NEW-YORK TRIBUNE.

SONNETS.... For The Tribune.

BY E. JERSEY EAMES.

I.

Thou hast had some calm hours of ease, my soul,
When life was new, and sunny skies arch'd o'r thee:—
When pure bright spirits filled Youth's golden bowl
With incense flowers, and luminous before thee
The path of glory in the future lay,
And hopes, like stars, lit radiantly the way.
All vanished now! Upon the lonely altar
Of stern, high duty must He immolate
Thy dearest hopes; nor must thou fall and falter
In the great Human race,—but meet thy fate
As one whose Life is sealed and set apart
To "suffer and be strong"! Courage, my heart!
Give one last thought to what thou wert and art,
Then for the final end in patience wait

I.

And if in patience thou dost keep thy soul,
Its perfect work shall unto thee be given;
If steadfasty thou gazest at the goal,
True to the life entrusted thee by Heaven—
If high and higher till that goal thou win,
Thou soarest above the world thou wanderest in—
Still "Pure in Heart," angels of Good shall guide thee
Through all the Evils of this lower Earth;
Thou shalt walk safe, whatever may betide thee,
So thou art Faithful to thy newer Birth.
So thou accept thy lot, calmly relying
On Heaven to aid thee in each high endeavor,
And to thy need the Voice within replying,
Will bid thee still, through all, Hope on—Hope ever!

A NEW AND IMPROVED COOK STOVE.

THE PUBLIC ARE INVITED to examine the principle on which the fuel is burnt in this stove, being entirely new, and pronounced by some of the first judges in the city, to be the most economical to assume the place of any stove now in use. A few improvements are here set forth:

1st. They have no grate in the bottom, the coal resting upon a solid Surface. No cold air is admitted to deaden the fire.

2d. The air is heated before it reaches the fire, by passing through a hot air chamber, consequently the coal is all consumed.

3d. It is air tight, and so constructed that it needs no raking; it is free from dust, and none can escape into the room.

4th. It is economical, the application of the heated air, in connection with the fact that it cannot be disturbed by raking, causes a complete combustion of the coal, a principle never before attained in any stove.

One or more of the stoves constantly in operation at the manufactory, 207 Water-st, also corner South Sixth and First-sts, Williamsburgh. Sold wholesale and retail on the most reasonable terms of any in the city.
L. WOOD, Patentee.

If after a trial of two months the stove proves unsatisfactory, the purchaser money will be returned. n1 1m

PHILANTHROPIC ANNOUNCEMENT.
DURING THE MONTH OF NOVEMBER

I SHALL PLACE 1,000 BOTTLES at the disposal of those who cannot afford to purchase them. These will be distributed every day at my office, 130 Broadway, between the hours of one and two o'clock in the afternoon. Let none be deterred from applying by a feeling of false pride. Every one knows that long sickness is often the ruin of many a respectable and industrious family, who have any thing but the means left to employ the best medical aid. Apply at my office from 8 A.M. to 7 P.M. and consult the book which is kept there, in which are faithfully recorded the residence, the name, and the disease (verified by a physician) of every patient. Though nearly all who have consulted me have been declared incurable, yet in more than one month has not yet elapsed since my remedy was administered, and I have perfected cures in other cases to a fair way of recovery, and others have not yet reported progress. Those who desire to ascertain the truth of my professions, can possess themselves of the most desirable means of investigation, short as is the time that has elapsed since the publication of my discovery.

$4000 REWARD.—On expecting two boxes of gold dust, one at Philadelphia, marked John DeWitt & Co. New-York, and the other at Baltimore, marked T. D. & S. a part of the contents are missing. These boxes were shipped on board the steamship Oregon the last of September, at San Francisco for Panama, and thence overland to Chagres, at which place they were reshipped for New-York by the steamship Empire City, and at Philadelphia they were reshipped for Philadelphia and Baltimore. Near 800 ounces of gold dust, worth over $4000, appear to have been abstracted, by boring the wood of both boxes with an instrument of about one inch size, and plugging the holes with white pine, using a small red tape around the end of the plug, and by piercing the tin in the first box with a different instrument, and the lower iron bottom of the second box with a screw. Any one offering to sell gold dust, or the new holes in both boxes seized with brightened sealing wax.

$1000 reward will be paid for the apprehension and conviction of the person or persons who have committed this depredation, and $1000 additional for the recovery of the gold abstracted, or in proportion for any part of it.
