☞ Bogle's Amole for Shaving.—This new article is fast now adopted by all who use it to be perfection itself. Its base is derived from the Amole, or soap Plant of California, and is well described in its compounds. Its lather is thick, and keeps moist during the whole operation, and leaves the most tender face as smooth as satin. The following speaks for itself.

NEW-YORK HOSPITAL, Feb. 21, 1856.

Knowing the composition and method of preparing Mr. Wm. Bogle's Amole for shaving, I have no hesitation in saying that it is admirably adapted for the purpose for which he recommends it.

LAWRENCE REID, Port Chesterer.

This, and Bogle's celebrated Hyperion Fluid, for the Hair, may be had of A. B. & D. Sands, 100 Fulton-st, and Boston, Clark & Co N. Y. agt of the proprietor, Wm. Bogle, 277 Washington-st, Boston, Mass. m8 2ms F&W

☞ Mercantile Library Association. Clinton Hall, corner of Beekman and Nassau-sts, New-York.

☞ Spring Style of Gentlemen's Hats—Brandreth corner of Pine and Nassau sts.—Gentlemen's Hats of the Spring standard are now ready, and are submitted to the critical judgment of purchasers. The subscriber's Hats have been long tried and are possessed of permanent and well-deserved celebrity, and are offered to the customers and the public at prices as moderate as any respectable house in the trade engaged in the manufacture of the finest qualities of Hats. BIRD, cor. Pine and Nassau sts.

NOTE.—In all cases where the standard pattern may not become the wearer, the style will be modified to suit the form and features. m1 1mis

☞ A Chance for an Enterprising Printer and Editor.—A printing establishment in a flourishing capital of one of the Western States, is offered for sale, together with the building and lot occupied by the concern, and also a valuable dwelling-house lot.

From this establishment is issued a daily, tri-weekly and weekly paper, of Whig politics, with a respectable and increasing patronage. The situation is one which offers great advantages to an enterprising Editor and Printer. For a part of the property a new printing office, embracing a power press, will be received. For further particulars inquire of the Editor of The Tribune. It will be useless for any but a man of means to reply, and only letters that state that the writer is able to pay for such a concern will be answered. m7 4ts*eod*

☞ Biology or the Electrical Science of Life.—Very Astonishing and Highly Amusing—Professor W. N. MARTIN and JAMES A. REGUA will give their second lecture upon this very interesting science, the discovery of which may be justly regarded as one of the greatest of the present age, will be given at Mozart Hall, Brooklyn, on Wednesday evening 14th, Thursday 15th and Saturday 16th of March.

A great variety of astonishing and interesting experiments will be given, which cannot fail of convincing the most skeptical of the truthfulness of Biology.

Persons well known to the citizens of Brooklyn will be chosen from the audience, whose sight is perfect and will be deprived of it, their taste will be entirely changed, water will appear to be brandy, vinegar or wine, and they will also be compelled to dance, stand up or sit down at the option of the speaker. All of which will be done so openly as entirely to put to flight the very idea of collusion.

Doors open at 7 o'clock. Exercises commence 7½ precisely. Ticket 25 cents, to be had at the door. m13 1t*

☞ Hon. Horace Greeley—The Tolling Mill-House! Friend.—Permit me through your readers the following facts with such comments as your sense of justice shall dictate. By incessant toil, I have been able to procure a very moderate subsistence for my family for the last two or three years, by keeping what is called a "Coffee Stand" in Washington Market, or a kind of Tom Thumb restaurant, occupying about 5 feet by 7, for which I have paid quarterly $40 rent per annum. From this compartment, Mr. Folsom, who has created for himself a comfortable dwelling, or the Clerk into an eating house, has viewed me as interfering with his business. At first, I had not the remotest idea of doing anything in the way of cooking, but was urged to do so by the market people upon the ground that Mr. Folsom refused to supply their wants, saying, "get your victuals where you get your tea and coffee." Almost unintentionally, upon his appointment to the Postmastership, he brought his own political influence and that of the Clerk down upon me, and has kept up the war until the present. Last Friday, the Clerk, Hon. Mr. Outwater served a written notice of suspension. I asked him if he would not defer it until Saturday evening? as Saturday is equal to half of the week. He said he could but would not. I asked him when he would give me a hearing? He said he would not give me a hearing. On Saturday he said that I had had all the hearing that I would get. I asked whether we lived under law, or whether he was Lord of the market? He replied with a fiendish smile of satanic exultation and triumph, "I AM LORD OF THIS MARKET!" Several of our friends have called upon Mr. Childs. He says the law has gone forth that all such business must be discontinued in the markets; but not another fire has been put out or another complaint made, that I can learn. If this is equal rights—if this is in unison with the sentiment that every American citizen is a sovereign, then I must confess myself ignorant of the "use of words and phrases." If men are allowed to trample upon and crush their superiors, through their political and official influence, where can the poor man go for redress? He has no money to fee a lawyer—no political influence because he is poor—and every effort he makes to get justice done he is haughtily sneered at by his persecutors.

N. H. GALE, 57 Watts-st.

☞ Valuable Testimony from the South.—We like, all times, to give credit when credit is due, and at the same time we can relieve the distressed, we are doubly gratified; we, therefore give the following voluntary testimony as to the beneficial effects of WISTAR'S Balsam of Wild Cherry, by the Editor the Columbia South Carolinian, who appears to have obtained great relief by its use.

"WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY.—We seldom resort to patent medicines, having a great respect for the skill of the regular profession, but chance threw into our way the above named medicine, immediately after the close of the last session of the Legislature, when our lungs were almost dried up by the highly rarified atmosphere of our stove-warmed State House. The Balsam immediately relieved us of a most harrassing cough, which threatened our health in a serious degree. We feel that we are indebted to it for some fifteen pounds of animal weight."

None genuine unless signed I. BUTTS on the wrapper.

CAUTION.—The only genuine and original article was first introduced in the year 1836. It has been well tested, and appreciated for ten years in all the continents in which it has been recommended. Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Asthma, and Consumption in its incipient stages. No other medicine has proved more efficacious. On account of the unbounded popularity of this article it has been extensively counterfeited, by persons who know nothing of the ingredients of this original compound. The genuine is signed I. BUTTS on the wrapper.

For sale by A. B. & D. Sands, 100 Fulton-st.; also, at the Astor and Irving House Drug Stores, Broadway; at Haviland, Keese & Co. Maiden-lane; at William Burgers, Cortlandt-st; and by the Druggists generally throughout the United States and Canada.

NOTICE.—The following is a verbatim copy of the affidavit taken before CALEB S. WOODHULL, Mayor. Talbot Watts, of 102 Nassau-st. New-York, make oath and saith that he has discovered a wonderful medicine known as "Wall's Nervous Antidote. That the developments hourly being made of its wonderful anti-nervous and anti-spasmodic power have more the appearance of romance than reality—that the most excruciating intercostal pain, the most nervous or nervous debility vanish before it like chaff before the wind, that its effects upon the most obstinate fits, convulsions, spasms and rheumatism are like magic, and prays my intervention with the medical faculty to test its miraculous powers, believing it is capable of removing half "the ills that flesh is heir to," that it will usher children into the world without pain, and annihilate inevitable diseases—asthma and consumption—that he knows it will cure insanity, and believes that even hydrophobia will yield to its use, and believes that even hydrophobia will yield to its wonderful power, and likewise prays that I will use my influence to test the truth of this affidavit, and hereby pledges himself to return all moneys paid for it if found ineffectual, and pledges his life that it is a specific remedy against cholera, and almost all hitherto deemed incurable diseases.—This he prays I will do my utmost to investigate and prove that there is nothing impossible with God.

SPECIAL NOTICE TO TEACHERS.

THE GRAMMAR OF ARITHMETIC,

Or, an Analysis of the

LANGUAGE OF FIGURES AND SCIENCE OF NUMBERS.

BY CHARLES DAVIES, LL.D. Author of a complete course of Mathematics.

Teachers wishing to examine the above work, will please apply to the publisher (post paid,) and a copy shall be mailed to them without any charge except postage.

A. S. BARNES & CO. Publishers, 51 John-st. New-York.

The publishers append the following letter, just received from Prof. H. W. Taylor, of the University at Lewisburg, Pennsylvania.

CENTRALVILLE, LEWISBURG, Pa. 20 March, 1855.

Messrs. A. S. Barnes & Co.—Gentlemen: In examining the new treatment of Arithmetic, a copy of which you recently placed in my hands, I notice, with pleasure, the following particulars:

The improvement in the language of Arithmetic and the just method of applying and analyzing it, the true principle of Fractional Multiplication, the Rule for Interest, the Rule for Partnership, the Rule for Compound Fractions, the clear discovery of the relations and connections of scales of weight, in consequence of the strong light thrown upon the general rule, the Decomposition Principle, the Rule for Compound Proportion, the definition of Ratio, the arrangement in which the subject is brought into such a position, by any given step, as to be able to take, with advantage, the next succeeding one; and, finally, the valuable hints in methods of teaching Arithmetic.

Taken as a whole, the little book will prove to be a more valuable contribution to Arithmetic than any science and art; than any one book that has hitherto been published in the U. S. A. It should be in the hands of every teacher of Arithmetic, and the attention of the first class in every school should be turned to it. Yours, &c.

Very respectfully yours,

STEPHEN W. TAYLOR.

YOU ALL KNOW H. TWELVETREE, The Washing man, well.

It is about him that these lines will tell;
And none have applied to H. Twelvetree but would
State (if asked) that his washing plan is very good
Of this fact you should hasten yourself to avail,
And to his box book to-day should not fail.

The fact that by following Twelvetree's direction, as fully explained in his pamphlet, any lady may, almost without wetting her hands, and without using any machine, get through the washing of a large family in less than one hour for less than six cents, is now universally known and admitted. Has anybody tried it in the city? Yes, hundreds. Hear what one of them says. Mr. Twelvetree, Sir: Your excellent plan of washing having been to practise in my family for many weeks past, we have entirely forgotten to appreciate the great advantages, but last week, peculiar circumstances having induced a resort, pro tem. to the old system, the contrast with the new manner was so striking in many particulars that I cheerfully comply with the wishes of the "gude wife," in expressing to you our satisfaction with the mode you have introduced, and hereby register our determination to recommend its universal adoption, as it is in our power to do so with confidence.

Yours, respectfully, J. H. TOBITT, Book and Job Printer, 8 Spruce-st. N. Y.

It is no use hanging back; you must go with the movement of the age; you must have my pamphlet—sent by post if required. The price is $1. Recollect, send only to the great abolitionist of washing days—the immortal William Smith, H. TWELVETREE, Room 23, 50 Nassau-st. N. Y.

GAY'S CANCHALAGUA—The best remedy for Fever and Ague.—WILLIAMSBURGH, March 5, 1856.—Your Canchalagua is doing wonders here. My sister having been afflicted with the fever and ague for a long period, was entirely cured by taking less than one bottle, and several of my friends who have used it speak of its efficacy with high commendation.
