CHILDREN TEETHING.
MRS. WINSLOW,
AN experienced Nurse and Female Physician, presents to the attention of Mothers her
SOOTHING SYRUP,
FOR CHILDREN TEETHING,
Which greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is Sure to Regulate the Bowels.
Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves,
And Relief and Health to your Infants.
We have put up and sold this article for over ten years, and can say, in confidence and truth of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—NEVER HAS IT FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues.
We speak in this matter WHAT WE DO KNOW, after ten years' experience, and pledge our reputation for the fulfillment of what we here declare.
In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.
This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the most EXPERIENCED and SKILFUL NURSES in New England, and has been used, with never-failing success, in THOUSANDS OF CASES.
It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will relieve almost instantly
Griping in the Bowels and Wind Colic,
And overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily remedied, end in death. We believe it the best and SUREST REMEDY in the WORLD, in all cases of DYSENTERY and DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething or from other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints, DO NOT LET YOUR PREJUDICES, NOR THE PREJUDICES OF OTHERS, stand between your suffering child and the relief that will be SURE—yes, ABSOLUTELY SURE—to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper.
Sold by Druggists throughout the World.

The Undiscounted Dutchman.

BY J. K. PAULDING.

To show the effect of country banks, I will relate a little example that came under my own observation a day or two since and, perhaps, gave rise to these speculations. We stopped in the evening to sleep at the house of a Dutchman, who kept a traveler's rest, rather, I believe, lest he should be obliged to entertain travelers for nothing, than from any great desire to add to the profits of his farm. It was a scene and an evening that made me melancholy, with a fear of some day dying and leaving a world so lovely.

The house was situated on a rising ground, behind which, and close at hand, rose a majestic mountain, not savage with rocks and rugged precipices, but exhibiting a green foliage unbroken to the very top, whose graceful, waving outline bro't to the mind nought but images of peace.

In front was spread the richest little vale I ever saw; whose meadows and cornfields, the latter rising half a dozen feet above the fence, and the former speckled with sheep and cattle, succeeded each other with rich luxuriance. At one extremity ran a branch of the river Shenandoah, half hid amid the high elms and sycamores; and a little further on rose a high hill behind which the sun was setting. Everything seen was peace itself, and everything heard was akin to silence, and only serving to render it still more striking in the intervals. Sometimes the cow-bell's far-off tinkle came fluttering on a transient breeze—sometimes the negro's sonorous and resounding laugh awakened the mountain echo—sometimes his inimitable whistle, emulating the fife, and occasionally his song, which, mellowed by the distance, was singularly melodious.—As long as I live I will never forget that scene.

It was in truth a place for a man to make his home; and the honest Dutchman, for such he approved himself, not only by his dialect, but by his invincible predilection for his rich bottoms, seemed to think as much; for he actually appeared to be contented—a rare thing in this world. In the calm leisure of the dusk of the evening, he and his dame—and a jolly dame she was—good humored as a lark and round as a dumpling, came and sat with us in the porch; he with his pipe and she with her snuff-box, bearing the likeness of Commodore Porter. This custom is highly eschewed by all orthodox English travelers, but for my part, if a man be not wilfully obtrusive, and transgresses no law of etiquette that he knows of, I like his company, and can generally get something amusing or instructive from him.

Mine host seemed such a rare comfortable sort of dog that I determined, if possible, to learn how he became so; and in order to entitle myself to his story, told him mine beforehand, for country people are a little cautious. The story of the burgomaster or justice (for so he announced himself), in substance was as follows:

"I married at the age of twenty-six—though, perhaps, you won't believe, my wife was reckoned a beauty in her day—my fortune was a negro man and three hundred pounds, and my wife brought me a large chest, filled, I suppose, with six hundred petticoats and short gowns, which have lasted till this day. So her clothing cost me nothing. This was what we had to commence the world with.—After looking about a little I bought this farm, which, being much worn and out of order, I got cheap. What I had was sufficient for the first payment, the rest was to be divided into three equal annual instalments.

The farm, as I said, was then in poor order, the fields a good deal worn out, the fences bad, and the houses very old. But there was no time to groan, as the year was coming about, and the money must be paid. So Tom and I, and often my wife, turned out early and late,
