NEW-YORK TRIBUNE.

Pennsylvania Legislature—Whig Prospects.
Correspondence of The Tribune.
HARRISBURG, Jan. 26, 1847.

Pennsylvania, for years under the control of our political opponents, is now essentially Whig in both the popular branches of her Government, and the events of every day occurrence strengthen the belief that she will remain so. Only another expression of the popular voice is required, to place her auspiciously forward in the Whig Phalanx, to battle in the good cause in which many of her sisters have been for years effectually laboring.

Accustomed as we have been to working in the minority, the novelty of our position is only equalled by its responsibility. To faithful hands has the delicate charge been committed. As Whigs, we feel proud of the Representatives now chosen to stand at the helm. Honesty and capability, the grand requisites of legislators, would be traced at once by a close observer, as prominent traits of the "wisdom" of the Old Keystone now assembled at Harrisburg.

Both branches of the Legislature are now fairly organized, and closely engaged at business. As is usual, the amount of local legislation demanded, engrosses much of the attention of legislators. But few public bills have as yet been acted upon. A few of pressing necessity have been passed. Among these, is one providing for the payment of the interest upon the State, falling due on the 1st proximo. The faith and credit of the State will be maintained, and creditors need expect no disappointment in their call upon the Bank of Pennsylvania on that day.

A number of bills relating to the Pennsylvania volunteers have been introduced. One providing for an appropriation of ten thousand dollars for their relief has passed the House and will doubtless be passed through the Senate. Resolutions instructing our Senators and requesting our Representatives in Congress to use their influence to procure the passage of a law giving the soldiers their letters, papers and documents free of postage, unanimously passed the Senate. Resolutions conveying the thanks of the State to Gen. Taylor and his Army, were adopted by the unanimous vote of both Houses.

A bill has been under discussion in the House, securing to married women the use and enjoyment of their own property. Its fate is doubtful.

Resolutions instructing our Senators and requesting our Representatives in Congress to vote for a repeal of the Tariff of '46, and for the restoration of the Tariff of '42, after a discussion of eight or ten days, passed the House by a party vote, Mr. Clingen Smith of Armstrong, Independent, being the only "Democrat" who was found to sustain them. Thus, after shifting to all sides of this important question, our Loco friends here have finally been compelled to take their seats upon the same platform with the South-Carolina Free Traders. The step has been taken reluctantly, I have no doubt, by many, but the time had come when they could not occupy debatable ground. We will henceforth know where to find them, and not as in '44, be amazed with the song, "We are as good Tariff men as the Whigs," which we knew and proclaimed to be that of the syren. The deceived and the betrayed will avenge the injuries they have unwittingly sustained.

The prospects of the party were never brighter. Harmony characterizes all the deliberations of our friends. Many a severe lesson has enforced the truth of the maxim, "In union there is strength." Let not our opponents "lay the flattering unction to their soule," that the nomination of the 9th of March Convention will not meet with a united and hearty response from the Whigs of the State. We have too much at stake to hazard the battle on account of preference for men. The sentiment prominently spoken of in connection with the Gubernatorial nomination would either of them be a tower of strength to the party, and would rally our united vote.

Gov. Shunk will probably be renominated by our opponents, but this matter is still within the range of probabilities.

Judge Banks has not yet signified his acceptance of the office of State Treasurer, to which he has recently been elected. Yours truly, PENN.

ASHES INSPECTION.

THE UNDERSIGNED have associated themselves under the name and firm of FREEBORN, JEWETT & CO. for the purpose of pursuing the business of inspection of Pot and Pearl Ashes, and have opened an office No. 63 and 65 Washington-st until the 1st of May next, after which time they will be found at the old established Inspection Warehouse, 48 and 49 West-st, in the city of New-York.

The matter of inspection in future, being unrestricted and free, as regards legal requirements, still it is presumed, it will not supersede the necessity of the classification of these articles according to the proper standard by persons competent to perform the same. This seems to be called for from the skill and experience necessary to arrive at the different properties of the articles, the preservation of the character of our Ashes in foreign markets, and also as promoting the convenience and facilities of dealers in these articles.

The undersigned feel assured that they are entitled to the confidence of the public on the score of a thorough knowledge of the articles they propose to inspect and classify, all the members of the firm having been practically and a.most constantly, for many years past, engaged in the inspection of ashes, and in future will give their personal attention to the business. It will be our aim to preserve the standard of inspection and do justice to the manufacturer and the consumer.

The fees of inspection will be reduced from former rates, twenty per cent, and fixed at eight cents per hundred pounds, which will be invariable.

Ashes will be received at the Warehouse on storage, at the usual rates, subject to order for inspection or otherwise.

Submitting the above matters to your consideration, we shall be pleased at all times to receive any ashes you may see fit to entrust to our care.

Very respectfully, your obedient servants,
FREEBORN, JEWETT & CO.
J. P. FREEBORN, N. H. JEWETT,
E. M. CASSIDY, J. H. LESTER,
January 1, 1847. d31 1m

STOCK OF GOODS FOR SALE, and Store To Let.—The undersigned offers for sale the stock of Dry Goods, (consisting principally of staple goods,) late the property of William L Hall, at the store lately occupied by the firm of W. L. & W. A. Hall, No. 55 Catharine-st (between Henry and Madison sts,) in the city of New York, together with the privilege of the store. The location is considered one of the best in the street. The store has a large front, is in depth about 70 feet, and has been newly fitted up with two new sky-lights back, and with six splendid mahogany top counters and desks of the most modern style. The stock of goods is small, but consists almost entirely of staple goods; and persons commencing business will find it for their interest to call and examine the premises and property for themselves. The goods will be sold on advantageous terms, and are to be disposed of immediately to close a trust. JOHN H. TURNER,
New-York, Jan. 19, 1847. [j18 2w*] Assignee.
