The Diplomatic Quarrel at Lima.

We find in the Washington Republic of yesterday the correspondence in relation to the caning at Lima of the British Chargé d'Affaires by Z.W. Potter, Esq. U. S. Consul for Valparaiso, as officially reported to the Senate by the Secretary of State. The Consul sends his own statement and corroborates it by that of Mr. James Whitehead, a British subject, and Gen. Ramon Herrera, both of whom are certified by the U. S. Consul at Lima, Stanhope Prevost, Esq. to be men of high standing and unimpeachable witnesses. The statement of Mr. Potter addressed to the Secretary of state is dated Dec. 13, 1849, and is as follows:

"It becomes my duty this early to forward you an official communication. I did not suppose that I should have occasion to do so before reaching Valparaiso, but a serious misunderstanding having occurred to-day on Monday last, 6th, inst. between Henry Stephen Sullivan, the British Chargé d'Affaires, to the Court of Santiago de Chili, and myself, it becomes my duty at once, and by the earliest conveyance, to give you a correct account of it. Before an incorrect statement finds its way into the public prints, which you will have learned, from perusing the enclosed, all the facts and circumstances connected with it, I feel assured that my conduct, so far from incurring the censure of my Government, will meet with its cordial approval, and that of every honorable man.

On the arrival of the steamer at Callao on Sunday last, I repaired to the city, (the steamer being obliged to lie by for five days for the purpose of coaling) and procured rooms at the French hotel, for myself and family. After seeing them comfortably lodged, I walked out, in company with a fellow-passenger, to see the novelties of Lima. On returning to the hotel, I met with a gentleman who advised me to hurry myself, informing me at the same time that a great indignity had been offered my wife, in my absence, by no less a personage than the Chargé Government of Chili. On reaching the hotel, I was informed by General Herrera, of Chili, Mrs Mickle, his daughter, and James Whitehead, Esq. an English merchant of Valparaiso, that, shortly after I had left the hotel, the official in question arrived with his family, and went to my apartments and in the most rude and insolent manner ordered my wife to have the rooms which had been assigned to us, (persons by the landlady, claiming them as his previous engagement.

Mrs. P. appealed to him in the most earnest manner to wait until my return, to which he paid no earthly attention, but continued to inform her, in the most insolent and supercilious manner, that the servant of the hotel would find other lodgings for her. Alone, with her child in her arms, she fled to the room of General Herrera, for protection.—Mrs Mickle (his daughter) discovering the distressed condition of Mrs. P. accompanied her to the rooms which Sullivan had forcibly entered, and beseeched him to let Mrs Potter remain, until my return; but she found that her appeals were even equally unavailing. Mrs. Mickle then immediately went out and sought the assistance of Mr. Whitehead, who came at once to Mrs. Potter's aid, and remonstrated, in the most energetic manner, relative to the ungentlemanly course he was pursuing, imploring him to desist until my return, and then the right of the rooms could be satisfactorily ascertained. His remonstrances were treated with equal contempt. In addition, the unpardonable and unheard-of brutality which marked his course, he capped the climax of his arrogance by calling the landlord in the door, and remarked in French, "You must take this woman out of here; she is nothing but a common cook." This remark was heard by General Herrera, which he immediately communicated to his daughter.

By this time the news of the extraordinary conduct of this functionary had fired every one who heard it with the utmost indignation. I hastened to his rooms, and was informed that he was not in. A short time after I called again, and he was still not in. It being now late in the evening, I removed my belongings to a hotel in the "Plaza." The next morning I repaired at an early hour to his apartments, and called upon this man to accompany me to General Herrera's room, for the purpose of explaining his extraordinary conduct in the presence of the General. He refused to do so, and, with the most deliberate assurance you can imagine, he observed to me, "It is you, Sir, who must apologize to me." Finding that he was not disposed to make amends for his base conduct, I resolved to show him that, at home or abroad, an American gentleman knows how to chastise the insolence of a blackguard, by giving him a caning in the presence of about twenty persons, who had gathered around in the mean time, many of them, too, his own countrymen, who, to a man, remarked, "You have given him what he richly deserves."

Shortly after the occurrence, I was waited upon by Mr. Stanhope Prevost, United States Consul for Lima and other gentlemen, all of whom informed me that the sentiment of the city of Lima, to a man, was that I could not have done otherwise than resent the insult offered in the summary way I employed.

I am aware that the friends of the English Chargé will exhibit to the world a varnished and incorrect statement of this matter, and give it a coloring foreign to the facts. I have, therefore, called upon General Herrera and Mr. Whitehead, for what they know relative to it, and inclose the correspondence between them, Mr. Prevost and myself, for the purpose of placing myself in a proper position before the American Government. I am willing to abide the verdict of all honorable men, placing them "in core communis," when all the facts are fairly laid before the world. A controversy of this kind is to me unutterably nauseant, but I should be a dastard in my own estimation, and a contemptible thing in the eye of my country, were I to allow such an insult to pass unpunished. I trust I have taught him how to respect an American lady in a foreign land.

"P. S.—I beg leave to supersedé that other gentlemen have most kindly tendered me their testimony, if it become necessary, judging from the course that I have pursued, and among them English residents here of the highest standing. But I have conferred with Mr. Prevost, and he deems it unnecessary to multiply evidence until it is required at home. The American Chargé is so ill that none but his family and physician are allowed to enter his room, else I should have laid the whole matter before him. But I was exceedingly gratified to learn from Dr. Smith, his physician, this morning, that he (Mr. Clay) approves of my conduct" in toto."

"I beg leave to refer you, for the character of Mr. Whitehead, to Hon. Thomas Butler King, who knows him well."

The following are the corroborative letters:

LIMA, Dec. 11, 1849.

DEAR SIR: I am in receipt of your favor of this morning, and have taken due note of its contents.

As an Englishman, I feel much grieved that necessity and truth compel me to bear testimony against a countryman, and that country man a representative of my nation at a foreign Court.

You ask me to inform you of what has come under my own notice regarding the insult and indignity offered to your wife by Mr. Sullivan at the "French Hotel," during your absence on Sunday last. I shall, therefore, refrain from noticing what I have heard from other eye-witnesses, and confine myself to such facts as I can answer for before God or man.

On the day in question, I was sitting in Gen. Herrera's room, at the said "French Hotel," when I was suddenly called by Mrs. Mickle, the general's daughter, to go and protect Mrs. Potter from being insulted by Mr. Sullivan, who, she said, had taken possession of her room.

I attended the call instantly, and on reaching the room I found your lady in tears, pale and trembling, with her baby in her arms. I also found Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan, and their servants, in the room—the former talking aloud; the exact words I could not catch, but they were certainly to the effect that your lady must leave the room—that it had been taken for him. The tone of his voice was insolent, and he was saying "Do wait, Sir, until Mr. Potter comes in." The appeal did not appear to be listened to. I immediately called Mr. Sullivan's attention to the fact of the rooms having been taken by you, and possession given of them, and that I should protect the lady in them until your arrival. This drew his (Mr. Sullivan's) attention to myself, who, with peculiar attitudes, asked me if I knew to whom I was speaking. I answered him in the affirmative, and took the liberty of giving him the plain English version of what I thought of him. (A rich page for "Punch.") During the altercation between us, your lady entreated to be taken out of the room. Fearing some bad consequences from her alarm, I accompanied her toward the door; when, to my astonishment, Mr. Sullivan approached her in the bland, submissive tone of "Mamma, do stay; I will be good—I will," entreating her not to leave the room. Fudge!

Now that I have detailed these facts so far as my recollection of words goes, I must beg to venture an opinion, which is, that a more ungentlemanly and wanton outrage on the part of Mr. Sullivan towards your wife, I never witnessed in any society; and that every high-toned gentleman will say "well done" to the caning you gave him, and to which I say, amen!

Hoping your good lady has entirely recovered from her fright, I am, dear Sir, ever truly,

JAMES WHITEHEAD.

To Z. W. Potter, Esq. Consul for Chili.

[Translation.]

LIMA, Dec. 11, 1849.

MY DEAR SIR: In reply to your favor of this day, in which you ask me to write you a few lines in reference to the unpleasant affair which took place yesterday between yourself and the British Chargé d'Affaires near the government of Chili, which I witnessed with many others at the hotel, I take the liberty to say to you that, in my opinion, the sehor Chargé d'Affaires gave cause that matters should be carried to the utmost extreme, having been wanting to (insulted) your lady during your absence, even so far as to make her leave the apartment which she occupied, under the protest that it did not belong to her, she being in lawful possession of the same.

I am your very respectful and obedient servant,

RAMON HERRERA.

Mr. Z. W. Potter.

Large Fire—Cotton Factory Burnt.

Cor. Newark Daily Advertiser. TRENTON, Jan. 24.

A large fire occurred in South Trenton about 4 o'clock this morning, by which two large Cotton Factories were consumed, neither of which, how ever, have been in operation for several months, one of them being the "Orleans Mill." A large amount of machinery was destroyed. One of the buildings was burnt to the ground, and the other was partially consumed. One of them, I understand, belonged to the Water-Power Company, and the other, recently occupied by Bela Badger, Esq. was held by the Trenton Banking Company. The damage is not known yet.

SUPREME COURT OF THE UNITED STATES.—Washington, Wednesday, Jan. 23, 1850.—No 56. Edmund B. Caldwell es. the United States. In error to the Circuit Court of the U. S. for East Pennsylvania. Mr. Justice Wayne delivered the opinion of the Court, reversing the judgment of said Circuit Court in this cause, and remanding the same with directions to said Circuit Court to enter a disclaimer of the judgment of the District Court, and to remand the cause to the said District Court with directions to that Court to award a venire facias de novo, and for further proceedings to be had therein in conformity to the opinion of this Court. No. 52. Daniel Grove, appellant, es. John McP. Burns's executor et al. The argument of this cause was confirmed by Mr. Davis for the appellant, and by Messrs. Smith and Meredith for the appellees. Adjourned till to-morrow at 11 o'clock.

☞ the Florida Indians are represented by the Tallahassee Sentinel, of the 14th instant, as in no way inclin to hostilities. Gen. Twiggs was still sanguine of the removal of at least a portion of them, they having deputed Assinwah, to confer with him as to another talk. They failed to comply with the last appointment, in consequence of a rumor that they were then to have been captured and forced to emigrate.

Sailors' Meeting—Markets.

Cor. of the Tribune. PHILADELPHIA, THURSDAY, Jan. 24.

The sailors who were attached to the razee Independence, frigate Congress and sloop of war Cyane, during the war with Mexico, when serving as a land force on the Pacific, held a meeting in this city on Tuesday evening. Eight persons were selected as Committee to communicate with Commodores Conner, Perry and Stockton for the purpose of obtaining their approval of a memorial which they are about to present to Congress, asking that they may receive the same extra pay and land warrants as the Marine Corps.

The Cotton market continues firm, but the sales are limited, as both buyers and sellers are indifferent about operating, until after the receipt of the steamer's advices. The Flour market is dull and inactive; the demand for shipment is limited, and the only sale reported is a few hundred barrels common brands at something less than $5 per bbl.—For retail consumption limited sales at $5@5.50 for common and extra brands. A small sale of Rye Flour at $2.94, and Corn Meal at $2.75 per bbl. Wheat continues in limited request, but prices are nearly stationary; sales of 3,000 bushels good and prime Red at 1.00@1.07, and White at $1.11 per bushel. Corn is in limited request; sales of new Yellow at 56 lbs weight. Oats—sales of Pennsylvania in lots from store 35 cts; Southern are worth 32@33 cts. per bushel. Whiskey is dull, and prices have further declined; sales in barrels at 24@25 cts and hhds at 24 cts.

SALES OF STOCKS—First Board—$1,000 U S 6s, 87, 112; $4,000 do, 96, 100; 7 Phila Bk, 130; $7,000 Tenn 6s, 91; 100 U S Bk, 24; 9 Penngl Bank, 108; 200 Morris Canal, 10; $1,000 Reading 6s, 90, 93; 1 Farm and Mech Bank, 62; 2 Penna RR, 39¾; 25 Bx Bk, 99; 10 Camden and Amboy RR, 120.

Second Board—200 Reading RR, 16¼; $15,000 State 5s 104; $5,000 do, 104¼; 2 Union Bk Tenn, 94; $1,000 City 6s, 70; 10¼; $2,000 do, 72 1/2; $5,000 Reading RR Bonds, 90, 90¼; 12 N O Gas, 109¼; 2 Norristown RR, 28½; $1,000 Lehigh 6s, 66; $32 Lehigh Int 6¼; $1,000 U S 6s, 1005; $2,000 do, 97, 112.

MORE FOOD FOR THE GALLOWS.—Jesse Rainbottom will be hung to-day at Xenia, O. for the murder of his wife. At a recent meeting of the principals of Greene Co. a portion were of the opinion that he was not entirely sane and certified to the Governor accordingly.

COMMERCIAL AND MONEY MATTERS.

For sales of Stocks, &c. see Fourth Page.

THURSDAY, Jan. 24—P.M.

In Stocks the market continues heavy and several Governments are scarcely so firm since the steamer has gone. The force of the bears is now concentrated on Erie and it will be observed that nearly all the sales for the last week have been on time. Very little Cash Stock has been drawn out. Reading was firm.

In Exchanges there is nothing of importance but the market is firm.

Freights are steady but without much activity. Engagements of Cotton at 5-32d, 15,000 bush. Corn, 4@d 14; Dead Weight, 22@22s 6d.

Several Banks in Wall st. have cut loose from all business connection with the Dry Dock Bank and refuse even to receive its notes over their counter. This will probably become general in a few days, as a movement to that effect has been made. At the Stock Board every day when this Stock is called the only response is three groans.

Money is moderately easy but paper is very plenty and the rates tending upward. A more stringent market is looked for on Friday as usual. The activity of commerce and trade in February is such that always in that month there is a temporary stringency in the money market. At present, however, the supply appears to be abundant and paper has been in better demand this week than previously. On Call, money is quite plenty at 6 per cent on good collaterals and at 5 per cent on Government Stocks. Sixty and ninety days paper goes at 6@8 per cent for first class names and longer dates at 8@12 per cent. Railroad paper goes at 12 per cent. The supply of Boston paper, especially Railroad and Corporation is considerable. The Banks are discounting all their receipts and meet nearly all the wants of their customers.

There have been various rumors about town for a few days past, evidently intended to operate upon the Legislature, that the Hudson River Road had suspended payment to its Contractors. The Company in consequence have issued a card stating that payment has never been delayed a day after any admitted and adjusted claim has been presented.

The Herald has a rigmarole story about the Erie Railroad, stating that the enterprise is to stop at Hornellsville. We give the statement a flat denial. Such a termination of this great work has never been dreamt of by any but the clique of bears who invest the Herald articles. The Erie Railroad will be finished to Lake Erie on its own route without connection with any other Road, prior to Sept. 1851 and the Herald had better prepare itself to be astonished when it wakes up some morning and reads what we shall have to tell soon about this Road. Make a note of that.

There appears to be a growing disposition on the part of the shinplaster New-Jersey bankers to crowd their issues upon the citizens of this City and State, in the face of all that has been said in regard to the propriety of their keeping it at home where it legitimately belongs. The Legislature of New-Jersey, at its last session revived an old charter under certain regulations and provisions, and attempts have been made to start the concern without complying with the terms and provisions of such revived charter. We would ask our readers to remember the State Bank at Morris, the Plainfield, &c. and look out for more shinplasters. Some developments are promised us by our New-Jersey correspondent.

The Bank of Mobile has declared a dividend of three per cent.....The Cotton Manufacturing Co. of Milledgeville, Ga. a semi annual dividend of ten per cent.

Mr George Curtis of the Bank of Commerce presented a report at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday, on the subject of a Branch Mint in New-York. Mr. Meredith is reported to have expressed himself favorably toward the measure.

The Auditor General of Michigan gives the following statement of the finances of that State:

Aggregate State indebtedness	$2,812,717 3
Less available resources applicable to liquidation	740,754 8
Leaving actual State Debt, Dec. 1, 1849	$2,071,962 9
Back interest bonds to the amount of $90,000, became due on the 1st inst. The Treasurer has remitted the funds to New-York to pay them.
Balance in Treasury, Nov. 26, 1848	$51,681 8
Receipts during the past year	494,165 16
Total	545,846 6
Disbursements of all kinds	490,399 2
Leaving in the Treasury at this time	$55,447 4
The total taxation for 1849, stood thus
Tax for interest on State Debt	$39,000 73
State expenses	74,436 0
Total	$102,436 73

Should all the Internal Improvement warrants be funded the Auditor is of opinion there should be a direct State tax of $145,000 for the year 1850, instead of the above. This would increase the taxes about 50 per cent. for a couple of years, until more tax money is received from the Railroads. The State Treasurer has made a report relative to the affairs of the Peninsular, Insurance, and Farmers' and Mechanics Banks. The Insurance Bank reports a circulation of $163,915. The Bank has $500,000 State Stocks in the hands of the Treasurer, and reports $22,947 92 in coin in the vaults. The Peninsular Bank reports $42,245 circulation, $3,777 State Stocks deposited, and $9,455 in coin. The Farmers' and Mechanics' Bank reports a circulation of $224,730 and $20,274 in coin.

The Bank of Fishkill has been organized by the appointment of Mr. Hoyt as President and Mr. Van Steenburgh of Newburgh, as Cashier. The capital is $125,000 all paid up.

A bill has been introduced in the New-Jersey Legislature to repeal the monopoly clause in the charter of the Camden and Amboy Railroad Co.

Markets.....CAREFULLY REPORTED FOR THE TRIBUNE.

TREASURY, Jan. 24.

ASHES.—The sales are moderate and market inactive at $5.50@7 for Pots and $6.50@7 for Pearls.

COTTON.—There is no change in the firmness on the part of speculators, and prices are again 1/8 lower—with sales of 2,000 bales.

FLOUR AND MEAL.—There is no change to notice in the market. There is some speculative demand, and a sale of 5,000 bbls was reported at $4.87½ cash—common to straight State and Western, $4.50@4.62½; Ohio, $4.62½@4.75; common to straight State, $4.37½@4.50; Michigan at $4.12½@4.25; pure brandywine at $4.50@4.62½. The better grades are off, but held pretty firmly. At the close the market was more active, and prices rather firmer, with a large demand. Sales 10,000 bbls at $4.50@4.62½, for mixed to good common brands, and $4.75 for extra Genesee. Rye Flour is dull. Sales 200 bbls at $2.94. Corn Meal is heavy. Sales 250 bbls Jersey at $4. Prices are 25@50 cts lower. Sales 300 bbls Brandywine and prime Jersey at $4.25. Buckwheat is dull and heavy at 87½c, 100 bbls.

GRAIN.—There is good inquiry for domestic Wheat, and prices are firm. Canadian is not in demand, with sales of 2,000 bushels prime white at 110c, and 1,000 bushels good at 108c. Rye is dull and heavy. Sales of 1,000 bushels at 60@62c for Jersey and Southern yellow, and 65c for bended Southern. Corn is in good request, and prices are firmer. Sales 20,000 bushels at 60@62c for Western mixed, 62@63c for Southern yellow, 63@64c for Southern white, and 65@66c for bended Southern. Barley is easier, with sales of 1,000 bushels at 65c for Western. Oats are better—sales Western and Canada at 34@35c, and Jersey 29@32c. Also Southern at 30@32c. Canadian Peas are in good demand, with sales of 200 bbls at 85c. Beans are steady. The stock is now reduced, and holders are firm.

WHISKY.—The market is dull and heavy. Sales 100 bbls at 24c, and 200 bbls at 24½c, time and interest.

PROVISIONS.—The market is nearly bare of Prime Pork and prices are nominally higher. Mess is also better and in fair demand. The sales are 300 bbls at 16½c, and 100 bbls at 16½c for Mess, and 50 bbls at 15c for Prime. Beef is in fair demand. Sales of 250 bbls, at about 12 for Prime and a 50 bbls at $13 for Mess. Cut Meats are firm and in good demand. Sales of 300 bbls at 4½@5c for Shoulders and 5@5½c for Hams. Beef Hams are firmer. Sales of 30 tierces at $13 for Western. Lard is quiet but firm. Sales of 200 bbls and tierces at 6½@6¾c, and 200 new at 6¾c. Sales of Dressed Hogs at 5½c, and Prime at 5½@5¾c. Butter and Cheese steady.

PERRY'S EAST INDIA BALM,

CELEBRATED

FOR THE REMOVAL OF PIMPLES, &c. IT HAS PROVED

PURELY VEGETABLE

MORE TESTIMONY,

TO ITS BENEFICIAL EFFECTS

READ

THE FOLLOWING letter from Mr. Jeremiah Wilbur, who is well known in our community as one of the most respectable merchants, formerly of the house of Messrs Marks, Wilbur & Scott, now Messrs Wilbur & Scott, doing business at 19 Ann-st. New-York City.

NEW-YORK, September 4, 1849.

MESSRS. J. J. PERRY & CO.—Gentlemen: Having had my attention called to your "East India Balm" as a useful medicine for the cure of coughs, colds, affection of the lungs, throat, &c. I have used it in my family, and I am happy to say with beneficial effects, and so far as I can judge, I believe it to be a very valuable discovery for the accomplishment of the purposes set forth, and cheerfully recommend its use to those who may be suffering under the influence of the above complaints.

JEREMIAH WILBUR, 19 Ann-st.

The East India Balm is a most valuable and excellent remedy for coughs, colds, consumption, and all other pulmonic generally. It is made from pure herbs and barks, selected with care, and prepared under the direction of an individual who has considerable experience among the sick and afflicted.

The Balm is cool, soothing and healing, contains no opium or other deleterious substances. It may be used freely by persons of the most delicate constitutions.

We have received numerous testimonials from persons who have been relieved by this household medicine.

The Balm may be obtained at Nos. 1 and 5 Merchants Exchange, and 19 Sussex-st. where numerous testimonials of its efficacy may be seen. Also, at the Druggists generally. Also in Brooklyn, at Mrs Hayes, Fulton-st. and of the proprietors, 19 Concord-st.

So as to be within the reach of all we have put this valuable medicine at 50 cents per bottle.

NOTICE.—I, CHARLES GOODYEAR, hereby give public notice, that I claim to be, and am, the inventor of the art or process of curing India Rubber, or Caoutchouc, by means of subjecting it, after suitable preparation, to a high degree of artificial heat, which process is commonly known in the United States by the name of "Heating" or "Vulcanizing."

And I do further hereby give public notice, that letters patent of the United States of America, were granted to me for the improvement above mentioned, bearing date the 15th day of June, 1844, and that said letters patent were reissued to me under the date of the 25th day of December, 1848, having been amended, according to the laws of the United States.

And I do hereby warn all persons not to infringe upon the rights secured to me by virtue of said letters patent, and not, without license previously obtained from me, to use said process of curing India Rubber, (whether prepared with sulphate of zinc, sulphuret of antimony, hyposulphate of lead, or with sulphur in any of its forms, or its chemical or mechanical, natural or artificial combinations with other matter, or otherwise prepared substantially as set forth in said letters patent,) by subjecting it to a high degree of artificial heat. All persons so infringing, will render themselves liable to the full penalties of the law.

CHARLES GOODYEAR.

Illustrated by 300 Engravings.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

This is a highly valuable production, replete with novelty and interest, and adapted to gratify equally the historian, the philosopher and the mechanician, being the result of a protracted and extensive research among the arcana of historical and scientific literature. Mr. Ewbank's work cannot be too widely circulated. It is an elegant "Table-Book," suited to all persons—to the ordinary reader, who is anxious to acquire useful knowledge, as well as to the theoretical and practical commissioner in mechanics. Illustrations of expensive biographical and historical anecdotes, generally unknown, might be quoted as proofs of the multifarious intelligence which Mr. Ewbank has amassed for the edification of those who may study his richly entertaining volume. [National Intelligencer.

It is really one of the most remarkable publications connected with mechanical philosophy that has ever fallen under our observation. [Merchants' Magazine.

An interesting work of science. The title will furnish the reader a good general notion of the matter of the book, but not of the clearness, method, precision, and ease of the manner of it. We have perused it with more care than is usual with reviews of the speedy sort which he has otherwise, we are certain which describes it with more fullness of argument and illustration. [Democratic Review.

All classes, as well the farmer and professional man as the artist and engineer, will rise from a careful perusal of Mr. Ewbank's book wiser and better. [U. S. Monthly Review.

It contains more valuable, curious, and interesting information than can be found in any volume ever published on the subject, and is a work which commands the attention and should be placed upon the shelf of every gentleman's library, and in every College and Academy. [N. Y. Sun.

A splendid book. We are inclined to believe that it will be one of the most curious and interesting works that have issued from the American press for many years. [N. Y. Tribune.

It possesses great interest, not only for mechanicians and artisans, and men of science, but for intelligent readers generally. [Phil. E
