PLATTE VALLEY SCHOOL NEWS

The lights were put in the new building the latter part of last week. The pupils of the intermediate room are watching for winter birds. They have a list of sixteen now.

The children enjoyed a letter from an acquaintance who is in Alaska. They are raising the blue fox for furs on the Aleutian islands.

Four of the tenth grade pupils last Friday afternoon, debated the question: Resolved: "That the Japanese will change the language and customs of the American people." The judges were Mr. and Mrs. Tilford and Mr. Haskins. The decision was in favor of the affirmative.

There should be something in common between the school and the community. People have been asking what can be done to stimulate the neighborly spirit in the Platte Valley? This has been overcome in Nichols district by a literary society, in Hershey and North Platte by night school, in O'Fallons in part by a debating team and general co-operation. Now folks, what shall we do in the Platte Valley? Boost this spirit of co-operation and let's start something.

ELIZABETH ANN REDLINE

Elizabeth Ann Davey was born Jan. 25th, 1859 at Rockland, Ontonagon Co., Michigan and died at North Platte, Nebr., Febr. 12, 1922 at the age of 63 years, 18 days. She was the fifth child in the family of Mr. and Mrs. James Davey. While she was still a child the family moved to Calumet, Mich., and later to Lake Linden, Mich. In the fall of 1877 they came to Nebraska and Mr. Davey bought a farm four miles south of Hebron, Thayer Co. This has been the family home for over forty years.

On June 12, 1881 she was united in marriage to John J. Redline of Lanark, Ill. and they went to Chester, Nebr. to start the new home. Later they moved to Bentonville, Ark. where they joined the Methodist church, in which faith she continued until her death. Before that time she had been a member of the Episcopal church, of which her parents were also members. Mr. and Mrs. Redline were the parents of three children, J. A. Redline of Helvey, Nebr., Mrs. E. W. Dickason of Kanman, Colo. and Mrs. R. M. Weeks of this city.

After the death of her husband she lived with her children much of the time, spending the last period with her daughter, Mrs. R. M. Weeks in this city, where she died. The funeral was held from this home and interment was in North Platte cemetery. Mrs. Redline was a member of the Eastern Star Chapt. No. 31 at Hebron and Signet Chapt. No. 55 of this city conducted the funeral services.

Besides her children, she leaves a sister, Mrs. Wm. Podoll of Kaufman, Colo., and four brothers, T. C. Davey, Monrovia, Cal., J. H. Davey Hebron, Nebr., E. C. Davey, Boulder Colo., and Hiram Davey of Scottsbluff, Nebr.

Mrs. Redline suffered during the later years with asthma which affected her heart and that with dropsy caused her final illness. She was rather retiring in disposition but attracted a large number of friends to her. These friends will ever remember her winning ways and her fine spirit and will miss her more than words can tell. They extend their deepest sympathy to the sorrowing relatives in their great loss.

SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL TO ISSUE THE USUAL ANNUAL

At the recent meeting of the Board of Education authority was given the senior high school to issue an annual at the close of the year provided it can be financed otherwise than by soliciting advertising from the local merchants. The student council has taken up the matter and an attempt will be made to raise the required fund by means of sales of copies and other approved ways.

RUFUS PERRY STEBBINS

Rufus P. Stebbins was born at Pittsfield, Ill., May 9, 1867 and died at Ventura, Cal., Jan. 22, 1922. At the age of six years the family moved to North Platte where he lived for almost all the remaining years of his life. For the past twenty-two years he has been engaged in the live-stock and hay business, spending the larger part of his time on his ranch west of the city. His entire life was a practical exemplification of the golden rule, his first thought being to benefit others and there are many who will long remember him because of some unexpected kindness which he showed them. "Mark the perfect man and behold the upright for the end of that man is peace."
