CITY ITEMS.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—About 6 o'clock last evening as the ferry-boat Independence was leaving the slip at the foot of Catherine st. she was run into by a sloop, and her cabin instantly crushed in. A small child was killed by the collision, and a servant girl who had it in charge very severely if not mortally injured. A laboring man residing in Brooklyn had his arm broken. Two or three persons were flung overboard by the violence of the shock, and in the confusion which followed, it is feared that one or more may be lost. The servant girl and child were from this City.

THE SPINGLER INSTITUTE.—We take pleasure in calling the attention of our readers to the advertisement in another column, by which it appears that in September Mr. Abbott will transfer his institution to the Spingler Institute, the new edifice of which is now nearly completed. This building, which we have before noticed, fronts on Union-square, and is an architectural ornament to that part of the City. But we think it a moral ornament of far greater worth, and of a higher honor to the City, that by means of individual enterprise alone we shall now be possessed of an institute for females which, in point of endowment, professors, appurtnns, edifice, &c. surpasses many, and may vie with any of the distinguished colleges in our country. For particulars, the reader is referred to the advertisement.

FIREMEN'S EXCURSION.—The members of Hose Company No. 9, passed our office yesterday afternoon, in admirable trim, on their way to Niagara. They were escorted by Company No. 32, with a portion of Dodsworth's Band. They were all neatly dressed in Firemen's costume, and made a fine appearance. We learn that they will visit Niagara in a body, as they visited Saratoga last year. This an extension of the practice of excursions, which we hope to see generally adopted. There are few bodies or associations which might not in like manner take a week's respite from the cares and labors of the rest of the year.

YOUNG ROGUES.—Two boys, named John Chambers and Isaac Tallow were committed to prison yesterday charged of stealing, at different times, a lot of silver articles found in their possession, to the value of $24. Their plan of action was, to go to a boarding-house about the time that the table was laid, and under the pretence of selling potatoes, contrived to effect their object when the servant's back was turned. An accomplice of theirs, named Stephen Stumps, has not yet been taken into custody.

ACCIDENT.—An old man named Daniel Ferral, 81 years of age, was accidentally run over on Wednesday by a carriage at the corner of Fulton and Nassau sts. and was so seriously injured that he is not likely to recover. He was immediately conveyed to the City Hospital, when it was found that he had lately arrived in this city from Wilton, Conn.

SUICIDE.—Coroner Walters held an inquest yesterday on the body of Mr. Edward Hammond, a native of Massachusetts, who, while laboring under a temporary aberration of mind, committed suicide by taking a quantity of opium. Verdict accordingly.

MAD DOGS.—One of these dangerous animals was killed yesterday morning by two policemen of the Tenth Ward, at the corner of Norfolk and Delancey sts.

YOUNG LADIES' SCHOOL EXAMINATION.

To the Editor of The Tribune:

Will you permit me to appropriate two or three squares in your paper to a very brief notice of the exercises of yesterday at the Young Ladies' Seminary near Harlem, recently established under the auspices of Bishop Hughes, and in charge of a Committee of Ladies of the Sacred Heart? I shall utterly fail in imparting to others a tithe of the interest enjoyed by those who were so fortunate as to witness this Academical Jubilee.

The country mansion and grounds of the late Mr. Lorillard have been purchased and are devoted to the cause of education—the education of females!—all that concerns their domestic, social, intellectual, moral and religious welfare. The ladies who have undertaken this charge are themselves eminently endowed. Their mission is one of duty and affection. They have separated themselves from friends, and the endearments of home to be useful to strangers—to do good to all.

A delightful bower, with rich floral decorations, was fitted up for the interesting occasion. The term just closed had prepared some seventy young ladies for a highly creditable examination. They acquitted themselves with an ease, grace and spirit which I have never seen equaled. These compositions were given with an effort (without effort) that the art-critic in rhetoric would pronounce faultless. The dialogues were happily conceived, classily written, and naturally sustained. There was refinement and taste in all they said and in their manner of saying it. In a word, these young ladies, as their parents and guardians, who were present, must have felt gratefully, acquitted themselves in a way to show that their mental and moral culture and discipline could not have been placed in more competent, faithful or affectionate hands.

At the close of the exercises the premiums were announced by one of the ladies of the Community and delivered to the young ladies by the Bishop, who briefly congratulated them upon their attainments and exhorted them to persist, through life, the learned in the ways of wisdom and virtue which, however tried and tempted, were the only guarantees for prosperity here and happiness hereafter.

The young ladies themselves seemed so delighted at the success of those who received the highest rewards, that it will not be invidious to speak of Miss Barge's "Last Supper," and Miss Cannon's "Old Courtier," as most happy efforts. Both were admirably executed, the former with taste and fertility, and the latter with spirit and genius. I wish, by the way, that Miss Cannon would send you, or me, a copy of her "Old Courtier" for publication. Miss Hargous and Miss Peck executed a Quatuor with their professors, upon the Piano, in a manner which showed high musical cultivation.

Beside the friends of the young ladies, many clergymen from this City and Brooklyn, from St. John's College, and the venerable Father McElroy of Boston, were in attendance. If the excellence of the instruction in this institution was known, its next commencement would show at least twice seventy pupils. A GUEST.

DEATHS AT THE EMIGRANT HOSPITAL, JULY 19.—Jeremiah Kelff, 30, arrived in the Chieftain; Catherine or Mary Clarkin, 5, in the Mary Ker; Patrick Fox, 21, in the Yorkshire; Thomas Sullivan, 19, in the Columbia; Andrew Watson, 1, in the Mary Harrington.

POLICE.—A man named Patrick Kernyan was arrested on Wednesday on suspicion of grand larceny, and detained in custody for farther examination.

BROOKLYN AFFAIRS.

SMUGGLING TRANSACTION.—It is stated that not long since a person who has for a considerable time been engaged in trafficking in contraband goods, trusted to the custody of a well-known storekeeper in the city a large quantity of merchandise, upon which the duties had been evaded. This secret he intrusted to the friend to whom he intrusted the care of the property; but the latter, not recognizing the old doctrine of "honor among thieves," converted the whole to his own use; and on application being made to him to surrender the goods, he told the smuggler that if he dared to utter a word on the subject, he would cause him to be prosecuted by the officers of the Government. Although the act of the person thus dishonestly betrayed was undoubtedly very culpable, the conduct of the person in whom he placed such implicit faith was infinitely more so, and yet he is said to be a pious man, and moves in a respectable sphere among the business men of this city.

IMPROVEMENTS.—A number of beautiful dwellings are in progress of erection in this city. In Fulton-st. at the corner of Tillary st. Mr. S. Willoughby is about to place several extensive stores, and next door to the well-known ice-cream establishment of Mr. Handley, the Rev. E. M. Johnson has in forwardness a four-story edifice, which is intended to eclipse any similar structure on this Island. Ex-Alderman Smith is also building a splendid mansion in Smith-st.

PIC-NIC.—The Washington Union Daughters of Temperance will proceed on a pic-nic excursion to-day to Biddle's Grove.

REPORT OF SALES MADE BY JAMES COLE, JULY 18th, AT THE BROOKLYN HOUSE.—A farm belonging to the late John Bennet, deceased, in the town of New Utrecht, fronting on the Bay:

1. One piece containing upward of 16 acres, adjoining the land of Michael Bergen, at $260 per acre. $4,188 60
2. One piece containing upward of 16 acres of land, with the dwelling-house thereon, at $310 per acre. 5,085 11+
3. One piece containing upward of 20 acres, with the dwelling thereon, adjoining land on the North belonging to John I. Bennet, and on the South by James G. Bergen, at $ 95 per acre. 10,614 04
4. One piece situated on the road leading from the Narrows to Brooklyn, immediately in the rear of the first two parcels above described, at $350 per acre. 2,285 11
Total. $22,612 35

POLICE.—A boy about fifteen years of age was brought before Justice Pierce yesterday on a charge of stealing money from the premises of Mrs Murray 105 Pleasant-st. He was sent to the House of Refuge.... William Connely, who is engaged as a bar-tender in a porter-house kept by Mr. Young in New-York was brought before Justice Atwater, yesterday, on a charge of violently assaulting a boy named Henry Massur, while peacefully driving a market wagon in Jorsalemon-st. It appeared from the testimony that Connely who was intoxicated at the time, ran after the boy, dragged him from the wagon and then cruelly beat him. He was fined $10.... Catharine McLaughlin was brought before Justice Atwater, yesterday, on a charge of habitual drunkenness and violently assaulting her husband. She was sentenced to the Penitentiary for 3 months.... Mathias Leonardus Van Voort was brought before the same Justice on a charge of drunkenness and sent to the Penitentiary for 6 months.

Law Courts.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Before Judge Hurlbut.—William Silliman vs. Eugene Kettleter, and others.—The bill and proceedings in this case states that Mr. John Gardiner, deceased, made a will in 1817, and died the same year. He had never been married. His estate consisted mostly of unimproved property in the Tenth and other upper Wards. By his will he appointed, as the will states, James Gardiner executor, John Eyer, carpenter, and John Miller, carver, executors and trustees of his estate. He left three children—a son and two daughters. He devised to his son $10,000 in money, to be paid when he should arrive at the age of 21; and to each of his daughters $3,000, to be paid them when they attained the age of 21, the interest, in the meantime, to be applied to their education and support. Two-thirds of his real estate he devised to his said son during his natural life, to descend, in the event of his decease, to his heirs by lawful issue, and in default of such issue, to be divided equally, during their lives, to his said two daughters, the fee to descend to their children. In the event of either dying without issue, the share of such to be divided among the survivors under similar provisions.

He also directed his executors to pay the yearly sum out of the income of his said estate, during her life, if she remains single and unmarried, &c. otherwise the provision to be void, and she to be paid $250, and have no further claim on the estate.

There were also some other bequests, among them leaving to Thos. Palmerston, during his life, "the use and profits of my schooner call-ed the Huckaback, &c.

The will concludes "the trustees and executors to have the education and guardianship of my children, and I earnestly request and entreat their utmost care in and about the morals and education of my said children."

The son, John, died at an early age. Margaret Smith, to whom the legacy was left, we believe, is also long dead—and the whole estate, which has now become of immense value, devolves upon the two daughters for life and in fee to their children.

Of the daughters, Marion became united to Eugene Kettleter, Esq. and has several children; Jane, the other daughter, married Mr. Thos. S. McCarty, and has also several children. Mr. McCarty died, when the widow married Mr. Lord, a French merchant, and is now residing, with her husband and family, in France.

The executors of the estate, it appears, leased a large number of lots in different parts of the City for terms of 21 years, the leases to buildings thereon and to be entitled to renewal of lease for 20 years on reasonable ground rent. There is also a clause that at the event of the not having a renewal, the buildings to be appraised and the tenants allowed for them. The present controversy is in relation to premises Nos. 90 and 92 Cedar-st. (then called Arundel-st.) which were leased in 1825 and 1827 to David and Lucius Halsey, for the unexpired term of 21 years. Dwellings were erected upon them, and the premises have changed hands two or three times since, till, in 1841, the lease, with the privileges, were bought by Mr. Silliman. The ground rent paid the estate for the lots was $40 each.

The question now arose, whether the renewal of the said leases, Mr. Kettleter, by reason of the death of two of the executors, possessed an appointment from the Court of Chancery as sole and acting trustee and executor of the estate. The proposition was that the renewal for the term of 20 years should be made, and the rent applied to the purpose specified in the will, for the 20 years agreed upon; he consented to do so, provided $150 a year each was paid to them, and nothing to be said as to the buildings on the termination of the lease. This was objected to by the counsel for Mr. Silliman, who said, that he had taken his property without any lease, and that if the leases to be renewed and of no effect, inasmuch as the executors and trustees were not authorized to give them, the will stating that they should take care of and preserve the property, but it did not authorize them to could upon it, nor to pass it off their hands to be built upon, as has been done. It was also stated that Mrs. De Lesse had written from France, stating that she required her income to meet her expenses, and did not wish to wait.

The object of the proceeding, on the part of Mr. Silliman is for an order prohibiting Mr. Kettelles from entering a suit in ejectment to get, as he has given notice of, possession of the property, it being contended that he has become a party to the less by sanctioning the transfers, and also receiving the rents. It is said there are more than a hundred buildings on the premises, belonging to the estate similarly situated, awaiting the issue of this case. Argument was heard and decision reserved.—For complaint Mr. Silliman in person; for defendants Messrs. Woodruff and George Ward.

UNITED STATES MARSHAL'S OFFICE.—William Whitlesey and Thomas Bell, captain and mate of the ship Avalanche, were arrested by Dep. Marshal Collins, and held to bail for examination, charged by Frederick Wilson, one of the seamen, with cruel and unusual punishment, while the vessel lay at Antwerp.

COMMERCIAL AND MONEY MATTERS.

For Sales of Stocks, &c. see Fourth Page.

THURSDAY, July 20—P. M.

The Stock market continues dull, and the tendency of prices is downward. Sound Stocks barely maintain their value, and the Fancies are very weak—The explanation of this is the tightness of the money market and the absence of many operators from the street, who are at the Springs, Niagara and other places of Summer resort. The tightness of the money market is, however, the principal cause of the depression in stocks.

The Bill market was without much change today. The demand was moderate, and the market closed at 9¼@10 for first-class Sterling.

An engagement of 10,000 bushels Corn was made at 43d, in bulk, for Liverpool, and 2,000 bbls Flour at 1s; Cotton is ¼d@5-32d; heavy Freight 15s@20s.—An engagement of 800 bbls. Naval Stores was made to London at 2s. To the Continent there is not much doing.

The Steamer Washington and two French packets took about $125,000 in foreign silver coin, today. The price of foreign coins is so much reduced that shipments can still be made. None of the specie which has gone abroad for the last four days has come out of Banks.

The earnings of the Long Island Railroad for the first 19 days of July are $10,020, showing about the same results as during the same time last year.

In our notice of imports of Dry Goods a few days since, we wrote that there was a decrease of 14,000 packages during the 12 weeks ending June 10, compared with same time last year. The types made us say 146,000 packages, which is too important an error to remain uncorrected.

The annexed extract from the Circular of Messrs. Cammann & Whitehouse, prepared for the Steamer, contains some valuable information:

Per Caledonia.) NEW-YORK, July 18, 1848.

Our last reports were under date of 1st inst. The subsequent arrival of the Niagara with intelligence of the decadful events in Paris, has had an unfavorable influence on the Stock market. Money continues in great request, and active, continuing in active request, transactions have been limited, and it will be noticed that our quotations are somewhat lower, particularly those for several descriptions of Railroad shares. The receipts at the Treasury, on account of the new loan of $16,000,000, have been much larger than was expected. No obligations exclusive of the new issue were issued during the present month, and then only 30 per cent. could be demanded; but it is estimated that about $4,500,000 have already been paid in. This circumstance, although favorable as showing that the subscriptions to the loan were to a wide-spread extent for legitimate investment has doubtless had a considerable effect with the necessity of procuring cash for the duties on the Fall importations now arriving freely, the reduced facilities consequent upon our limited exports and other minor causes, led to the present scarcity of money, which may continue for some weeks to come, but we still adhere to what we have heretofore understood that the importations for the coming Autumn will not be more than two-thirds of those for the same season of 1847. As at the present low prices not more than half the amount will be required to pay for the diminished quantity, should the markets in the North of Europe prove ordinary consequential to the exportation of our products, we might depend on a period of great success for the country generally. Orders to a fair extent for American securities are received by each steamer, but only for those of the most prominent character. From the numerous inquiries now in progress in behalf of foreign capital, we are fully impressed that they are more disposed to obtain correct information than has heretofore been the case. We regret to find that an erroneous impression exists, that the transfer of the stocks from of this State by parties residing in foreign countries, is attended with difficulty. All that is necessary is to attach to the certificate a power of attorney, (similar in form to the accompanied blank,) with the signature thereto attested by the American Consul, Minister, or Charge des Affaire, resident in the country in which the power is executed, or by a public notary of such country. The name of the attorney or assignee need not be inserted until it is desirable to return the stock to this country for permanent transfer. The interest is payable on the greater part of the loans quarterly, viz. on the 1st January, April, July and October, and can be collected on a power of attorney of the party in whose name the stock may be recorded, without the return of the certificate. We make these full remarks, as the recent foreign demand has been more particularly in the American securities, which has (we have always the most prominent here, and justly so, as the population and wealth of the State is greater than that of any other in the Union.

The market for Sterling Bills has been quite inactive. Billets Paris at three months sight 5 francs to the dollar. Specie continues to be ship-ped to France, but in much reduced amounts. Our total exports of coin since 1st January last, has been $8,000,000, but as the receipts of late have been very large from the interior of the country, and in the c... considerable portion of the specie in the banks and Assistant Treasurer held now a longer sum out than 60 days since. The banks discount to a fair extent, but rates in the street rate high, and favorite signatures sell at 10@12 per cent per annum.

Very respectfully, CAMMANN & WHITEHOUSE.

The following are the receipts of the Housatonic Railroad Company for June, 1848:

For Freight.....$12,624 31
Passengers and Mail.....4,933 76
Total.....$17,558 07
Same month last year.....16,024 40
Increase.....$1,533 67

The Macon and Western Railroad Company of Georgia have declared a dividend of $2 per share.... The Long Island Bank 4½ per cent. for the last 6 mos.

On the Delaware Division of the Pennsylvania Canal, the aggregate receipts for 1848 to June 30, were.....$56,854
Against, for the same term in 1847.....55,567
showing a small excess for this year.

The money market continues stringent at Buffalo, and the Banks are doing but little.

The Springfield (Mass.) Manufacturing Company, commonly known as the Jencks Company, has suspended payment. This is one of the oldest and, heretofore, most successful manufacturing companies.—During all the monetary and business convulsions of the past 20 or 30 years, it has stood firm. The failure it is not supposed can prove a very disastrous one.

At Boston the money market is still close, but less so than it was. Business is very dull, and the purchasing of goods is only for the supply of immediate wants. The exports of specie from Boston last week amounted to $12,023, all but $3,600 of which was in doubloons, and went to the West India Islands. The $3,600 went to Liverpool in the steamer. The following table exhibits the value of the merchandise exported from Boston to foreign ports during the week ending July 15:

	Domestic Products.	Foreign Products.
To East Indies	$19,566 19	.....
To Italy	910 00	30,714 50
To Russia	20,052 00	3,405 00

To British Provinces	15,187 98	2,498 10
Total	$74,658 13	$41,130 97

Exchange on the East at St. Louis was 1 a 1½ premium.

The following is the result of the Cotton exports from Mobile this season:

The Washington (D. C.) News has the following remarks on the money market, &c. of the city:

It is reported here that Corcoran & Riggs have declined selling some two or three millions of the new loan at 105. They decline selling on application unless here in portion wishing to invest. It is estimated that they have taken out about two millions of the new loan, a great proportion of which, no doubt, has been sent abroad. Exchange on Boston is now 1 per cent. premium, and on New-York 1 per cent. The chance for Bounty Land Warrants, up to this time, that have been put in force at the Pension Office, number about 20,000, of these about 10,000 have been acted upon, warrants issued, and between 3,000 and 4,000 of those issued, have been returned to the General Land Office, and patents issued therefor.

It is estimated that the whole number of chance for land warrants on account of the Mexican War will reach 70,000.

War Bounty Scrip is selling at from 90@98. $108,325 of this scrip has been issued.

The interest is paid semi-annually at Corcoran & Riggs's. No arrangement has yet been made to pay the interest out of this city. This scrip is redeemable at the pleasure of the Government, and it is thought that the Government will make some provision for taking it up before the expiration of the time most likely to be issued will not warrant the expense and trouble of keeping separate books and accounts.
