TO CAPITALISTS.—For Sale in one of the largest and most flourishing cities in this State, the Fee of a large landed interest, which the applicant will find, upon investigation, will, for the next ten or fifteen years, pay an interest of thirty per cent per annum, without encroaching upon the time of the purchaser, being now in the hands of a responsible agent, who will continue to act. The whole plot of nearly eighty acres is divided into lots of such a character that their sale can be shown to be beyond a doubt, and from the nature of the enterprize no revulsion in the business world can possibly effect it; and in this connection it may be stated that the above assertions are not the baseless fabrics of a vision of a scheming speculation, but are reduced to a moral certainty, the matter having been in operation for a considerable length of time, and the [illegible] and materially improved at a large outlay, which has been paid in cash, and are now in such a state that no further expenditure is necessary. One-half or three-fourths of the above will be disposed of to a gentleman or an association of character and responsibility. No brokers need notice this advertisement, as principals only will be treated with. Answers may be addressed to Box 1755, Post Office, and an interview had at the convenience of the parties, which will be strictly confidential. 1t*

TO NEWSPAPER PROPRIETORS.—The advertiser, (a practical printer,) who now prints a large weekly paper, and has the material on hand for printing another, and possesses facilities for doing composition at a reasonable rate in the best manner, is desirous of obtaining a first class weekly paper to "set up." Address T. R. F., Tribune Office. None but the proprietors of a respectable journal need apply. jel1 1t*

TO SELL.—The proprietor of a nice and pleasant business, requiring no capital but energy, wants to sell his interest therein. It produces from $1,600 to $1,800 yearly profit. It will suit an American best. Terms reasonable for cash, or good security. Address P. W. D., box 2,388 lower Post Office. References of the highest order, and reasons given for selling out. None but those of undoubted character need apply. je10 3t*

TO WHOLESALE GROCERS.—The advertisers wish to obtain a situation for a youth of 17. He is intelligent, active, large of his age, quick at figures, and writes a superior hand. NEW PUBLICATIONS.

C. M. SAXTON, Agricultural Book Publisher, 152 Fulton-st. will publish on Monday, June 16,

STEPHENS'S GREAT WORK ON THE FARM, a new and complete edition, with Notes adapting it to the use of Farmers in the United States, by John S. Skinner.

This work forms a "complete guide" to the farmer, the steward, plowman, cattle-man, shepherd, field-worker, and dairy-maid, in all their branches of labor, and adapting them to the season of the year as they necessarily occur.—This book embraces every subject of importance connected with Agriculture in all its various branches, practical and scientific, with nearly five hundred illustrations on wood and steel, making it one of the most attractive and useful books yet offered to the farmer, and should be held as an "every day reference book."

It contains over 1,200 pages, and is bound in two vols. octavo. Cloth, $4; imitation morocco, gilt, $4 50.

Agents will be supplied on very favorable terms.

DOUGLAS JERROLD'S NEW WORK.—Published this day—

TITUS TRUMPS,
The Man of Many Hopes.
By Douglas Jerrold,

Author of "Mrs. Caudle," "Man of Money," &c. &c.

Titus Trumps is one of those delightful offshoots of Jerrold's wit that have mainly contributed to his great reputation. The Man of Many Hopes is a story illustrative of the blunders and predicaments an over-sanguine disposition has led the hero into; it is brimfull of wit and amusing adventure. A more enjoyable sixpence worth cannot be obtained anywhere, and all who want the luxury of a spontaneous laugh should read it forthwith.

Price 6 cents.

Published and for sale by BUNCE & BROTHER, je11 2tis* 134 Nassau-st.

THIS DAY PUBLISHED—ELIZABETH BARRETT BROWNING'S New Poem, CASA GUIDI WINDOWS. The volume includes likewise "Prometheus Bound," "Sonnets from the Portuguese," and other Poems not heretofore published in America. "Casa Guidi Windows" gives a vivid picture of the tumult and ferment of Italian struggles for independence, as seen from the poet's windows at Florence, with the fervid commentary of her hopes and aspirations.

Likewise in press—Hamilton's Works, vol. 5. Vols. 1 to 4 now ready. CHAS. S. FRANCIS & CO., 252 Broadway.
