NEW-YORK TRIBUNE.

Meeting of the Historical Society.

A regular meeting of the Historical Society was held at the University on Tuesday evening—Hon. LUTHER BRADISH in the Chair.

Mr. BARTLETT presented from James Lenox, Esq. a set of volumes bearing the euphonious title of Wassenaer Historisch Verhaal—being a historical memoir or Monthly Register, published at Amsterdam between 1621 and 1635; detailing the remarkable events occurring during that period. Mr. Bartlett, in explaining the nature of the work, took occasion to remark that he considered it one of the most, if not the most valuable book we have yet had on the history of New-Netherlands—comprising as it does the earliest accounts of the formation of this goodly City, whereof Gov. Stuyvesant was afterward the worthy Chief Magistrate.—The following remarks of Mr. BROMHEAD, on the same work, in a recent note to a published letter, were also read by Mr. Bartlett:

"Wassenaer, in his Historisch Verhaal—a very rare work which I have lately had the good fortune to meet with in London—gives some very interesting particulars respecting New-Netherland, as early as 1623-24; and we all know that De Laet published in 1625 an account of the discoveries of Hudson and the other early navigators to our coast, whose journals he distinctly states, he had before him when he wrote. But the earliest detailed description of the Island of New-York, by a person who visited it himself in 1626, is now for the first time brought to light."

On motion of Mr. Bartlett, a special votes of thanks was tendered to Mr. Lenox for his valuable donation.

An Old Coin.—The Domestic Corresponding Secretary read a letter from Mr. R. F. TROWBRIDGE of Syracuse, transmitting an impression of a curious coin recently plowed up near that city. The coin was described as of silver, a little larger and much thicker than a shilling piece, with certain inscriptions similar to those on the Roman coin. Mr. T. desired information what it is, how it came there, &c.

A New National Name.—A letter was received from Mr. B. B. MISON of Virginia, wherein were sundry powerful recommendations for changing the National name to VIRGINIA. In urging its adoption, the writer considered that it possessed stronger advantages than any other plan proposed—entirely discarding the names of Alleghania, Columbia, Cabotii, and other interesting alterations which have been named in this connection. He, for one, was perfectly willing and ready to surrender the name of his beloved State to the whole Nation—and pressed the matter with a zeal worthy of so noble a cause! He pathetically recapitulated the eminent services of Virginia in the formation of the Union; the honorable position she has always held in the Confederation; her gift of the first and only unanimously-elected President of the United States—and various other strong recommendations, which it was considered, in conclusion, would appeal irresistibly to every heart.

Gen. WETMORE moved to refer the communication of Mr. Minor to the Executive Committee, with authority to publish it among the current proceedings of the the Society—which was supported by Judge CAMPBELL in a few appropriate remarks; wherein, however, he expressed his full belief that unless something extraordinary should occur, we shall continue to be known through future ages as the "United States of North America."

The motion of Gen. Wetmore, to refer and print, was adopted.

The Society's Catalogues.—Rev. Dr. GRISWOLD, inquiring what steps had been taken by the Executive Committee toward printing the Catalogues of the MSS. and printed Collections of the Society, took occasion to state that the Catalogue prepared by Mr. Moore, the Librarian, is altogether the most judicious and complete in this country. He urged the printing of this valuable Catalogue.—On explanation by members of the Executive Committee, however, the motion to print was withdrawn.

The Librarian.—JACOB B. MOORE, Esq. having tendered his resignation of the office of Librarian of the Society, it was accepted; and, on motion of Dr. PEET, of the Deaf and Dumb Institution, a vote of thanks was tendered Mr. M. for his assiduous, faithful and energetic services.—The Society then went into ballot on the selection of a new Librarian, and Mr. GEORGE H. MOORE was declared unanimously elected.

A vacancy thus occurring in the Executive Committee, the presiding officer nominated Rev. Dr. HAWKS; at the same time congratulating that gentleman on his return. Dr. HAWKS responded in his usual felicitous manner—reviewing the past and present condition of the Society, and expressing his gratification at its increasing prosperity.

Donations.—The Librarian announced the donations for the past month. Among them were complete sets of Almanacs from 1780 to 1810; the original edition of Clarendon's Rebellion; and various sets of Plates, several of which are scenes representing the Carnival at Rome.

Gov. Stuyvesant's Relatives.—Mr. BARTLETT made a report upon a question some time since propounded, viz: the circumstances under which the sister-in-law of Gov. Stuyvesant was thrown into prison on charge of witchcraft. This charge, it seems, was undoubtedly unfounded, but the affair was a cause of sore grief to the worthy Governor, "of blessed memory." He protested his sister's entire innocence of the "horrible crime" of which she stood charged; and in view of all this, the Committee reporting upon the subject saw every reason to clear up the character of one so nearly related to the Governor, in a manner perfectly satisfactory to all interested therein; all which was respectfully submitted.

—The business before the Society having been concluded, it was adjourned, on motion of Judge CAMPBELL, for the Summer months—to resume on the first Tuesday of October next.

Meeting of the Farmers' Club—The Rose-Bug, &c.

A regular meeting of the Club was held on Tuesday—Mr. CARTER of Long Island in the chair.

Mr. MEIGS presented a variety of interesting matters, from which we take the following on Early Tomatoes.—A communication was received from Mr. Jacob Grosvenor of this City, wherein he states that there are here many rooms and places so near a hot house temperature that, with a little careful management, Tomatoes may be sown in January and by the 1st of March may be transplanted in troughs four feet in length and six inches square, which may be placed tier above tier on racks, in a room of moderate warmth; and by the first of May they will be in hight at least eighteen inches, and so forward that the first will be produced a month or six weeks earlier than usual.—Three thousand plants will fill 375 boxes. They are transplanted four feet apart, requiring one and one-eighth acres of land. In this way, they ought to yield 1,500 bushels of fruit. Mr. Grosvenor remarks: Be your own judge of the price at which an article produced thus early in the season can be sold.

He observes, farther, that Tomato culture is but a part of what may be accomplished in this way. It is indispensable to have many boxes twelve feet in length by four wide and two deep—making as perfect a Mushroom bed as possible. Each year, if by the first of January the said beds are properly filled with manure, raise on this all the Tomatoes wanted; by which time the Mushrooms will begin to appear, and if properly filled and managed, will bear plentifully for one year. They will sell, says Mr. G. for whatever you please to ask, and ought to pay every expense for themselves and for the Tomatoes.

Mexican Corn from the Sierra Nevada.—Mr. George M. Snow sent to the Club for distribution a specimen of Mexican Corn grown on the Sierra Nevada in California at an elevation of 9,000 feet above the sea—brought hither by Mr. Parrott, U. S. Consul for Mazatlan. Its peculiarities are a very small cob, rarely more than four inches in length, and remarkably large grains. It is said to yield abundantly.

Some conversation ensued. The CHAIRMAN thought this variety of Corn would yield nearly as much more flour as that ordinarily cultivated here.

Mr. MEIGS considered that very remarkable results may be obtained from a culture, in the valleys, of grain grown upon the mountains. He thought the appearance of this specimen very similar to our common Horse-tooth, yet combined with the hardness of the Flint; and therefore valuable.

The Rose-Bug.—This regular subject of the day then came up. Judge VAN WYCK detailed his experience. He had tried the remedies of snuff and sulphur with no success, and had finally fallen back upon Dr. Underhill's plan of placing tin pans under his grape-vines, and sweeping the destructive insects into them by the score. They were then summarily dispatched. He pursued this for several days, thinking he would be sure of getting rid of some; and killed in this way, finally, a number of quarts of the destroyers.

He described the appearance of the Bug as about a third larger than the common horse-fly, beautifully variegated. Others said it was brown, and others again had seen it of another color. But all agreed as to its destructive powers.

Finally, by suggestion of the Chairman, a Committee was appointed to make observations and render a Report upon the subject; and it was continued over for discussion at the next regular meeting. The Committee appointed were Dr. Underhill, Mr. Wells of Long Island, Judge Van Wyck, Mr. Meigs and Mr. Ross.

Law Courts.

POLICE COURT.—Three men named Edward Matthews, Philip Farthing and Ashbury D. Crane were arrested in the Eighth Ward last night, on a suspicion of burglary; and in answer.... A man named Owen Conklin was committed to prison yesterday, on a charge of passing a counterfeit $5 bill on a grocer in the Eleventh Ward, named Hardy Butterworth.... Two colored men, named John Hutton and John Weeks, were taken into custody on a charge of attempting to pass bad money on James Bryan. On being searched, the officers found some unlawful weapons in their pockets.... Joseph F. Branch and William Mulligan were arrested yesterday, on suspicion of stealing a horse and wagon. They were committed to prison by Justice Matsell.

BROOKLYN.

COURT OF OYER AND TERMINER.—This Court commenced its sittings to-day, Judge Morse and Justice Hughes and Wright presiding. The terms of the Grand and Petit Jurors were called, and after the delivery of the charge to the Grand Jury, the Court adjourned. Judge Morse was occupied during the remainder of the day in hearing motions. The Court of Oyer and Terminer will here after meet in the New City Hall every morning at 10 o'clock.

CIRCUIT COURT.—This Court was opened in the splendid room in the east wing of the City Hall yesterday morning at 10 o'clock. His Honor, Judge Morse, presiding. The case of Jacob Crisler vs. D. Palmer was called on. This was an action for trespass, in breaking into the premises of the plaintiff, consisting of an oyster saloon, while he was sick with the small pox.—Ald. Church, for plaintiff; J. M. Van Cott, Esq. for defendant. Verdict to-day.

CITY COURT.—The case of John Cavanagh, indicted for selling liquor without license was continued this morning.

POLICE COURT.—Officers Higgins and Wright arrested, on Monday night, two men, named Mandeville and Montgomery, on a charge of having obtained a large quantity of merchandise, &c. by false and fraudulent pretenses. It appeared that these men, formerly resided in Brooklyn, and by fraudulent means succeeded in obtaining the goods aforesaid, and immediately decamped therewith and concealed them somewhere in Rockland Co. They commenced their depredations upon several houses in this city, and a search was instituted upon their movements. It was supposed that they intended hence for the removal of more property, when they were arrested and locked up for examination.

☞ The Philadelphia Inquirer of Saturday says: We state with pleasure that Com. Geo. C. Read has been fully acquitted by the Court Martial, sitting at the Gosport Navy Yard, of all the charges preferred against him, and that the decision has been duly approved by the Navy Department.

STEAM HAND PLANING—The subscriber has just obtained letters-patent for a machine which combines the principle of hand planing with steam-power, securing a great rapidity and perfection of execution. The board is carried forward under the action of stationary plane-irons, by the rapid revolutions of a crank and fly-wheel, giving to the board a sudden forward motion, like the push of the hand-plane, so favorable to smooth planing. A parallel motion, like the hand-plane, at each end of the machine, reciprocated by the crank, seizes the board and carries it forward at every revolution, the length of the stroke taking the board entirely clear of the machine—planing and tongue and grooving at same operation boards of any width, at the rate of 100 feet in length per minute. The work is done far smoother than with rotary cutters, and better even than with the finest knife by hand. The machine is simple, strong and durable, and warranted to work well.
