NEW-YORK TRIBUNE.

NEW-YORK, THURSDAY, NOV. 29.

Proclamation.

By HAMILTON FISH, Governor of the State of New-York.

A season of gratitude to Almighty God for his numerous manifestations of goodness during the past year, calls for a public expression of thanks from a People who have experienced the full measure of blessings which have been vouchsafed to us.

Peace and quiet have reigned throughout our land. The labors of the husbandman have been rewarded in the returns of the fruits of the earth. Industry has pursued its accustomed walks in all its varied employments, and its votaries have enjoyed honest and well earned rewards. Civil and religious Liberty continue to be vouchsafed to all within our borders—and the blessings of the Gospel are extended to all who desire to enjoy its comforts and its consolations. A few weeks since, the whole Nation, in humble dependence, united in earnest prayer to Almighty God to withdraw the grievous pestilence which was ravaging the land; that visitation has passed, and the blessing of public health is restored.

It becomes a grateful and a Christian people to acknowledge these mercies, and to render thanks to their bountiful Giver.

I do therefore designate Thursday, the twenty-ninth day of November, instant, and do recommend its observance by the People of this State, as a day of Public Thanksgiving to Almighty God.

In WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto signed my name and affixed the Privy Seal of the State, at the City of Albany, this first day of November, one thousand eight hundred and forty-nine.

(L. S.) HAMILTON FISH.

By order of the Governor:
ROBERT H. MORRIS, Private Secretary.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, NEW-YORK.

☞ Proclamation.—Believing that the observance of the time-honored custom of setting apart a day for special Thanksgiving to Almighty God for his beneficent Providence toward us will be cordially received by my fellow-citizens,

I do, in conformity with the recommendation of the Governor of this State, respectfully recommend that the 29th of November instant, be observed for that purpose, and that the people suspend their ordinary business, and assemble at their usual places of religious worship, for the purpose of uniting with each other in offering their tribute of praise and thanksgiving to the Author of all spiritual and temporal good; and let each of us as have special cause of gratitude to God manifest it not only by the silent emotion of our hearts, but also by contributing of our substance to the necessities of our less-favored fellow-citizens.

Given under my hand and the seal of Mayoralty of said City, this twenty-seventh day of November, A D. 1849.

C. S. WOODHULL, Mayor.

☞ As usual on Thanksgiving Day, no Evening Edition of The Tribune will be published.

Thanksgiving.

In compliance with the recommendation of State and Municipal Authorities, this honored annual festival will to-day be observed throughout our borders. We trust that, whether in necessary labor or relaxation, in the services and sermons of the Churches, or the genial flow of social feeling, the people may worthily adore the benignity of that Providence which works in laws of serene and changeless wisdom, whereby the Earth yields her fruits, events have their consequences, ideas and truths become facts, and Humanity through disaster and through triumph, is developed toward the age of Abundance, Brotherhood and Harmonious Activity.

Reasons for thankfulness are never wanting, but yet in the healthy air of this beautiful season, with an abundant harvest garnered for consumption, the fatal pestilence no longer bearing fear and desolation among our habitations, peace smiling over all the country, and the large liberty of thought and enterprise established by our fathers still enjoyed without diminution, the generous heart must expand with peculiar delight and gratitude to the Supreme Power, who is the abiding Life and Creator of Nature and of Man.

Afflictions which weigh on other nations are spared us; from the terrible extremes of poverty and famine we are secure; the principles of Liberty, National Unity and Social Progress, elsewhere crushed beneath the heel of bloody ferocity or smothered by unscrupulous fraud, yet poor from these shores their benign light upon the world; and whatever difficulties beset our path, the Future of America still wears a grand and benignant aspect. For all these things let us rejoice and give thanks, not as if they were in any the least sense our personal property, but as held in trust for the world; not as if they were a perfect and final achievement but as the means and instruments of still greater good!

☞ THE FOREIGN NEWS which we publish this morning gives no confirmation of the report that Kossuth and his fellow Exiles are to be imprisoned in Turkish dungeons in order to gratify the Czar of Russia. Had that been anything more than a rumor picked up by a newspaper correspondent and enlarged and embellished in the way of his trade, it could hardly have failed to be heard of from other and more authoritative sources in the course of a week. We did not believe it when we first saw it and do not now; Turkey has no reason for loving Russia enough to consent to her jailer, nor is it likely that she would choose a question on which she is assured of the entire support of France and England to degrade herself before her hereditary mortal enemy. We still hope to see Kossuth, Pereel and the rest of these noble fellows on the free soil of America.

—What positive intelligence there is is of no great importance; for the first time these two years we publish a dispatch containing the news from Europe with the price of Cotton as its most salient point! The old times are coming back again, but who knows how long they will stay?

☞ It will be seen by the fuller account of Mr. Rives' reception by President Bonaparte, which is contained in our European dispatch this morning that Mr. Bonaparte expressed himself very cordially and politely on that occasion. What will the unfortunate Evening Post do in such a case after having proved beyond cavil that the French Executive was intensely insulting in his speech, and that Gen. Taylor's Cabinet were servilely to blame for it?

☞ A telegraphic dispatch in another column contains some interesting intelligence from Santa Fé and from Salt Lake. According to this report the Mormons have arrested an individual who was passing through their country, and tried him on the charge of participating in the war which resulted in their expulsion from Nauvoo; they are also said to express great hostility toward the United States. Now as for this latter statement, we disbelieve it altogether. It is quite possible that there may be individuals among the Mormons who cherish such a feeling, but it is absurd to attribute it to the mass of the people. Have they not just made the strongest possible manifestation of attachment to this nation and its institutions by solemnly asking to be admitted to the Union?

As to the arrest and trial of Mr. Pomeroy it will be quite time to believe it fully when we have more complete accounts. We cannot see, however, that supposing it to be as stated, the Mormons have done a very unnatural or a very unjust thing.

A DISTINGUISHED FINANCIER IN A FIX.—A Washington correspondent of the Commercial Advertiser narrates the following good joke, but awfully unpleasant fact in connection with a gentleman who has passed for a great manager of the public finances, though not so successful in his own:

The passage through the Bible State of Maryland, on the great route between the North and South, has become more perilous to a certain class of travelers than the terrors of Sylla and Charybdis. Delaware still retains in her civil code that most unpopular and unamiable feature, imprisonment for debt. A few days since Mr. Walker, the Secretary of the Treasury, was returning from a visiting tour at the North. He had last been on a visit to the famous Pottsville coal region. He was accompanied by his family. On his arrival at Wilmington he was arrested for a debt of $6,000, and was threatened with imprisonment in Castle Gaol. His friends, Capt. Swift, President of the Ohio and Baltimore Railroad Company, and the President of the Reading Railroad Company, who had accompanied him upon his visit to the mines, were informed by telegraph of his situation, and promptly had an engine for a special train got in readiness, with which they proceeded to Wilmington from Philadelphia, and had him released by giving bail.

NAVAL.—A Naval Court Martial is ordered to convene on board the U. S. ship Pennsylvania to-day, the 17th inst, at 10 o'clock, for the purpose of trying certain men belonging to the U. S ship Germantown for mutinous conduct. The Court will be composed of the following named officers: President—Commander JOHN L. SAUNDERS. Members—Commanders Thomas A. Dornin, D. G Farragut, Robert B. Cunningham; Lieuts. John A Davis, Richard L. Page, Charles H. Poor. Judge Advocate—Arthur Sinclair.

The U. S. ship Saratoga, Commander Nicholson, arrived in Hampton Roads yesterday, in six days from Havana. [Portsmouth (Va.) Pilot, 27th.

☞ We learn unofficially that J. Nevitt Steele, Esq. of Maryland, has been appointed Chargé d'Affaires to the Republic of Venezuela. [Nat. Intel.

ST. LOUIS, Wednesday, Nov. 28.

Lieut Harrison of the army, was murdered on the 14th of Nov. by a party of Tonkawa Indians on the Colorado River. He belonged to the escort corps of Capt Marcy, and was returning from Santa Fé. Mr. Marcy had arrived from Washita. Mr. Thomas Forsyth, who arrived lately from Salt Lake, passed many California emigrants during the month of Sept. Gen. Wilson was at Salt Lake when he left. Mr. Pomeroy of Lexington, had been tried by the Mormons for participating in the Mormon wars. A party of Mormons had arrived from California a few days before Forsyth left, bringing much gold. The Mormons generally express great hostility toward the United States.

Opera Concert—John Grossman—Dunn's Lectures—Philadelphia Markets.

Correspondence of The Tribune.

PHILADELPHIA, Wednesday, Nov. 28.

The concert given by Benedetti and his opera assistants, was a failure in point of numbers. They give another on Friday at reduced prices.

John Grossman, who killed Mullins in your City, is still here and I learn will be in New-York this week to deliver himself up. He was preparing to start for California, and part of his equipment was the knife with which he effected the fatal deed. His parents are of this city, and very estimable persons.

The lectures of Mr. Dunn of Boston, commenced last evening. The Hall of the Pennsylvania University was so overcrowded that he will be compelled to repeat them to accommodate the disappointed hundreds.

The COTTON market continues very quiet. Sales of 100 bales Upland at 11½@11¾ per lb, on time. The export demand for FLOUR is limited and prices have declined. A sale of 500 bbls common brands was made by a miller at something less than $4 37½ per bbl. For city use the demand is limited at $4 25@4 12½ for common and good brands, and extra at higher rates. RYE FLOUR and CORN MEAL are inactive. GRAIN—There is but a moderate supply of WHEAT offering and prices are steady; sales of good and prime red at $1 05, and white at $1 11 per bushel. CORN is dull. I quote old Yellow at 56c, and new at 50@52c. Sales of OATS are limited at 34@35c. RYE in Oats there were sales of Southern at 59@60c per bush. In GROCERIES there is not much doing. Sales of 450 bags Rio Coffee at 11c per lb, which is a further advance, and 200 hhds New-Orleans Sugars, all rates. WHISKY is now so active. Sales in bbls at 27@28c, and hhds at 29c.

MR. CLAY.—The following letter from this distinguished citizen, in reply to one written by him by a gentleman at Baltimore, indicates the time to his arrival here, and the manner in which he desires to see his friends during his sojourn. [Balt. Patriot.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 26.

DEAR SIR—I received in this city your favor of the 17th inst. addressed to me at New-York. That to which it refers, signed by many of my personal and political friends, has not reached me. They desire, in my passage through Baltimore, to testify their respect and regard for me.—While it is always gratifying to me to see and exchange salutations with my friends and fellow-citizens in an informal manner, I should regret that my momentary presence in Baltimore should be made the occasion of any public meeting or public demonstration, on my account.

I shall leave Philadelphia on Thursday morning, by the train of cars for Baltimore, unless the weather should be excessively bad, in which case I shall take my departure on the next day. My hope, however, is to get off on Thursday. While I am at Mr. Barnum's I shall be glad to see, in a quiet and unceremonious way, those who may entertain any desire to see me.

I am your friend and obedient servant,

H. CLAY.

JOHN G. PROUD, Esq. Baltimore.

GOLD DIGGERS.—We learn that, in an official report to the War Department on the civil affairs of California, Gen. Riley estimates the number of persons actually employed in digging for gold at ten thousand, while the number of persons engaged in other employments at the placers would greatly increase this amount. The report in question will probably accompany the Message of the President, and be found to contain much valuable information. [Nat. Intel.

Rise in Cotton—Cereals Advanced—Provisions Firm.

BY TELEGRAPH TO THE NEW-YORK TRIBUNE.

The Cunard steamer Canada, Capt. Harrison, arrived at Halifax yesterday morning at 8 o'clock, whence she sailed for New-York at 10½. She will accordingly reach here at about 1 P. M. to-morrow.

The Canada left Liverpool on the 17th inst. She brings dates from London to the 16th, and from Paris to the 15th.

The Niagara arrived out on the 15th, after a passage of thirteen days.

The following summary of the news brought by the Canada was forwarded in the usual evening by telegraph.

FRANCE

Reception of the American Ambassador.

The most gratifying feature in the week's news is the interview between the President of France and Mr. Rives, the American Minister, at the Elysee National.

The American Minister made an address adapted to the occasion, but observed a total silence respecting the misunderstanding between France and the United States growing out of the conduct of M. Poussin. The President, however, alluded to the affair, in terms flattering to the American Minister and his country—adding that in consequence of that misunderstanding, if Mr. Rives had been a monarchical ambassador instead of a Republican Minister, he, the President, would have been deprived of the honor of receiving him.

The Vacant Place in the Cabinet.

There are again rumors afloat with respect to the vacant post of Foreign Minister in the French Cabinet. M. de Nagherie's refusal, it appears, is not quite certain, but should he eventually decline taking office, either M. Fould or M. Tourner de la Romere are spoken of as being likely to receive the appointment.

The Quarrel with Morocco.

The dispute between the Emperor of Morocco and the French seems to increase in violence. The French Consul at Mogador has been treated harshly and ignominiously, and a French frigate has been sent to the spot. There is now every probability of this affair ending in the bombardment of Tangiers.

TURKEY.

Alliance with France and England.

Advices received at London on the afternoon before the steamer's sailing, with news from Constantinople to the latest state that a British fleet was at anchor in Abouki Bay, and would remain there till the arrival of the courier with the answer of the Porte to the communication of Fuad Effendi. Should that answer prove unfavorable the fleet will proceed at once to Constantinople. Our ministerial Gazette has communicated to the Turkish Government that the English Cabinet had unanimously agreed to form an offensive alliance with the Porte, in the event of hostile proceedings on the part of Russia. A similar communication has been made by General Aupick in behalf of the French Government.

The British Fleet in the Dardanelles.

The presence of the English naval force at the Dardanelles, and the hourly expected arrival of the French fleet occasions some excitement at Constantinople, and the Emperor of Russia continues to show not a little irritation at the decisive attitude taken by France and England.

HUNGARY.

Kossuth's Address to his Countrymen.

The valedictory address of Kossuth to his countrymen, written at Gratz, has been published. It is written in the most enthusiastic poetical style. He addresses his country as follows:

"The region whom thou hast fattened with thy abundance and spoiled them—mother to the modern, and devoured them utterly. Those best loved children, thou hast been sold, my country. Thy death sentence has been written, beloved of my heart, by him whom thou, whom love, I never dared to doubt. Yes, in the forum of our boldest thoughts, around a throne so soon have doubts of the existence of the Omnipotent one so to have believed that he should ever be a traitor to his country. Though thy sons have sinned against thee, and have had not a single space out fore deputated the power in our great country, which the sword can defend, even to the last drop of his heart's blood. He hath done treason in the hearts' blood; he has done treason to his mother, and the glitter of gold hath been for him more seductive than that of the blood which he owed to his country. Thou art sold, my country, and thou art sold, my country. Thy children have abandoned thee, he has abandoned thy land for the land of the Moslem. Magyars, believe companions, blame me not for having cast thine person in the mire, and for having given to him my place. It was necessary for the people to be betrayed on their confidence. The army loved him, and bestowed a power of which I myself would have been proud; and, nevertheless, did man belie the confidence of the nation, and consent to use of the weapon with which Carter him, therefore, O Magyars! curses the breast that did not dry up before it gave him suck."

Progress of Legitimate Heroicity.

From Hungary we learn that fresh condemnations are taking place and no fewer than 15 additional executions at Arad are threatened daily.

General Haynau is carrying on his unrelenting cruelty unchecked by higher authority. The Jews at Pesth are once more threatened with violence unless they pay up the contribution demanded which seems to be beyond their power.

ITALY.

Return of the Pope to Rome.

From Rome we have but little certain or interesting to report, however, that the Pope really meditates early return to Rome and indeed his arrival at one immediate was actually announced.

Spanish Troops going Home.

The Spanish troops at present at Rome have received orders to return to Spain.

The fact was announced to the French Assembly by the Minister of Foreign Affairs on the 9th inst.

SPAIN.

Opening of the Cortes.

From Spain we learn that the session of the Cortes has been opened without the customary speech which has given rise to animated attacks of M. Olozaga and his friends against their implacable enemies, Narvaez and his colleagues.

ENGLAND.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

Money Market.

LONDON, Friday Evening.

The appearance of the Cotton market this A. M. is extremely good, and prices show a further tendency to advance. Both bona fide and speculation purchases have been freely made, and under such circumstances the public have transacted a large amount of business. Consols, money and the account were quoted 90½@90¾ for Three per cents reduced, 91@91¼ for Three per cents Consols, and 91¼@91¾ for money and the account. Exchequer Bills at 48 for premium, and bank stocks 150 to 160.

Cotton Market.

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 16.

George Holt's Circular says: Accounts received by the American steamer on Tuesday were somewhat favorably as to the state of the weather generally. But the advanced prices, the comparatively small receipts at the ports, and the very short shipments making to England, gave increased confidence to holders. There has since been a steady demand, and the market closed at an advance of 1 per lb on nothing to fair American. Sea Island continues in fair request, and the small stock on hand is held with great firmness at the quotations. The Cotton trade has kept steady and prices of American as compared with those of last week are ¼ per lb dearer. Sea Island also being ½@¾ more money. The advices brought by the Niagara do not appear to have exercised any influence on the trade, as both sellers and buyers were prepared for the accounts which she brought from the other districts of the United States. The sales of the week ending to-day were 50,870, of which speculators have taken 36,290 and exporters 750, leaving 13,830 bales of all kinds to the trade.

Produce Market.

The Produce markets both in Liverpool and London have been well supplied, but as buyers were less active, the transactions in most articles were not extensive.—Prices, however, have been tolerably firm.

The Wool Trade.

The Wool trade is tame. Transactions going forward are but limited, but holders are firm and prices generally are well maintained.

Iron Market.

The Iron trade during the past week has resulted in the same quiet state as last reported, with the exception of a slight improvement of West Bar, which is quoted at £6 per ton higher. Scotch Pig iron is firm at last quotations, and sellers are asking £1 a 1s per ton per day.

Imports of Specie.

The imports of Specie this week consist of, per Constellation from New-York, £28,000; per Niagara, £60,000; per steamer from Lisbon, £10,000.

Liverpool Corn Market.

Corn, 25s a 28 6d. Yellow, 28s 6d a 27s. Flour, western canal, 22s a 24s. Ohio, 25s 6d@27s. Baltimore, 25 6d a 26s. There is little change to notice this week in Freight or Passage Money, but the tendency is upward for the former, not rather downward for the latter. The supply of American tonnage and shippers seem likely to be a good deal inconvenienced in consequence.

Passengers.

Miss Crawford, Miss Maury, Mrs Morgan, Miss Morgan and Sheilds, and Nourse, Sherman, Clark, J Lewis, Alex Bowman, John Caldwell, O C Evans, Arthur Morwood, Joseph Manojcatt, C B Wilson, Pinet, M Maury, J Stigeman, J L Thompson, A J Chur, Baltes, Ahler, Jenner, C Mellotia, J H J Lyons, Montgomery, F R Von Gerault, Kirk, Adams and lady, Faber, G Kork, V L Kraina, John W Irving, W Dunn, Peck, L H Dunans, John Tweddel, N C Lanbore, M C Mason, G W Cayson, Holesoft Rave, A Bryant, Thomas Greer, and five passengers for Halifax.
