Notice to Builders and Contractors

AT A MEETING OF THE CARPENTERS' and Joiners' Union No. 520, of Astoria, held January 23d, 1890, it was decided that, beginning on the 1st of March, 1890, and thereafter, nine hours will constitute a day's work for union members in Astoria and vicinity.

[Signed] JOHN NYLAND, Pres.
J. P. SCOTHAN, Secy.

To Fellow Carpenters:

A cordial invitation is extended to carpenters and joiners to unite with us. Brother toilers, it matters not who bears the standard of reform so it is carried aright. Master mechanics are made of flesh and blood the same as ourselves. All we have to do is to demand what is just and righteous and they will consent. Yours for humanity's sake, JOHAN STRAUSS is about to bring out a revised form of the waltz, because, in his opinion, the present generation is either not strong enough or not inclined to the rapid whirl of the true Vienna dance. Strauss's explanation is interesting: "Look around the ball room," says he, and you will find, no matter how delicious the waltz music that the orchestra may be playing, that the majority of the ladies remain seated, while the gentlemen lounge around the pillars and doors. All real pleasure dancing is lost, and only the rhythmical conversation dance still holds its ground. I intend to combine the conversation dance with the waltz, calling the new form the minuet waltz. It will be composed in three-four time, and consist of three sets, which all begin andantino gracioso, in the style of the minuet or polonaise. It will develop into the real waltz, with the present rapid whirl. Ladies will be able to accept lazy partners for the conversation part, while for the faster movements they can take partners who are still dancers."
