Notice to Mariners.

It has been stated that iron light houses are about to be constructed at Cape Fear, Smith's Island, and on the Grand Tork at Turke Island, both of which will be of great value to Commerce. These light houses are to be similar to that erected in 1844-45 on Gibbs's Hill, Bermuda. Though the attention of a friend we are enabled to give the following accurate description of the Bermuda light-house. [Boston Adv.

The light-house on Gibbs's Hill is the second only on a large scale that has ever been constructed of iron. Both it and the former one—on Morant Point, Jamaica—are the design and contrivance of Alexander Gordon, Civil Engineer, London. The tower is 24 feet in diameter at the base, and 14 feet at the neck, under the hollow conoidal capital which supports the gallery. The gallery itself is 20 feet in diameter, and the lantern is 10 feet 9 inches in diameter, with a 6 feet focal plane. The carcass of the tower is of cast-iron plates, joined by wrought iron bolts and by iron cement. There are in all 138 concentric plates, 10 in the circle, carrying in weight from 1¼ ton to 15 cwt. The necessary stability is given to the building by a mass of concrete nearly 300 tons weight, contained between the outside tower and the water, and the walls of a central circular well, 8 feet in diameter, through which well access is gained to the upper rooms of the tower. The mass of concrete reaches to a height of 24 feet in the light-house, and at this height the first floor is laid, above this floor, each 10 feet in light, divided from each other by iron floors, supported on the outer plates, and on a central hollow column, which runs from top to bottom of the light-house, and serves for a passage for the weight of the revolving machine of the light. The ascent is made by a spiral winding stair of perfectly easy gradation. The two rooms next above the concrete are cased with brick work, to serve as oil and store rooms—the rest are lined with sheet iron, disposed in large panels, with ocean pilasters and cornices, and are large enough for comfortable dwelling rooms.

The light is a revolving dioptric lens light of the first order, with mirrors," with one central lamp of four concentric wicks. It will be one of the largest and most powerful in the world. The light by reflection should be seen from the deck of a ship of the ordinary height of vessels 20 to 27 miles, but as the atmosphere makes the greatest difference at which objects are discerned at sea, it may often be seen at a distance of 32 or 34 miles. The light for this light-house was manufactured by Messrs. Wilson, of Long Acre, London.

Height of Gibbs's Hill from high water mark	245 0
Hight of light-house to gallery	105 9
Hight from gallery to center of lamp	11 0
Hight from center of light to top of vane	17 0
Total hight from high water level to extreme top of vane	378 9

The first plate was erected in its place on the 19th December, 1844, and the last plate of the tower on the 19th October, 1846.

BULL'S PATENT VENTILATING FURNACE.—The superiority of this Furnace over all others, consists, among others, in the following important points. 1. The heat from the fuel is so perfectly economised that no more can escape into the chimney than is barely sufficient to create a draught. 2. By an entirely new and original method of distribution, the heat is more freely imparted to the air flowing into the house. 3. It is the only furnace producing a direct and positive ventilation, as by its action the cold foul air is drawn off, and is immediately replaced by a copious volume of fresh warm air, which is equally diffused throughout the house. 4. A new and more proper method of supplying the necessary water for evaporation, and also for governing the varying temperature of the apartments.

The construction of this Heater has been so strictly governed by Philosophical principles, and its effective operation, both as a Warmer and Ventilator, has been so apparent as to attract the attention of our most eminent men, among whom Professor Griscom has deemed it worthy of a particular description in a valuable work on the "Uses and Abuses of Air," Published by J. S. Redfield, N. Y.

Reference to the Commissioners of Emigration, who have seven of these heaters in successful operation, and to the following certificate, selected from a number, are all that is necessary to demonstrate its high claims to public regard.

JAS. H. BULL, Esq.—Dear Sir:—I, with pleasure, state that your Furnace put up in the Eighth-av. Presbyterian Church, has given entire satisfaction. Not only the main body of the Church, but the basement story also, has been kept warm during the past winter most ta. It has likewise thoroughly ventilated both apartments, and kept the atmosphere in a pleasant state of purity, and at the same time saved but three tons of Coal. Thus proving to me if to be what you claim for it, viz: An economical Ventilating Furnace. Very respectfully, your ob't. servant, J. W. SAVAGE

NEW-YORK, April 17, 1849. Pres't. Board of Trustees.

$50 REWARD.—Whereas, on the morning of the 6th of August last, between 12 and 3 o'clock, some one or more entered my house, by boring through a door leading to the basement, and ransacked the whole of the lower part, bored the lock out of my book-case, and took numerous articles therefrom, viz: one memorandum book, one spy-glass made in Paris, one case of mathematical instruments, one large dirk-knife with ivory handle and spring, one small pocket compass, &c.; from the parlor they took a clock or mantel time piece, with the figure of Venus sitting upon a rock examining a shell, she has having left the water, and all sculptured from solid white Italian marble; one small silver basket, lattice work, with imitation Mosaic bottom. The above reward will be paid to any one who will return the articles to the subscriber, or give information where he may get them or part of them. $20 will be paid for the clock; $20 for the memorandum book; $10 for the balance.—Sept. 4, 1849.

ABBOTT'S COLLEGIATE

INSTITUTION FOR YOUNG LADIES.

REV. GORHAM ABBOTT, PRINCIPAL.

Springer Institute, Union Park.

THE AUTUMN TERM will commence Wednesday, Sept. 12. The location and appointments of this new Edifice, erected and furnished at an expense of about seventy thousand dollars, present as desirable facilities for its great object, as have ever been combined in any similar institution. Its spacious Halls, its Lecture Room, Chemical and Philosophical Apparatus, and its Cabinet of Rocks, embrace every convenience for education. s12 2w

EDUCATION.—Mr. A FOIGNET, one of the firm of Mesars. Foignet & Taylor's Classical, French and English School, 799 Broadway, will take the opportunity to inform his friends and the public that he is residing now in a more eligible location, (164 Twelfth-st.) and will as heretofore receive in his family a limited number of boys as boarders. Any of his friends, guardians or heads of families, who wish to avail themselves of the advantages of his school, may by this accommodation secure their anxious opportunity for perfecting themselves in the knowledge of the French, which is the language of Mr. F's family. Mr. F. is aware that INSTRUCTION is a comparatively small part of EDUCATION. The latter is not confined to the school-room, but it is to be pursued in the dining-room, in the sleeping room, indeed wherever the child may be; it will therefore be one of Mr. F's greatest efforts to give to the children intrusted to his care that polish of manner which becomes gentlemen's sons, and this task will be easy, as his pupils will only associate with persons of discretion and kind feelings.—For terms, see circulars with Messrs. Delluc & Co. 2 Park Row 361 Broadway, John Milhau, 185 Broadway, Roe Lockwood & Son, 414 Broadway, and at Mr. F's residence, 164 Twelfth-st. near University-place. Their assistants are gentlemen of education and experience. The French will be taught and spoken exclusively three hours a day, and the most untiring efforts will be made to render pupils at home, in every branch of a French education. Boys are received at any stage of education, and thoroughly prepared for college or business. For terms see Circulars with Messrs. Delluc & Co. Park row and 361 Broadway, E. Dupuy, Broadway, John Milhau, 185 Broadway, J. B. Dodd, Broadway, H. A. Kerr, Broadway, and at the school. s3 4wend

The success that has attended this system of instruction, in the principal schools of this city, and in Brooklyn, is a sufficient guaranty that the progress of the pupil will be commensurate with the time and attention given. The books are published by J. Metcalf, (successor to W. Jones,) 247 Broadway. J. METCALF occupies his time, during the day, in teaching writing in schools. s8 2w*

MEDICINES.

CHOLERA.—A SURE REMEDY! A PREVENTIVE!! A CURE!!!—The following letter is from Mr. Woodward of St. Louis, to J. N. Harris, Esq. New-London, Conn. general wholesale agent for our Pain Killer.

Mr. Woodward is a resident of St. Louis, a gentleman of high respectability, and during the prevalence of the cholera in that city has watched the results of the application of our Pain Killer for this disease, and his testimony can be relied upon with the utmost confidence.

ST. LOUIS, May 31, 1849.

J. N. HARRIS, Esq.—Dear Sir: You will recollect when I saw you in New-London, in January last, my expressing to you my most sanguine expectations that Dr. Lee's Pain Killer would have a large sale in the West this season, and my anticipations have been more than realized, and the testimony of thousands who have used it has been the, they would not be willing to go to bed at night without it in the house.

On the appearance of the cholera in this city, such was the confidence in the Pain Killer as a remedy, that many who purchased it returned and said that they had no fears or dread of the cholera as long as they had the Pain Killer by them, and hundreds took it daily as a preventive, for no person can have a derangement of the bowels or diarrhea if they use this medicine daily. This was the security and confidence of hundreds acquainted with it, and when their friends were attacked with the cholera they would administer this remedy to large quantities internally, and also externally by bathing and rubbing them with it, and in every case where it has been taken in the first stages of the disease it has proved successful. I consider it an infallible remedy. I have not heard of an individual in any family who used the Pain Killer when attacked but what speedily recovered.

Capt. Bradford, of the steamer Atlantic, a New-Orleans packet, informed me that on one of his trips up the river to this city there were upward of seventy cases of cholera on board, and the Pain Killer was used with complete and triumphant success.

The clerk informed me that he administered it to persons when about to take the cholera, and it gave immediate relief, but still it should be given quickly, for when the discharge of "rice water" has begun the hope of life has fled. Should this disease make its appearance among you, as in all probability it will, be not alarmed, you and all others there have the remedy, and I am confident if the Pain Killer is used not a single death will occur in your city.

If the cholera comes among you, watch its progress, and the remedy use, and mark my words, the family who use the Pain Killer daily will have no diarrhea, no disarrangement of the bowels, and consequently no cholera. If those who are attacked will use the Pain Killer early and thoroughly they will be saved. This has been the experience of hundreds here in this city during the ravages of this dreadful disease.

I have not been able to supply one-fourth of the demand. I have received orders from persons begging me to send them some.

Now, for your own sake, for my sake, and for the sake of suffering thousands, make some arrangements that your agents may be supplied. Increase your manufacture, do something that a suffering world may be relieved from pain, for the time will come when not a family on this continent will be willing to do without it a single day.

Respectfully yours, A. T. WOODWARD.

Those using the Pain Killer should strictly observe the following directions:

At the commencement of the disease take a teaspoonful of Pain Killer in sugar and water, and then bathe freely across the stomach and bowels with the Pain Killer clear.

Should the diarrhea or cramps continue, repeat the dose every fifteen minutes. In this way the dreadful scourge may be checked and the patient relieved in the course of a few hours.

N. B. Be sure and get the genuine article, as there is some spurious stuff about the country. For sale by the principle druggists in the United States.
