

FATAL SHOOTING OF NEGRO ON THE STREETS WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON.

Shortly after the noon hour Wednesday, Wm. Foster, porter employee in Carson's barber shop, was shot and instantly killed by Sam Simmons, employed as porter at the Timmerman Hotel. The shooting occurred at the corner of Pine and Front streets and was witnessed by several. The two men met in front of the Timmerman, and Simmons remarked "I'll get even with you." As he made the remark he pulled a gun and fired, the ball grazing Foster's arm. Foster then turned around the corner and started south on Pine, and as he turned Simmons fired three shots one of which took effect in Foster's back and the latter fell dead. Simmons, after firing the shots, walked slowly south on Pine with the reported intention of going to the jail and delivering himself to the sheriff, but was intercepted on the way by an officer and accompanied to a cell.

The shooting grew out of a claim for money which Simmons insisted Foster owed him, and which Foster had apparently denied. According to reports, when Simmons came to town some time ago and was without funds, Foster gave him some extra work in the barber shop in order to help him along, and later paid him a sum of money which he considered fair pay for the work performed. The amount, however, was unsatisfactory to Simmons, and he has placed a claim against Foster in the hands of an attorney for collection. The attorney had sent Foster a letter asking that the claim be paid by Wednesday evening. This letter was found on Foster's person following the shooting.

Shortly after the shooting Foster's body was conveyed to a morgue to be held awaiting word from out-of-town relatives or friends.

ONLY THIRTY-FOUR APPLICATIONS FOR PURE-BLOOD SIRE GATE SIGNS.

County Agent Kellogg has written the following appeal to the farmers of Lincoln County. It is worth reading and careful thought.

Experience has repeatedly shown purebred cattle outweigh grades under the same conditions in feed lots and to bring more per pound at the market. Present farming conditions demand that more economic production is the only salvation for the farmer. And it may be that the difference between the two animals will measure your profit.

A good purebred sire is constantly adding value to your herd of grades, and at the present time such sires are selling at reasonable prices. This is certainly an opportunity for you to better your conditions and we earnestly hope that you will not neglect it. Remember that the sire is half the herd every year.

The difference in the market value of ten calves from grade and good purebred sires should pay that difference in the cost of the two bulls the first year. Some breeders have talked of selling on that basis, others have offered to trade and allow the market value of the scrub bull so as to put him in the slaughter house where he belongs.

The offspring from good sires will give you more pounds with less feed and more money per pound, because of better quality and less waste in dressing. The more times the scrubs are crossed with good purebred sires the nearer they come to the market value of the purebred. It is nothing but business sense to sell two or three scrubs and get a good sire for your herd. In loaning money you put it where you can get the greatest interest with good security. Why don't you use the same practice in livestock.

Better sires is one of the biggest and most important moves for the farmer today. We at present have only thirty-four applications for purebred sires gate signs in Lincoln County while we have about thirty-five hundred farmers. It is up to you to get in step with this common-sense movement. Start right and keep going. Don't start heavy but for your own sake and for posterity start safe with as good sires as you can afford to buy. A poor one can only lose you money.

PLATTE VALLEY IRRIGATION PROJECT TO BE SURVEYED BY THE GOVERNMENT.

A Lexington special to the Omaha Bee, dated September 24, says:

Word was received here today that an irrigation project contract has been signed between the government and the Lower Platte Irrigation association, the improvement to include the Platte valley from Scottsbluff to Kearney, Neb. The contract has been executed by the secretary of the interior, and an engineer will be sent into the field immediately to begin his investigations.

A board of review passing on irrigation matters has handed down a report holding that the North Platte river affords sufficient water to irrigate all arable lands in the valley likely to be developed and that further development in Colorado and Wyoming need not be restricted.
