From Texas—Indian Depredations.

By an arrival at New-Orleans we have Galveston papers to the 17th inst.

The Galveston Journal says: Captain G. K. Lewis arrived by the Palmetto yesterday, on his way to Washington City, as agent to represent the unprotected condition of the western portion of the State, and ask additional aid from the Government to repel the Indians, who may almost be said to be in possession of the country. Meetings held at Brownsville, Rio Grande City, Roma, Buena Vista, Laredo, Corpus Christi, have united in this request and in applauding Capt. Lewis. The Corpus Christi Star intimates that if the Government does not protect them, they should declare their independence.

We copy the following from the Corpus Christi Star. Lewis traveled from Laredo to Corpus Christi in 34 hours—a distance of 138 miles:

"From Capt. Lewis we learn that the Indians still continue to annoy the citizens of Laredo and its vicinity. Nearly all the stock has been killed or driven away, the ranches abandoned, and the country generally broken up, on account of the daring atrocities committed in that section. Capt. Lewis encountered a party of Indians, supposed to be twenty in number, about forty miles this side of Laredo, at the Ojuelas, and ran a narrow escape of his life. A letter had been received just previous to his departure from Laredo, containing a report that the Indians had stolen the horses belonging to Capt. McNamara's company of Rangers, stationed on the Medina. Also, that two Californians had encountered a party of twelve Indians, between San Antonio and Eagle Pass. In the conflict, three of the Indians were shot and one of the Californians wounded.

The Galveston News says: A gentleman just from San Antonio represents nearly all the streams, large and small, as now swimming. He crossed the Brazos at Rock Island where the river was four miles wide. The opinion is that many of the plantations have been overflowed.

The Galveston Civilian of the 4th, says that the accounts from the interior continue very unfavorable for the growing crops. The heavy rains have extended as far as we have accounts. The rivers are overflowing their banks, and we hear of some plantations covered with water. The Brazos, at the last accounts, was over the bottom at Rock Island ferry to the distance of four miles, and higher than it has been for ten years.

We take from the Houston Telegraph of the 26th inst. the following:

A negro boy who was captured by Camanches, has lately returned to San Patricio, and stated that the Camanches have frequently stolen horses and murdered white men west of the Nueces within the last few years.

Large numbers of California emigrants are concentrating at Brownsville, to travel by the overland route to Mazatlan, and then take shipping for California. The Sentinel says that a gentleman has traveled from San Francisco to Brownville in thirty days, by way of Mazatlan. The number of emigrants that have started from Brownsville for California, within the last eighteen months, is estimated at 2,300.

Information has reached us that the Indians who were encamped near San Antonio for the purpose of having a talk with Gen. Brooke, decamped suddenly and silently, on Wednesday night, without the knowledge of the guard that was placed over them. When this information was conveyed to Gen. Brooke, he immediately ordered an officer with a detachment in pursuit, who after traveling eighteen miles, overtook them, and brought back Buffalo Hump to the General, but allowed the rest to pursue their journey, which they were doing, but had left evident marks of hostility on the road. Judge Portis, who was a passenger in the stage from Fredericksburg, says that they passed a horse on the road which had evidently been killed by the Indians, for there were three arrows sticking in the carcass, besides a rifle ball. The Indians also killed several cattle belonging to the settlers. In one place they carried their audacity so far as to kill a cow in a yard attached to the house of a settler, a Mr. Phillips who resides on the Sabinas.

General Brooke, we understand, had appointed Wednesday to hold a talk with these parties, but that day proving exceedingly disagreeable and rainy, the General sent to tell them that he would meet them when the weather broke up. This, it is presumed, did not please them, for they decamped, as we have stated. Gen. Brooke supplied them with four head of cattle and some barrels of bread while they were encamped near San Antonio, and in the face of this kind treatment, they have been plundering the inhabitants on their homeward route.

It is to be hoped that, as Gen. Brooke has Buffalo Hump in custody, he will keep him as a hostage until some satisfaction is given for these and other robberies. From all points, we receive information that the Camanches show evidences of hostility; and it will be as well if Buffalo Hump is made to understand the penalty if his tribe attempts any more attacks, either on the property or lives of our citizens.

The fact that the Apache Indians are overrunning the County of El Paso, and robbing and murdering the inhabitants with perfect impunity, has been officially reported to his excellency, the Governor, who, by the action of the Legislature, is left completely powerless to afford protection where, God knows, it is much needed.

At the Spicewood Springs, near Austin, there have occurred, within the last few days, several sudden deaths, from the effects of a disease which has baffled medical skill. Six or eight deaths, we are informed, occurred in a few days. No proximate or predisposing cause for the disease has been discovered.

Later from Santa Fe and Chihuahua.

Correspondence of the St. Louis Republican.

INDEPENDENCE, May 14, 1850.

Yesterday morning, Mr. Simons, in advance of Mr. Johnson's train, arrived from Santa Fé and Chihuahua. They left Santa Fé about the 20th of last month, and without much detention, made their way here in pretty good time. Once or twice they encountered a snow storm, but not violent enough to injure their stock or impede their progress. In company with Mr. Johnson are Mr. George Wethered and others, citizens of your place. Col. Washington and command, consisting of about twenty men, were left at the Point of Rocks, getting along pretty well. Mr. Thos. Flournoy and mail carriers were met on the Semirone, near to Brown's wagons. Mr. Flournoy goes out with relief for this train which you know was stopped on the Plains last fall by a snow storm.

The news received by the present company from Santa Fé and Chihuahua, is not of very great interest. The Indians between Chihuahua and El Paso are becoming more and more troublesome every day. Fulvagas's train was recently attacked—a driver of one of the wagons killed, and wagon robbed of contents. Quite a company from Chihuahua, consisting of Drs. East, Hereford, Douglass and others, left but a little while ago for California. Expected in shortly, Messrs. Lighter, Anderson, and other traders.

The ranche of Kit Carson and Boggs, between Taos and the Moro, was thrown into consternation recently, by eight Indians entering in and running off quite a number of their stock. Carson, Boggs, and two others, soon started in pursuit and overtook the party of Indians, "Hickories," attacked them, killed five of the party, recovered the mules, and fifty additional head.

Business was somewhat dull, but prospects a month or two in advance a little more flattering. American flour quite scarce and high.

Our town is yet quite crowded with emigrants; the numbers passing through greatly exceed our anticipations, and from every enumeration we can take, we are firmly of the opinion, that they are more in number by one-third than passed through here last spring. Almost every thing they needed, they found in abundance, but have left our country pretty bare of provisions.

The health of our town and country is pretty good, not having had a case of cholera, except one, an emigrant brought up on a boat.

Yours, &c. in great haste.

Haytien Affairs.

We have been favored by a mercantile house in this city with the following extracts of a letter dated Port-au-Prince, May 9, in relation to American interests in the Empire of "Faustin the First." The letter says: "Mr. Green (the U. S. Agent sent out to settle pending difficulties) has consented, at the urgent solicitation of his black Majesty, to grant him a short delay, to give him time to collect together, from the Cape and Aux Cayes, the documents relating to the claims; the steamer Vixen will therefore leave to-night, proceed to the Cape, and return here, where a pledge has been given to adjust matters satisfactorily. Mr. Green granted the delay of from ten to fifteen days on the sole condition that our commercial agents should be acknowledged forthwith, and be placed on the same footing as the accredited Consuls of all other nations. This condition was complied with, and the U. S. Commercial Agents have been officially recognized. At 3 o'clock this afternoon the American flag is to be hoisted at Mr. Usher's, and the steamer will fire a salute of 21 guns, which is to be answered from the fort. This is a great point gained, and will render the position of our agents more agreeable to themselves, as well as advantageous to our commerce; as in case of any injustice or infringement of our rights, he being on the spot, can come forward at once and settle the matter. An article published in a New York paper, a few weeks since, stating that there 'were 10,000 men in New-York who would volunteer to colonize St. Domingo the instant the Administration gives a hint that it is desirable that they should do so,' was received here a few days since, and has created the greatest alarm to the Government. His Majesty had all his own officers up to the Palace, and had the piece translated. The Germantown and Albany left this morning for Havana."

Provisions at the Cape were abundant—while at Port-au-Prince they were scarce.

The certificates of stock will bear interest from the 1st day of July, 1850.

The premiums offered for said loan must be paid in cash, or in Ohio six per cent. stocks of 1856, at par, on the day of letting the proposals, by depositing the same with the Ohio Life Insurance and Trust Company, New-York, to the credit of the Ohio Canal Fund Commissioners. The proposals, which may be for any part of said loan not less than one thousand dollars, must state the amount that will be paid for each one hundred dollars of stock, discriminating between the five and six per cents, giving the address of the party making the proposal, and be enclosed in an envelop marked "Proposals for Ohio State Loan," and addressed to the Ohio Canal Fund Commissioners, care of GEO.
