SUPPOSED PIRATES.—Captain Conkling, of the schooner Peerless, who arrived at this port yesterday from St. Domingo, which place he left on the 19th ult. makes the following extract from his log:

"March 12, arrived at St. Domingo from St. Thomas, schooner Catherine. She reports having fallen in with and boarded (the Mona passage bearing North, 15 miles distant.) the schooner Ocean, of North Kingston, abandoned, with swept hold, sails and running rigging gone and cutted in both sides, just above the water's edge. Found a quantity of blood on the cabin floor. Said schooner appeared to have been robbed."

The Captain of the British brig Harp, of Yarmouth, N. S. reports having been chased by two suspicious craft—one a hermaphrodite, the other a full-rigged brig.

On the announcement of these facts to the Dominican Government, two armed schooners were fitted out to go in search of the two brigs, but subsequently the Government countermanded the order for the schooners to make sail, alleging that information had been received that the brigs were Mexican privateers.

The Peerless passed through the Mona passage and saw two vessels which might answer the description of the brigs, but they offered her no molestation.

ORCHARD & BRUEN.

☞ Lecture on Siam.—Dr. BRADLEY, for 13 years a Missionary to Siam, will deliver a Lecture on the Habits, Customs and Peculiarities of that comparatively unknown People and Country, this evening, at 7½ o'clock, at the Free Congregational Church, Sullivan-st. below Houston-st. Friends of Missions are invited to attend. all 1t*

☞ A Head like a Gourd, smooth, shining and hairless, is not exactly the bait that Cupid would angle with if he were fishing for hearts. Beside, such a blemish is wholly unnecessary. Only let the roots of the hair be furnished with proper nutriment and the scalp stimulated by gentle friction, and baldness is next to impossible. PURE BEAR'S OIL is, in our opinion, the very best article extant to promote the growth of the hair and prevent it from coming out. When used after sickness it will have this effect in almost all cases. If you want the genuine article, made from the pure grease, and delightfully perfumed, it may be found at JOHNSON'S, 273 Broadway. Try it, and set baldness and grey hairs at defiance. Sold also at 100 Fulton-st. 77 East Broadway, 293 Hudson-st. and 139 Fulton-st. Brooklyn. Price 25 and 50 cents.

☞ The Whigs of the Third Ward are cautioned to beware of a spurious ticket, which has been got up in the Ward by some of the police who opposed the regular nominations. THOMAS MCKNIGHT is nominated on the ticket for Alderman, and JOSEPH T. BELL for Assistant. The Regular Nominating Committee of the Ward have given in nomination Gen. ROBERT SWARTWOUT for Alderman, and JOSEPH E. WOOD for Assistant. They are well-known citizens of the Ward, and worthy the support of all true Whigs. Will the Whigs of the old Third submit to police dictation? We trust not.

FOWLER'S LAW SCHOOL,

In Cherry Valley, Otsego Co. N. Y.

THE SPRING TERM will commence on the first Wednesday in May next. The object of this school is to train the student in the practice as well as the theory of the profession. Few gain eminence at the bar because the great art of trying causes, and especially of extemporaneous speaking is essential to success, and in this the student has no practice at all till he is actually admitted, when the embarrassments of a court, a learned bench, experienced lawyers, an opposing counselor, and a trembling client, forbid, without extraordinary nerve and perseverance, the formation there of the mighty and difficult habit of off-hand speaking, even though he could find constant opportunities to practice, which for a want of business he cannot for a long time expect to. This defect gives him the requisite practice beforehand. It assumes that to the law, as in all other pursuits, "a trade should be learned before it is exercised." It therefore takes him through the blunders of the novice to an easy practical familiarity with the trial and argument of causes, and makes him an experienced lawyer—and all this in much less time than is usually employed to understand enough of the mere theory to be admitted. The School has three departments. In the first—the study of the science—there are critical, elaborate, daily recitations, the constant examination of causes for trial, and moot court exercises and philosophical essays on all branches of the law. In the second—exercises in the practice—there are courts comprising the entire judiciary system of the State, over which a professor presides as judge, with juries, witnesses, clerks, sheriffs, &c. in which the students, from their entrance, are kept in constant practice, trying causes, taking testimony, summing up, making motions, affidavits, bonds, pleadings, removing causes from court to court, &c. all under careful instruction. In the third department—extemporaneous oratory—there are constant drill exercises in off-hand speaking, aiming at an easy, elegant style of sentence and manner; summing up causes in all the varieties of adaptation to cases and juries; historical, literary and political debates, all under the eye of a professor, and the application of the best system of rhetoric and elocution and all the arts and embellishments of a finished oratory.

The institution is under the direction of J. W. Fowler, Professor of Extemporaneous Oratory and the Philosophy of Law, with lectures. The department devoted to the study of the science is conducted by Prof. Ralph J. Beach, in the department of the practice and the trial of causes, the distinguished services of Hon. Jabez D. Hammond are secured, with lectures, we believe, to be given upon this, and also upon the department of the laws of real estate, the result of his long experience at the bar and on the bench. The location of the school has been selected for its peculiar adaptation to the quiet pursuits of study. Those wishing to attend solely to off-hand speaking, with a view to the political arena, will find a department devoted to them. The expenses for tuition, use of library, one of the finest in the State, board, lodging, &c. are at the rate of $2 25 to $2 50 per week. Letters addressed (post-paid) to J. W. FOWLER will be promptly attended to. Circulars, stating plan &c. sent upon request.

CAP MANUFACTORY.

P. C. WILLMARTH respectfully announces to his old friends and customers, that he has taken the supervision of the Cap Manufactory attached to the NEW-YORK HAT COMPANY, No. 16 BOWERY. The fact (well known to the trade and the public generally) that he is the oldest and most experienced manufacturer of Caps in this city, will be a sufficient warranty that every article in his line, issuing from the above establishment, will amply sustain the reputation for elegance, taste and durability, which has so long distinguished his productions, and which he has acquired by years of unremitted application to this particular line of business. From his long experience and great facilities, he feels confident in assuring the public that he is able to furnish a better article, at a lower price, than any other establishment in the city. a8 1wis*

WHO IS OPPOSED TO BLEEDING AND PURGING?—Who dares say these do not weaken and debilitate the system? Who dares say they do not? Why not rather try the methods so curative as that breaks all fevers by reducing and equalizing the circulation.
