☞ Important from Canada.—QUEBEC, July 24, 1849.—To all who are afflicted with Asthma: I have at different times before this been subjected to severe colds, which produced in my case the Asthma. I have, on these occasions, used Dr. WISTAR'S Balsam of Wild Cherry. Two years ago I was quite sick—so much so that I could not rest at nights. I procured of the agent in this city a bottle of this Balsam of Wild Cherry. Before I had taken the whole of it I felt relieved. I continued taking it, until I had used three or four bottles, which completely cured me. The present season I took another severe cold, and immediately resorted to the same remedy, and in part of one bottle had the desired effect. I therefore cheerfully recommend my friends and all others who need it, to try this medicine for their coughs and colds, and particularly the asthma.

Respectfully yours, WM. MCGRATH.

BOOK TRADE.

THE ENCYCLOPEDIA BRITANNICA,

A DICTIONARY of the Arts, Sciences and General Literature. Seventh Edition. Edited by Prof. Macvey Napier, assisted by the most eminent writers of the day. Complete in 21 vols. 4to. with numerous plates, in half Russia or cloth.

The great advantage which the Encyclopedia Britannica possesses over all its rivals is the very admirable plan it early adopted of collecting together in an alphabetical arrangement a large number of general treatises on all subjects requiring continuous discussion, intermixed with the more subordinate heads, and instead of referring back to the main essay itself from each particular head, as is the case with the most costly competitors, each head itself is accompanied by a short explanation, embracing all that is requisite for a general knowledge of the subject upon which information is sought.

The Encyclopedia Britannica is a perfect library in itself. The Arts and Sciences; Theology, Philosophy and Political Economy; Natural History, History and Biography; Belles-Lettres and General Literature; in short, all subjects of intellectual enjoyment are embraced within its pages. As the eye glances along the splendid list of talent it reads upon those of Reid, Dugald Stewart, Sir John Leslie, Playfair, Sir D. Brewster, Dr. Brownde, Sir Walter Scott, Lord Jeffrey, Arago, Biot, Young, Professor Wallace, Professor Napier, Professor Hampden, Dr. Lardner, Dr. Wash. Hewitt, Tytler, Mair, De Quincy, Irving, Wilson, Malthus, Ricardo, Mill, M'Culloch, Milne, M'Culloch, Dr. Traill, Arnott and Phillips, Sir James Smith, Tredgold, and Galloway, and a number of others, all of whom have achieved for themselves a European reputation.

The Preliminary Dissertations, embracing the History of Metaphysical and Ethical Philosophy, and Mathematical and Physical Science, contain the latest information upon all subjects brought under discussion. s20 2tis
