THE MAIDEN OF THE NEW YEAR.

BY E. JESUP BAMBS.

The bell of Holy Trinity chimed on the midnight air,
And in the wintry moonlight came a maiden young and fair;
The star-beams o'er her form threw, and face a dazzling lustre [was new.
And her lightsome tread of joyousness proclaimed that life
Her golden hair was garlanded with wreaths of budding flowers,
And her snowy fingers daintily led on the new-born hours;
Her eyes of softest violet a world of promise wore,
And a most happy carelessness her comely features bore.
Bright blooming on her ivory arm, a flower-filled basket [odor flung;
hung,
Where ce rose-hued loves and green-leaved hopes a pleasant
And from her azure gleaming robe she scattered pearls of [this bliss,
Sure she was sent from other worlds to bless and brighten
Of her good gifts she freely gave, and wished poor mortals [would dwell well,
While warmly they did welcome her, and pray that she
Among the millions who rejoiced to spread her rising fame,
Whorent the air with merriment, and greeted her by name
So she went on and had for all a pleasant look and word,
And many at her coming felt new life within them stirred;
Thus, leaving blessings where she went, her footsteps died away,
As the bells of Holy Trinity rung out the New Year's Day!

New-York.

Twenty-four Days later from Mexico.

The Tribune has received the Monitor Republicano to December 10th, being 24 days later than previous advices.

We find no political news of imporiance. Don Juan N. Urquide has been elected Governor of Chihuahua. There have been rumors of an approaching insurrection at Puebla, but the Monitor discredits them.

Three highway robbers have been shot according to sentence at Colototlan in the province of Jalapa.

The revenues of the Mexican Clergy exceed $20,000,000 a year. The value of their real estate is enormous. In the District of Mexico the total real estate is worth $50,000,000; half of it belongs to the clergy.

The revenue of the Government has never equaled its expenses. It cannot scrape together more than $6,000,000. These facts need no comment, says the Monitor.

CITY ITEMS.

☞ Yesterday morning was still and chill, and afternoon the frosty fingers of the air wore a snowy shroud for the dying year to lie in. It was cold long before it ceased. But it lingered to exist along through the evening until midnight, when it was all over with the good old year 1850. Happily, however, years, like Kings, can never die and before 1 o'clock this morning the New Year 1851 was hailed in a thousand quarters with spirited pledges and most prolonged polkas.

DEATH OF HERMANN KRIEGE.—One of the most sincere, upright and generous men with whom it was ever our fortune to be acquainted, was HERMANN KRIEGE, who yesterday breathed his last at Hoboken, leaving behind him a young wife and a single child. Mr. Kriege was of German birth, but spoke the English and we believe, the French language with fluency. A Democrat and Socialist by constitution, he devoted all the resources of an ardent nature and ready talents to the triumph of his principles. It is now, we believe, some eight years since he first removed to this country and established in New-York a weekly paper called the Volks-Tribun, in which he advocated the most radical ideas upon the relations of Capital and Labor with as much ability as earnestness. In his views of American politics he inclined to the so-called democratic party, and when the Mexican War commenced gave it a hearty support—not because he had carefully inquired into its justice, but because he regarded the absorption of Mexico and indeed the entire continent by the United States and the supremacy of the Anglo-Saxon race in the Western World as absolutely essential to the progress of humanity. Though not originally a Land Reformer, he adopted and vigorously defended not only the doctrine that the earth belongs to the human race and cannot rightfully be trafficked in any more than can the air or the sunlight, but the measures which American reformers have deduced therefrom, namely, land limitation, freedom of the public domain, homestead exemption, &c. During this time he wrote and published in German a history of the United States, as well as a series of translations from the writings of our revolutionary patriots, works of the highest value to the German citizens of this Republic. The Volks-Tribun ceased to be published in 1847, and for some time after Mr. Kriege gained a livelihood by teaching German. He also gave here in his native tongue a course of lectures on German Literature, which were greatly enjoyed by those who attended them. On the breaking out of the revolution of 1848, he returned to Germany and took an active share in the Democratic movements. He was one of a Supreme Executive Committee, consisting of three members, if we remember rightly, which had its seat at Berlin, and thence conducted a revolutionary propaganda throughout the country. In the Spring of 1849 he returned to the United States again, and took editorial charge of the Illinois Staats Zeitung at Chicago But the reaction which now followed the intense excitement of the previous year in Europe, proved too much for his physical powers, which were far from robust. His health compelled him to resign his connection with that paper and come back to this City. He fell into a sort of apathy which resulted in a partial derangement of his mind, and finally in the complete prostration of his system. After lingering for some months he at last expired with tranquillity, in the 30th year of his age. He was a man of extensive acquirements. His knowledge of history especially was comprehensive and accurate. His intellect, though not remarkably original or brilliant, was clear and vigorous. His heart was of the manly and noble kind. There is encouragement in the recollection of such a man.

THE ERINA BALL.—The Erina Benevolent Association gave its seventeenth Annual Ball at Tripler Hall, on Monday evening last, and was well attended, particularly by the families of Irishmen resident in this City, many of whom are among our wealthiest and most respected merchants. The venerable THOMAS O'CONOR, the President, was present till about midnight. The young and beautiful kept up the enjoyment till a late or rather an early hour.

There was one drawback, however, to the enjoyment. The room was as cold as Iceland. In fact it must have been heated with ice, if heated at all. So large and respectable a company should not have been frozen out, or if the rooms are incapable of being warmed, the health of ladies dressed in such light materials should not be put in jeopardy by letting the room for balls. The dining-room, too, seemed to be heated with what cold was left from the ball-room, and the supper felt as if it had been cooked on a gridiron of icicles. With this drawback the affair was all that could be desired. The proceeds go to the R. C. Orphan Asylum, Prince-st.

COMPLIMENTARY SUPPER.—We learn that the Baltimore Association of this City will give a complimentary supper to the "Watchman" Fire Company of Baltimore, at Niblo's, to-morrow evening, Jan. 2.

PRESENTATION OF A SILVER PITCHER.—On Monday night last a splendid supper was given at the City Hotel by about fifty Clerks in the employ of the Messrs. Barker & Co on which occasion a superb silver pitcher, valued at $150, was presented to J. W. Barker, Esq. who is about retiring from the retail trade. The supper, which was a very brilliant affair, was attended by many of our most prominent merchants. Speeches, toasts and generous fare prolonged the entertainment to a late hour.

THE CLOCK ILLUMINATED.—Last night the City Hall Clock took the City by surprise by appearing with its four faces brilliantly lighted, and beaming like globes of fire against the dreary background of the storm. This illumination, we presume, is in accordance with a resolution of the Common Council, passed some time since, but never before carried into effect. The public convenience has long demanded it, and we trust it is to be no lighting up for the holidays, but a punctual and constant dial of the night henceforth.

NIBLO'S.—The Ravels perform Robert Macaire and the great Pantomime of Mazulm to-night.

☞ NIBLO'S was closed last evening in consequence of the death of ADELE LEHMAN who died yesterday morning of the injuries occasioned by the sad catastrophe of the other evening. We have heard the most interesting and affecting accounts of the heroism of this young girl, both at the moment of the accident and during the long subsequent suffering. She was mounting a ladder at the side scenes when her dress took fire from the lamps. She immediately leaped down without uttering a cry, which she knew would alarm the audience and probably occasion some fatal confusion. The curtain was dropped at once, but there was nothing at hand to extinguish the flames but a carpenter's baize jacket, which he threw off and wrapped around her. Her sufferings were inexpressible and she was removed the morning after the accident to her lodgings, where she received the most able surgical attention. But it was unavailing. The flame, too enamored of the grace that rivalled its own lithe ness, had folded her in a fatal embrace.

ADELE LEHMAN was, we believe, about 23 years of age, and much beloved for the genial graces of her character, by the large circle that deplores her sudden and sad death.

☞ We observe that PARODI has achieved a brilliant success in Philadelphia. Before her return to Paris, where she is engaged by Lumley at the Italian Opera to follow Sontag—she will sing a few times at Astor-place.

SECOND GIFT CONCERT.—Jollie & Co. having disposed of the 9,500 tickets advertised for the first Gift Concert, to take place on Friday night, have advertised a second, to be given early next week, with the same superb prizes as the first. We presume that for this also there will be no difficulty in selling the requisite number of tickets. Full particulars of these novel entertainments will be found in our advertising columns.

☞ HON. E. D. CULVER, as will be seen in our advertising columns of to-day, has removed from Washington County to this City, and opened a Law office at 76 Wall-st. Mr. Culver has been extensively known to the people, and especially to the Whigs of this State, as a public speaker, from the active part he took in the campaigns of '40, '42 and '48. He has several times represented his County in the State Legislature, and also in Congress. His talents as an eloquent and ready debater has alone given him a high reputation as a public speaker. This, added to some fifteen years' experience in the legal profession, should fit him for a standing among the abler advocates at the Bar.

GOLDSMITH'S CHEAP SYSTEM.—Mr. Goldsmith will receive pupils for a new half-price term in Penmanship, on Friday and Saturday next, at his rooms, 289 Broadway. He has been induced to pursue this course by the solicitations of more than one hundred persons who were shut out from the former cheap classes, by the closing of the books at the time specified by the advertisement. Remember, Friday and Saturday are the days.

NEW YEAR AMUSEMENTS.—What should they be? Not idle or frivolous entertainments, without aim or object, but merry, hearty, soul-stirring, humor-evoking productions that "point a moral" while they adorn the tale of life with good spirits and a fresh feeling of humanity—such amusements as are given five times to-day, morning, noon and evening, at Barnum's Museum. That is an excellent place to laugh and be merry in, for old folks as well as the young ones.

TUESDAY, Dec. 31—P.M.

The market for stocks was very animated today, nearly as much so as any day since the improvement began. This feeling which was very apparent at the morning Board, was continued to the close of the Second Board. The day closed, and with it the old year, with more of buoyancy, and promise of future financial prosperity than any corresponding time within our recollection.—The advices from Europe set at rest all apprehension of war and its consequent disarrangement of Commeice. This, with the extending abundance of money, and prospect of its continuance, forms a most abundant combination of favorable influences with which to commence the New Year The sales to-day of nearly every description of speculative stock were large. U. S. 6's '67 sold at 115¼ which is an advance of ¼ ⅌ cent.: for the other Government loans full prices were offered, but there were no sellers. Pennsylvania 5's were wanted at 95, but no sales. Indiana Canal preferred 5's sold at 33, which is an advance of 2 ⅌ cent.—Delaware and Hudson was in demand at 141 for full and 139 for scrip. Farmers' Trust was the most buoyant of the "fancies" to-day; it closed at Second Board at 63¼, which is an advance of 3 ⅌ cent. since yesterday. Canton Co. was wanted at 57¼, about 1 ⅌ cent. advance. This stock is attracting further attention from substantial buyers. There is no corporation probably, anywhere, in better hands than this. Mr. Canton, its President, is the embodiment of a shrewd, cautious, and reliable business man, hence the prosperity of this Company is rapidly developing and increasing in value. Erie was firm at the close at 89¼; this an improvement of over 1 ⅌ per cent. Harlem has advanced since yesterday morning 1¼ ⅌ cent.; it closed very firm, and like Erie and Farmers' Trust, it promises to be still higher very soon. Reading advanced about 1¼ ⅌ cent. and closed firm. The Books of transfer were closed to-day, and many of the sales were for the opening. The prices quoted will be dividend on until the dividend is announced; 7 ⅌ cent. is expected. Norwich and Worcester advanced 1 ⅌ cent. closing at 68¼. The transfer Books close to-day; hereafter the sales will be quoted—Dividend off. The Board of Directors have made a short and clear Report which will appear in our next. Stonington was firm at 54, which is higher a shade; 140 was offered for the stock of the Utica and Schenectady Railroad. This is with the late large stock—dividend off. There seems to be no end to the confidence of holders in this stock. It is now nearly as high as it was before the late extra stock-dividend. The larger the capital the more it is liked. The history of this stock has been one of uninterrupted success and productiveness. The Albany and Schenectady was held at 94¼@94½; there was a good demand for it. The dividend of this Company will be declared next month, payable 1st February, and will be 3½ ⅌ cent. leaving a considerable surplus to the sinking fund. Under the thorough and economical management of Mr. McIntosh, the Vice-President, the affairs of this Company are constantly improving. The late report to the Surveyor General by this Company, which we published recently, shows that this Road earns more money per mile than any Road in this State, excepting the Reading. Bonds of the Erie 2d mortgage, sold to day at 105, which is higher. Incomes also rose ¼ ⅌ cent. Ohio and Pennsylvania Bonds sold at 94, an advance. These Bonds are daily growing in favor. Portsmouth Dry Dock and Morris Canal shares were active to-day, the former advancing 1 ⅌ cent. We report that the year closes with remarkable buoyancy and promise.

In Freights there was but little doing: the rates are firm. Cotton, is ⅛d; Heavy Goods, 20s; Flour, 1s 3d for Liverpool. To Havre, Cotton ⅜c. To California there was a fair business doing at 60@$1.

The leadiug features of the Dry Goods trade are without alteration. Less has been doing this than last week, and little business is anticipated until about the middle of January.—Bleached and unbleached sheetings and shirtings are very quiet, but the moderate stocks are firmly held, and there is no disposition to force sales. Prices are steady. Drills have been in course of shipment to a trifling extent, otherwise they are dull. Osnaburgs are very firm and buoyant. The limited stock will ensure a further advance, though the already high price has thrown consumers more on foreign Bagging. Denims are steady with a limited stock but with suspended demand. Stripes are buoyant, with a fair inquiry Ticks are inactive. Cotton Flannels are very dull. Printing cloths are very firm with a restricted demand, at the advanced rates current; offers at lower rates are generally refused, the market notwithstanding a concession at present cost of material, and the prospect of a good demand early in the year to come. Prints also are not active. Manufacturers are fully employed on the Spring styles which are about coming forward, at, however, very full prices. Ginghams are in good request with an insufficient stock, and advancing prices. Domestic ginghams still have an advantage in price over those imported, but are not plenty enough to supply the whole demand. Cotton Pantaloonery are quiet but firm with a small stock. Muslin de laines are not active. The Spring goods are coming forward to order, but the trade has not opened There is no back stock to work off of foreign kinds there is a better stock left over from the Fall season, which are steadily held. Woolen domestic cloths have improved. There has been a good inquiry from the City clothing trade, and as the stock is small prices are better and more buoyant. Liverpool cloths are mostly wanted. The consumption of domestic cassimeres is very great, and is gaining rapidly over foreign goods of this description, the consumption of which is now reduced to high priced Jersey goods and choice blacks. The present demand is very fair for the city trade, and a Southern demand is shortly anticipated. Satinets have improved. The demand has been on the increase for the last few weeks, the stock being held at moderate prices, at which it could not be replaced. Prices are buoyant. Sheeps' greys are in very limited request, and Cashmerets dull.—Jeans are heavy in stock but are very firmly held The demand is fair for the season. Tweeds are more active but steady. Flannels are in moderate request, but prices are strengthening owing to the increasing cost of production and low stocks. Foreign woolens have been rather active the last few days and prices are buoyant. The impossibility of replacing imported woolens at present prices is inducing some purchases in anticipation of an advance. By the Baltic we learn that the price of wool is rising, and orders for goods cannot be executed but at an advance. Silks show more inquiry, and are buoyant in price. An early activity of the Spring trade is plainly indicated. The South are large buyers, and the demand for that quarter is about commencing. Jobbers are buying considerably in preparation. German goods are in fair request. The importations are yet light, but many cargoes are known to be on their way out, so that January will witness a considerable increase to our imports. But the advices as well as the existing circumstances indicate moderate imports during the ensuing Spring, especially of British goods. French and Continental goods will arrive more freely as there are no very heavy stocks here, and they will be in request though prices will range higher. Our taste s decidedly for French goods, the Southern taste especially; and the present prosperity of the South from the high prices they have been receiving for their produce will enable them to pay higher prices. We anticipate therefore, a full, but not excessive importation of all French fabrics. We are safe for the Spring, and the Fall of next year is too far distant to induce any safe judgment; but judging from the increasing communication with Europe there must obtain a nicer and juster adaptation of supply to demand, from a greater and more accurate acquaintance in detail with all the markets. It is however to the Fall that we have to look for the greater exercise of caution, as the circumstances of the money markets of Europe and at home may be widely different, and alter at once the aspect of the markets, both of the raw and manufactured articles, and the relation of supply and demand.

COTTON—Is active. The sales reach 3,000 bales to day, at an advance of ⅛c, mostly speculative, and partly for shipping.

FLOUR AND MEAL—There is no perceptible change to note in our market for Western and State Flour. The demand for the East is very light, and that for the City trade is in retail lots. Canadian is steady, with sales of 500 bbls at 4 87½ reported, for the Provinces. The sales of Domestic reach 2,200 bbls, at 4 44@4 62½ for No 2 superfine, 4 37½ for common and strait State, 4 87½@5 06 for Michigan and Indiana, 5 06@5 12½ for pure Genesee, and round-hoop Ohio, 5 16@5 44 for fancy Genesee, 5 25@5 44 for fancy Ohio, 5 56@5 75 for extra Ohio, and 5 62½ for extra Genesee. Rye Flour is firm; sales of 100 bbls at 3 62½. Corn Meal is a shade better and in fair demand; sales of 370 bbls Jersey at 2 97.

WHISKY—A quiet market; small sales of Prison at 27c. Drudge is steady; sales of 25 bbds at 25½c, time and int.

OILS—Are steady. The stock of Linseed is light, and arrivals are delayed by contrary winds. Sales are making at 91@92c in casks, and 93 in bbls.

HIDES—Are quiet, though the stock is large, holders being above the views of buyers; 4,000 ordinary sold at 13½c, 6 months, and 4,000 Buenos Ayres, in Boston, for a New-York dealer, at 14c, merchantable, to go by the Western Road to a western tannery.

LEATHER—Is very active, with a stock diminishing rapidly, and prices rising. Light weights of Hemlock of prime qualities are selling at 16@16½c. The receipts by railroad have been large, but are falling off. The receipts for January and February will be light. The Eastern demand was never so great at this season. The California demand for boots and shoes supplies the great immediate impetus. Few of the Eastern manufacturers are capitalists; they do not make for stock, but to supply orders. The large stock of boots and shoes, if any, is in this City; and at this time there is quick demand, which keeps orders continually going to the East

TOBACCO—Is in light demand and prices steady. The sales this week are 50 hhds Kentucky at 9@10c; 70 hhds Maryland at 7½c; 30 bxs Connecticut Seed Leaf at 13c; and 20 do Florida.
