The Tribune trusts that North Platte's rather large bevy of bachelor girls will not fail to take advantage of the privilege which is theirs during 1916. We have on our list twenty-seven bachelor boys who can be had for the asking and all of them are tractable and could easily be trained into model husbands—the kind who would want their wives to dress well, have plenty spending money, and who will stay at home seven nights a week if requested to do so. Those who wish to look over the list may apply personally to the editor.

The mean temperature last month, as recorded by the local weather bureau, was a little over one degree higher than the normal for December. The highest during the month sixty-four degrees and the lowest two degrees below zero. The precipitation for the month was eighty-two one hundredths of an inch, which is nearly double the normal for December. The year closed with an excess of 13.84 inches of precipitation as compared with the average year for forty-two years. The coldest December day we have had in that period was thirty below zero.

We are preparing just as fast as possible for our Semi-Annual Loom End Sale. We have been picking up bargains, all kinds of good things, all fall and winter with this sale in mind. Even with the advance of merchandise there will be no advance on ours. We forewarn the possibility of the advance, therefore did our buying accordingly. For this semi-annual event we will make our store the bargain center of the city. Watch the papers, we will let you know about the one event of the season. There will be the big hand bills, also the announcement in the papers. Watch, you won't have to wait long.

CELEBRATE 50TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY SATURDAY

Fifty years of happy married life has been the lot of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. McDonald, residents of the Fourth ward of this city, the anniversary occurring last Friday. On the following day the event was celebrated by a pleasant gathering of members of the family and the grandchildren, and the serving of a splendid dinner prepared by the lady members of the party. Those present were Ira McDonald, of Geneva, Neb., Mr. and Mrs. Fred Donaldson and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Rose, of this city, Elmer McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. John Sims, and the grandchildren. It was a happy day for the aged parents and none the less so for the assembled relatives. In fact the event was so enjoyable that the gathering re-assembled Sunday and another pleasant day was spent.

Mr. and Mrs. McDonald were married near Bedford, Iowa, in 1865. In 1892 they came to Lincoln county and homesteaded on land south of the river. There they remained for twelve years when they moved to town and have since resided here.

Both have reached that point in the journey on earth when the shadows fall to the east—the sunset of a good and well-spent life. May their twilight be ever pleasant and peaceful.

It's Just This Way About Your Eyes.
You may go on straining them—we can't help you in our talks in this paper; we can warn you, but it's only in a personal way that we can do you any good. If you wait for serious eye troubles you must make the consequences. The sooner the easier in eye care. C. S. CLINTON, Registered Optometrist.

The Presbyterian aid society will be entertained by Mesdames Herbert Baker, P. J. Barron and Carter Thursday afternoon in the church basement.

C. H. Walter, the stock buyer, has been transacting business in Omaha for several days.
