A farm in northeast Kansas and some cash to exchange for stock of general merchandise or hardware. D. C. Kiely, 622 New England Bldg., Topeka, Kans.

E. H. Genge, a former station agent in this city, but for six or eight years past holding a similar position at Greeley, Col., came down yesterday to visit friends and register in the land drawing. He finds a wonderful improvement in North Platte since he left and is agreeably surprised. He will return to Greeley today.

President Elder, of the notarial association, is not inclined to be superstitious, but when he learned that the number of registrations for the twenty-four hours ending at four o'clock yesterday afternoon was 2313 he was inclined to regard it as a bad omen. He didn't mind the figures 23, but when the 13 was attached, he went into sort of a trance from which he did not awaken until just before noon today.

Tuesday will be a Big Day

Next Tuesday, October 28th, the date for the drawing of the lands in the now celebrated forest reserve, will be a big day in North Platte. It is expected that the crowd will be larger than during any day of the registration, and arrangements have been perfected for burning "red light."

As announced elsewhere, the drawing will be held at the opera house commencing at ten o'clock. This building has been selected because it will hold a larger crowd than any other in town, and as much interest will be manifested in the drawing, it is safe to predict that the big hall will be packed as closely as sardines. The 75,000 envelopes containing the registration cards will be dumped into a wire enclosed space on the stage, the pile will be thoroughly stirred with a pitchfork, and then stirred some more; in fact the stirring process will be continued until the big mass of envelopes has been turned and returned; and then turned again until the mixture is complete, and then two little blindfolded girls will select the envelopes, one at a time, hand them over to the proper person who will open them and announce the name and address written on the card. The individual whose name appears on the first card will have the right to first selection of land in the reserve, the second name drawn will have second choice, and so on down the line.

Monday night a meeting will be held at the opera house, and at this time Judge Whitten, superintendent of registration and drawing, will explain in detail the method to be pursued in the selection of the land by those who are fortunate in the drawing. This method is not clearly understood by the public generally, and in making this matter clear Judge Whitten will be rendering the people a great service, for the successful ones will know definitely just how they are to proceed.

At this Monday evening meeting the band will be present and render music, and it will also furnish music Tuesday.

Quite a number of visitors who now are in the city have announced their intention of remaining over until after the drawing, and of course many of those who will arrive tomorrow will conclude to stay for the drawing. A big crowd is expected to arrive Sunday and Monday, and the Union Pacific will run a special train out of Omaha Monday night which will reach here at 9:30 Tuesday morning and returning leave North Platte about four o'clock in the afternoon. This train will stop at all stations between Omaha and North Platte.

Arrangements have been completed for furnishing the crowd with more or less entertainment Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, and every stranger within our gates will receive the glad hand of welcome.

Dental Convention a Success.

The convention of the Northwest Nebraska Dental Society, which closed its sessions in this city Tuesday evening, was voted one of the most successful and pleasant held by the society. The clinical work and addresses Tuesday forenoon and afternoon were both instructive and interesting, and the banquet served by the Lutheran ladies in the evening was a fitting finale. This banquet was served in four courses, and the table decorations were beautiful. The speakers were Mayor Evans and Dr. Cressler of this city, Dr. Vance of Lincoln, Dr. Weldon of Gothenburg, and Dr. Davis, dean of the Lincoln dental college. Thanks were extended to the people of North Platte for their generous hospitality.

Officers elected for the ensuing year were: President, Dr. H. Cardwell, of Minden; vice-president Dr. H. N. Jones of Kearney, secretary and treasurer, Dr. C. H. Hartwig of Juniata; delegate to state executive council Dr. O. H. Cressler of North Platte.

Minden was selected as the place for holding the next annual meeting.

E. J. Brogan, of Dayton, Ohio, will arrive tomorrow to visit at the Geo. Tekulve home.

Thomas Whealan, of Wood River, arrived yesterday to spend several days visiting Francis Dunn.

Ollie Carpenter of Maxwell, returned home this morning after several days visit with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Gray, of New York, arrived this morning to visit friends.

Society and Clubs

The Harmony Club will be entertained this evening by Mesdames E. T. and Herbert Tramp at their home.

The ladies' auxiliary of the B. of L. F. and E., will hold a hallowe'en social at the K. P. hall Tuesday evening.

Mrs. J. J. Halligan entertained last evening at a six o'clock dinner complimentary to Miss Abbie Patterson of Denver.

The literary department of the Twentieth Century Club will meet at the home of Mrs. E. N. Ogier, next Tuesday afternoon.

The Club Nevada were entertained Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Harry Samuelson. The afternoon was spent in Kensington after which a nicely prepared lunch was served.

A dozen young ladies pleasantly surprised Mrs. Harriet Gibson Tuesday evening. Several hours were pleasantly spent in social conversation and an elaborate lunch served. The hostess was presented with a number of beautiful remembrances of the occasion.

Twenty young ladies were the guests of Miss Catherine Walters at her home on east Sixth street Wednesday evening in honor of her seventeenth birthday. The evening was spent in games and music. The hostess was presented with many beautiful and useful gifts. Refreshments were served.

At the home of Mrs. J. R. McWilliams last evening a miscellaneous shower was given complimentary to Miss Elizabeth Weinberger. Games and music were the entertaining feature of the evening. Assisting in serving were Misses Lucy Dunn, Ethel McWilliams and Mrs. Geo. Voseipka. Many beautiful and useful gifts were presented to the bride-to-be.

Mrs. E. F. Seiberger and Mrs. L. W. Walker were hostesses at the session of the 500 Club Tuesday evening at the home of the former, and the forty members and guests present passed an evening replete with enjoyment. Several members were out of town, but there were a sufficient number of guests invited to fill out the nine tables. A two course lunch was served.

The Study Club met with Miss Emma Smith last evening with almost the total membership present. Mrs. Cummings gave an instructive paper on "Work of the Forestry Department." Mrs. W. H. McDonald read a carefully prepared paper on "China of the Past," and Miss Alice Plummer gave a short sketch of Sir Gilbert Parker's life and an excellent review of his "House of Judgment." A dainty lunch was served while each member gave a "Curran Event."

A meeting of the Mothers' club was held Monday afternoon Oct. 20th at the pleasant home of Mrs. O. H. Cressler. Sixty-five ladies were present. The usual business session was omitted from the afternoon's program. Miss Ackerman rendered a piano solo. A paper on "Music as a aid to the development of character" was read by Mrs. D. A. Russell. This was followed by an interesting discussion by Mrs. Cramer of the North Platte School of Music, and was based upon personal experiences and observations and conveyed many useful thoughts. She also sang several selections suitable for children. Miss Schwaiger sang other selections of the same class of music. Miss Alma Waltemath recited Rudyard's Kipling's "If". Mrs. P. T. Barber of Omaha addressed the club and told of the Mothers' club of Omaha, and the work they are doing. Mr. P. T. Barber, of Omaha, addressed the ladies and announced the Oral Hygiene meeting for the evening.

That Great Play "Madame X"

After a long run in all the largest cities Manager Stamp has secured for his patrons that greatest of all dramas "Madame X" with Miss Alice De Lane and a strong cast of players. The date is Thursday evening, Oct. 30th. The prologue of the play shows the once happy home of Louis Floriot. The first act (twenty years later) shows a room in a cheap French hotel where "Madame X" is living with Laroque. The next act shows the exterior of the Floriot home. The last act shows the interior of the great French court room where "Madame X" is being tried for the murder of Laroque.

A carload of scenery and effects are carried and a great production of this famous play is offered.
