Mexican Twice Shot Shields His Assailant.

A Mexican whose name is Mazura, and is employed at the pumping plant at Sarben on the north river branch, was shot twice about 9:30 Friday evening near the Iddings mill. One ball penetrated the wrist, the other entered the right side and angling came out at the left side of his back. Trainmen in the vicinity heard the shots and at the same time saw a man come from south of the elevator, cross the tracks and continue his flight north. The trainmen began an investigation and found the Mexican on the ground suffering great pain and growing weak from loss of blood. The officers were notified, a physician summoned and the man conveyed to the Pulver hospital.

The man was interrogated as how it happened and the identity of his assailant, but he maintained that he did not in fact the only admission he gave a fight and did not know who fired the shots; made was that he had been drinking; this was evident for he had a partly filled flask in his pocket.

It is generally believed that the man who done the shooting was also a Mexican, and that the wounded man is shielding him. This is characteristic of the Mexican.

While the wound in the body is an ugly one, there is hope of the man's recovery.

Latter Day Saints Services.

There is being conducted a series of services in a tent on the north side school ground at 8:15 p. m. daily by Elders R. Etzenhouser of Independence, Mo., J. F. Grimes, Knobnoster, Mo., and A. J. Layland, of Mallad, Idaho, who represent the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints whose headquarters are at Lamoni, Ia. This church has no affiliation whatever with Utah Mormonism but are pronounced antagonists to it. Disputed property titles settled in the courts show the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints to be successor to the church organized by Joseph Smith in 1830, and show that Brigham Young was a false aspirant and introduced innovations, heresies, evil and crime, averring such were taught by Joseph Smith, while the voluminous writings of Joseph Smith during the fourteen years of his activities do not contain a sentence responsible for the evil teaching of Brigham Young. Had Joseph Smith been a polygamist or its originator the properties would have gone to Utah Mormons. Joseph Smith is exonerated and the titles of the disputed property vest with the Reorganized Church.

Notice to Water Consumers.

It has come to our notice that consumers are lax in regard to shutting off water when the fire alarm sounds. It is absolutely necessary for consumers to do this in order that we may have sufficient pressure to fight fires. Our inspectors have orders in the future to shut off the water from a consumer found breaking this rule. This applies to those consumers on meters as well as those not on meters. Dated August 19, 1913.

HERSHEY S. WELCH, Water Commissioner.

Declines Call To North Platte.

To fill the rectorship of the Episcopal parish of this city, made vacant by the resignation of Rev. Chapman, a call was extended to Dean Ware, who is stationed at Alliance. The Dean, however, declined the call. His work in the Alliance district covers quite a territory, his work is successful and he felt that he could not leave that field. This information obtained from the Bridgeport Blade.

Remarkable Cure of Dysentery.

"I was attacked with dysentery about July 15th, and used the doctor's medicine and other remedies with no relief, only getting worse all the time. I was unable to do anything and my weight dropped from 145 to 125 pounds. I suffered for about two months when I was advised to use Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I used two bottles of it and it gave me permanent relief." writes B. W. Hill of Snow Hill, N. C. For sale by all dealers.

Dream on, Kid!

A little girl in Linwood is just about old enough to have a beau, and she is perfectly crazy about one pompadour-ed, tall, skinny lad that—well, let us tell our little incident without adding adjectives.

The maiden's lovely boy friend went out of town for a week, but she wrote letters. And the maiden's sister started kidding.

"What!" exclaimed sis. "Another letter from Rob? When do you expect to marry him, dear?"

"Oh, very soon," cried the little one, encouraged by such a display of sympathy. "Robert has only two years more in the preparatory school. And then he will go to Harvard and be graduated with the highest honors. After he gets his degree he will go out west and make his fortune, and then we shall be married. Oh, it all seems so beautiful!"

"Dream on, kid!" exclaimed the older sister tenderly. "Do you want to go to another picture show with me this evening? There's a long time to wait, and we've got to put in the time somehow."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Honeymoon Once Chaperoned.

In "Books and Bookmen" it is observed that "in the eighteenth century it was not considered bon ton for a young couple to go on a honeymoon without a chaperon. The practice must have survived into the last century, for in 'Mansfield Park,' when Maria Bertram marries Mr. Rushworth, Julia, the younger sister, goes with them." The custom certainly lingered on, in out of the way places at least, till the middle of the nineteenth century.

"My mother," writes a correspondent in the Manchester Guardian, "was married in 1853. Before that date she had been the bridesmaid of a girl friend who had married a young lawyer. They both came of middle class families in very comfortable circumstances. She went with them on their honeymoon. She always assured us that in those faraway days it was quite the correct thing for the bridesmaid to form one of the party."

Living Cups and Saucers.

The foot of the limpet is a kind of sucking disk by which it anchors itself securely to the rocks. Its tiny tongue is in reality a wonderful horny structure armed with about 100 rows of teeth, with which it rasps the seaweeds and marine litter which form its food.

There are several branches of the limpet family. One is called the "key-hole" limpet and another the "cup and saucer." The former owes its name to a keyhole shaped opening on the top through which the animal—for the limpet is really an animal—squirts out water.

The "cup and saucer" limpet has on its underside a sort of curved plate, not unlike a tiny teacup, surrounded by a saucer-like shell. To complete the resemblance there is at the extremity of the long tooth ribbon an organ not unlike a miniature teaspoon.

No End of Good Reasons

UNLESS you buy carelessly, these are a few of the features that will lead you to the I H C line when you buy a hay press. I H C presses are provided with self-feeders, eliminating dangerous foot-feeding and increasing capacity by even operation; the bale chamber is of just the right height to permit convenient tying of the bales; the bale tension and roller tucker make for uniform, compact and attractive bales; the toggle joint plunger is the most powerful and simple compressing device ever used on a hay press—though producing great pressure, it requires least power to operate.

I H C Hay Presses

cannot be surpassed in convenience, durability, simplicity, and economy of operation. They will put your loose hay into neat, compact bundles, occupying but one-fifth the former space, increasing your available barn room, and making it possible to sell your hay in distant localities at the highest market prices.

You will find three sizes, 14 x 18, 16 x 18, and 17 x 22-inch bale chamber, in the I H C hay press line, baling, at a most conservative estimate, from six to sixteen tons per day. If your choice is a horse power press, you will be interested by its special features, the pull power principle, compound leverage, and the low step-over. If you desire a motor press, study the durable power jack. Remember, too, that this is an all year round machine, for the engine may be detached and used as a regular portable power plant to run saw, pump, cream separator, churn, feed grinder, electric light plant, repair shop, etc.
