DR. S. S. FITCH'S SIX LECTURES ON THE PREVENTION AND CURE OF CONSUMPTION—20,000 Copies sold since their publication in December, 1846—At that time consumption prevailed throughout the country, except where Dr. Fitch had lectured. To have a cough, or to have the awful word "Consumption" applied, struck the stoutest heart with dismay. Physicians universally taught that consumption was utterly incurable. These Lectures dissipated this illusion from the mind of every reader. A vast many physicians now pronounce consumption a curable disease, because they have witnessed its cure in Dr. Fitch's practice. He was the first living physician who laid down a plan of treating consumption successfully on scientific principles, and applicable to all cases and times, which would always prevent consumption, and cure it in nineteen cases out of every twenty, after it had actually commenced. In 1827 he discovered the uses of the lungs, and this formed the subject of his inaugural thesis when he graduated in Medicine in Philadelphia in the spring of 1828. Dr. Fitch discovered that the lungs are the generators of all the power that moves the human system. On this his practice is founded, and by which plan of treatment consumption becomes as preventable and curable as any other as long disease. To believe this read his Lectures; to prove it, see his vast army of patients cured of consumption. To demonstrate this, he here gives the following letters from persons of note and respectability, who have permitted their names and testimonials to appear for the good of the consumptive. An immense number of persons testify to its curability.

To cure consumption, it is necessary at once to cure all other diseases that injure the system, such as heart diseases, dyspepsia, costiveness, chronic diarrhœa, piles, kidney affections, all female diseases, rheumatism, skin diseases, humor in the blood, scrofula, salt rheum, bronchitis, throat diseases, asthma, &c.

In fifteen hundred cases of asthma, all have recovered but five. Of about two thousand cases of heart affections, he has lost but four, that have come to his knowledge.

Over twenty thousand invalids have consulted him in three and a half years. All their cases are carefully recorded—the treatment and the result—and, to use the words of a celebrated physician, "it forms the largest record of medical experience ever preserved by any private practitioner." These records extend to seventy large volumes, and are every day increasing.

Dr. Fitch's remedies are medical and mechanical. To relieve himself from his enormous private practice, and to enable the sick to obtain their aid near home, Agents are wanted to sell these remedies. Druggists, Storekeepers and Postmasters may obtain Agencies by applying to S. S. FITCH & CO. 767 Broadway, New-York, where Dr. Fitch's Lectures, Inhaling Tubes, Shoulder Braces, Abdominal Supporters, and Medicines, may be obtained on commission, and at wholesale or retail.

Agencies exclusive in each locality, unless in very large cities. o7 1t*

"HOW A FARMER MAY BECOME RICH" BLAKE'S FARMER'S EVERY DAY BOOK.

Or how a Farmer can become rich—being sketches of Life in the country; with the popular elements of practical and theoretical Agriculture, and twelve hundred Laconics and apothegms relating to morals, regime and general literature; also 500 recipes, on health, cookery and domestic economy; with ten fine illustrations, representing the various scenes attendant upon Farming, etc. By John L. Blake, D D author of "Biographical Dictionary," "Family Encyclopedia," &c.

The publishers respectfully announce that they have undertaken the publication of this large and beautiful work, with a view to supply a desideratum that has long been felt—a book for every Farmer's Library—believing that the venerable author has produced a work that will be worth its weight in gold to every farmer's family, that thoroughly perused it. It is proper to state that Dr. Blake is a practical farmer, and has reclaimed a sterile and worn out piece of land into a valuable and productive farm—which experience, with his well known qualifications as an author, peculiarly fitted him to prepare a book for farmers.

The work contains 684 pages, large octavo, with a motto surrounding each page. It is printed on fine paper, and bound in substantial imitation Turkey Morocco, gilt back. Invariable retail price, $3.

GRAHAM IN 1851. WILL OUR EDITORIAL FRIENDS oblige us by announcing the following arrangements for 1851:

GRAHAM has completed the most extensive arrangements to give still higher character and value to his Magazine for the coming volume.

G. P. R. JAMES, the celebrated Novelist, has been engaged to give a series of splendid romances.

GEORGE D. PRENTICE, the Poet of the West, will write exclusively a poem for every number.

GRACE GREENWOOD is engaged to give a series of her beautiful stories.

J. M. LEGARE, of South Carolina, will contribute a brilliant set of papers for 1851.

MISS FENIMORE COOPER, the author of Rural Hours, is also engaged, with WHIPPLE and LONGFELLOW, BRYANT and LOWELL, STODDARD, BAYARD TAYLOR, FIELD, and others.

T. B. READ, the Artist and Poet, is now at Dusseldorf on his way to Italy, to furnish from the Galleries a superb set of drawings. Artists from America have been sent to London and Paris, and a splendid set of highly finished drawings by the renowned DAVID, of Paris, are to be furnished for Graham's incomparable Ladies' Department, which will excel anything that has ever been produced in Paris, England or the United States. The first appears in the December number.

All this for little a year of splendor in this Magazine for 1851—and as ever, Graham's readers will be astonished.—Graham also abolishes the system of canvassing agents, and constitutes every Postmaster and Editor Agent. Now is the time to form Clubs, as the December number closes the volume.
