about 78@83 cts; White is scarce. Rye is dull and lower—2500 bushels Northern and Jersey brought 69 cts. Oats are 34@35 cts, wholesale, and 35@36 in lots for Northern. Corn has been active to-day, and about all offering readily disposed of at improved prices. The sales reach 10@15,000 bush Western, part handsome Yellow, at 49@52 cts; 1000 sacks damaged, 46½; and 6 000 bush Southern at 49@52 cts, wt. 800 bags Black eyed Peas sold at $2.

PLASTER—A cargo sold to go up the river to-day at $2 75.

SPIRITS—50 bbls Turpentine were taken at 31½ cts. 4 months; and 400 bbls State Prison Whisky 20 cts, which is higher.

SEED—Clover is picked up in small lots for export; 25 tierces Ohio sold at 8 cts for prime.

PROVISIONS—Pork continues dull, and we only know of small sales Prime at $7 77½@$8, and Mess $9 44@$9 50. Beef is very fist; and in Lard we heard of nothing done. 100 tcs and bbls Pickled Hams sold at 34@4 cts, and 67 tcs sugar cured, 4¼, cash.

STEALING A CHILD.—On the day of the ox roast at Hoboken, a barbarous act was perpetrated by a fiend in female dress, in stealing a little child about four years of age, the interesting daughter of the proprietor of the Lafayette Hotel. The child with her were playing near the house, when a very genteely dressed woman accosted them, and ask to be shown to the ox roast, which they at once complied with. The woman kept the child with her, buying cakes, &c, to please her, and finally induced the little girl to go as far as the ferry on a promise of giving her some candies. A boy who knew her, saw her there with this woman, and asked her where she was going, to which she replied, to New-York to get some candies, and he presuming she was with a friend said nothing farther. Since that time no tidings have been heard of her, and, as may be supposed, the bereaved parents are well nigh distracted at the loss. [True Sun.

DARING OUTRAGE.—We learn from the Pena Yan Democrat that a set of drunken fellows assaulted a number of ladies on the evening of the 4th, in that village who were under the escort of a Mr. Thompson, and on their way to their homes. Mr. Thompson seized one of them and called loudly for assistance. Several persons came to his aid, who were all more or less injured in the affray before it was ended. The wretches attacked them with clubs, stones, &c. One man was cut upon the head with a scythe. The ladies had escaped into a house near. Three of the scoundrels were arrested.

NEW TELEGRAPH.—J. Milton Saunders, of Cincinnati, is getting up a Telegraph which can be worked at one fourth the expense of the one now in use, and will not only communicate information by sound, but by characters also. He says that if the matter transmitted should be of a secret nature, the apparatus in a moment can be so adjusted that it will whisper the attendant—or proper recipient—the secret, without any one present hearing it. What next? [Morning News.

☞ To Business Men.—Our mercantile friends about to visit New-York for their Spring purchases, are desired to give their attention to the advertisements of several city houses, to be found in our columns. They will confer upon us an especial favor, if they can make it convenient to give such a call, mentioning the paper, as proof of our power with their respective lines of business. We deal with the class of city merchants. By so doing, they will encourage the disposition to advertise in country papers, which will be beneficial all round.

We embrace this occasion to return our thanks to our New-York Agents, Messrs. Mason & Taylor, for their prompt and faithful attention in procuring and transmitting city advertisements for our paper. They have done us essential service. We perceive by their last "Advertiser" that their office has been removed to 36 William-st. Merchants' Exchange, where we hope they will reap additional rewards for their industry and enterprise. [Syracuse Journal.

☞ V. B. Palmer's Country Newspaper Advertising Agency, Tribune Buildings, New York, embraces most of the best newspapers of all the cities and principal towns in the Union. Sixty and Upwards, for which he is duly authorized to receive advertisements and subscriptions, and duly empowered to give receipts.

Merchants, manufacturers, artists, and individuals generally, besides public institutions, incorporated companies, and societies who wish to advertise in, or subscribe for, newspapers of any section of the country, are respectfully invited to examine the files.

To remove all doubts and misapprehensions, the agent hereby notifies the public that no person is authorized by him to solicit advertisements, cards or subscriptions for the newspapers for which he is the only authorized agent. The acquaintance to merchants, and others, gained out of number, was procured at no little cost, and renders the adoption of this course essentially proper to guard against imposition. Those, therefore, who wish to transact business with his agency, and avoid mistakes, are respectfully invited to hand in their orders at the office, or address, V. B. PALMER, Allied American Newspaper Agent, Tribune Buildings.
