SPECIAL TERM.

Before Judge Duer.

Catherine N. Forrest against Edwin Forrest.—In the motion on the cross-action for a special jury, already referred to, Judge D expressed doubts as to his power, in such a case, to order it. He thought if the manner of selecting the jury was to be as has been stated, it would afford no more guarantee for an impartial jury than would an ordinary jury. He thought a jury might be selected which would be impartial. The subject has over till Saturday, when argument will be heard.

TRIAL TERM.

James Kent against John I. Hart.—Suit of ejectment as to house No. 71 Second st which it is alleged encroaches 1½ inches on plaintiff's lot No. 73. This is denied, for even if so adverse possession is set up. Verdict for defense, subject to the opinion of the Court.

Robert Potter against Edmon Blankman and Wilhelmina Blankman.—Suit for rent, the defense to which was eviction by the landlord. Verdict for defendant.

Before Judge Oakley.

James Walker Adm. &c. vs. Bank of Savings.—To recover amount alleged to have been due deceased at the time of her death. For defense it was shown that same person got possession of her Bank Book and drew out with it a portion of the money, the balance being paid to administrator. The Court considered that the Bank Book was good authority to pay. Verdict for defendant.

Court of Gneral Sessions..TUESDAY, May 20.

Before Judge Bebee and Ald. Griffin and Ball.

TRIAL OF ANN MEEHAN.

The case of the People vs. Ann Meehan, for Manslaughter in the first degree in causing the death of her servant girl, Ann McGowan, was resumed this morning.

Samuel Baldwin, a lad 13 years of age, was called by the prosecution and testified that he saw the accused strike the deceased with her fist, and had at other times heard cries and sounds as of blows, proceeding from the apartments of the prisoner; has seen deceased with blackened eyes on several occasions.

Mary Ann Stone, a nurse at the City Hospital, was next called. She testified that she was present when the child Ann McGowan was brought to the Hospital; she described the condition of the deceased as very feeble; her back was bruised and discolored; she also had the mark of a bruise across the chest; she was dirty, and needed washing; she was put in a warm bath, and afterward dressed in clean clothes and put to bed; she died on the evening of the same day.

Margaret Kelly, who works for Mrs Kelly, at No. 159 William st, resulted to having frequently heard the deceased sob, and had always seen her with black eyes; she always wore a veil over her eyes.

Elizabeth Schneider and Mary Schneider, two sisters, who worked for Mrs Walsh, 159 William street, corroborated in some respects the testimony of other witnesses as to the fact of bearing cries from the deceased, and of seeing her with blackened eyes.

Catherine Kelly, who resided at No. 159 William street, corroborated in the main the statement of the last witness. Adjourned.

THOMAS SIMS.—By a gentleman recently from Savannah, we learn that Sims had received one flogging of thirty-nine stripes—the extent allowed by the law, and was to receive another on Saturday last, for the crime of running away from Mr James Potter. He was promised that the last flogging should be remitted if he would ask Mr. Potter's forgiveness for the offence, but he refused. The slaveholders in Savannah were indignant at the Bostonians for having sent Sims back in the cabin, as they had "spoilt the nigger." [Boston Commonwealth.

MISS DIX.—Dorothea L. Dix, the well known 'good angel' of the friendless and the insane, has been traveling of late, says the Charleston Courier, through various parts of North Carolina, North Carolina and Upper Georgia, with the route in the very worst condition, having visited most of the prisons and poor-houses of the interior, and made several extra excursions to examine individual cases of insanity.
