MR. WARLAND, the editor of the Lowell Courier, pays the following tribute to GOURAUD'S SOAP:
"We observe that Carleton & Hovey of this city advertise GOURAUD'S Italian Medicated Soap. It is long since we have seen the article, and do not refer to it in reference to the purpose to which it is said to be more particularly applied. But we can say, from some experience years back, that it is by far the best article to be used in shaving that was ever manufactured. It costs a little more than even the best shaving soap, but there is nothing in the market that can compare with it in this regard. We can truly recommend it to every man who shaves himself, and uses soap for that purpose, instead of any of its substitutes."
Mr. Warland does not full justice to the admirable qualities of GOURAUD'S Italian Medicated Soap; it is, moreover, the most wonderful compound ever invented for curing tan, freckles, pimples and all skin diseases, and no mother who values the health of her infant should use any other soap in its ablutions than GOURAUD'S Soap. Found only at 67 Walker st. 1st store from (not in) Broadway.

TO THE LADIES.—Crane's Patent Soap. We rejoice to find that the ladies are bestowing upon this useful article the smile of their approval. Cordial, cheerful and unqualified. It is meet that the fairer portion of this toiling world should share in the benefits of the great reforms of the age. They can and will ever appreciate those who have labored for their good. Manufactured by LORD, LYNCH & CO. 141 Sullivan-st. N Y.
We take pleasure in offering to the public the following expression of approval from two of the most distinguished chemists in our country.
I have tried Crane's Patent Soap, as manufactured by Messrs Lord, Lynch & Co. and have examined it practically so as to become acquainted with its properties. I find it to be an excellent family washing soap. The labor required in using it being less than with ordinary soap, while the results are entirely satisfactory. There is nothing in it that will injure the texture of any kind of clothing.
JAMES R. CHILTON, M. D. Chemist.
New-York, July 10, 1850.
I have examined Crane's Patent Soap, and am well satisfied that it contains no ingredients which could be injurious to the most delicate fabric, on which it is employed. I have also examined it practically, and find it to possess most excellent detergent qualities.

$200 REWARD is offered by Mr. BAUCKE, bookseller of 102 Nassau st for the solution of the following puzzle that he has published in a little paper called the Penny Thought, with the very reasonable proviso that the answer be accompanied by $1, to be forfeited if not right; this is to prevent the perusal of foolish answers, as it is presumed none will remit a dollar without being pretty sure they are right. The answer will be published next Saturday, with the name of the person who solves it.
In the very first week of the world I was made,
Though not given to Adam or Eve, it is said,
But strange, yet 'tis true that all women have since
With my presence been troubled, I've made them all wince.
For I never have spared either wanton or wife,
Or the widow; but never been known in my life
To dwell where there's heart's ease, joy, mirth, or delight,
Tho' the wicked I rightly torment day and night.
I'm not a mere vision, though never in sight,
I am always in war—often found where there's wealth,
I am never in unison—never in health;
In the wound of the sword, though never in death.
And I follow the arrow, if aimed to take breath
I much doubt if Minerva my presence ere felt,
With wisdom, 'tis certain, I often have dwelt,
I live with the wretch in his woe and his want!
But the Indian disdains me, 'tis part of his law,
Tho' to balance, I oft visit wigwam and squaw;
So to those all who think they can me define,
I live in a flaw, embodied in twine.
No answer will be received after Friday evening. 1i*
